

Through "Darkest Africa" With U. S. Plant Hunters

1. Porters carrying luggage between Nemuli and Rejof, 115 miles, covered afoot by American scientists.
2. Nile river steamer.
3. Dr. Shantz in a field of native sorghum grass.
4. Lunching on the veldt in the lion country.
5. In the elephant camp near Port Elizabeth, South Africa.
6. Rest houses in Belgian Congo.
7. Studying a wild vine in Africa.
8. On trek in Rhodesia.
9. Starting on 115-mile walk.
10. In camp on Tanganyika.
11. On the Kafue River, where wild fruits abound.

