

- Laws of Financial Death.
1. The law putting two exceptions on the GREENBACKS passed Feb. 25, '62.
  2. The NATIONAL Bank Law, passed Mar. 25, 1863.
  3. The Contraction Act, passed March 6th, 1869.
  4. Credit strengthening act, passed on March 18, 1869.
  5. Fund the National debt, passed July 14th, 1874.
  6. Demonetization of silver, passed on March 12th, 1873.
  7. The resumption act, passed Jan. 14, 1874.

Dawn

Keep in the Middle of the Road.

VOL. I. ELLENSBURG, WASH., FEB 2, 1895. NO. 27.
ROBERT A. TURNER, EDITOR.

REMEMBER THAT
That we print two editions of DAWN, a WEEKLY and a MONTHLY edition. The Weekly costs 50 Cents per Year and is read by the best class of people regardless of party affiliation. It exposes fraud and corruption wherever found and asks no quarters from friend or foe.

The Monthly Dawn
has a wide circulation, goes into every State in the Union. It is published at a price that all can afford to take it.

10 Cents per Year
Job Printing of all kinds neatly done at bed-rock prices.

OUR WASHINGTON CITY LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 25, 1895.

Justice Harlan this week delivered an opinion giving his reasons for dissenting from the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in favor of the sugar trust, in the case brought against that trust under the Sherman anti-trust law, that may make him President of United States. At any rate, it would certainly be desirable to have a President who would hold the views expressed in this opinion by Justice Harlan. He believes with thousands, nay millions, of patriotic citizens that the unchecked growth of gigantic monopolies and trusts for the control of the necessities of life is a menace to the existence of our government, and that they must be made amenable to law.

The chief obstacle to the agreement of the Senate upon a financial bill is President Cleveland.

That fact was clearly brought out this week, when Senator Ransom visited the White House at the instance of certain democratic Senators. Mr. Cleveland will have nothing that in any way favors silver, although he was flatly told that nothing could be done unless silver was favored. Two new bills have been introduced in the Senate, one by Jones, of Ark., for the issue of $500,000,000 in bonds, the unlimited coinage of silver on the basis of a silver dollar being given for a dollar's worth of bullion at the market price, and allowing national banks to issue currency to the par value of bonds and reducing taxation on their currency; the other—by Senator Smith, of N. J.—for the same amount of bonds and a currency commission to investigate and report next December.

Judge Ricks, of Ohio, will not be impeached. That was practically settled when the House Judiciary Committee decided, last week, to reopen the case and give Judge Ricks a hearing. Therefore, nobody was surprised when that committee after the hearing by a vote of 9 to 7 adopted the following:

"Resolved, That while the committee is not satisfied that Judge Ricks has been guilty of any wrong committed while judge that will justify it in reporting a resolution of impeachment, yet the committee cannot too strongly censure the practice under which Judge Ricks made his accounts."

Although this can hardly be considered a vindication for Ricks, it isn't satisfactory to Representative Bailey, of Texas, who will present a minority report to the House, in favor of impeachment.

The idea of a Senatorial investigation of the charges of election frauds in the South, which was first broached by the Alabama Populists, and which is being pushed in their behalf by the Populist Senators, has a new and strong supporter in the person of Senator Butler, of South Carolina. Mr. Butler does not advocate an investigation in Alabama, but he has presented a petition from Dr. Sampson Pope, late candidate for governor of South Carolina on the anti-Tillman democratic ticket, asking that an investigation of a long list of specified election frauds at the late election in that State be made by the Senate, and he endorses the petition. He cannot consistently vote for an investigation in South Carolina and against one in Alabama.

The delegation sent here by the five civilized tribes of Indians to oppose the bill providing a Territorial form of government for Indian Territory might as well have staid at home and saved their expenses, notwithstanding the advice of Washington lobbyists itching for a fee to the contrary.

The bill is dead, but it wasn't the Indians nor the lobbyist who did the killing. It was a quiet tip from President Cleveland which let the author and the friends of the bill know that if an attempt was made to pass it at this session it would be antagonized by the administration. That settled its fate in short order, although those who get paid for saying so still talk as though the bill was likely to pass unless their efforts against it are kept up.

The railroad pooling bill has been favorably reported to the Senate without amendment, but, although a majority of the Senate is believed to favor it, there is much fear privately expressed by the railroad lobby that it may not be voted upon at the present session.

Several shrewd Senators, among them Senator Gorman, are reported to be determined to prevent action on the measure. If this were really true the bill would have no chance at all, but such statements are often given out for a purpose—sometimes for a good purpose, but oftener for a bad one.

The strike commission bill, having been amended to meet the approval of a number of the labor leaders, has been favorably reported to the House. Accompanying the report were letters endorsing the bill from Gompers, Hayes, Denning and Sovereign. The interest in Congress in the Brooklyn trolley strike is expected to have a tendency to hasten action on the bill.

Don't buy tin cans and jugglers when you can buy a standard gallon of Pure Maple Syrup for one dollar at the BOSS BAKERY.

THE MONTHLY DAWN is one of the best educators published on the coast. Only 15cts a year.

FLORAL WORKS

For particulars of this work, apply to the publisher, James Vick's Sons, Inc., 110 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

40 Cents a Pair

We have grown weary of the old-fashioned patterns of floral designs, and we are now publishing a new series of designs, which we believe will be found to be of great value to the artist and the amateur alike. Each pair of designs is printed on a separate page, and is accompanied by a full set of instructions, and a list of materials required. The designs are of a high order of art, and are suitable for the most refined taste.

James Vick's Sons, Inc., 110 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

We are State agents for the ROYAL CROWN WIND MILL and will sell mills at a living figure. Call and see us. DAWN PUB. CO.

BREAKERS AHEAD By Edward Irving of Farmington, Cal. "Dedicated to the toilers of the World, by a Fellow Slave." Press notices: "Full of good material and is a striking presentation of facts."—PAUL VANDERVERT. "Filled with gems of economic thought and research—a most valuable addition to our literature."—Chicago Express. "I have read it with a great deal of pleasure and profit."—IGNATIUS DONNELLY. "A very good document."—JOHN W. BREIDENBACH.

PRICE 25c.
For Sale at The Dawn Office, Ellensburg, Wash.