WE have on our books the names of more than 200 persons living outside of Kittitas county, who are from one to three years in arrears for THE DAWN. We have waited very patiently on them for the small sums due, and no doubt they have simply neglected sending it from time to time, and will doubtless remit when their attention is called to this matter. The names of all persons outside of Kittitas county who are in arrears after Sept. 18th will be stricken from the books, unless an agreement is reached that will be satisfactory to all concerned.

WELL, suppose there had been heavy crops of grain in the rest of the world, how much would the Dingley bill have benefited the farmers of America?

If the tariff gave an equal advantage to everybody nobody would be benefited, for each would have to pay as much more for what he bought as he received more on what he sold.

It is an error to suppose that only the men who labor with their hands are producers. All labor, physical or mental, the result of which is beneficial to the human race, is productive labor.

THE prosperity of our country never ought to depend on the misfortunes of another. The fact that it does, to some extent, indicates something radically wrong in our social and industrial systems.

POPULISTS may be abused, insulted and besmirched but they cannot be answered. They are called of God to fight a righteous fight. They know that the battle is not to the strong but "to the vigilant, the active and the brave." They must put on the whole armor, and go forth in the faith of David. Let each man resolve to make one convert. It can be done.

A New Ruling.

The interior department has reversed all former decisions and rules that homesteaders who made final proof on less than 160 acres may make an additional entry so as to make up the full quota of 160 acres. Under the new ruling this right is held to apply to those who made entry prior to 1889 as well as to those who made entry since that date.—Index.

Wynegar is Sheriff.

After a two days search for a man to succeed Stinson as Sheriff, the Commissioners compromised the matter and appointed L. C. Wynegar, with Clarence Palmer as deputy. Mr. Wynegar gave bond and assumed the duties of the office on Wednesday. Sam T. Packwood, H. Rehmkne, G. C. Poland, W. J. Peed, E. T. Barden, Tom McCandless and John Lyons.

Bad Citizen, Bad Master.

Chicago Defeuse League Addresses Pullman an Open Letter, Reuiewing his Past Record.

CHICAGO, September 2.—The Taxpayers' Defense League, which has been making a sturdy fight upon tax-shirkers and against unjust assessments, has, through its President, Z. S. Holbrook, addressed an open letter to George M. Pullman. This letter calls Mr. Pullman's attention to the fact that, at the last meeting of the Pullman Company, it was shown that the corporation had assets of $63,000,000 and $1,561,955 of property assessed in Cook county. In the State the showing was $39,600,635 of assessable property. The assessment of the town of Pullman was made by acres, when it should have been made by lots, as a city containing residences, factories, hotels and banks. The assessment on this property $741 per acre for 300 acres, and nothing on nearly 200 acres. This assessment means a loss to the city of $200,000 annually. The letter also comments on the strike of 1894, which will cost the city in damages $16,000,000. The letter says:

"Your $63,000,000 of property was protected by the courts and military at the expense of the State and nation. In the midst of this trouble you left for your summer residence, and let the State and Federal troops and Grand Jury fight your battles. Your company will probably cost the State more money than you have ever paid in taxes or will pay in the next ten years. And what is your return for all this protection? Some one has generously loaned the Assessor a smoked glass through which to strain his virtuous eyes when he was estimating the value of your property. A generous public may be depended upon for tips to poor colored porters to make up for such unjust wages as the sleeping-car companies pay, but the public will no longer tip the County Treasurer to make up for the missing taxes that are justly due the county from men abundantly able to pay."

Speaking of the strike again, the letter says: "All these events recall the unsympathetic attitude you assumed toward your working people in their distress at that time. You reduced their wages, but refused to reduce their rents; you permitted many to work just long enough to earn for you their undiminished rent, and then left them to provide clothing and food as best they could. The fact seems to be clear that the strike and the riots were directly occasioned, if not caused, by your unwillingness to arbitrate your differences with your own people. Most business men would have insisted upon an examination into the facts had their word been doubted, but for some reason you were unwilling to even arbitrate the matter. The rights of property are now warring on the rights of man."

That Ball Game.

There are ladies and ladies(?) While all are of the same sex there is a vast difference in character. A lady may with propriety engage in various kinds of athletic sports and out-door exercises. With perfect propriety she may don bloomers without unsexing herself; but when she dons bloomers and steps upon the diamond among strangers she places herself in a very compromising situation before the public, especially, when she adopts base ball as a profession. It does not necessarily follow that a woman loses her virtue by so doing but the odds are greatly in favor of the fact that there are other games she can play far more successfully. A girl engaged in tramping the diamond is not such a one as a careful parent would care to have associate with a daughter just budding into womanhood or a young man would select for the mother of his unborn children, yet they all patronized the ball game this week because the girls wore bloomers and the wind whistled through—their bloomers.

Prof. McCully says the manager of the bloomers misrepresented things to him or else he would never have permitted the High School boys to have tackled the girls in bloomers.

One would suppose that the Professor was old enough and had been around the world enough to be able to protect the youths entrusted to his care from the contaminating influence of every fake that comes along, even if they should happen to wear bloomers.

The new and the Old.

"Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do." It was not intended that mankind should remain idle—stand still; we must either go forward or backward. As long as we are progressing we are inclined to look with favor on our fellow-man and if necessary reach out to him the hand of brotherly love, but let us meet with reverses, let our progress be checked and we start on the downward course as it were, and it is every fellow for himself with the devil take the hindmost.

What is true of mankind individually is equally true of mankind collectively. Take for instance our fair city of Ellensburg. A few years ago this place was progressing and every inhabitant in it was apparently doing well. All pulled together and willingly joined hands to help along any legitimate enterprise. But the day of continued sunshine passed and in its place dark clouds hung low over the town. Then it was that the coarser side of human nature asserted itself. The people instead of standing together in the hour of greatest need, commenced breaking up into rings, cliques and individual isolations—each preying on the other and no one being benefited. One instance alone is sufficient to show the bad effects of one class against another. Soon after things began to take a downward course the merchants combined together and placed on the black list, all who did not pay up promptly all they owed to any member of the combine, hoping by that means to insure more prompt collections. But as is generally the case when drastic measures are adopted, they came near killing the goose that laid the golden egg. Instead of accomplishing the object sought, they drove to Seattle and Tacoma, thousands of dollars of trade that properly belonged to Ellensburg.

Some of that trade has been regained but some never will be. The merchants are not alone in the mistakes that have been made; what has been said about them will doubtless apply with equal force to each and every citizen of this fair city. Because we made mistakes in the past is no reason we should wish to repeat them. To be sure we cannot all see things in the same light but we can see things in a far more charitable light if we will only try. Because some one sees fit to differ with us is no reason why we should call him hard and vile names.

This practice of vile condemnation should be stopped; we can never hope to build up our town until it is. Every man that is honest and makes the effort is entitled to his share of business and the more business that can be secured by united efforts the better it will be for all. If a man shows ability, do not pull him back through jealousy or weigh him down with cold indifference. Let us act like men and put our shoulders together for the advancement of every citizen, and there will remain no reason why this fair city of ours should not occupy the proud position nature intended for her.

James Noah, of Walla Walla, who stole 43 bushels of wheat from Thomas Moore, has been sentenced to two years and two months in the penitentiary.

IN MEMORIAM.

Equity Lodge No. 41, K. of P. WHEREAS, The great Ruler of the universe has, in His infinite wisdom, removed our worthy and esteemed Brother Knight, Wm. At a recent meeting of Fraternal Lodge, No. 70, A. O. U. W. of Ellensburg, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The ruler of the universe in His omnipotent wisdom has seen fit to remove from our number our late brother, W. M. Stinson, and

WHEREAS, In view of the great loss we have sustained in the decease of our brother, and the still greater loss sustained by those that were nearest and dearest to him; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to his family in their sad bereavement, and be it

RESOLVED, That while we deplore their loss we can only extend to them a fraternal hand and bid them look for consolation to Him who doeth all things for the best, and be it further

E. C. Ferguson is handling the Champion Germ-Proof water filter something that is badly needed in our public and normal school buildings. We have carefully read a thorough description and seen the filter and are satisfied that no impurities whatever can pass through it, and as precaution and safeguard against disease, we think the authorities should investigate its merits. If reports are true, the water used by our children is not fit for hogs to drink. The health officer should look into this matter and thus prevent the re-occurrence of any contagious disease that heretofore brought death and sorrow to so many of our families.
