INSTRUCTION.

FRENCH BOARDING SCHOOL FOR YOUNG GENTLEMEN, (ESTABLISHED IN 1780), At LAGNY (Seine-et-Marne), FRANCE, 15 miles East of Paris, by the Strasburg Railway.

Principal—MR. F. FLEURY, Successor to his Father and Grandfather.

The Institution of Mr. FLEURY is one of the oldest established Boarding Schools in France. It is situated on one of the most healthy spots near Paris, and affords spacious accommodation. The buildings are capacious and airy, surrounded by handsome gardens and extensive play-grounds, and no pains have been spared to secure the comfort of the pupils.

By a system of sound mental training, young gentlemen are prepared in this establishment for professional, mercantile, literary or scientific pursuits.

In order to prepare his pupils for all eventualities, Mr. FLEURY has added to the studies, lectures on practical Mathematics. Workshops for engineering have been provided, and almost immediately gave satisfactory results, a great number of pupils having obtained handsome and lucrative positions in public offices or professional undertakings.

The principal advantage held out to parents is the thorough knowledge which Mr. FLEURY and his two sons possess of the English and German languages, from their long residence in England and Germany. To remove all difficulty, the pupil on his first entering may receive private lessons for the first month or two, until he is able to join in the different classes.

No parlor boarders. Vacations from the 15th of August to the 1st of October. No vacations at Christmas.
