COMMON SENSE OUTRAGED.

THE TRICKERY OF THE OPPONENTS OF A NEW CITY PRISON.

Calling a Mass Meeting and Packing Out Entirely Opposed to the Manager. Men who would tell the Truth about the Pestiferous Tombs.

[illegible] and Billy gentlemen [illegible] taxpayers and property owners [illegible] in the Germania Assembly Rooms to protest against the proposed [illegible]. Among them were Alderman [illegible], and Falconer, ex-Alderman Radde, [illegible] Jones, of Mr. Beers's Council of Political Reform, Col. Henry Bonny, the noted [illegible] philosopher, and Mr. Edal F. Hall, a [illegible] Police Justiceship.

Alderman Kohr having been elected Chairman [illegible] thanks for the honorand declared himself opposed to the new prison because the [illegible] its erection did not limit the [illegible] expended. He added that the Tombs was [illegible] enough, and that a new prison would [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible] years.

Policeman Robinson having [illegible] the [illegible] Alderman and called [illegible] upon the action of the Board of Aldermen in relation to a site for the new prison.

MERCY A MONEY VIEW.

Alderman Koch was the next speaker. Saw [illegible] in German, he began by [illegible] the new prison. He [illegible] Tombs [illegible] "Mercy" provide patients [illegible] "Mercy" was the introduction [illegible] in the prisoners.

[illegible] WITH A VENGEANCE.

[illegible] Brown, Mr. Carl Lessmann, [illegible] dressed the crowd. He [illegible] a speech in the Tombs, [illegible] "It is a mass of [illegible] a [illegible] "It's atmosphere [illegible] and deleterious. Ravenous [illegible] was interrupted by hisses and cries of [illegible] Several excited Germans [illegible] Mr. Lessmann [illegible] Mr. Beers's Council of Political Reform [illegible] Mounting the rostrum he made [illegible] and introduced Col. Henry Bonny, [illegible] philosopher and declared [illegible] a tall, stalwart policeman entered the [illegible] This was the signal for another demonstration. The opponents of the new prison [illegible] and, pointing to the mechanic and his friend, shouted "Aus, aus, aus!"

HOW THEY SILENCED OPPOSITION.

Instantly others arose and protested. One [illegible] who sat near the platform said, "I protest against putting these men out. This is a free meeting and they have as good a right [illegible] as any of us." The speaker's remarks were [illegible] by the cries of "Aus, aus, aus!" [illegible] upon the stalwart guardian of the peace [illegible] and followed by about fifty excited Germans, advanced toward the mechanic and his friend, and ordered them out of the [illegible] Germans [illegible] the action of the Common Board of Aldermen in relation to a site for a prison