SUNBEAMS.

—The Courier-Journal believes that Dr. Mary Walker is unquestionably the most thorough pantaloonatic of the age.

—None but the brave deserve the fair. An Indiana lass is now engaged to be married to a young man whose hand she refused seven times.

—Fritz Reuter, the Low-German novelist, was recently offered a patent of nobility by the Emperor William of Germany, but declined it.

—Dr. Greeley has been done in sugar by an enterprising confectioner, and now every little shaver in the country goes in for licking him.

—A romantic lady of the French nobility, aged 82, is spending her time and money in renovating the tomb of Abelard and Eloise at Pere la Chaise.

—A Cincinnati wife left her husband's board, but took the bed with her. He is puzzled to know how to word a legal notice of warning to prospective creditors.

—A Massachusetts man the other night caught a mouse in his mouth while asleep. The mouse was killed, and the man woke up in a terrible fright. The mouse was caught nipping, while the man was caught napping.

—The city of Oxford, England, with its 35,000 inhabitants, could recently boast of not having a single criminal in its prison, an unusul circumstance, which was marked by the hoisting of a white flag on the tower of the jail.

—A college for journulists will be opened in Paris next September. A. Neffzer, the eminent editor of Le Temps, will be president of the college, and A. Guéroult, Emile de Girardin, and Alphonse Karr, will be the trustees.

—A Ballard county (Kentucky) man got very drunk on bad whiskey, and went to sleep in the woods. During the night a poor, deluded rattlesnake crawled sly up to the drunkard, bit him, and died. The man is doing as well as could be expected.

—Every person, without regard to race, sex, or condition, who is found in the streets of the cities and towns of Russia in a state of intoxication, is compelled to work at sweeping the streets during the whole of the next day. Here is a valuable hint.

—An Arkansas local soliloquizes thusly: "Some of our exchanges are publishing as a curious item a statement to the effect that 'a horse in Iowa pulled the plug out of the bunghole of a barrel.' We do not see anything extraordinary in the occurrence. Now, if the horse had pulled the barrel out of a bunghole and slaked his thirst with the plug, or if the barrel had pulled the bunghole of the plug and slaked its thirst with the horse, or if the plug had pulled the horse out of the barrel and slaked its thirst with the bunghole, or if the bunghole had pulled the thirst out of the horse and slaked the plug with the barrel, or if the barrel had pulled the horse out of the bunghole and plugged its thirst with a slake, it might be worth while to make some fuss over it."
