AFTER A SUNDAY EVENING WALK.

A Married Man Shooting a Young Woman and then Committing Suicide.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 13.—Miss Avis Pinkham, a table girl in a boarding house at 9 Pacific Corporation, was shot last night by Knapton Wardman, who was until recently overseer of the Washington Mills. It seems that Miss Pinkham, after returning from a walk last evening, stood conversing with Wardman at Franklin and Lincoln streets. Suddenly Wardman drew a revolver, pushed Miss Pinkham against a high board fence, and shot her in the head behind the right ear. No person was near the scene, but the report of the pistol soon attracted a large crowd, some of whom saw Wardman run off. The police were summoned, but while endeavoring to get some clue to the murderer, news came that Wardman had shot himself at his residence.

It seems that after shooting Miss Pinkham Wardman ran home, stopping on the way to get a glass of beer at the Hotel Brunswick. Arriving home, he ran into the chamber where his wife and two children slept, kissed the children and attempted to embrace his wife, who gently repulsed him. He then removed his hat, coat, and boots, and went into the lower apartments, passing through several rooms, until he gained the sitting room, where he shot himself.

Wardman and Miss Pinkham had been keeping company for years, she first becoming acquainted with him while he was overseer of the drawing room of the Washington Corporation. No cause is assigned for the deed, but it is thought he was actuated by jealousy. Some persons consider him insane. He has acted strangely of late, and a few weeks ago purchased arsenic, but was prevented from taking it by his wife.

Miss Pinkham was 29 years of age. Her parents live in Washington, Me. By those to whom she was known, she is well spoken of. Her intimacy with Wardman seems to be the only blot on her character. Wardman was a man of dissipated habits, but formerly was held in high esteem. He is a member of the Kearsarge Encampment of Odd Fellows. The body of the woman remained on the sidewalk half an hour after the murder was discovered before it was examined by the medical examiner.

DEAF, DUMB, AND CALLOUS.

What Leroy Peters Wrote on Hearing of his Sentence to the Penitentiary.

Two young men stole an ulster from a dummy figure in front of Solomon Davis's clothing store, at 201 Division street, on the 3d inst., and ran away. They were overtaken by Policeman Sweeny of the Madison street station, and arrested. In the station it was found that one of the young men was a deaf mute. After his companion gave his name as Thomas Burke of 22 Madison street he wrote upon a slip of paper: "My name is Leroy Peters. I live at 63 Mulberry street." Burke and Peters were arraigned, yesterday, in the General Sessions. They pleaded guilty of petty larceny, through counsel, there being two indictments against Burke and one indictment against Peters. Recorder Smyth sentenced Burke to the penitentiary for one year. Then, turning to Peters, he said: "I regret that I cannot make myself understood by the prisoner, for I would like to say a few words to him. I am informed you have been an offender against the law once before this time. You deserve little clemency, and I sentence you to the penitentiary for six months and to pay a fine of $50. I furthermore sentence you to stand committed, at the expiration of your term of imprisonment, a day for each dollar until the fine is paid."

Peters's lawyer wrote the sentence upon the back of a calendar of the court, and showed what he had written to Peters. Smiling, Peters shrugged his shoulders in the way peculiar to deaf mutes when they desire to express perfect indifference. Then, bending down, he wrote upon the calendar, holding the pencil in his left hand: "The idea of my paying a fine of $50 is funny. I guess I'll have to spend my Fourth of July on Blackwell's Island."

He pointed laughingly to what he had written, and then threw down his pencil and walked to the prisoners' box.

UNLAWFUL SALE OF TOBACCO.

A Factory that is Under the Constant Watch of Revenue Officers.

Robert Jackson, a Pole, who is regarded by the internal revenue officers as the leader of the illicit dealers in cigars and tobacco in this city, was charged before United States Commissioner Shields yesterday with removing unstamped cigars from the three-story dwelling at 40 East First street, which he uses as a factory. The complaint was made by Agent Thomas J. Grimeson. The factory is kept under constant surveillance, and the Government has seized it for the second time. Ninety thousand cigars and 6,000 pounds of leaf tobacco were got in the place at the first seizure, which was made under the charge that the owner used washed stamps.

The case was compromised by the District Attorney. The defendant was arrested last summer, and is held for the Grand Jury on the charge of making fraudulent entries of sales of leaf tobacco. Jackson appeared before the Commissioner yesterday. He wore a square and compass in a conspicuous position on his vest. He has luxuriant black side whiskers. Adolph Pinkofsky, a cigar buncher of 420 East Sixteenth street, testified for the prosecution that Jackson had employed him almost daily in delivering bundles. The persons to whom he gave them received them at the corners of streets on the Bowery, instead of at their stores. On the 17th of October he delivered a bundle of 500 unstamped cigars for Jackson to George Nembes at 296 Bowery. The cigars brought $8 a thousand. Solomon Michaelis of 9 Peck slip became bondsman for Jackson, who is his brother-in-law.

New Excise Commissioners Taking their Places.

Messrs. Mitchell and Friedsam, the new Excise Commissioners, reported for duty at the offices of the department in East Houston street, about 1½ P. M. yesterday. They presented their certificates of appointment to Commissioner Morrison, who holds over, and its validity was acknowledged by Mr. Morton and Dr. Merkle, the retiring Commissioners. The new Board was then organized by the election of Commissioner Morrison as temporary Chairman. After ordaining that no moneys be received or license applications granted by the department until the next meeting of the Board on Wednesday noon, an adjournment was taken to that time.

After receiving the congratulations of their friends the new commissioners went away, leaving the clerks at work closing the books of the old Board, which will keep them night and day during the interval.

The department numbers between sixty and seventy men, in addition to the Commissioners, about two-thirds of whom are Tammany Democrats. Although the new Commissioners have said nothing on the subject, it is expected that all, or nearly all, of the Tammany members of the department will be discharged, and their places filled by Irving Hall men and Republicans.

The Man who was Stabbed by a Prisoner.

John Slater, the Secret Service officer who was stabbed by Andrew Yates, on Saturday, when an effort was being made to compel Yates to submit to having his picture taken, was yesterday improved in condition, but the physicians of the Long Island College Hospital, where he is confined, refused to permit any one to see him. Yates is to be arraigned for examination upon a charge of counterfeiting silver coin. The police have long since stopped trying to get the pictures of criminals against their will, as there is no law under which they can compel a prisoner to have his picture taken. Yates, unlike most criminals who are beguiled into having their pictures taken for the Rogues' Gallery, understood his legal rights, and hence he resisted when the officers attempted to force him to sit in front of a camera.

Ex-Alderman Mott Hurts his Knee Again.

Ex-Alderman Jordan L. Mott is again confined to his bed by an injury to one of his knees. He was on his way home on Friday evening, intending after order to attend the sale of the Maynard collection of paintings. In descending the stairway of the Third avenue elevated railroad at 125th street, he slipped and fell, injuring the knee that was fractured several months ago in a manner so painful that he will be confined there for some time. The fracture had knitted together so well that he thought the knee was entirely sound. The injury is very painful, but it is not known whether it is a sprain or a new fracture of the kneepan.

Crooked Life Insurance Business.

READING, Pa., Dec. 13.—The Church has taken up the fight against the crooked life insurance business. The Rev. M. L. Fritsi of the Reformed Congregation read from his pulpit yesterday an announcement that a Mr. Gault of Cumru township had died of consumption and other diseases, and that a few weeks prior to his death a number of persons, not members of the family, had obtained policies of insurance to the extent of about $10,000. Ohio mutual companies were deceived into taking the risks.

STILL UNWILLING TO GO HOME.

Mrs. Bergman at Police Headquarters with her Guardian and his Lawyer.

Mrs. Bergman, who came to this city several weeks ago while suffering from monomania, has been living a part of the time at the Park Avenue Hotel, and later at a boarding house at 110 Fourth avenue. She has frequently visited Matron Webb at the Police Central Office. Yesterday she went to the Central Office to consult with Commissioner French in regard to her mother's wish that she return to Philadelphia. She is not willing to go, and she resisted the entreaties of two friends of the family, her guardian and his legal adviser, and the arguments of the Commissioner. It is said that her guardian has threatened her with incarceration in the House of Correction if she continues to be recalcitrant. Her return to Philadelphia does not involve a return to her husband. He is reported to be on the point of embarking for Sweden, his native country, having given up all wish for reconciliation. Her mother is expected from Philadelphia today. Mrs. Bergman is understood to be still firm in her determination to live apart from her family and friends. At her boarding house in Fourth avenue she is in charge of a nurse. After the interview with her guardian and Commissioner French yesterday she quitted the Central Office apparently to return there.

Mrs. Bergman's wealth is said to have been much exaggerated. Her income from all sources is estimated at $3,000.
