THE ROSSMORE HOTEL PROPERTY.

What Its Late Owner Said in His Will About a Family Divided.

Mortimer R. Clapp has brought suit in the Court of Common Pleas against his brother, Robert C. Clapp, to have the latter removed from the management of the Rossmore Hotel, and the property placed in the hands of a receiver.

The late Hawley D. Clapp, who died in January last, willed the Rossmore Hotel to his wife, two sons, and five daughters, all sharing alike except Robert, who was to have double the portion of the others. The two sons were made executors.

The will directed that Robert, who had been associated with his father in the management of the hotel, should continue to manage it for the joint benefit of the legatees, with the injunction that the members of the family should not interfere in the management except to give good advice, which, the testator says, "I charge my son Robert to receive with kindness and respect, remembering always that a long life of observation and experience among men has abundantly taught me that a family united is always strong, while a family divided is always weak." The will directed that Robert should have $1,800 yearly for his services as manager, and that the cost of educating Mortimer as a physician should be defrayed from the hotel earnings.

Mortimer, in the present suit, which he claims to have brought in the interest of all the legatees, who are made nominal defendants, charges that his brother Robert, soon after his father's death, began to indulge in various excesses, has surrounded himself with evil companions, and so mismanaged the hotel that many of the guests have gone; that he has improperly appropriated $2,500 for his personal expenses, and charged his mother and sisters for their board, besides having failed to comply with his father's directions as to the professional education of his brother.

The case was before Judge Joseph F. Daly yesterday, upon a motion for a receiver pending the action. The defendant made affidavit denying the charges of intemperance and mismanagement, and asserting that the hotel is now doing a better business than ever before. He regarded it as proper for the protection of the estate that plaintiff should pay board at the hotel, and that the latter has acted improperly because he felt aggrieved to be charged for board. The mother and sister of plaintiff appeared by B. F. Dunning in support of the motion.

Decision was reserved.

Sitting Bull Ready to Surrender.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A report which has been received from United States officers in the Northwest was laid before the Cabinet to-day. It was in reference to Sitting Bull, and to the effect that messengers from that chief have recently made overtures looking to a surrender, and inquired in regard to the conditions and terms upon which his band of Sioux could be received. The Cabinet decided that any surrender on the part of Sitting Bull would have to be wholly unconditional.

Accused Policemen.

Policeman Bernard Wade of the Fifty-ninth street station is accused by Ellen Lyons of having clubbed her at Fifty-ninth street and First avenue. He says he merely rescued her from rowdies.

Policeman Eli Van Leuven of the same station was arrested and sent to the Island for ten days, for being drunk and disorderly in the Fourth Ward at 1½ o'clock on Monday morning. He is liable to discharge for being absent without leave and for being drunk.
