SPENDTHRIFT UPSET AGAIN.

GREAT EXCITEMENT OVER THE RACE FOR THE JEROME STAKES.

A Memorable Day for the Opening of the Fall Races of the American Jockey Club—Five Contests that Stirred the Blood of Turfmen—George L. Lorillard's Winners.

Jerome Park never presented a brighter appearance than it did yesterday at the opening of the American Jockey Club's fall races. An August warmth poured down on autumn colored leaves and rich green grass. The merry horns of four-in-hands sounded until five of them had deposited their rich freight on the lawn under the club house. The grand stand was nearly filled. Deadhead Hill entirely covered, and the quarterstretch and bookmakers' section made a scene of busy turf life. No pools were sold, but the bookmakers paid nearly $12,000 for the privilege of taking their chances in backing the fields of horses. This is nearly double the amount received from the pool sellers in past times. Nearly all the turf magnates were present, while the hero of the sawdust track—Rowell—was a quiet looker-on from the grand stand.

The sensation of the day was the defeat of Spendthrift in the mile and three-quarters race for the Jerome stakes, by Monitor. Monitor won by a neck in a half second slower time than the Duke of Magenta captured the same stakes in last year. Altogether the races were stubbornly contested and the sport exhilarating. Mr. George L. Lorillard had more than his usual luck, capturing the Nursery stakes, Jerome stakes, and Manhattan handicap.

At 1¾ the sport opened with a mile dash for a purse of $400. The bell brought out A. Belmont's ch. f. Fiddlestring, carrying 89 lbs.; G. L. Lorillard's ch. f. Una, 97; J. T. Williams's b. g. Checkmate, 110; Wm. Mulkey's ch. m. Chiquita, 116, and P. Lorillard's b. m. Zoo Zoo, 116. No pools were sold, but the voice of the bookmaker was loud in proclaiming, "I'll bet agin anything in the race." The average rates were 20 to 1 against Fiddlestring, 10 to 1 against Zoo Zoo, 7 to 1 against Una, 4 to 1 against Chiquita, and 1 to 3 against the favorite, Checkmate.

Zoo Zoo took the lead as the flag fell in front of the flying group, but relinquished the place to Chiquita before reaching the quarter pole, where Una had worked to second place, the favorite running at the tail of the group. A hot race followed around the hill and lower turn, Chiquita keeping in front, pressed by Una, with the favorite forging through the group. As they struck the homestretch Checkmate bounded into the first row, lapping Una and Chiquita, with his head in front. An exciting finish made Checkmate a winner by half a length from Una, Chiquita third, close to Una, and Zoo Zoo fourth. Time, 1:45¼.

This was followed by the scramble for the Nursery stakes for two-year olds, of $100 each, with $800 added; $200 to second; three-quarters of a mile. From forty-five subscribers there appeared at the post: P. Lorillard's br. f. Merry Lass, E. A. Clabaugh's br. c. Oden, E. V. Spellman's ch. f. Giroffle, A. Astor's ch. c. Ferncliffe, A. Belmont's ch. f. Bessie, and G. L. Lorillard's br. c. Sensation and b. c. Grenada. Sensation was looked upon as such a sure winner that the bookmakers would only pay $25 for $100. Grenada was second choice at $100 to $25. Oden led the youngsters as they shot away like a bunch of grapeshot. The big colt Sensation taking the lead on the outside as they rounded the hill out of sight. Fernciffe, close to the rail, trying conclusions with the favorite. As the bunch loomed in sight through the dust round the lower turn, Sensation was leading the group, lapped by Fernciffe, all the others at their heels. From this out to the finish the fight was fierce. Sensation holding his own with no daylight to spare as the squad thundered up the stretch. Sensation ended the suspense of those who had backed him heavily by shaving under the line a winner a little over half a length from Fernciffe, second, three a length in front of Grenada, third. Time, 1:18. This makes the seventh victory for the unvanquished two-year old. Sensation is by Leamington, dam Susan Beane. He bids fair to eclipse the famous Parole.

Next came the event of the day, the struggle for the Jerome stakes for three-year-olds, $100 entrance, with $1,500 added, the second to receive $300 out of the stakes; one mile and three-quarters. Out of fifty-two nominations half four started—James R. Keene's ch. c. Spendthrift, carrying 118 lbs.; G. L. Lorillard's ch. g. Monitor, 115; D. J. Crouse's ch. c. Jericho, 118; and D. D. Withers's ch. c. Report, 118. The bookmakers would pay only 1 to 3 on Spendthrift, 2½ to 1 on Monitor, 10 to 1 on Report, and 15 to 1 on Jericho.

The four were sent away on an easy run. Monitor leading by three lengths as they rounded the hill. Report second, and Spendthrift third. Coming in sight, Spendthrift had taken second place, running well in hand three lengths behind Monitor, while Report galloped the same distance in the wake of Spendthrift. They were all playing a waiting race, running like grasshoppers. Passing the stand at three-quarters of a mile, Monitor led the way by three lengths from Spendthrift, Jericho three lengths behind Spendthrift, and three in front of Report, whom he had passed coming up the stretch. Spendthrift was now given his head, beginning to overhaul Monitor. At the quarter pole Spendthrift had lapped Monitor, and the yell went up, "Spendthrift has him now!" But he didn't. Hughes gave Monitor his head, and the son of Glenelg kept ahead of the son of Australian as they dashed on in a race which had now become fast and earnest. On they flew, the many backers of Spendthrift crazing their necks, expecting to see the favorite lead before disappearing behind the hill the second time. They were disappointed. Certainly he will show in front as he comes out and swoops around the lower turn. But he didn't. The best Spendthrift could do was to cling to Monitor's saddle. On they came up the stretch, lapped, the backers of both horses holding their breath. As they neared the goal Hayward applied whip and steel to Spendthrift, while Hughes leaned lightly forward, helping Monitor along. When they passed the score, Monitor still a neck in the lead, such a shout went up as seldom stirs the leaves in aristocratic Jerome Park. Report came in third, ten lengths ahead of Jericho. Time, 3:12. The last mile was run in 1:45, which is very fast for Jerome Park.

There have been rumors for a week that Spendthrift was amiss. He ran his last mile like a racehorse, however.

The fourth event was the Manhattan Handicap, a sweepstakes of $50 each, with $500 added; $150 to second horse. Only seven started out of thirty entries: S. D. Bruce's ch. h. Gen. Phillips, 110 lbs.; J. G. Nelson's b. m. Lady Middleton, 106; G. L. Lorillard's ch. c. Harold, 105; Oden Bowie's ch. m. Oriole, 105; Puryear & Co.'s b. c. Pulwark, 103; P. Lorillard's ch. g. Pawnee, 94; Hynes Bros.' b. c. Peter Hynes, 88, and Clarkland Smith's b. f. Utilita, 85. Harold was the favorite at even money, Pawnee second choice at 2½ to 1, with Gen. Phillips and Oriole 5 to 1, the others from 10 to 15 for 1.

After many tedious breakaways the field was sent away in good order, Utilita cutting out the running for a quarter of a mile, when Harold asserted his rights by taking the position of standard bearer. He kept George Lorillard's colors at the front during the entire last mile, the brush making a warm and snug race. At the finish there was a length of daylight between Harold and Bulwark, with Oriole third, lapping Bulwark, and Gen. Phillips fourth. Time, 3:12½.

The programme closed with a handicap steeplechase over the fractional course, starting on the three-quarter-mile stretch opposite the timers' stand, running southward, taking a hurdle opposite the club house, and then go over the same course. Purse $450, of which $100 to second horse. The jumpers were C. Reed's Disturbance, carrying 146 lbs.; J. E. Mullins's Moonstone, 138; Daley Bros.' Lizzie D., 136, and Bennett & Co.'s Dandy, 134 lbs. Disturbance and Lizzie D. were backed at even money by the bookmakers, 3 to 2 on Dandy, and 4 to 1 on Moonstone.

Starting away well together, on an easy gait, Lizzie D. led the line over the first hurdle and rails. Then Dandy cut out the work, clearing the hurdle wall and water jump, Lizzie D. second, with Disturbance and Moonstone leaping well together, a few yards behind. They sailed in this position until Dandy had cleared the hurdle at the upper end of the grand stand, when he bolted, and lost so much ground that he finished last in the race. Lizzie D. now kept the lead until the paddock was entered, when Disturbance ranged along side and forged ahead at the last hurdle, winning by a length. Lizzie D. second, eight lengths in front of Moonstone, third. Time, 3:43.

President Jewett's Reply.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the Special Committee on Railroads presented the following letter, which was read and ordered to be placed on the minutes with that of Mr. Vanderbilt on the same subject:

GENTLEMEN: Circumstances beyond my control have prevented my sooner acknowledging the receipt of your valued favor of the 17th inst.

If the inter-ocean or Congress is to be sought to regulate interstate commerce, traffic your suggestion that a conference be had between the representatives of the various interests and the commercial bodies is the proper step and could not be a very wise and proper one. It will give me a good opportunity to take part in such conference.

It is not to be supposed that the railroads should be in harmony with the people and with the various commercial organizations of the country. Their success is doubtfully dependent upon that of the business interests which they serve. I believe that it will be found upon a careful and impartial inquiry that much of the discrimination in favor of through traffic now charged against the railroads is due to the great stress they are under, and of such compulsive to protect the commercial interests with which they are made immediately identified.

I hope a conference may be done may prove satisfactory to the public as well as protective of the interests of the public.

Very respectfully, H. J. JEWETT.

Gen. Wingate's Successor.

ALBANY, Oct. 2.—Col. Robert Olyphant A. D. C. on the staff of the Commander-in-Chief N. G. S. N. Y. has been appointed Inspector of Rifle Practice, vice Brig. Gen. Geo. W. Wingate, resigned.

STRIVING TO SAVE BUCHOLZ.

The Alleged Errors on which his Counsel Moves for a New Trial.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 2.—The motion for a new trial for William Bucholz, convicted of the murder of John Henry Schulte, the South Norwalk miser, was filed yesterday by his counsel, William Randall Smith, and, with the motion in arrest of judgment, will be argued on Saturday next. The motion is based upon the grounds that the Court erred in permitting State's Attorney Olmstead to peremptorily challenge three of the jury panel, Bucholz having been indicted before the statute which gives the State the right to as many challengers as the defence had become a law; that the Court erred in admitting the State expert's testimony, offered to prove that "John," the name by which Schulte was described in the indictment, was the English translation of "Johann;" that the Court erred in not charging that the question of whether the hairbrush and some other articles found near the scene of the murder belonged to the prisoner was a question of fact for the jury to decide, assuming, on the contrary, that these belonged to the prisoner; that the Court neglected to charge that no inference or presumption was to be made against the accused man from his failure to testify in his own behalf; that the dead man was incorrectly named in the indictment as "John H. Schulte," his name being really "Johann Heinrich Schulte," and that there was, therefore, a fatal variance between the allegations and proof in the matter of the name; that the Court erred in charging the jury concerning the construction of the statute requiring the evidence of two full witnesses, or its equivalent, as proof of a crime punishable by death; that the Court, in charging the jury, misstated the claims of the defence as to the manner in which the accused man secured possession of Schulte's pocketbooks, and, when requested by the counsel to correct the misstatement, failed to do so, but merely directed the jury's attention to the testimony, and that the Court erred in not mentioning the defense's claim about the words alleged to have been spoken by Schulte to Bucholz on the morning of the murder, although stating the State's claim on that point.

OIL RUNNING TO WASTE.

One Result of Overproduction—Rivers and Ponds of Oil on Fire.

BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 2.—At a moderate estimate there are 150,000 gallons of petroleum running to waste every day in the McKean County oil regions. The tanks, with capacity for several million barrels, are filled to overflowing. The market is overstocked, and still production goes on at the rate of at least 25,000 barrels a day. 5,000 more than the pipe lines can handle. New wells are going down in all parts of the region. The price of oil is from 25 to 30 cents less per barrel than the cost of production. The United and Tidewater Pipe Lines have iron tankage for 3,000,000 barrels of oil in this district. Individual producers and oil companies own tankage connected with these lines. The pipe lines take care of the oil of these tank owners to the extent of their capacity. It is the small producers who are losing the bulk of the oil. They cannot afford to build tanks.

What is known as the general storage capacity of the pipe lines is proportioned out to these producers, but that tankage has been occupied for weeks, and the surplus runs to waste—down the hills and valleys of McKean County. The streams are literally rivers of oil. Large quantities of petroleum are absorbed by the earth. In marshy places the ground is a mass of greasy mud, several inches deep.

In some parts of the region the streams are dammed up and the oil collected in large ponds, at places as far distant as possible from derricks and buildings. These ponds are set on fire daily. Thus a large quantity of the waste oil is disposed of. It is not uncommon for fire to be communicated to these combustible rivers by sparks from locomotives. Some times they are fired by malicious persons and tramps. Derricks and other property have been destroyed by these unexpected fires, resulting in losses of thousands of dollars. All efforts to limit the production of oil and stop this great waste have failed. Some years ago the same state of affairs existed in the lower oil region. Rivers of oil flowed from the tanks. It was not until oil fell to forty cents a barrel that the producers came to their senses and, in a measure, stopped the drill.

Struck Speechless by a Thief's Cool Daring.

As Mrs. Sarah Neil was sitting in her home at 312 Thirty-ninth street, Brooklyn, on Wednesday afternoon, a middle-aged man with a full beard, and wearing a dark suit and a Derby hat, walked coolly in through the front door, which stood open. Mrs. Neil was so overcome by surprise that she sat motionless and could not speak, while the stranger picked the pocket of her dress, which was hanging on the wall, and took a bag of flour from a table. When he started for the street, Mrs. Neil recovered her senses, and screaming "Stop thief!" started after him. He dropped the flour and ran, and she pursued him. He picked up several stones and threw them at her. He entran her and escaped with the pocketbook, which contained only fifty cents.

On Wednesday morning an infant boy, apparently about a month old, wrapped in a striped blanket, was discovered inside the fence of the residence of Mr. E. Whitney, in Patchogue, L. I., by some children, who were attracted to the spot by the child's cries. A note was pinned to the wrappings, which read: "Please take good care of my darling boy."

Killing his Drunken Wife.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 2.—Yesterday, at Miner's station, John Prince, a shoemaker, beat his drunken wife with a club, inflicting injuries that resulted in her death last night.

MERE MENTION.

The Jersey City nine whitewashed the Poughkeepsie Club at base ball in Jersey City yesterday by 5 to 0.

Six dozen rail birds, shot in Atlantic County, N. J., were shipped on Monday to London, England, for a wedding breakfast.

Frank Eckerton, aged 5 months, of 145 Prince street, Brooklyn, while asleep yesterday afternoon, rolled under a feather pillow and was smothered to death.

Col. George F. Watson of Philadelphia, a guest in the Philadelphia Hotel, Montgomery street, Jersey City, dropped dead in the wine room of the hotel yesterday afternoon.

Sanitary Superintendent Raymond of Brooklyn denies the rumor that impure virus has been used by the vaccinating corps so as to injure the health of a number of children in Fifteenth street.

The cricket match on Hoboken yesterday between the St. George and Columbia Clubs resulted in favor of the St. George eleven by a score of 155 to 87. Four full innings were played, the St. George scoring 101 and 54, and Columbia 50 and 37.

A second mortgage for $500,000 on the Brooklyn, Flatbush, and Coney Island Railroad was filed yesterday in the Kings County Register's office. The mortgage is made to the Brooklyn Trust Company, and covers both the road and the hotel property.

There is much talk in Paterson, N. J., over an occurrence of Sunday last. A carriage was driven along Market street with a woman inside screaming for help, and crying that she was being murdered. Although many persons heard her, it does not seem that any one attempted to interfere.

Mrs. Murphy filled a lamp with kerosene oil in her lodgings, at 515 Tenth avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, and placed the can in the sink, so that it would be out of reach of her two children, who were playing in the room. But while she was in the next room her baby climbed on a stool, reached the can, and drank from the nozzle. The baby died yesterday.

Ex-Deputy Coroner Elias Lynch of 73 Troy avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday caused the arrest of William Garbaine, of 129 Ellery avenue, on a charge of having, on July 29, abducted his Lynch's seventeen-year-old daughter Annie to force her to marry him. The couple went to the Coroner's office a short time ago and asked to be married, but he refused to marry them because they were too young.

In regard to the overcrowding of School No. 44, at North Moore and Varick streets, from which little Mary Reagan was recently excluded, a member of that local School Board proposed to the Board on Monday last a resolution to abrogate it by establishing a grammar grade in Vestry street School. The resolution was laid over to a subsequent meeting which was not held. No action has been taken.

Referee George Tickner Curtis heard yesterday the argument in the case of the Bar Association ad. Sheriff Henry. Mr. Bush said there were extortions in the Sheriff's office, and the referee asked whether the Sheriff ought to be removed, supposing that the Sheriff knew that there are extortions. Mr. Bush insisted that the Sheriff did know. The referee took away a huge lot of the printed notes of the stenographer.

The New York Medical College for Women began its seventieth session yesterday at the college building, Thirty-seventh street and Lexington avenue. The opening exercises were held in the main lecture hall in the evening previous. Addresses were made by Prof. Nelson Sizer and Mrs. Lidie Devereux Blake, after which Prof. Clemence Lozier and Prof. Samuel Edlenthal announced the lectures and received the new students.
