goods are much wanted, but are scarce, especially mosambiques and fine qualities of shocks. Inferior styles are neglected. British cotton plain goods are selling at an advance. French plain delaines are in fair request, and French plain shawls in much demand. Dress silks also attract more attention as the warm weather approaches, and sell at a profit. Ribbons also continue active. The auction sales continue active, and keep business alive with a continual supply of French goods.

be 25 cents instead of 50 cents as heretofore. Referred to Committee on Constitution and Laws. M. W. James Jenkinson, from the Committee appointed to examine into the history of the Hall and Asylum Fund, reported that no particular sum had been mentioned in the original report, and recommended immediate steps to be taken for raising sufficient funds to build a hall and also an asylum for worthy decayed masons, their widows and orphans. Adopted. A Committee, to whom was referred the propriety of adopting a standard burial service for the fraternity, recommended that the Grand Chaplains be requested to compile such a work. Adopted—and the Grand Lodge was called from labor to refreshment until 9 o'clock this morning.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—The Committee on National Affairs were directed to receive and pay suitable honors to the remains of Col. John L. Riker, of the 62d N. Y. S. V., on their arrival here and also those of Col. James Miller, of the 81st Pennsylvania Vols., who was a resident of this city on entering the national service. Mr. Boole offered a preamble and resolutions highly complimentary to Archbishop Hughes, for his semi-official services in behalf of the Union in Europe, and tendering him, on his arrival home, whenever that may be, the hospitalities and freedom of the city, and also a public reception, if compatible with his feelings. The resolution was adopted, notwithstanding the opposition of Ald. Dayton. The Mayor sent in a veto of the resolution tendering a public reception to Thurlow Weed, on the ground, nominally, that it had not passed by a three-fourths vote, as required by the Charter. The Board concurred to attend municipal honors to Gen. Prim, of Spain. The Board concurred in the establishment of a wood and coal depot for down town steam fire-engines at No. 56 Theatre Alley. A resolution appropriating a sum in blank to cover the expense of the celebration of the next Fourth of July, was laid over. The ordinance to raise $80,000 as a Soldier's Hospital and Burial Fund, was then taken up, and lengthily discussed with a great deal of warmth, Messrs. Ald. Boole and Farley supporting, and Messrs. Ald. Dayton and Froment opposing it. It was at length adopted by a vote of 11 to 3.

SURGEON WATSON, OF THE U. S. STEAMER Cuyler, which vessel has just returned from a trip to sea, has addressed a note to the Health Commissioners, in which he alludes to the results of vaccination as follows:

The day after we sailed from New York, one of the seamen, who had never been vaccinated, was taken ill with the premonitory symptoms of small pox, which in due time ripened into a full-blown case, of the confluent character, and proved fatal at the end of ten days. On the first appearance of the disease I vaccinated all hands fas I then supposed), and awaited the issue with much anxiety. After the critical time had passed, I found but one victim of the contagion on my hands, and upon investigation, ascertained the patient had never before been vaccinated, and when mustered with his shipmates to receive the beneficent prick of my lancet, had skulked away, from prejudice of the operation; and thus deprived himself of the protection to which they owed their safety. This man now lives to exhibit the marks of his folly on a deeply scarred face, the result of a most fearful attack of small pox. Such a marked instance of the protecting power, cannot fail to make friends for the cause of compulsory vaccination.

AT A MEETING of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, a number of new members were elected, and J. A. Stevens elected Secretory of the Chamber for the ensuing year, in place of Mr. Homans, the former incumbent.

YACHT REGATTA POSTPONED.—The annual regatta of the New York Yacht Club, which was to have taken place yesterday, was, in consequence of the strong wind blowing, postponed until today. It was considered altogether too rough for the pleasure of the ladies who were on board the steamboats, and it is hoped that a gentle westerly breeze will smooth the troubled waters and aid the Club and their friends in the enjoyment of the sport today. At 10 and 10½ A. M., steamboats will leave the foot of Morton street to accompany the Yachts.

RECEPTION OF THURLOW WEED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL.—At 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Aldermen Smith, Allen and Mitchell, and Councilmen Hogan and Jones, the subcommittee appointed by the Committee on National Affairs to receive Thurlow Weed, Esq., and tender him the hospitalities of the city, met the gentleman on his landing from the steamer at Jersey City, and accompanied him to the Astor House, where they breakfasted. Ald. Smith briefly and courteously stated the object of the committee, and expressed the gratitude of the people of New York to Mr. Weed for his loyal efforts for the Union. Mr. Weed replied in few words, expressive of his surprise at the honor done him, and desiring to take into consideration the further demonstrations proposed. At breakfast the leading topic of conversation was the state of public feeling in Europe in regard to the rebellion. Mr. Weed spoke his mind very freely on these points. He believed commercial difficulties had rendered the feeling of a great mass of the English people, and many of the people of France, adverse to the Union cause. In reference to the British Ministry, he said the Queen sometimes took part in their deliberations, and she often put in a strong word for us. Mr. Russell, of the London TIMES, he had learned, always spoke favorably of our army, and expressed his belief in the power of the government to crush the rebellion, in private conversations with British statesmen. Among the French, Mr. Weed said the Prince Napoleon was a warm friend of the Union. As to the Emperor, he thought he had been and would continue to be, directed according to circumstances, in his action towards us. Mr. Weed left in the evening for Albany.

THE NEW YORK HOTELS—their various mutations, fortunes and misfortunes, would, if all the facts and incidents could be collected, make a large and very interesting chapter in the local history of Manhattan Island. Dynasties rise and fall, and hotels rise—flourish for a while, and then disappear before the irreversible law of what men call "progress." New York, as a gossipy correspondent of the BOSTON DEMOCRAT remarks, has had many famous inns in her day, some of which live now only in memory. Among such were the old City Hotel in Broadway, near Wall street, and also the Pearl Street House, once thronged with life, but now since trade has moved up town transformed into a place for storage. Twenty-five years ago Hoffs Hotel was the wonder of the city, and was still more so to Hoff himself since he was ruined in its construction, but now it is a fifth rate affair. Hoff got rich by keeping a expensive establishment, and then in celebration of expanding ambition planned a house of outstripping grandeur, in which he sunk all his earnings, and a few years afterward the poor old man died, sunk in fortune and in hope. "Keeping a hotel" in New York is a nice business, and unless there be excellent qualifications, and good luck, it is in a sure road to fortune. There have been many failures, even by admittedly good hotel keepers. The owner of the Tremont sold its lease for $5,000, moved into Broadway, opened another house, failed and went West. The President Hotel failed, and was then restarted as the Croton, and failed again. The Pacific Hotel persists in its present unenviable, failed several times. Lowery, the patriarch of the combined lodging house and restaurant, got rich, but in his latter days lost all and died poor. Ben. Robinson after his misfortunes in Buffalo, and his five years' detention at Auburn, opened Robinson's Hotel, and that failed also. Curtis Judson, of Hartford, opened a flourishing house, known as Judson's Hotel, and did well for a time, but moving up town he encountered new difficulties, and his splendid establishment, the Brevoort House, was sold out by the sheriff. The Astor House opened with great prestige, and is said to have cleared $17,000 in one year from the bar alone. Coleman & Stetson, the lessees of the Astor, made enough for a half dozen fortunes and then failed. The American Hotel was a proud looking affair fronting on Broadway, but was in due time under the Sheriff's levy. The Washington Hotel failed, and Stewart bought it for the sale of his great marble store. The St. Charles failed, and so did the Athenaeum, to say nothing of others of less importance which shared the same fate. At present most of our leading hotels are doing a medium business, as are those of less pretensions, but offering substantial comforts and accommodations.

THE CENTRAL PARK COMMISSIONERS announce that there will be music at the Central Park on the Mall, on Saturday next, the 7th inst., at 4 o'clock P. M., if the weather is fine.

PROGRESS OF SOUTHERN TRADE.—The privilege of trading with the "people" of Beaufort and Port Royal is in a highly regarded by our adventurous merchants. Only one clearance has been issued for the former port, and not a single one for the latter. At Port Royal the trader finds nobody but soldiers and contrabands, and they are supplied directly by the army sutlers.

THE GOVERNMENT is preparing to shelter our armies against the blazing sun of the South. Seventy-five thousand cotton, or linen, shelter tents have been ordered in this city alone, and will be ready for delivery early in July. They will be made on the French pattern, which is considered the best.

COLONEL MILLER, of the 81st Pennsylvania Volunteers, who was killed in the late battle before Richmond, was a resident of Yorkville, in this city. Col. Miller was a trustee and active member of the Presbyterian church in 86th street. He leaves a wife and four small children.

THE BODY OF THE MAN found drowned at the foot of Houston street, E. R., was not that of Minard Lewis, as stated, neither was it identified as such at the Coroner's inquest. Mr. Lewis is still missing.

THE NEW STEAM-FRIGATE LACKAWANNA will be launched in a few days at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The Lackawanna is a single-banked steam-frigate, 262 feet long over all, tonnage 1,600 tons, and proportionate draft of water.

CITY INCIDENTS.—About five o'clock, yesterday afternoon, two soldiers of the U. S. Infantry, named James Smith and William Welsh, went into the porter house No. 15 Centre st., where Smith, being intoxicated, created a disturbance, and first a navy revolver twice, but without doing any injury. The police were called in, and attempted to arrest him, but he rushed into the street, and ran to Reade st., where he turned and fired at his pursuers. The police then closed with him, and knocked him senseless with their clubs, after which he was taken to the 6th Ward Station House, where he was attended by a surgeon. Up to a late hour, he was still unconscious....Coroner Rainey held an inquest yesterday, at No. 314 Pearl st., upon the body of Louis Meyer, a German, 21 years of age, who died from injuries received on the 31 inst., at the Greenpoint ferry. It appears that, while waiting for the boat to arrive, Myers horse became unmanagable and backed into the dock, taking deceased with him. The horse was drowned, but Meyer was rescued severely injured; he, however, died from the effects of his injuries yesterday....The store No. 101 Chambers street was entered by boys on Tuesday night, and robbed of clothing to the value of $157, with which they escaped, but one of them was afterwards arrested....John Ripley, keeper of a boarding house in Roosevelt street, was arrested, charged with stealing $116 in sovereigns, belonging to Charles Rex, one of his borders. The money was stolen from a box in Rex's room, and was found concealed in Ripley's boots.

BROOKLYN.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—The estate of the late Mr. John A. Costa, consisting of a house and a number of city lots, was sold at auction on Wednesday, by Mr. Wm. M. Little. The prices prove that real estate has rather increased than decreased in value. Two lots on Oxford street, near Myrtle avenue, brought $355 each; two others on the same street, brought $360 each; two others on the same street, 650 feet north of the avenue, brought $735 for one, and $730 for the other. Lots on Cumberland street, brought $800 and $790. On Portland avenue, Hampden street and Park avenue, the prices ranged from $800 to $400. The property could not have been sold to better advantage at any time within the past five years, thus showing that real estate still is worth its money notwithstanding the war.

LETTERS AND PAPERS FOR THE GULF Division of the blockade fleet, will be forwarded from the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Saturday, if left at the Lyceum, free of expense.

BASE BALL—BROOKLYN VS. PHILADELPHIA.—This match was played yesterday afternoon, at Bedford, on the grounds of the Atlantic Club, and resulted in a victory for Brooklyn, whose score was 27 runs to the Philadelphians 19 runs.

JERSEY CITY.

A WOMAN DROWNS HERSELF AND CHILD.—Between four and five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, as the Jersey City ferry boat Colden was crossing the river, coming towards New York, an unknown woman, with a child in her arms, jumped overboard from the stern of the boat, and both were drowned. The woman was seen by the driver of an express wagon on the boat, to let down the chain, sit down upon the edge of the deck, and after looking around, slide off into the water. No alarm having been given, the boat was not stopped, and the pilot hands knew nothing of the occurrence until arriving at New York. Neither the woman or child were seen after they struck the water. When the boat left Jersey City the woman was noticed sitting in the cabin, crying. She had on a red plaid shawl and knit hood.

Another account says that the engine was reversed and the dock hands stood ready to secure her, in case she should make her appearance, but unfortunately she did not rise to the surface, and after waiting fifteen minutes the boat entered the slip. The woman was apparently an entire stranger, and no cause can as yet be assigned which led her to commit the rash act. The child was about one year old.

ARREST OF A NEW YORK HACKMAN.—Frederick Johnson, a New York hackman, was arrested in Jersey City, yesterday, by officer Kileanly, charged with soliciting passengers at the Cunard Dock, without having a license. He was taken before Recorder Morris and fined $20.

NEW LIQUOR ORDINANCE.—A new ordinance regulating the sale of spirituous liquors, has been passed by the Common Council of Jersey City. It fixes the price of a license to sell liquor at $50, provides that any dealer to whom a license is granted shall have a sign with the word "licensed" in a conspicuous place on the outside of the building, near the entrance, where the liquor is sold. It further provides for a penalty of $20 for selling on Sunday and for selling in less than quantity than a gallon, a fine of $10 for each offence.

WILLIAMSBURGH.

BASE BALL.—A match of base ball between a club of ball players from Philadelphia and an equal number resident in Williamsburgh, is to be played today on the Union ball ground. The match excites considerable interest, and it is expected a numerous number will be present to witness it.
