Princeton Likely to Have Strong Crew This Year Despite Loss of Famous Stroke of 1921

Dr. Spaeth Has Ten Veteran Candidates for 1922 Shells

Four Rowed in Unbeaten "B" Outfit and Balance Are From "A" Boat, Stroked by Cresswell; Tiger Coach Again Intends to Have Two Varsity Eights

By Jack Lawrence

Although she has lost one of the greatest strokes ever developed in collegiate rowing, Princeton is almost certain to be represented by a varsity eight this year that will be a strong contender for the season's highest honors. The loss, through graduation, of Heinie Leh, stroke of the famous Tiger "B" crew of 1921, leaves a yawning vacancy to be filled and a troublesome problem to be solved by Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, head rowing coach at Princeton.

Few followers of the sport believe that Dr. Spaeth can produce in 1922 another combination of the caliber of the one stroked by Leh, but if he is able to build up a varsity as strong as his "A" crew of last season he will be in a position to worry his rivals.

In reviewing the situation at Princeton as the early preparations get under way, it must be admitted that the famous professor has a lot of excellent material to work on. Much of it is thoroughly seasoned and all of it is promising. If, from this array of talent, Dr. Spaeth can develop a stroke whose capabilities even approach those of the mighty Heinie Leh, he may succeed in writing another chapter of rowing history that will match that imperishable one of a year ago.

Dr. Spaeth's masterful "B" crew conqueror of the giant Navy eight (Olympic champions of 1920), Harvard, Yale, Cornell and California, was the only varsity combination to come through the season of 1921 unbeaten. The "A" crew succumbed to Columbia in the Childs cup, but its actual strength was almost equal to that of Heinie Leh's eight.

Ten Veterans Available

From these two varsity crews of last spring Dr. Spaeth has ten veterans who are candidates for seats in the varsity combination. Four of them are men who rowed in the Intercollegiate race. The rest are carried over from the "A" combination, which was coached by Captain Hugh Cresswell. The crew of 1921 can be said to have left a powerful legacy upon the Tiger "B" crew.

Dr. Spaeth informs the Tribune that he will again have two varsity crews in competition, one of them using the orange eight and the other a black eight. In carrying out the policy, which is similar to the one he followed last year, Dr. Spaeth said yesterday:

"I regret the necessity of having to develop two varsity crews but so far as I can tell now this will have to be done, because of the way in which the schedule is arranged. We have three consecutive race, to row the first being against the Naval Academy and Harvard on the Charles River. This regatta takes place on May 6. A week later we meet Columbia and Pennsylvania in the Childs Cup at Philadelphia. The following week we compete against Yale and Cornell on the Hudson.

"I made an effort to have on one Saturday intervene between each of these regattas, but to accommodate our rivals we agreed to row on three consecutive Saturdays, as we did last year."

Dr. Spaeth said he considered it very unlikely that the same eight man could be used in all three of the races. The chances are that there will be a grueling one, and unless either one of the varsity combinations should turn out to be a super-crew, it is Dr. Spaeth's belief that the best results can be obtained by alternating the eights. It was this system that saved the "A" crew to be sent to Columbia and Pennsylvania in the Childs cup last May instead of the much-praised "B" combination.

Trials for Varsity Crews

"The crew that will start in each one of the three regattas is not mentioned," said Dr. Spaeth to the Princeton varsity. "It is my intention to have the two varsity eights compete against each other in order to determine which is the faster. The boat with the greatest power will be sent against the Navy and Harvard, with the understanding that the crews and boats, if necessary, shifts being made for the Yale race. The men who are on the football team go to the mine before the game."

Dr. Spaeth refused to make any predictions as to what the 1922 season may have in store for Princeton's varsity men. On this score he contented himself with the very safe statement that "Princeton's success depends very largely on the speed of our eights." He did say, however, that "We will probably have a good crew."

The fact is that Princeton's 1922 prospects on the water are far from depressing and it would not surprise us at all to see a crew emerge from the placid surface of Lake Carnegie that will row to some impressive victories. All of the ten veterans forming the nucleus of the 1922 squad were able oarsmen last year. They should be better this season.

From the unbeaten "B" crew Dr. Spaeth finds himself with the services of Captain Sid Milne, who rowed No. 3; Lewis, No. 5, and Morgan and Sinclaire, who alternated at No. 6. From the "A" crew there are carried over six men who can be counted among the vigorous contenders for seats in the varsity boats again. These are Hugh Cresswell, who stroked the "A" combination and who is an athlete of experience and ability; Wright, No. 3; Newland, No. 5; Cooke, No. 7; Jones, No. 2, and Page, bow. Sinclaire rowed No. 6 in the "A" shell, taking the position in the other crew.

Other candidates who are expected to put in an appearance are Fredell, Jackson, Snyder, Marburg, Montgomery, Wright, Lotier, Pirie and Burke. While Dr. Spaeth would not comment on the chances of any of these men, he is known to be highly pleased with the forward showing displayed. The most promising John Wright, the youngest of the 1922 freshmen to a seat in the crew over Harvard and who showed the same capacity for the coach's liking, won the freshman championship in the American Henley of 1920.

Wright may solve Dr. Spaeth's most perplexing problem, which is the filling of Heinie Leh's shoes. He will be given a thorough try-out for the honor of stroking this year's varsity, and there is a feeling in Tiger circles that he has an excellent chance of winning the place. Hugh Cresswell will find a doughty competitor in the person of the veteran Cresswell, the latter was the varsity stroke two years ago and would probably have had that honor last year had it not been for the phenomenal work of Leh.

Alex Morgan and George Pirie, former freshman strokes, are given some consideration in the selection of Leh's successor, as will Montgomery and Mosier.

The seats in the "B" shell to be filled are those left vacant through the graduation of Leh, Brush, No. 2; Curtiss, No. 4; Fleming, No. 6, and Bow, bow. The "A" combination lost Fyne, who rowed at No. 7.

The present squad numbered at Princeton consists of about fifty men, which includes two 150 pound crews. About six freshmen crews have been at work on the machines since Christmas. The varsity candidates were put to work shortly after the holidays. Dr. Spaeth believes that he will be able to send all his young oarsmen out on the lake shortly after the completion of the mid-year exams.

Manual Five Wins Over Clinton Team For P. S. A. L. Title

Sullivan Scores Deciding Goal for Brooklyn Boys in Second Extra Period

Manual Training High School, of Brooklyn, captured the P. S. A. L. basketball championship of greater New York yesterday by defeating De Witt Clinton, of Manhattan, at the C. C. N. Y. gymnasium in one of the hardest fought contests ever witnessed in schoolboy circles. Two extra five-minute periods were required before Manual finally earned a 25 to 24 decision over the Red and Black. Sullivan, a substitute, scored the deciding goal.

Throughout the first half and well into the second period there was no question as to the supremacy of the Manual team. "Stretch" Manheim, of the Blue and Gold, consistently outjumped Mare and enabled the Brooklyn quintet to start their scoring combinations. Manual was in front at the end of the first half, 11 to 7.

The Brooklyn champions continued to lead in the second period, but the Clinton boys, with the score at 19 to 17 against them, staged a sensational rally and, with Captain Henry Cohen and Vogel playing brilliantly, finally tied the score. Taub caged the basket which brought the Red and Black on even terms at 20 to 20.

A few seconds after the opening of the first extra period Referee Sporting called a double foul, and both Sullivan and Cohen were successful, again knotting the score at 21 to 21. Rubin made a goal from scrimmage a minute put Clinton ahead, but Manheim again evened matters just as the period was closing.

There was no scoring for the first five minutes of the second extra session, but Sullivan, the Manual right forward, shot a goal from mid-court which gave the Brooklynites the advantage at 25 to 23. Cohen subsequently caged a foul goal, but Clinton could not smash the Manual defense for any further scoring.

The line-up:

Position.	Manual (25).	Clinton (24).
R. F.	Sullivan, Mayerman.	Cohen
L. F.	Lipschitz	Vogel
C.	Manheim	Mare
R. G.	Robinson	Taub
L. G.	Rubin	Schriftgiesser

Goals from scrimmage—Manheim (3), Sullivan, Robinson, Rubin (2), Cohen (2), Vogel (2), Taub. Goals from free throws—Manheim (2), Sullivan (2). Substitutions—Manual: Tranzano for Robinson, Sullivan for Lipschitz, Mayerman for Tranzano, Lipschitz for Sullivan. Clinton: Mason for Mare, Mare for Mason, Kaufman for Taub, Taub for Kaufman, Kaufman for Taub, Taub for Kaufman, Kaufman for Taub, Taub for Kaufman. Referee—Sporting. Time—Two extra periods of five minutes each.

Schoolboy Skaters in Indoor Races To-morrow

General George W. Wingate, president of the Public Schools Athletic League, announces that the ice skating championships for both elementary and high school students will be conducted at the 181st Street Ice Palace, 181st Street and St. Nicholas Avenue, Manhattan, to-morrow evening.

This is the first time in ten years that the league has been in a position to get the use of an indoor rink, which Mr. Greenebaum has most generously donated the use of. Five events will be contested—three for elementary school boys and two for high school boys.

New One-Design Class of Yachts Will Be Raced

A. Y. C. of Rye Perfecting Plans for New Craft Ready This Summer

Members of the American Yacht Club of Rye will hold a meeting on Thursday afternoon at the New York Yacht Club for the purpose of perfecting plans for organizing the club's new one-design class, which will be raced next summer for the first time. The new craft is a Marconi-rigged sloop design along the lines of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Fish Class. It is expected that about a dozen will be ready for racing when the 1922 season opens.

The boats have been designed by John G. Alden, and among those who have already placed orders for them are Ralph Hubbard, Raymond Baylis, John B. Shethar, William Renser, Samuel Thorne jr. and Charles King.

The committee of American Yacht Club members in charge of the new class has announced that Thursday's meeting will mark the last opportunity prospective members of this division will have of entering for next summer's racing, as only boats built this winter will be eligible. The committee is composed of William Renson, 11 John Street; John B. Shethar, 42 Broadway, and Charles King, 59 Pine Street.

From various yacht yards in this vicinity come reports that building is increasing every week, and the indications now are that more new boats will be in commission this summer than in any season since the outbreak of war.

New Boat for Ringling

J. H. Ringling, whose power yacht Videtner was burned recently, has placed an order for a new boat, which has been designed by H. J. Gielow. This vessel is a 125-foot power houseboat and is being built by the Consolidated Shipbuilding Corporation at Morris Heights. The power plant consists of two Nelseco heavy oil engines.

H. S. Borden has placed an order with Lawley for a 125-foot power yacht, designed by Purdy. She will be driven by two Speedway engines and will go into commission in the spring.

Walden W. Shaw, one of Chicago's well known yachtsmen, is the owner of one of the most novel boats now under construction. She is being built under the personal supervision of Mr. Shaw by the creator of the fast speedboat Disturber IV. The plan and specifications were prepared by Henry J. Gielow. The new boat will have a length over all of forty-two feet and a beam of eight feet five inches. Much of her equipment will resemble that used in the most expensive automobiles. The aftercockpit will be fourteen feet in length. Over the forward end there will be a limousine top six feet nine inches in length with superglass side windows. Forward of this will be a permanent windshield with brass frame and non-breakable glass to protect the helmsman.

The propelling machinery will be a model M Speedway engine developing 150 horsepower at 1,200 revolutions per minute.

Vanderbilt Charters Calabash

Cornelius Vanderbilt jr. who is now in Florida, has chartered the houseboat Calabash through the office of Yarns & King. The Calabash, which Mr. Vanderbilt will use in Southern waters, is owned by W. J. Matheson who is now cruising around the world with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James on the famous auxiliary bark Aloha.

Preparations have already begun for the holding of the annual motorboat show at Grand Central Palace on February 17. It is planned to have eight cruising yachts "anchored" on the main floor, the largest of which will be a 55-footer built by the Elco people. More than fifty runabouts of various designs will feature the show, together with a wide variety of day cruisers, yacht tenders and small craft of all kinds. There will also be one iceboat, an electric cruiser and several small sloops.

The power exhibit will probably be the most interesting ever held in this city. It will include every type of engine, from the twelve-foot motor similar to the one installed in Vincent Astor's Nourmahal down to the machines designed for canoes. A variety of foreign engines will be shown. There is to be also shown a model factory of the American navy, built by H. E. Boucher.

Yale Crew Starts Four Times Weekly Practice Feb. 17

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 28.—Crew practice at Yale will begin February 10, it was announced to-day by the rowing management. On that date the mid-year examinations will be over and Coach J. P. Conderes will put three varsity and one 150-pound crew on machines, each to report individually four times a week.

The first aim will be to get the men into good condition, and after engaging in on the machines they will be given special training in the gymnasium. Regular work will be started with more or less definite crews. The strongest varsity boat will have longest interest of the race with Harvard last June.

Freeman, stroke; Carmany, 7; Russell, No. 3; Lewis, No. 5; Captain Gibson, No. 2, and Hallgarten, No. 6. The championship freshman crew of last year will be divided among three varsity crews.

Changes are being made in the boat house at Derby, that twelve shells may be housed there. Crews will go to the Housatonic River for spring work, after a fortnight on New Haven harbor.

Boys' Club Wrestlers Easily Defeat Harvard

The Harvard wrestling team lost to the Boys' Club matmen at the latter's club last night by the score of 19 to 3. The visitors were successful in only two of the seven matches, and the victories were gained on decisions of the judges. In the 115-pound class Walker, of Harvard, won over Weinstein, and in the unlimited weight class Lockwood, of the visitors, defeated Zalinsky.

The summaries:

115-pound class—Walker, Harvard, defeated Weinstein, Boys Club, Judges decision, with time advantage of 4:55.

125-pound class—Goldstein, Boys Club, defeated H. Friedman, Harvard, Judges' decision, with time advantage of 1:55.

135-pound class—A. Stillman, Boys Club, threw S. Hoing, Harvard, in 3:31.

145-pound class—J. Saff, Boys Club, defeated Ross Dargan, Harvard, Judge's decision, with time advantage of 1:55.

158-pound class—G. Zonsiowski, Boys Club, threw B. Cole, Harvard, in 4:20.

175-pound class—G. Litcher, Boys Club, defeated D. Sanders, Harvard, Judges' decision, with time advantage of 1:40.

Unlimited weight class—Lockwood, Harvard, defeated Zalinsky, Boys Club, Judge's decision, with time advantage of 2:05.

Star Athletes Will Compete In Millrose Meet This Week

Ray to Oppose Cutbill in 1½-Mile Run at Garden Wednesday Night

By Jack Masters

The annual Millrose games, with one of the greatest collections of track and field stars that ever faced a starter in this section of the country, will hold forth at Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night. Intercollegiate and national champions by the score are among those scheduled to compete on an especially constructed track that will be banked and will allow for the use of spiked shoes.

The banked track and the fact that all events except the one-mile walk are scratch events indicate that the management of the games anticipates an onslaught upon the records, and every opportunity will be afforded the athletes to make dents in the present marks. The caliber of the fields in several event is such that it would not be surprising if one or more marks were toppled.

In competition Allan Woodring, the top-notter Olympic champion; Bernie Wefers, who holds seven metropolitan titles; Bob McAllister, the latest sensation; Loren Murchison, Ned Gourdin and others make up a formidable field while in the three-mile race Jack Johnson, of Pittsburgh, national and two mile champion, will be opposed among others by Don Foreman, George Cornetta and Gordon Nightingale.

Campbell in "Millrose 600"

Sandwiched in between the sprints and the distance runs are the "Millrose 600" and "Rodman Wanamaker Mile and a Half" which are the outstanding features of the meet. In the former event are Tom Campbell, the Yale star; Bill Stevenson, Princeton, the national quarter-mile title holder; Dave Caldwell, who has twice won the classic; Jack Sellers, Earl Eby and Allen Helffrich.

Joie Ray, who has won the one-mile championship of America four consecutive times, heads the list in the mile and one-half run. The chesty little Chicago boy star will be forced to the limit to beat such runners as "Hal" Cutbill, the "Flying Parson," of Boston; Marvin Rick, Princeton; Buker, the New England champion; Jimmy Connolly, Boston; Max Bohland, the favorite "Met" champion, and Bloody Harry, former intercollegiate cross-country champion.

Larry Brown, of the University of Pennsylvania, who recently shattered the world's record for the 1,000-yard run, is training with a view of establishing a new mark for two-thirds of a mile. The management of the games has added a race at this distance to the card in hopes that Brown would create new figures for the event. The present record has stood on the books for fourteen years, largely because competition at this particular distance has not been encouraged. Sid Leslie, Mike Devaney, Joe Higgins, Bob Crawford and a host of other stars will start with Brown.

The relays have attracted a fine entry. The East vs. West struggle at two miles is expected to be a feature. The champion team from the Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa, with three members of the team, which copped the big race at the Penn relay carnival last year, will be on hand.

Cuban Team Entered In Penn Relay Meet

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—The University of Havana will be represented at the Pennsylvania relay carnival, April 28 and 29, it was announced to-day by Dr. George W. Orton, manager of the games. It has not been definitely decided whether the Cuban institution will enter a relay team or compete in the field events.

Assurances also have been received. Orton said, that Italy would send one or more relay teams selected from the universities and colleges of that country.

Varsity Football For City College The Coming Fall

First Gridiron Schedule of Sixteen Years Honors N. Y. U. on Armistice Day

The first City College varsity football schedule in sixteen years was announced by Professor Walter M. Wilkinson, of the faculty athletic committee. The schedule consists of six games, four of which will be played in the Lewisohn Stadium and two away from home.

The program is a difficult one, embracing colleges prominent on the gridiron, and will serve as a fitting vehicle for the introduction of the local institution to the football world. But the very fact that next season will mark the Lavender's debut renders the schedule more difficult in itself, because the team will of necessity be a new one and confronted with the task of establishing itself in collegiate circles.

The feature game is the one with New York University on Armistice Day, November 11, 1922, to be played at Ohio Field. An agreement has been made between these institutions to the effect that Armistice Day will hereafter be the date on which the annual game is to be held, each team alternately staging the affray on its home field. According to this agreement the Lewisohn Stadium will be the scene of the 1923 tussle. The significance of this arrangement is that football will provide a new held for the contesting of the ancient rivalry between the local institutions, which has heretofore been confined chiefly to baseball and basketball.

The complete schedule follows:

October 7, St. Stephens, at home; 14, open; 21, Drexel, at home; 28, Hobart, at Geneva; November 4, New York "Aggies," at home; 11, New York University, at Ohio Field; 18, Catholic University, at home.

Army Hockey Sextet Defeats Springfield

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Springfield was no match for the Army at hockey to-day, the cadets winning in easy fashion by a score of 7 to 0. Marinelli, Army's star center, who was hurt and had to retire in the last period, scored six of the Army's goals before a severe cut on the cheek took him out of the game.

The line-up:

Positions.	Army (7).	Springfield (0).
L. W.	O'Shea	Lang
R. W.	Woods	Hamm
C.	Marinelli	Rand
P.	O'Connell	Wall
C. P.	Stout	Courtney
G.	Kastner	Hudson

Goals, first period—Marinelli, 4:16, Marinelli, 7:10. Second period—Marinelli, 1:22, Marinelli, 7:46, Marinelli, 14:00. Third period—Marinelli, 8:36; Stout, 8:56. Substitutions—Stevenson for O'Shea, Rich for Woods, Stout for Marinelli, Westphal for Stout; Beane for Kastner. Referee—H. Wargstaff, Tuxedo. Time of periods—15 minutes.

Detroit Favors Middle West College Conference

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—The University of Detroit has received favorably the proposal to organize a Middle West intercollegiate athletic conference and would join such a body if the rules did not confine athletic competition to members of the conference, according to Father W. L. Foley, a member of the board of athletic control.

Detroit also has been invited to join an Eastern conference, Father Foley announced. The tentative membership includes Georgetown, Fordham, Holy Cross and Boston College, and the local university desires to continue athletic relations with these schools. The officials, however, feel they should affiliate in the West, where the natural rivals are located.

Title Cycling Dates

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The world's cycling championships of 1922, which will be organized by the National Cyclists' Union, will be held in the Liverpool district in July and August, the amateur competition on July 28 and 29 and the professional on August 5 and 7. The amateur road championship will be held on August 2 and 3.

Ice Yacht Feature Of National Motor Boat Show Feb. 17

One of the feature exhibits at the 17th National Motor Boat Show in Grand Central Palace, February 17 to 25, will be a full size ice boat of the Class "F," Hudson River type, designed by H. Percy Ashley. This will be the first time an ice-boat has ever been displayed at the annual exposition and as the show will be held at a season when racing between this class of craft is at its height, it should attract great interest.

The boat is thirty-one feet, six inches over all, with a width between cutting edges of sixteen feet, six inches. It weighs, complete, 900 pounds and has a sail area of 300 square feet. This type of boat has been known to race at almost a mile a minute in a stiff breeze and is one of the best of the light model ice boats. The craft was built by the Evinrude Motor Company.

Another novel display at the show will be the sea sled. During the past few years this type of craft has become numerous in the waters of Jamaica, Gravesend and Sheepshead bays. A development during the war was the sea sled, while not adapted for comfortable cabins, has a reputation for speed and those who want to travel fast prefer the sturdy-looking flat boat to runabouts.

Red Sox to Play Five Contests With Pirates

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—A strenuous campaign on Southern training fields is laid out for the Red Sox spring trip in the schedule of games announced today. A five-game series with Pittsburgh will be played at Hot Springs, Ark., where Pirates and Red Sox will have their training headquarters, between March 17 and 26.

The Red Sox will travel from April 1, playing games every day until April 11, as follows:

April 1, Little Rock, at Little Rock, Ark.; 2, Milwaukee, at Carrutherville, Mo.; 3, Minneapolis, at Dyersburg, Tenn.; 4, St. Joe, at Dyersburg, Tenn.; 5, Minneapolis, at Jackson, Tenn.; 6, Minneapolis, at Clarksville, Tenn.; 7, regulars vs. second team, at Bowling Green, Ky.; 8, Toledo, at Frankfort, Ky.; 9, Cincinnati, at Cincinnati; 10, Toledo, at Toledo.

Riverside Post Victor

Riverside Post and 71st 105th Infantry Post were the victors in last night's concerts in the American Legion basketball tourney at Stuyvesant High School court. Riverside defeated Washington Heights Post 31 to 22 and the 71st 105th Infantry scored over Belvidere Brooks Post 39 to 28.

Princeton Five Rallies And Defeats Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Displaying a dazzling style of pass work in the second half, after the score had been tied three times, Princeton staged a rally to win from the Syracuse University basketball team in the Archbold gymnasium to-night by the score of 25 to 19. The game, which was the most exciting played here this winter, was witnessed by 2,000 spectators.

Syracuse outplayed the Tigers in the first half and but for some bad breaks of the game might have turned the victory. The orange-jerseyed players had the ball most of the time, but were way off in their shots for the goal.

Miske Defeats Jack Renault In 13th Round

Officials of State Commission Order Purses of Both Boxers Withheld by Club

By Jack Lawrence

Billy Miske, of St. Paul, defeated Jack Renault, alleged Canadian heavyweight champion, at the Rink Sporting Club last night, in the thirteenth round of what was supposed to be a fifteen-round bout. In the thirteenth, after he had battered Renault along the ropes in all the previous sessions, Billy beat the Canadian into such a state of submission that he virtually jumped through the ropes to avoid further punishment. He fell feet first into the arms of a number of sympathetic newspaper men, who hoisted him back into the ring much against his will before he was announced as the loser. Miske weighed 185 and Renault 189.

The officials of the New York State Boxing Commission at the ringside declared after the bout was over that Miske had not tried to do his best and on that account decided to hold up the payment to both fighters.

This is about the most absurd thing the Boxing Commission has done. Miske shot blow after blow into the Canadian until he was weary, and it was one of these that sent Renault through the ropes in the thirteenth round.

In the first preliminary of six rounds Ernie Kohler, of Brooklyn, won the judges' decision over Jack Marge, of Manhattan. In the second Willie Garber outpointed Young Diamond. The latter weighed 126 and the former 127. The bout was slow and uninteresting from first to last.

The semi-final brought together Teddy Seidman and Johnny Gray. In the fourth round Gray opened up a cut over Seidman's eye and took a good many shots at this mark thereafter. Seidman, however, was awarded the decision.

In the final bout Miske had the better of the milling in the early part and in the first three rounds had the Canadian heavyweight seeking the corners to avoid punishment. In the fourth Miske tore into Renault and at the finish of the session the Canadian was almost out.

In the next three rounds they battled very languidly, with Miske doing what bit of real fighting there was. He plastered the Canadian properly, but to no great effect. Renault had a working left, but it never meant very much. Miske's cleverness offset any ability Renault may have brought with him from Canada.

When the bout was ended Renault was on the run and virtually jumped through the ropes to prevent further damage. He lost a perfectly good set of false teeth in the tenth round, which were picked up and distributed among the spectators as souvenirs.

P. S. A. L. Champions Lose to Marquand Swimmers, 26 to 18

Marquand School swimmers made an unexpected bid for the city swimming title yesterday by disposing of the Erasmus team in a dual meet in the Central Y. M. C. A. tank. The private school performers outscored the P. S. A. L. championship team by a score of 26 to 18.

Gerritt Foster, of Marquand, sprang the biggest surprise of the schoolboy swimming season hereabouts by winning the 100-yard swim in 59 seconds flat. James Tomkins, of Erasmus Hall, P. S. A. L. champion, took second in this event, while Steen, of Marquand, was third, several yards back. Marquand's relay team displayed unexpected speed and strength in winning the relay in the excellent time of 1 minute 46 2-5 seconds.

Erasmus was able to take first place in but two events. Theodore Smith, of Erasmus, high school title holder, won the fancy diving, while Harry Lewis, of Erasmus, another P. S. A. L. title holder, won the 220-yard swim after a hard race with Archie Morrison, of Marquand, in 2 minutes 43 seconds.

Hagenlacher Beats Out Yamada in Cue Match

Erik Hagenlacher, German billiard champion, made a sensational rally against Koji Yamada in the final block of their 1,200-point match at Lawler Brothers' Academy last night and defeated the Japanese champion by scoring 685 points while the latter gathered only 212. The final score was Hagenlacher 1,200, Yamada 1,112.

Yamada won the afternoon game, 300 to 90, with an average of 42 6-11 and scored an unfinished run of 131. With the score 900 to 510 against him Hagenlacher played fine billiards in the evening match and won out in eighteen innings.
