The Sun.

SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1874.

The Weekly Sun.

Circulation nearly 100,000; rather more than one copy for every Post-office in the United States, Territories, and Canada.

The Weekly Sun is a mammoth sheet containing the cream of the news of the world, and is pronounced by all who read it to be the most interesting and valuable family newspaper in the world. It is the cheapest and best paper for the country. Every man who knows it, reads it and likes it. It is just the paper you want your family to read. It contains no dull or indecent matter, but is entirely free from it, and is in every respect a paper that may be taken into any family with the utmost confidence that it will not offend the most fastidious taste.

Terms: Single copy, one year, in advance, $0 50

Ten copies, one year, in advance, 5 00

Twenty copies, one year, in advance, 9 00

Single copies, in wrappers, ready for mailing, 0 75

Single copies, in wrappers, ready for mailing, with name of subscriber and post-office in full, 1 00

Single copies, in wrappers, ready for mailing, with name of subscriber and post-office in full, and name of post-office in which it is to be delivered, 1 50

Clubbers should not be deceived by the cheap trash called by the name of some old or standard paper, and offered at from 50 to 75 cents a year. Such trash is not the paper ordered by clubbers, and is not wanted by them. The Weekly Sun is the paper ordered by clubbers, and is worth the price they pay for it, and they know it. Clubbers should not be deceived by any pretence that any other paper is the paper they want, or that any other paper is the paper ordered by clubbers, or that any other paper is worth the money of clubbers. The Weekly Sun is the paper for clubbers, and they know it.