TABLED BY THE NEW BOARD.

SOME NOMINATIONS THAT MAYOR COOPER MADE ONCE BEFORE.

Republican and Tammany Aldermen Voting to Defeat the Nominations—Something about the Men whose Names were Sent In.

At the beginning of the year Mayor Cooper asked for Corporation Counsel Whitney's opinion whether the Board of Aldermen then in office could act on the nominations sent to the Board of Aldermen who were in office in 1879. The Corporation Counsel decided that the new Board could not act on any papers that were not disposed of when the old Board went out of office. Thereupon the Mayor determined to send to the new Board the nominations that were made yesterday. Allan Campbell was renominated for Commissioner of Public Works, Thomas H. McAvoy was named for Superintendent of Buildings in the place of Henry J. Dudley, whose term expired on May 1, 1879; Lucius J. N. Stark for Commissioner of Docks in place of the late Jacob Westervelt, and Arthur B. Graves for Police Commissioner in the place of De Witt C. Wheeler, whose term expired on May 1, 1878. Henry Murray was renominated for Police Justice, and Charles H. Winfield, William J. Kane, and John C. Limbeck were nominated for Commissioners of Excise in the places of Richard J. Morrison, Philip Merkle, and George W. Morton.

Alderman Haughton moved the confirmation of Allan Campbell, the nominee for Commissioner of Public Works. Alderman Marshall, in seconding the motion, said that Commissioner Campbell had discharged the duties of his office with great ability and for the interest of the city. This renomination, he said, was well merited. The motion to confirm was lost, and the nomination was tabled by 15 to 7. Those who voted for Commissioner Campbell are Aldermen, Coggey, Hall, Haughton, Kenney, Marshall, Murphy, and Strack (anti-Tammany). Those who voted to table the nomination are President Morris, and Aldermen, Finck, Jacobus, McClave, Perley, and Wade (Republicans), and Aldermen Foster, Goodwin, Haffen, Helbig, Keenan, Kirk, Sauer, Sheils, and Slevin, (Tammany).

The other nominations were tabled by the same vote.

Allan Campbell was made Commissioner of Public Works by Mayor Wickham. His term expired in December, 1879. Mayor Cooper renominated him to the Board of Aldermen of that year. They declined to act upon the nomination. He will continue to be Commissioner of Public Works until his successor is appointed. Mr. Campbell is a Democrat.

Thomas H. McAvoy, the nominee for Superintendent of Buildings, is a practical builder. He is an anti-Tammany Democrat in politics, although he has never been an active politician. He was nominated to the Aldermenlof 1879 in May, 1879. But that Board took no action on the nomination.

Lucius J. N. Stark, the nominee for Dock Commissioner, was nominated to the Aldermen in the summer of 1879. His nomination was tabled by the Tammany-Republican combination in the Board of Aldermen of that year. Mr. Stark is a member of the Produce Exchange and of the Cheap Transportation Society, and was a conspicuous candidate for State Superintendent of Public Works before Superintendent Clark's appointment. He is a Democrat.

Mr. Graves is President of the St. Nicholas Bank, and is a cotton merchant. He said last evening that he could not understand the Mayor's action in nominating him again without consultation or communicating with him in any way. The Mayor could not have done this under any misapprehension, Mr. Graves said, for after the first nomination he called at the Mayor's office and had a long talk. It is true, he said, that he was consulted before his first nomination, and that he did not object. But he learning that the office was one that would require his undivided attention, he at once decided not to accept it, and distinctly told Mayor Cooper of that decision.

The nominees for Excise Commissioners were all before last year's Board of Aldermen. Charles H. Winfield is an ex-Congressman, a lawyer, and a conspicuous Democrat. William J. Kane is a lawyer and ex-Justice of the Eighth District Court. He is an anti-Tammany Democrat. John C. Limbeck is a Republican politician in the Twelfth Assembly District.

Henry Murray, the nominee for Police Justice, is now one of the Police Justices, having been nominated by Mayor Havemeyer in 1873. He is a leading member of the Irving Hall Democratic organization.

AN ALDERMANIC TILT,

In which the Spokesmen Come to the Front on the Meat Rack Question.

Alderman Charles H. Marshall is the spokesman for the anti-Tammany Aldermen on all matters not political. He made his maiden speech last week on the subject of street obstructions, and yesterday he made his second speech on the same topic. Alderman Coggey offered a resolution to permit one of his constituents to put up a meat rack in front of his butcher shop. Alderman Marshall opposed the resolution, because he was not in favor of obstructing the streets or sidewalks in any way, and because he had learned from an examination of the laws of the State that the Aldermen had no power to authorize the obstruction of the streets.

At this Alderman Sauer, the Tammany spokesman, took the floor. He said that Alderman Marshall lived in a part of the city in which there were no persons who were likely to ask for the privilege of erecting meat racks or barber poles. But that, in Sauer's opinion, did not justify his colleague in opposing permits of that kind to those who wished them.

Alderman Marshall quickly replied that the people who elected him were his district, and that he should try to serve them well. While he was in the Board, he should not indulge in personalities in debate, and he hoped that none of his colleagues would be personal when discussing matters with him.

The permission to put up the meat rack was granted by 13 to 9.

MISS HAVEMEYER'S SUIT.

Damages Demanded for an Alleged Secret Sale of Stock to the Poppenhusens.

The suit of Henrietta S. Havemeyer, daughter of the late Albert Havemeyer, against Henry and John C. Havemeyer, to recover damages for violation of an alleged agreement entered into between Albert Havemeyer's administrators and the defendants, in reference to shares of stock of the Long Island Railroad Company owned by the parties respectively, was on trial for the second time yesterday in the Superior Court, before Judge Freedman. The defendants owned 1,917 shares of this stock, and William A. Havemeyer and H. O. Havemeyer, administrators of Albert Havemeyer, held 11,196 shares. The parties combined their stock to oust the Charlick management, and obtained control of the road, and it is alleged by the plaintiff that they mutually agreed that neither should sell his stock without notice to the other side, and that, in violation of this agreement, the defendants secretly purchased additional stock at a low price and then sold all they held to the Poppenhusens at 75 per cent. of the par value, whereof the stock depreciated 20 per cent. The plaintiff in this case, who owned 926 shares, claims $26,000 damages. A like suit brought by the administrators of Albert Havemeyer has been twice tried. The present trial will probably last two weeks.

The Extent of B. C. Bogert's Defalcation.

The expert accountants employed by the Board of Managers of the Produce Exchange to examine the accounts of the defaulting Treasurer, the late Benj. C. Bogert, reported to the Committee yesterday. They find the total deficiency to be $34,449.01. Of this amount $11,606.91 was taken during the last twelve months. The details are as follows: Deficiency for the first year of office, ending May 31, 1877, $11,211.42; for the second year, $8,393.30; for the third year, $2,267.61; making the total deficiency up to May 31, 1879, $21,872.33. Since that date he increased the amount to the total reported. The counsel to the Exchange has been instructed to recover the $20,000 for which the bondsmen of the late Treasurer are liable.

Mr. Bogert's place as Chairman of the Law Committee of the Exchange was filled, yesterday, by the appointment of Gustav Schwab of the firm of Oelrichs & Co., agents of the North German Lloyd line of steamers.

Suit has been begun in the United States Circuit Court by the Freeholders of Bergen County, N. J., against the Mercants' Exchange National Bank and Peter Bowe, Sheriff. The plaintiffs ask that it be decreed that the $51,000 in Bergen County bonds alleged to have been illegally issued by Benjamin C. Bogert were never authorized by law; that they are not valid or existing obligations of the county of Bergen; and that the bank may be decreed to deliver them to the county authorities to be cancelled. It is also asked that the holding that said the bank may be enjoined from parting with them, and that the Sheriff may be enjoined from taking possession of them.

Alleged Vandalism in the Court House.

The Aldermen, yesterday, passed the following:

Whereas, In the south wing of the new Court House, and in the room now occupied by the Surrogate's Court, there was laid an expensive and beautiful tiled floor, at a cost of between $2,500 and $3,000; and

Whereas, The floor has lately been plastered over with a coating of tar or some pitchy substance, on top of which an inexpensive linoleum cloth has been laid, the said pitchy substance destroying the beauty and value of the floor; therefore

Resolved, That the Committee on County Affairs are hereby directed to inquire and report to this Board by whose authority this vandal act has been done, and whether the performer has not been guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable under the provisions of section 99 of the charter.

Edward A. Scannell Released.

The Grand Jury yesterday indicted Edward A. Scannell, a brother of John Scannell, for shooting a man in a Third avenue barroom on New Year's Day. Soon afterward Scannell was released under $3,000 bail. His mother is his surety.

APPEALING TO THE SYNOD.

Members of the Brooklyn Presbytery who were Denied an Investigation.

The members of the Brooklyn Presbytery who were denied a judicial investigation into the charge made by Dr. Talmage that they were "morally rotten," yesterday signed a complaint to the Synod against the Presbytery for this action, and served a copy upon the Moderator, the Rev. C. H. Taylor. The complainants decided to withhold their document from the public at present. The object is to conceal the points they make from Dr. Talmage's friends, so that the latter cannot build arguments up against them.

A new phase of the Talmage difficulty is a dispute between the Rev. Dr. J. D. Wells and the Rev. Dr. Rockwell. The latter went into the trial opposed to Dr. Talmage, but came out converted to Dr. Talmage. At the Synod he read an affidavit describing the visit of a young man "with a peculiar mouth" to the mother of Dr. Talmage's first wife, in Jersey City, to find out whether there was not some private quarrel between Dr. Talmage and his first wife that would justify a suspicion that the former allowed his wife to drown in an accident on the Schuylkill River, near Philadelphia, in which he and others of the party escaped. The description was taken to be that of the Rev. Arthur Crosby. Dr. Wells, in his speech, pronounced the affidavit to be "infamous and loathsome," and has since published, with his speech, a reference to the affidavit as follows:

"As a whole, it was supposed to point to Brother Crosby, and when he rose in his place and calmly referred to his sworn testimony, covering the very time included in that affidavit, and so made the most emphatic denial of the offence indicated, Dr. Rockwell simply answered: 'I did not say it was you.' He did not then express any regret or offer the feeblest apology for the wrong done, nor has he since, either publicly or privately, performed this duty to Brother Crosby, though I have written him twice, and very earnestly, on the subject."

Gen. Fitz John Porter's Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs had the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter under consideration this morning, but when the hour for the meeting of the Senate arrived, had not reached the point of final action upon it. Another meeting will be held soon to complete the consideration of the subject. The House Committee agreed upon a bill this morning that restores Gen. Porter to the rank he would have had if there had not been a court martial, with pay estimated as though he had been a major-general on the retired list to Aug. 13, 1866, and of a colonel on the retired list thereafter. It is estimated that Gen. Porter's back pay would amount to between $50,000 and $60,000 under this arrangement.

Fined for Selling Oleomargarine as Butter.

The persons committed for trial on the charge of selling oleomargarine as butter, in violation of law, were yesterday arraigned in the Special Sessions. Aurusse and Manahan of Co. asked for a postponement, and the cases were set down for trial today.
