MILITIA COMMUTATION TAX FOR 1859.

The undersigned, a Committee of the Division Board of officers, by direction of the Board, publish the following extracts of the Militia Laws of 1858 and 1859, for the information of the public:

"Sec. 1. All able bodied white male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, residing in the State, and not exempted by the Laws of the United States, or this State, shall be subject to military duty.

"Sec 10. Any person not a member of a uniformed company, residing in any of the company districts, who shall pay to the receiver of taxes in the City of New York, the commutation of seventy-five cents, on or before the day of the annual parade of the ununiformed militia, shall be exempt from performing any military duty at such parade or review during the said year.

Sec. 14. Every ununiformed private who shall be regularly enrolled, and duly notified thereof, as hereinbefore prescribed, and who shall not have commuted as aforesaid, and who shall refuse or neglect to appear at such parade as specified in this act (armed and equipped according to law), shall pay a fine of three dollars. For every other delinquency he shall pay the penalties now prescribed by law."

The Committee would also give notice that, while the fines will be strictly enforced upon all legally liable and not commuting, the name of every person who is permanently exempt, will, upon application to the Clerk of the Board, be placed upon the Exempt books and no further trouble will be experienced hereafter. Those already registered need not attend to any notice of fine or Court of Appeal.

All the funds so collected, after paying for taking charge of and heating and lighting the City Armory, for the purposes of drills, printing notices, and recording, are equally divided among the fifteen regiments, for paying band and printing bills, and for company drill rooms, and armories not provided by the city.

While the necessary expenses of the fifteen regiments composing the First Division—beyond that of time and uniform—are not less than fifty thousand dollars annually, the books of the Receiver of Taxes and County Treasurer show that the whole amount of commutation tax received in 1857 was only six thousand one hundred and forty-one dollars and seventy-five cents, and in 1858 only $7,189 and some cents—and the books of the latter show how every dollar is expended, and the vouchers therefor.

This tax being paid to and held in deposit by the same high civil officers as other taxes, the above figures cannot lie, and the committee would ask do they show a just or generous compliance with the law, or appreciation of services rendered.

Commutation money will continue to be received and the Receiver of Taxes receipt given at the office of the Receiver of Taxes and at the Marshal's office, 169 Fulton street, until the 22d instant to accommodate those who have not commuted.
