LOCAL NEWS.

CONCERT SALOONS.—The Excise law can now be said to be in full operation throughout the city; that is, all classes that come under its influence have become subjugated. Those liquor dealers who were not possessed of "a good moral character" have, to a great extent, gone out of the business; a great many small dealers, with not enough customers to admit of the proprietors ever seeing $250 back again in the shape of profits have retired from the business of retailing "brandy smashes," and the grocery man no longer sell whiskey toddy and tur nips and rum and radishes over one counter. There is one class, however, the Excise law has failed to suppress—the proprietors of Concert Saloons. There are nearly as many of these dens of vice in operation now as before the enactment was put in operation. They can no longer sell "cock tails" after midnight, to be sure, but in their place "coffee and cakes" have been introduced; the gay "Wein and Lager Bier" signs have been removed, but the "pretty waiter girls" remain. They keep the saloons open all night, and make the early morning hours hideous by producing the most unearthly noises upon ricketty, old, unstrung pianos, and battered trumpets. The only advantage gained (if it can be called an advantage) is that the countrymen, who are the main stay of these institutions, do not get swindled to so great an extent as formerly, there being now no $10 bottles of "wine," although there may be cups of coffee, cakes, etc., valued at such a high figure. As mentioned above, these places receive great support from occasional visitors to the Empire City, but of course are not exclusively maintained by them. Their city customers for the most part are a very disreputable class. Although women only are seen in attendance around the saloons, there is generally a man in the back ground who runs the machinery, takes money and does, or assists in the fighting, for there is generally considerable of the latter among these places every night. As the ministers so frequently proclaim from the pulpits, the saloons are modern "hells," and the man who enters them generally comes out minus his self-respect and his money, and with a very clear idea of what Pandemonium is. There are more stabbing and shooting affrays, murders and minor fights in these places than occur altogether outside of them. Of course the title "Concert Saloon" is only a name to cover up the disreputable business transacted. Besides that of a piano and a brass instrument or two, the only music heard is that of the report of a pistol, and the only "notes" that are studied or appreciated are of the bank note make. The Police, at times, make a "raid" on these dens, which generally results in some of the inmates being sent to Blackwell's Island, but of late nothing has been done by the Police in this line. In this connection, the fact may be mentioned that the Police rarely follow up any movement for the extermination of any nuisance for a sufficient period of time to do any good. They act by fits and starts. Some times they make raids on faro players, in the most vigorous manner for about a week. Some enterprising Police Captain will alight upon a house in his district, and the fact creates considerable excitement. Other capitains are not to be outdone, and they immediately turn their attention to like places in their respective districts and make wholesale arrests of gamblers, etc., but they never follow the matter up for any length of time. A few weeks ago the public were surprised by the numerous arrests of "Keno" players, every night for some two weeks, dozens of men and boys were arrested for indulging in this species of gambling, and many establishments were broken up. No Keno players have been arrested, however, for several weeks, and yet nobody imagines that the game has been broken up. In regard to the concert saloon nuisance, it seems to be one of those obstacles to public morality that are difficult to clear away. It was hoped the enforcement of the Excise Law would greatly assist in accomplishing the work, but the "Oriental Halls" still exist, and the "Evening Stars" still shine.

GOOD FRIDAY.—The Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches celebrated yesterday the crucifixion of the Savior. The services were in all cases solemn and impressive. Large numbers assembled in the various churches, some to satisfy mere curiosity, but the majority in obedience to the laws of the churches of which they were members. The French man-of-war lying in the harbor had her yards crossed, as is the custom with ships of Catholic countries on Good Friday. Business was less brisk than usual yesterday. The Courts were adjourned, Wall street was partly deserted, and the Stock and Gold Boards were not in operation all day.

THE UNION HOME SCHOOL.—The total amount received by the managers of the Union Home School from the late festival and lottery enterprise, is $20,000. The managers of the school have bought eight lots on Fifty seventh and Fifty eighth streets, situated first set of Eighth avenue. There is a large building on this property at present, which will accommodate about two hundred children. This building is to be re-fitted, and an addition erected which will make the institution capable of accommodating five hundred children.

EXODUS OF THE PASSOVER.—The celebration of the Jewish festival in commemoration of the Passover, began last evening, and is observed by Jews everywhere. The Passover commencing on the fourteenth day of Nisan continues eight days, during which no leaven is allowed to be eaten, and the two first and last days are observed as strictly as the Sabbath. In the interveening time business may be attended to as usual, but restrictions are imposed on the use of food. The Passover calls to mind the deliverance of the Israelites from the bondage of Egypt.

THE COURTS.—None of the Courts were in session yesterday, it being Good Friday, and the Court rooms presented a very deserted appearance. The calendars of the Courts for Monday will be published on Saturday afternoon.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.—EMBEZZLEMENT OF A LETTER CONTAINING MONEY.—United States against Benj. F. Okie.—The defendant was arrested for embezzling a letter under the following circumstances: It seems that for sometime past a number of letters directed to parties in this city have never reached their destination. Suspicion at last fell upon the prisoner, and with a view of ascertaining his guilt or ignorance, James Gayler, the Special Agent of the Post Office in this city, wrote a "decoy" letter, in which he placed the sum of $150 in bills and currency, upon each of which he put a private mark for identification. This letter, in company with others, was entrusted to the prisoner's care. Shortly afterwards Mr. Gayler asked the prisoner into his private room, where he was shown twenty letters which had been sent by the prisoner to the Dead Letter office at Washington. The prisoner was asked if any of these letters had previously opened and sealed up again. Mr. Gayler asked prisoner if he could account for this, to which the prisoner replied in the negative, but he had opened none of them. Mr. Gayler then asked the prisoner in what way it was that some letters which had been put in his case for transmission to the Dead Letter office, never reached their destination, and he replied that he did not know anything about it. He was then asked how it happened that letters placed in the Washington bags by him were found to have been opened; he replied, "I know nothing about it." In reply to a question as to whether he had taken any letters that day, he replied in the negative. Mr. Gayler then informed him that some letters which had been in his possession that day had disappeared, and that he must submit to be searched. Upon being searched the money placed in the decoy letter was found on his person. The prisoner then admitted his guilt, but stated that it was his first offence.

The prosecution here closed their case. A further hearing was then adjourned to Thursday next at 3 o'clock, P. M.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.—A Curious Case.—Captain Jourdan, of the Sixth Precinct, received a letter a few days ago from an old burglar, in which the writer stated that he had, after a long life of crime, become disgusted with the energy displayed by the Police Captain, who was instrumental in sending him to State Prison, and he begged to present him with his kit of burglar's tools. The bundle, which accompanied the letter, contained forty four false keys, twelve pick-locks, twenty three drills, ten files, three punches, six steel locks for opening safes, four cold chisels, a screw-driver, a brace and bit, a saw, a jimmy, some powder and other articles.

Arrest of an Equestrian.—Robert H. Holmes, an equestrian performer, was arrested at the Revere House on Thursday night by Detectives Vaughan and Kiven on a charge of stealing a coat from an actor named Barnes, while the two were rooming together in Albany. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Justice Coles, and Detective Kelly, of the Albany Police, took the accused to the State Capital by an early train yesterday.

The Royal Insurance Bond Robbery.—An adjourned hearing in the case of Robert K. Sterling was held yesterday before Justice Dowling. The accused is charged with the guilty possession of $5,000 worth of U. S. bonds, stolen from the Royal Life Insurance Company. Very little testimony was introduced, and counsel for the defence sought to show that the original thieves were well known and an effort to compound the felony had already been made. As the agent declined to give the names of the persons from whom he received the $5,000 worth of securities, the case was adjourned until Monday, the 23th, to permit the introduction of other testimony.

Disorderly House.—Ellen Hatch, of 117 Prince street, was arrested yesterday and held for trial on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. Justice Dowling held the prisoner to bail to answer, and sent the complainant Augustus Bacon to the House of Detention.

Assault and Robbery.—While Matt in Reynolds, of Q James street was closing his liquor saloon, on Thursday night, he was assaulted by eight or ten rowdies, who beat and kicked him most unmercifully and then stole $10 in fractional currency from the till. While the gang were escaping, officer Craig and Anderson, of the 4th Precinct, rushed in and arrested two men on suspicion, named James Rodahan and Stephen Collins. Yesterday morning these prisoners were arraigned before Justice Dowling and committed for trial in default of bail.

Brooklyn.

PROBABLE FATAL STABBING AFFRAY IN THE EASTERN DISTRICT.—Last night, about 8 o'clock, an altercation occurred between two colored men named John Poole, 21 years of age, and Prime Hamilton, aged 21, when the latter drew a knife and stabbed the former in the left groin and right breast, inflicting terrible and probably fatal wounds. The unfortunate man was taken to his residence, No. 1 Battle Row, North Second street, in front of which he was stabbed, Dr. Hallam attended him and probed the wounds. He entertains faint hopes of Poole's recovery. Hamilton was arrested about 9 o'clock by Officer Lee, of the 45th Precinct, and is now locked up to await the result of the bold deed he committed. The negro Rogers was stabbed in the same neighborhood in August last, and his murderer is at large to day.

THE LATE TWELFTH WARD HOMICIDE.—A post mortem examination was held yesterday morning on the body of Michael Rooney, who died on Wednesday at his house in Dikeman street, near Richard street, South Brooklyn, revealed the fact that death was caused by injuries of an internal character, received on Sunday evening last. It is not yet positive that Rooney died from injuries received at the hands of Patrick McCaffrey, the man with whom he had the difficulty, and McCaffrey was arrested yesterday afternoon in Columbia street, near Summitt, with Bridget Welch, who is the female about whom the difficulty occurred, at the house of her sister.

SEIZURES OF WHISKEY.—The following seizures were reported to the United States District Attorney, yesterday, by Deputy Collector Dailey: One horse and harness, with a cart and five barrels of distilled spirits found in Fulton street; also two hundred barrels of distilled spirits, found in Miller's bonded warehouse in this city, taken for being branded with spurious brands.

CORONERS INQUEST IN THE CASE OF MRS. THOMPSON.—Coroner Smith commenced an inquest yesterday afternoon in the case of Mrs. Thompson, who died on Sunday last from the effects of injuries received at the hands of several highwaymen, on the night of the 27th ult., which has been previously reported. No further facts in the case have been elicited, and coroner Smith adjourned the inquest until Monday, at 2 P. M.

A BAD NAME.—A young man named Daniel Callahan, 19 years of age, was arrested yesterday by Sergeant C. Wright, of the 14th Precinct, on suspicion of various burglaries that have been committed. He has been arrested several times on charges of robbery, but always succeeded in making his escape until yesterday, when he was finally secured by Sergeant C. Wright, and is held for examination on suspicion of having been concerned in several burglaries committed. Justice Morehouse will hear the evidence in the case.

MASONIC TEMPLE.—The new and finely finished structure at the intersection of Grand and Seventh streets, E. D., called the Masonic Temple, is now about ready for the purposes for which it was designed. On Tuesday next, the different lodges intending to occupy it will open their rooms to public view, and will be on hand for three days to receive their friends. The respective lodge rooms are furnished regardless of expense.

ASSAULT ON A GREENPOINT POLICEMAN.—Yesterday forenoon, Officer Depew of the 57th Precinct, was assaulted while in the discharge of his duty at Greenpoint, by a family named Stolte, consisting of father, mother, son and daughter, who were assisted in the assault by their goat. Indeed, the goat was the original cause of the disturbance, as it first attacked the officer, and its owners went to its help when they found the officer was likely to get the mastery of it. The Stolte family were all arrested for interfering with the officer, and Justice Dailey held them in bonds of $300 each to answer for the offence. The pugnacious goat is yet at large.

PLAIN TALK WITH WORKINGMEN.—The third of the course of lectures on topics pertaining to the benefit of workingmen, will be delivered to-morrow evening by the Rev. W. W. Hicks, at his church, State street, corner of Hoyt. The subject will be "Building Societies."

FIRE.—The alarm of fire in the First District yesterday afternoon was caused by the burning of a straw bed at No. 97 Washington street. It was extinguished with trifling damage.

COMMITTAL OF ALLEGED BURGLARS.—Two young men named William Smith and James Kirwin were yesterday committed to the County Jail by Justice Dailey to await trial at the Court of Sessions for the offence of burglary. These are the two charges against Kerwin, who is only 17 years of age.

New Jersey.

THE JERSEYMEN INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS.—PRESENTATIONS OF SILVER SERVICE.—Messrs. James W. Palmer, John Griffin, David Smith, Minot C. Morgan and E. W. Kingsland, Committee of Investment of the Provident Institution for Savings in Jersey City, were, on thursday evening, presented with services of silver plate, at the residence of Mr. D. S. Gregory, by the Trustees of the Institution, on behalf of the Bank and its depositors, as a testimonial of gratitude for their many years of faithful and gratuitous services. The plate consists of tea and coffee pots, sugar and slop bowls, milk pitchers, sugar tongs, and coffee stemmers. They are tastefully gotten up—massive services in the antique style, and appropriately inscribed. Hon. D. S. Gregory gave a brief history of the Institution, which went into operation in 1844. The first year the total amount deposited was $2,110; but since that time there have passed through the hands of the Board of Investment the sum of $6,588,148 27. During the years the Bank has been in existence, it has accumulated over and above its withdrawals $1,827,798 10, which is the property of not less than 6,773 depositors.

AN AGED MAN MISSING.—James Lynch, aged 87 years, and who is in his dotage, wandered from his home, No. 25 North 6th street, Jersey City, at noon on Wednesday, and since that time his friends are unable to gain any tidings of his whereabouts. The missing man has grey hair, and stoops very much. He wore a Kossuth hat, long black cloth overcoat, and grey tweed pantaloons.

THE JERSEY CITY BLACK CROOK BRIDGE.—The elevated foot passenger bridge, which has been erected at the Newark avenue railroad crossing, in Jersey City, for the benefit of pedestrians, while the street is obstructed with cars, was thrown open to the use of the public yesterday. So far as the ladies are concerned, the bridge is a failure, they preferring to await the removal of the obstruction on the track to climbing over the structure, subject to the gaze of the male sex.

Does It Pay to be a Woman?

A lady correspondent of the COUNTRY GENTLEMAN (Albany) answers the question as follows:

Oftentimes, it does not pay to be a woman—for instance, when she marries a farmer, or any other man, becoming an obedient slave, ever mindful of his wishes, and toiling till even life is wearisome, while her good (?) husband complacently smokes his pipe, all unmindful of his drudge, (except when she saves to him). Then, it does not pay to be a woman, for what pleasure is there in such a life? It would be different if she had an appreciative husband, for nothing will cheer the heart as much as praise from the one she loves. It softens half the cares, and prompts to still greater diligence. A man's work is finished before dark, but a woman's not till late in the evening. It is a shame that so much is expected of a woman, who is constitutionally weaker than man, and who, according to her strength, works much harder. A stout, hearty man can, without much effort, command from three to four dollars a day, while a woman may toil early and late for a week to earn that same amount. Why such injustice? Does that sound as if it paid to be a woman? To say that the work is not worth as much is simply false. It is worth more to them than they may imagine. Let them shift for themselves for a time, and they may possibly have some idea of her services. It is this undervaluing that works the mischief. It is a deadly evil, and, so long as clothing, domestic quarrels will prevail. Men often talk of a scold (their dear wives), at the same time profoundly innocent of their own proclivity for scolding, more especially fault finding. Such an aggravating way they have of acting the idea that woman knows nothing, and that knowledge is confined chiefly to their own wise heads! Another failing they are guilty of is this—a total casting off of the responsibility of children's training, as the poor wife's "field of battle." "Tis her province," they say. What wisdom! I am afraid "Mr. Luke" advances this same idea, when he says "train her sons," &c. Farmers' children are apt to be rough, especially the boys, and it is more than a woman can do to train them; besides, with the constant care and watching of them, she gets completely tired out, and would fain close her ears to their unceasing din. No doubt women often take the wrong course with their children. They all have different dispositions, as well as men, and require different treatment. We see these untrained children in the grown up worthless young men who flood our country. Who is to blame? Reason answers, not woman alone; her husband is just as guilty as she. It is his duty to train as well as hers, and no man can safely shirk it. If people would be less in a hurry to get married, and build their own tenpers more, there would be less domestic trouble, and it might pay to be a woman, and a farmer's wife, too. Perhaps my remarks will be criticised as one sided, but I should be sorry not to vindicate my own sex in every way possible. "Luke" displays a very charitable disposition, not much like the great of one generation. I feel tempted to thank him, on my own responsibility, for his sensible remarks. I do not subscribe to "Lucy Stone's" creed, neither would I vote, but I do believe in justice. I arrive at the wise conclusion, that a single blessedness is right; to prefer the "frying pan" to the "fire," natural, and not to marry any one altogether the best policy.

A FEW days ago Pierson Scott died near Jeffersonville, Ind., of dropsy. Up to the time of his death he had been tapping off six quarts of water at one time, and one hundred and fifty-two gallons of fluid were taken from his system.

SOME workmen in the construction of a house in the Rue Turbige, Paris, found on the 23d a man hanging to a beam. In a pocket of his coat was a written paper to the following effect: "I have lived thirty-eight years entirely unknown in the world; my life has always been for me a problem, the solution of which disquiets me. I am going to try and solve it in another world, in which it is just as unknown to me as the one I quit, but where I shall find, as I have been told, what I have vainly sought for in this—the realization of my dreams."

A PARIS correspondent writes as follows: "Now that crinoline is gone and chinic fich menaced, the great geniuses who in this part of the world invent female adornments have struck out something new. It is to deck garments with little pictures. In a shop window this morning I observed a pardessus of gorgeous red, bearing the picture of a Breton peasant in blue; on another was the picture of a silly young man; on a third, of a horse; on a fourth, of a black gentleman with tail and horns; on others, ships, landscapes, coats of arms, and so on."

TEAS AND COFFEE.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA CO., ESTABLISHED 1861. THE IMMENSE PROFITS OF THE TEA TRADE GREATLY REDUCED.

The proprietors became fully convinced, several years ago, that the enormous profits of Tea and coffee were paying too many and too large profits on these articles of every day consumption, and in order to remedy the evil THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA COMPANY, to do away, as far as possible, with these enormous drains upon the resources of the masses, and to supply them with these necessaries at the smallest possible price.

To prove that this is not an idle story, the profits which have been made in the Tea trade, we will start with the American houses. Leaving out of the account entirely the profits of the Chinese factors.

1st.....The American houses in China or Japan make large profits on their sales or shipments, and some of the richest retired merchants in this country have made their immense fortunes through their houses in China.

2nd.....The banker makes large profits upon the foreign exchange used in the purchase of Teas.

3rd.....The importer makes a profits of 30 to 50 per cent, in many cases.

4th.....On its arrival here it is sold by the cargo, and the purchaser sells it to the speculator in invoices of 1,000 to 2,000 packages, at an average profit of about 10 per cent.

5th.....The speculator sells it to the wholesale tea dealer in lines at a profits of 10 to 15 per cent.

6th.....The wholesale tea dealer sells it to the wholesale grocer in lots to suit his trade, at a profit of about 10 per cent.

7th.....The wholesale grocer sells it to the retail dealer at a profit of 15 to 25 per cent.

8th.....The retailer sells it to the consumer for all the profit he can get.

When you have added to these eight profits as many brokerages, cartages, storages, cooperages and waste and add the original cost of the tea, it will be perceived what the consumer has to pay. And now we propose to show why we can sell so very much lower than other dealers.

We propose to do away with all those various profits and brokerages, cartages, storages, cooperages and waste, with a small profit to ourselves—which on our large sales will amply pay us.

Parties getting their Teas from us may confidently rely upon getting them pure and fresh, as they come direct from the Custom House stores to our salesroom.

The Company continue to sell at the following prices.
