Yankees Well Prepared for Next Campaign

Every Position On Local Club Well Fortified

American League Champions Will Take Only 32 Players on Training Trip

By W. J. Macbeth

Despite the suspensions of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, which will keep the two great sluggers out of the line-up at least till May 20, Miller Huggins is in a much better strategical position to begin the 1922 campaign than he was one year ago—a year which was to see New York crowned with its inaugural American League triumph. The situation is most fittingly reflected in the fact that the battling colonels this spring will pay the high cost of living for only thirty-two able-bodied athletes. Heretofore the toll annually has run anywhere from two-score to fifty each spring.

There are two very excellent reasons why Business Manager Barrow has been able to trim the spring roster limit to such conservative proportions. Every position on the club is well manned by an expert of experience. Nowhere especially will this be true after the heavy seige guns—Babe and Bob—have returned to the good graces of Commissioner Landis. In other words, rookies seem to have little opportunity to break into the championship cast just now, for the team, as it traveled last season, was unusually strong in reserve material. The second reason for the conservation in numbers is a wealth of seasoned pitchers.

Battery material usually represents about half of the caravan of a major league club in the South in the spring. For battery strength—and more particularly pitching—is estimated as just about 80 per cent of genuine team effectiveness. Both in 1916 and again in 1920 the Brooklyn Dodgers more than vindicated this estimate. Huggins will open the season with four of the very finest right-handers to be found in the American League now that he has "Bullet Joe" Bush and Sam Jones to back up Carl Mays and Waite Hoyt.

Shawkey May Reach Old Form

In Bob Shawkey he has a fifth, provided the soreness which afflicted his arm developed no permanent injury. Shawkey, though belabored by the giants in the world's series, seemed to have come around nicely right at the end of the season. He did old jump to his "smoke" ball, but his effectiveness was hampered by wildness. Five right-handed pitchers such as these should carry such a slugging outfit to a pennant without the aid of a southpaw. Huggins, however, will have two experienced portsiders in Harry Harper and Frank (Lefty) Doll, not to mention several other rookies.

The rapid development of Al Devormer last season has solved the other end of the battery problem. Devormer is of the "iron man" type, who very readily could assume the catching burden should Schang's services be required elsewhere for a time. Schang and Devormer together form perhaps the best catching corps in the young circuit. There is reason to believe that because of his deadly hitting Schang may patrol Ruth's beat in left field till Bob Meusel is restored to good standing provided Huggins is unable to land a outfielder for whom he is angling.

One more experienced outfielder would fit nicely into the Yankee scheme pending the restoration of Ruth and Meusel, and it is known that Huggins hopes to land such a one at the Chicago meeting next month, now that Duke Veach and Amos Strunk have both jumped to her. The center field position should be well guarded by Elmer Miller, and Schang can give a favorable account of himself in left. Which puts the right field assignment up to Babe Ruth.

Ruth an Uncertain Quantity

Ruth, however, is a questionable quantity because of his weak underpinning. He had a bad case of water on the knee last year, but is supposed to have been cured as the result of a delicate operation. Time alone will answer that question. Miller is a ball player second only to Tris Speaker, but his work probably would be impaired if he were flanked in the early months by inexperienced fly chasers. It cost a pretty penny of a rookie's work to guard either wing pending the return of Meusel and Ruth.

Indeed, some sharps seem to think that Ruth will go to first base when he returns to the fold. He can play the position well and would prefer it to the outfield. As Landis will allow Ruth and Meusel to play in the spring exhibition games the Babe should be put down to playing weight by the time the bars are let down for him. His presence in the infield would assure perhaps the heaviest hitting inner defense of the game, more especially if Frank Baker is fit for another campaign. Baker is going with the early squad to Hot Springs to fit himself for one more try at least. Everett Scott is not the reputed hitter that Peck is, but his deficiency would be more than atoned by the stalwart stick of Ruth.

Up Boston way they are on record as Joe Dugan will be in a Yankee uniform in New Orleans. If this is so he will be the outfielder, or outfielders, he outfielders will have to make a price, for Hug has no outfielders to spare, and he will hold tightly to his pitchers. Dugan would make the defense of the infield just so much the stronger regardless of where he might play. An infield of Ruth at first, Dugan at second, Scott at short and either Baker or Ward at third would be indeed a thing of rare beauty.

To Honor Chas. Appleton In Spring Race Meeting

The Charles L. Appleton Memorial Cup Steeplechase, which will be a feature of the spring meeting of the Westchester Racing Association, will possess a sentimental quality in keeping with the fine sportsmanship of the modest young devotee of racing whose influence was always exerted toward maintaining the highest ideals of the turf.

While the value of the race is guaranteed at $10,000, the fact that $5,000 of this sum will be contributed annually by the friends and admirers of the dead sportsman renders the event unique. That there will be offerings to the fund from every source of turf affairs—owners, trainers, jockeys and stablemen—as well as those who were his intimates in the promotion of the sport, is certain, for Mr. Appleton was universally admired.

Cleveland Loses Hockey Star

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—The Cleveland hockey team will be without the services of "Speed" Holman, its star utility man, for the rest of the season, according to a statement of the club's president to-day. Holman was seriously injured in the game with Duluth last Saturday night.

Favorites Are Easy Victors In Class B Squash Tourney

Many Likely Racquet Wielders Score in Opening Round of National Play on Columbia Club Courts: William and R. C. Rand Show Up Well

By Jack Masters

Favorites had little difficulty surviving the opening round of the Class B national squash tennis tournament which began yesterday afternoon on the courts of the Columbia Club. There were few defaults and the play was spirited throughout.

The consensus of opinion is that it is "anybody's tournament." There are a number of players entered who can be classed as dark horses, but among those who are believed to have an excellent chance are D. M. Bomeisler and Kenneth O'Brien, Yale; C. F. Fuller and G. E. Abbott, Harvard; J. C. Rochester, Squash Club; H. V. Crawford, Montclair; Kingsley Kuhlardt, Columbia, and R. H. George, D. K. E.

William Rand Jr. and R. C. Rand, both of the Harvard Club, are also attracting considerable attention from the experts. Although their opponents have not been of a high caliber in previous play, neither of these men has lost a match this season, William winning five and R. C. accounting for seven contests.

On past performances Bomeisler figures to go possibly further than any of the others. He has lost only one match, and that to R. H. George early in the season. Since then he has defeated George handily, and also scored over Fuller, N. E. Torrance and Charles Bull. Bomeisler drew a bye yesterday, but will get into action this afternoon against H. V. Crawford, who advanced yesterday at the expense of H. R. Burroughs, Crescent A. C.

This match should be one of the best of the day, for both Bomeisler and Crawford played excellent squash in the recent handicap tourney, the latter reaching the round before the semi-final. The summaries:

"Hal" Cutbill Beats Connolly In Brooklyn College Thousand

"Flying Parson" Wins for Second Time; Sellers Is Third, Devanny Fourth

"Hal" Cutbill, the "Flying Parson," of the Boston A. A., won the "Brooklyn Thousand," the feature event at the annual games of the Brooklyn College Club, held in the 23d Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, last night, defeating Jimmy Connolly, a clubmate, by about twelve yards. Jack Sellers, New York A. C., was third, and Mike Devanney, Millrose A. A., fourth. The winner's time was 2:17 4-5, which is 1 4-5 slower than his time for the same race last year.

Five went to the post, Sid Leslie, the New York A. C. runner, filling out the field. Leslie stumbled on the last turn and fell to the floor. He was running in the rack at the time and it is doubtful if he would have finished in the first three.

Connolly, Cutbill and Devanney alternated the pace for the first lap, Sellers joining the procession at the front on the second circuit. Connolly jumped into the lead at the start of the last lap, but after a few strides Cutbill went around his fellow townsman and opened up a gap of about three yards. Connolly used up all of his reserve strength trying to hold Cutbill, and was badly used up when they hit the last turn.

Cutbill, who is famous for his flying finish, put loose a terrific dash of speed in the last forty yards, and, although Connolly made a game effort, he was outclassed. Devanney apparently found the distance too short, and Sellers had little difficulty taking third place. Jack was about five yards back of Connolly.

The great running of Larry Brown won the one mile intercollegiate relay race for the University of Pennsylvania. The Rutgers quartette ran even with the Quaker City students until the last lap when Brown got the jump on Harold Kay, the New Brunswick star and led the New Jersey youth to the tape by about four yards.

Herb Herb Meyer, another Rutgers star won the 70 yard hurdle race from scratch, being times in 10[illegible] 1-5.

Walter Koppish, of Columbia University, who won the metropolitan 600-yard title only last Wednesday, surprised the crowd by adding the quarter-mile championship to his list. Koppish and Bernie Wefers jr. and Vincent Lally, who finished in the order named, were closely bunched at the tape. The winner's time, 0:51 3-5, is the fastest made indoors in this section this season.

Princeton Wrestlers Win Over Penn, 18-11

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 28.—The Princeton wrestling team defeated Pennsylvania here to-night in the university gymnasium by the score of 18 to 11. Princeton won four falls and a decision against one fall and two decisions for Pennsylvania. The 135-pound bout was the best, during which McKnight, who was on the bottom most of the time, finally threw Davis over his head and scored a fall against the latter in 7 minutes and 10 seconds.

When the final bout was called the score stood at 13 to 11 for Princeton, so that the victory lay with the winner of the last contest. Kinsley, of the Tigers, threw Quirk, of Pennsylvania, in 7:07, thus deciding the contest for Princeton.

The summaries:

115-pound class—Kist, Pennsylvania, threw Hamden, Princeton, in 3:50.

125-pound class—Chassens, Pennsylvania, won from Moreland, Princeton, on decision with time advantage of 4:25.

West Virginia Five Loses

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 28.—West Virginia University lost her first game at home this season to-night to the Keyser Collegians basketball team by the score of 28—20. The game was extremely hard fought, with Bowers and Martin standing out for West Virginia and Parrish and Hoyt for the visitors.

Racing Without Gambling

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Horse-racing, novel in that it is proposed to conduct it without attendant gambling, is the principal object of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, recently incorporated in Delaware, it was announced last night by Rudolph Spreckels, one of the incorporators. Spreckels said the association believed racing could be conducted on its own merits, without betting or any other accompaniment.

Scratch Prize At Traps Won By Vanderveer

Low Scores on Account of Blizzard Weather Feature New York A. C. Shoot

Thirty gunners took part in the final regular January shoot of the New York Athletic Club at Travers Island yesterday. They shot the full program of 100 targets under the worst weather conditions experienced so far this season at the country home of the big Winged Foot club. A blizzard blew throughout the afternoon, whipping the snow into the faces of the nimrods, making it almost impossible for them to hit the tiny targets.

The scores are an excellent indication of the difficult conditions under which the nimrods shot. The high scratch prize was taken by J. H. Vanderveer, who had only a total of 90 out of a possible 100 targets. Although the score was low in comparison with the totals that usually win the cup, it was excellent under the miserable shooting conditions.

The high handicap prize was taken by a card of 94 out of a possible 100 targets. It was the poorest total that has taken the cup so far this winter. The winner was A. P. Palmer, who also won the Travers Island Cup. There was a special handicap race which was taken by T. H. Lawrence. The doubles shoot was won by H. G. Vogel.

Simonson Wins Shoot Held in Snow Storm

Shooting in the face of a baby snow storm that made the conditions the most difficult of the year, ten nimrods took part in the weekly shoot of the Nassau Trapshooting Club at Mineola yesterday. The winner of the high scratch prize was W. Simonson, who had a card of 44 out of a possible 50 targets. He also was the high handicap gunner, but as he could not take both cups the latter went to A. E. Guenther, who had a card of 46. Major Robert Guggenheim had the long run of the day, 20.

Los Angeles Swimming Stars Now Seeking National Honors

Coast Mermaids Now Confident of Capturing Laurels From N. Y. Women

The Los Angeles Athletic Club, long prominent in water sports for women, seems quite confident that its mermaids will assume national leadership this season. Members of the organization are quoted as stating that the New York Women's Swimming Association, holder of the American team championship for several years, will meet its Waterloo at the hands of the Mercury stars, now that it has lost the services of its greatest swimmer, Miss Ethelda Bleibtrey.

While the confidence seems somewhat optimistic in view of the recent performances of Mrs. Charlotte Boyle Clune, the Misses Helen Wainwright, Gertrude Ederle, Aileen Riggin, Ethel Baker, Dorothy Delaney, Claire Jurkow, Helen Meany and other girls of the local association, the California club boasts of a strong, well balanced squad, and appears likely to take its good share of the laurels.

Miss Helen Vernon, formerly of Honolulu, but affiliated with the Los Angeles A. C. since last spring, is the lassie Fred Cady, the club coach, rates his best prospect for the title tests of 1922. During the summer she won the Pacific A. A. U. championship at 220 yards in 3 minutes 16 seconds, thrashed 50 yards in 30 seconds, or faster time than took the national indoor classic last winter, and covered the century in 1 minute 10 seconds. As she is only fifteen and her improvement has been very rapid lately, Cady believes she will be in line for the highest honors by the time the national fixtures come up for decision.

Miss Finn Has Fine Record

Miss Thelma Finn is another swimmer counted upon to score. She is credited with equaling the world's 50-yard record of 28 4-5 seconds and doing 100 yards in 1 minute 8 2-5 seconds in competition. Like Miss Vernon, too, she is said to be bettering her marks steadily at practice.

Then there is Miss Marie Curtis, the former Detroit A. C. star, national long distance champion of 1920 and present holder of the Pacific A. A. U. one mile swimming title and of the women's record for the Golden Gate course. She is looked upon in Los Angeles as a dangerous bidder for all free style events from 440 yards upward.

For back stroke swimming the California club depends chiefly on Miss Dorothy Burns, once in possession of all national records for this style. Sickness caused her to retire from racing for awhile, but she is back in training now and expected to regain her oldtime speed. Also mentioned among the promising backstroke candidates is Miss Marion Himmelstein, of Brooklyn, who failed to show anything remarkable while in this district, but who has been a prominent figure in aquatics since she landed in Southern California, little more than one year ago.

Helen Vernon

Of the Los Angeles A. C. fancy divers Mrs. Aileen Allen is still the foremost. Eastern experts do not believe she has a chance against the young New York springboard queens, but she was the undisputed American high and fancy diving champion for so many years in the past that many Californians think she ranks with the top-notchers to this day. Only actual contests will settle the question.
