[illegible] and I want you to treat it according [illegible] Theodore and also your[illegible]

[illegible] you have left no impression unfriendly to T.

[illegible] F. D. T.

[illegible] Yours, C. gave to T.'s [illegible] story?"

A PRIVATELY TALK WITH BEECHER.

[illegible] Mr. Cleveland and Tilton. [illegible] Tilton was in favor of Mr. Greeley [illegible] together at [illegible] Tilton [illegible] Mr. Beecher [illegible] Tilton [illegible] Mr. Beecher [illegible] A.—I think [illegible] A.—I think [illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] that the conversation with [illegible] A.—Yes, sir, and it was a short [illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] a friendly dinner, was it not? A.—No, sir.

[illegible] that Mr. Beecher [illegible] for Greeley? A.—I think [illegible]

[illegible] dinner and a friendly talk? A.—No, sir.

[illegible] writing this letter was some [illegible] A.—I don't [illegible] Mr. Beecher [illegible] Mr. [illegible] was good [illegible] that Tilton [illegible] as being predicated on [illegible] proved in the case. The objection was [illegible]

[illegible] A.—Yes, sir. [illegible] I didn't [illegible] Mr. Beecher [illegible] Mr. [illegible] A.—Yes, sir. [illegible] A.—I think that [illegible] June 1, 1873? [illegible] A.—I don't [illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] Mr. Beecher [illegible] Mr. Tilton [illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] A.—Yes, sir, and it was a short [illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[illegible] A.—Yes, sir.

[