LIFE IN THE METROPOLIS.

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY THE SUN'S REPORTERS.

A Candidate for a Police Captaincy Playfully Trying to Shoot a Man, and then Asking him to Drink—A Trial before the Police Commissioners.

A complaint was made yesterday before Police Commissioner Brennan, by Mr. Tommy Costello, whose father has a bar in the Eighteenth Ward, against policeman John Little. Costello testified that on May Day he had a misunderstanding with policeman Little, and that the officer clubbed him, and discharged three shots at him. A fortnight later, Little went in civilian's clothes into a liquor store at Twenty-sixth street and First avenue, and finding Costello there, asked him to drink. Costello declined, saying that he would not drink with a man who had tried to murder him. Little said he was glad to know that, and thereupon hit Costello on the nose, remarking that he could lick him at any time, and asking him outside that he might begin that little diversion. Costello was willing to go outside if Little would leave his pistol at the bar. "You — — — —," was the answer, "if I kill you I'll be made a captain. Take your pistol and put it down my throat, and I'll do the same with you, and then I'll go away, and"—adding perhaps prophetically—"the d— — to you." Officer Little denied that he had struck any one in the store, but said that on the 1st of May a man approached him bleeding, and told him that he had been beaten by persons in a liquor store. The officer went to the place, and Costello pointed a pistol at him. Thereupon he (Little) fired upon Costello. The officer admitted that he asked Costello to drink, and that Costello said he wouldn't drink with a d— — loafer. The Commissioners adjourned the hearing for further evidence.

The Astonishing Vigilance of the Amateur U. S. Detectives.

Yesterday the irrepressible J. Butler Young, chief of the amateur U. S. detectives, and the protégé of the Hon. B. F. Butler, made a raid on the steamer Tybee, of Spofford & Tileston's new St. Domingo line, with the assistance of seven men, and after a thorough search walked off in triumph with 2,100 cheap St. Domingo cigars, worth $29. The second mate, one of the engineers, and one of the crew were arrested and locked up to answer. Estimating the pay of eight inspectors at $4 per day to be $32, the natural question is, What profit has accrued to Uncle Sam from this petty annoyance of persons whose offence cannot possibly be construed into a breaking of the law?

New Use for an Old Champagne Basket.

In Mr. Wm. R. Gould's stationery store, in Nassau street, near the SUN building, at about 1 o'clock in the day, five persons stood looking at the goods. One attracted the attention of Mr. Hare, the senior clerk, by examining some inkstands; another engaged the time of Mr. Strignall, also a clerk; while a third, who carried a large champagne basket under his arm, desired to purchase some revenue stamps. The stamps, in denominations of two cents to $25, were kept in a huge leathern pocketbook, which was placed for security on the top of the safe that was protected by a wire grating. The stamps were furnished the man with the basket; and while Mr. Gubraner, who waited upon the thief, had his back turned, the fellow silly reached over and slipped the stamp book, containing nearly $800 in revenue stamps, into his basket. He coolly received his change from the clerk, and departed. The remainder of the gang quickly followed.

Clothe Cuba's Naked Women and Children.

The ladies of the Junta de Cubanas desire to add their appeal to that made by Gen. Jordan in behalf of the destitute women and children of Cuba. Contributions of clothing old and new, only begging that it be of a light fabric suitable for the climate of Cuba, will be gratefully received by Mrs. Carmen M. de Colas, 107 East Thirteenth street; Mrs. Gen. Jordan, 131 West Forty-third street; Mrs. M. Mayorga, 165 Lexington avenue; Mrs. G. C. Barrett, 24 West Thirty-eighth street. Will the press generally please copy.

The Eleventh Street Paving Nuisance.

During the past month the residents in East Eleventh and Tenth streets have been subjected to intolerable annoyance by the disagreeable fumes arising from the boiling of a quantity of concrete and pitch, used by the "Serly Concrete Company" in paving Eleventh street. During the day only eight or ten men are employed in laying the pavement in question, and only six feet of new paving is completed per day. From the lips of one of the workmen we learn that it will be three months before the nuisance is at an end, as they are going on to Seventh avenue.

What is the Use of Policemen?

About two weeks ago an attempt was made to rob the R. C. Church of the Holy Name, Seventy-seventh street and Broadway, and the police have since been keeping a vigilant lookout for the thief. Notwithstanding this, however, and notwithstanding the fact also that the windows of the church are of unpainted glass, an impudent scoundrel entered it on Sunday last, and after clearing the altar of all its valuables, lighted a candle, which he carried to the other end of the church, where he broke open the poor boxes, stole all their contents, and escaped.

The Salt of the Earth.

The Presbyterian Synod yesterday adopted a new form of covenant, which asserts that Presbyterianism is the only divinely instituted form of government in the Christian Church; abjures and condemns Popery and infidelity under all its various aspects; and considers all forms of secret and oath-bound societies and orders as pagan and infidel in their origin.

Going to Law to Some Purpose.

In the case of Alexander M. Douglass against the schooner S. L. Davis and a cargo of cotton, Judge Benedict granted an order yesterday directing the claimants to pay Douglass $21,371.28, in accordance with a decree of the United States Supreme Court.

BOSS M'LAUGHLIN SNUBBED.

Progress of the Ring Conspiracy against District Attorney Samuel D. Morris—Books that must Silence the Ring.

Boss McLaughlin's Smelling Committee of the Brooklyn Supervisors met again yesterday afternoon to investigate "Chippy's" second trumped-up charge against the fearless District Attorney Morris. Chippy accuses Mr. Morris of compromising a bond of $2,600 for $550, and of appropriating the latter amount to his own use. Mr. Morris yesterday showed by his clerk's book that the bond amounted to $1,200 only. He admitted that he compromised it for $950, and used the money himself, but he claimed that the county was indebted to him at the time, and that, after taking the money, he had it charged against him on the books of his office.

McLaughlin attended the investigation yesterday, with the short-haired, red-shirted gang who infest the purlieus of the City Hall and Court House, and repeatedly interrupted Mr. Morris, who, however, declined to notice him. When Mr. Morris proposed to make a statement to the Committee, McLaughlin objected, and of course Supervisor Cassidy (who had been picked out of his place as Assistant Keeper of the Jail) seconded the motion.

The respectable members of the Committee allowed Mr. Morris to proceed. The District Attorney said that he had received for forfeited bonds a total of $2,800, every cent of which was entered in his books, which would also show every cent received and expended by him. As prosecuting attorney he thought he had the right to use his own judgment for the best interests of the county, and this he will continue to do despite the howling of the "Ring," who are concocting schemes to get control of his office.

THE GREAT RACES AT JEROME PARK

One Mile Early-Morning Dash between Narragansett, Corsican, Abd-el-Kader, Sanford, and Gen. Yorke, the Favorite Quintet of the Meeting—Abd-el-Kader Improving—Arrival of Famous Hurdle Racers.

The prospects at Jerome Park as the time approaches for the great races of the season could not be more brilliant. In the annals of the American turf never has there been gathered such an array of thoroughbreds. They are the crème de la crème of the aristocracy of the turf. It is apparent that the interest in the noble sport of horse-racing is rapidly increasing among all classes. The list, as already published in THE SUN, comprises nearly two hundred horses, of which the greater number are in the finest possible condition. Although few stables remain unfilled, a number of notable studs are still to arrive. The programme of the races could not be better, and includes the names of the fastest horses in the land.

The meeting opens on Saturday next, June 4, with a hurdle race for all ages, one mile and three quarters. Next in order are the Fordham stakes, with twenty-six entries. The Belmont stakes will be the next, which are for three-year-olds. Decidedly the greatest event of the meeting will doubtless be the contest for the Westchester cup, for which the swiftest steeds in the stables will contend. This race is looked forward to by turfmen with the most pleasurable anxiety, considering that the names of the horses entered to compete for the enviable honor of carrying off the much prized piece of plate are already so famous. There is nothing that can exceed the efficient manner in which the horses are put through the routine of their daily training on the track, which is in admirable condition.

On Friday morning, Narragansett was let out over the track for a mile heat, and did his work to the great satisfaction of a number of gentlemen present, who have a few thousands on the pet of the Park. Corsican, Abd-el-Kader, Sanford, and Gen. Yorke followed close upon the favorite in the order mentioned. The great struggle will probably be on the 7th of June, between the never vanquished Narragansett; Corsican, whose time has been unequalled; Abd-el-Kader, the winner of the four-mile race at Saratoga; Sanford, Gen. Yorke, and Helmbold. There are, however, other horses, little thought of, that may in the end carry the day. All in all, the affair will be an unprecedentedly brilliant one, and will undoubtedly attract by far the largest concourse of admiring witnesses ever assembled within the Park.

There is to be no contest for two-year-olds at the spring meeting. The list for the four days of the racing comprises no less than nineteen notable events, including a steeple-chase and several hurdle races. Last week quite an accession was made to the collection of famous hurdle racers in the arrival of Mr. Swigert's stud from Kentucky, and Mr. Allaway's from Canada.

BONDS AT A DISCOUNT.

Detective Duty that is Worth Something—Col. Whitley's Job.

United States bonds and Mexican railway and gas companies' bonds, valued at $40,000, were recently stolen, and as the owners kept silent, the possessors of the bonds thought it safe to dispose of them, but unluckily for them their attempts to do so reached Col. H. C. Whitley, the Chief of the Secret Service Division.

One L. A. Brown seemed to be the principal having the bonds in his possession, and it was found that he had taken into his confidence one John Kandle, of Newfield, N. J., a Mr. Farmer, and one George Marshall, the two latter well known to the secret service force as dealers in spurious bonds. In due time one of Col. Whitley's men introduced himself in a friendly manner to Kandle, and learning what he had for sale professed to be inclined to go in for a good thing, at the price offered, accepting all risks.

At first the sellers were rather shy, and they required some coaxing to get them to arrange the business. It was at length agreed that Marshall and Kandle should go down to Stamford, Conn., where a deal was to be made of $15,000 in United States bonds for $6,000 currency. The detective accompanied them down and found that they had the stolen bonds on their persons. He consequently let them journey no further than Springfield, where he made himself known and arrested both his companions. They were brought to this city yesterday, and incarcerated in Ludlow street jail.

A RAILWAY COMPANY'S LIABILITY.

A Verdict of $6,000 against the Toledo and Wabash—Free Passes.

The suit by Tracy E. Roberts against the Toledo and Wabash Railroad Company for damages for injuries received by the overturning of a car near Lafayette, Indiana, in January, 1865, which has been on trial for two weeks, before Judge Brady, was concluded yesterday. Mr. Roberts suffered a permanent disability, through dislocation of the hip. The defence was that the accident was unavoidable, and could not have been foreseen or prevented; that the dislocation of the hip was caused by a subsequent fall; and that Mr. Roberts was travelling on a free pass, granted on condition that the Company were not to be liable for injuries from accident.

The plaintiff testified that though he had travelled on a free pass, he had destroyed it at Indianapolis, not expecting to have to go back, but that afterward a communication from his firm in New York induced him to retrace his steps for the purpose of finding a creditor. Railroad officials, on the other hand, testified to admissions on his part that he had a pass at the time of the accident.

Judge Brady charged the jury that if they found he had a pass, he was bound by its conditions, and was without remedy. The jury gave the plaintiff $6,000.

The Crown of Spain seems to wait in vain for a wearer, and the great Iberian nation bewails its unsettled condition. The Americans are more fortunate; every citizen is a sovereign; each has the privilege of choosing his own crown, which he does as a rule, from the thousands of beautiful Hats made by Knox, 212 Broadway, corner of Fulton street. The great hatter's fashions for summer are the ne plus ultra of elegance and comfort.—Adv.

SICK TRANSIT.—The transition from gray to unnatural black or brown, effected by the hair dyes and kindred preparations, is indeed a sickening transit. BARNUM'S VITALIA, on the other hand, restores the natural hue to a shade, and is pleasant and safe, instead of sickening and pernicious.—Adv.

Note the fact, that deposits made this day in the Mutual Benefit Savings Bank, in the Sun Building, draw interest from June 1.—Adv.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, May 30—P. M.—Decoration day was observed in Wall stre t, the various departments of the Stock Exchange having adjourned at 1 o'clock, although dealings were continued on the curb stones during the afternoon. The Government offices were closed, and the day has been a half holiday. The railway share market was dull and without feature. Prices of leading shares showed but trifling changes, and the absence of buyers was especially marked. In the miscellaneous list, Pacific Mail was active under the adroit manipulations of the chiques who were recently bearing that stock, and the price fluctuated between 43¾ and 44⅝. The dealings in the balance of the list were insignificant.

The gold market has been weak, in consequence of the Treasury programme for the sale of five millions next month. The transactions, however, have been light, and a general dullness pervaded that market.

In the gold loan market, the rates paid for having balances carried were 3, 2, 2½, 1 and 1½ ⅌ cent. The principal quotations were:

11:45 A. M.	111¾	1 P. M.	111¾
4 P. M.	111¾ bid.

Foreign exchange has been firm on the basis of 109⅞ for 60 days' bills, and 110¼ for sight; commercial bills being quoted at 109⅝@109¾.

The money market is drifting toward lower rates under the plethora of funds accumulating at this point, and borrowers have made much difficulty in placing their surplus above 3 ⅌ cent. on Government bonds, and 4 ⅌ cent. on pledge of railway collaterals. Commercial paper continues scarce, strictly first-class names ranging at 5@6 ⅌ cent, with 6 and 10 per cent as the range for single signatures. Some foreign acceptances bearing gold interest have been negotiated at 4@4½ ⅌ cent. The programme of the Treasury for the month of June was announced this morning, and embraces sales of gold to the extent of $5,000,000, and bond purchases amounting to $8,000,000, divided as follows:

GOLD SALES.

Wednesday, June 1	$1,000,000
Wednesday, June 8	1,000,000
Wednesday, June 15	1,000,000
Wednesday, June 22	1,000,000
Wednesday, June 29	1,000,000
Total	$5,000,000

BOND PURCHASES.

Thursday, June 2	$2,000,000
Thursday, June 9	1,000,000
Thursday, June 16	2,000,000
Thursday, June 23	1,000,000
Thursday, June 30	2,000,000
Total	$8,000,000

The Government bond market has been quiet and steady, prices being without important change from those current Saturday. The increased purchases of the Treasury for June have imparted firmness to the market, and a healthy inquiry from investors is reported; but until the Funding bill is finally disposed of, the investment demand will be much restricted. The cable reports a strong market at both London and Frankfort. The public debt will probably show a decrease of $8,000,000 in the month of May. Henry Clews & Co., 32 Wall street, report prices firm at 4 P. M.:
