THE GERHARDT MURDER TRIAL.

Intense Excitement while the Prisoner Told his Story—Many Moved to Tears.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 17.—The testimony in the trial of Jacob Gerhardt for the murder of his sister-in-law was closed to-day and the case was given to the jury. The prisoner's aged mother was the first witness to-day. She testified to Mena Gerhardt's bad temper and Jacob's hasty temper, and as to the trouble between the two. The prisoner afterward testified in his own behalf. The excitement was intense and the court room densely thronged, a constable being posted to prevent further admissions. Gerhardt's testimony was broken by sobs, groans, and howls, and at times he was so excited that his voice could be heard distinctly several yards from the Court House. Many of the spectators were moved to tears. He told the following story:

I remember the time when Mena complained of me before 'Squire Hartman. I then made arrangements to go away. I went and told mother my troubles, and came back. James Brenning came next day, and Mena told me to get out and not stay any longer on the place. She wanted me to leave, she said. That night she only let me have one quilt on my bed, and I was so cold I got up and built a fire and slept by that. Next morning I said, "Good-by," and she kicked me. I went away and stayed at Jacob Morse's, getting ready to leave and take my things away. I sold some grain and meat, and was thrashing out my rye. Brenning said to drive me away from the farm. I took Mena's part several times, and finally asked her if she wouldn't like to settle with me so I could leave. She said I'd see I could settle with me. On Sunday morning I got up at 7 o'clock and went to the barn to feed a yoke of steers I had there. I fed them, whistling and singing all the while, and cleaned out the stable and brushed the steers off. Then Mena came out and said that I mustn't take any more fodder, and that she had got me out of her house and she was going to get me out of the barn too. I said I had a right there and would come. She struck me on the leg with a pitchfork and knocked me down, and when I wanted to get up she struck me on the head twice, making it all dark. I struck her then and she fell down. I said, "Oh, good God! Oh, Mena! Mena!" I sat down on my knees and prayed to God. I put my blouse around her head and started to the house with her. When I got outside the barn I saw that she was dead, and I laid her down in a ditch. I was all confused, and I went home to my mother. They came after me and brought me here. I cannot read nor write.

The evidence was then declared closed. After recess the Hon. Arthur C. Butts made an argument of two hours for the defence, and Jno. F. Anderson followed for the prosecution. Judge Osborn charged the jury, which retired at 7:30 P. M. No verdict is expected before to-morrow morning.

RYAN AND SULLIVAN.

A Match Between the Heavy Weights for $5,000 Each Thought to be Assured.

The proposed match between the heavyweight pugilists Paddy Ryan of Troy and John Sullivan of Boston is about as good as made. Sullivan at first wished to fight with hard gloves, declaring that he had no wish to get into State prison, but afterward expressed his willingness to fight with naked fists for $1,000 a side. Ryan would not fight for less than $5,000 a side, and Sullivan, who was in the city last week, said that he would go back to Boston to find backers. He was successful, and yesterday his representative called on Ryan's backers and said that Sullivan was ready to make the match as Ryan proposed.

Richard K. Fox posted forfeit of $500 for Ryan with Frank Queen of the Clipper. This was accompanied by a letter in which Mr. Fox said that Ryan wished the fight to take place within 100 miles of either Pittsburgh or Detroit, within three or four months from the time of signing the articles, and to be decided according to the rules of the London prize ring. Monday, June 27, was named in the letter as the time for the principals to meet at the Clipper office and sign articles of agreement and post an additional $500. Mr. Fox added that he was posting $5,000 merely to prove who was the champion pugilist of the world, and that after the battle was decided he would match the winner to fight any man in the world—no matter whether the winner was Ryan, his champion, or Sullivan—for the same amount.

LABOR, CAPITAL, AND ARBITRATION.

A Plan for Settling Brewers' Troubles—A Scarcity of Bricklayers.

The saloon keepers who sympathize with the striking brewery hands resolved yesterday to attempt to adjust the differences between the brewers and the strikers by arbitration. Messrs. Rosecranz, Justus Schwab, and Gutschon were appointed a committee of arbitration. The Brewers' Union and Brewery Hands' Union will be invited to appoint similar committees.

The committee, if accepted, will not meet until next week. That method is intended by some of the leaders that the strikers have the 100,000 workingmen of New York behind them, and this, it is thought, will lead the brewers to make further concessions. If it fails to do so, the saloon keepers propose to Boycott the brewers still further. They claim now to have 500 saloon keepers on the Boycott roll.

The Meeting of the strikers at Wendell's Assembly Rooms was larger than usual yesterday. Speeches were made by Rudolph Hockenberger and A. Bauman.

It was said that there was enough money in the treasury to continue the strike a week longer, and after that outside aid would be relied upon. It was said that nine men had left George Ehret's brewery because they had been required to work over twelve hours a day. The Brewers' Union and Foremen's Union meet to-day.

The situation in John Roach's iron foundry yesterday presented but little change since the preceding day. Some of the laborers whom, the foreman says, the striking moulders took out with them in order to make it appear that the laborers had struck too, were back. A committee of two workmen waited upon the foreman yesterday, and asked him if he proposed to grant the increase of ten per cent. in their wages demanded. He said he had no power to do so. Mr. Roach being out of the city, but if they would return to work on the old terms he would use his influence with the proprietor on his return to obtain the increase asked for.

There is a scarcity of bricklayers in town. The unusual amount of building now in progress all over the city has given employment to all the bricklayers to be found, and many contractors are still short handed. Wages are $4.

Chasing the Man who Stole his Clothes.

Thomas Brady was held by Justice Bergen, in Brooklyn, yesterday, to await the action of the Grand Jury on a charge of stealing the clothing of Michael Cunnan of 51 President street. Brady, who gave his residence as in the Tremont House, in Chatham street, this city, stole Cunnan's clothing while Cunnan, who works at night in this city, was asleep. Cunnan was awakened by the noise, and, although his wardrobe consisted only of an undershirt and a pair of drawers, he ran in pursuit of the thief. His strange appearance started a crowd after him. He chased the thief down to Van Brunt street, to Carroll street. Capt. Leavy and Detective Mahoney tried to stop the thief, whom they encountered in Carroll street, but he tripped Leavy up, and ran ahead, distancing his pursuers. He was at length caught in a stable, into which he ran when out of breath and threw himself upon a pile of hay. Cunnan followed persistently, and, recovering his clothes, dressed himself and went home.

Policeman Hughes's Mistake.

Frederick Koezly, while sprinkling the sidewalk with a hose in front of his house in East Eightieth street, in December, 1879, was asked by Policeman Thomas Hughes by what right he was doing so. Koezly refused to give the information asked for, and Hughes arrested him. In a suit by Koezly against Hughes for false imprisonment, the jury on the trial yesterday in the Superior Court, before Judge Freedman, gave the plaintiff a verdict for $100.

Athletes of Grammar School 35.

The boys of Grammar School 35 played their annual games on the Manhattan Athletic Club grounds yesterday afternoon. Master John Mulligan won the five-mile run, Henry Bradhurst the ¼-mile run, Fred. Crandall the ½-mile run, Arthur Preyer the one-mile handicap walk, C. Busse the 220-yards dash, and William McDonald the 100-yards dash. A tug of war between class teams was won by Capt. H. Waldron's team.

A.—SUITS FOR MECHANICS, suits for laborers, suits for clerks, suits for everybody, suits for all occasions, for seaside and country wear, for business, and for dress purposes. In addition to our extraordinary offering of men's all-wool suits from $2.50 up, coats from $1, and pants from 50c., we sell for $10 the finest quality of Middlesex flannel suit. This is the same suit, in every particular, as that advertised so freely by other clothing houses as a special bargain at $15. This is a rare chance for a full-dress suit.

In boys' clothing we offer all-wool suits from $1.50 to $5. This last figure will buy the best boy's suit in the land. Sailor suits, the most nobby seaside article ever made, and the delight of all boys, we offer at $1.75.

Our blue flannel suits at $6, $7, and $8 cannot be approached in beauty and cheapness by any other clothing house in either city.

We still continue the only house which makes to order a $45 suit for $12.

If a suit is absolutely necessary at short notice—for funeral or other purposes—it will be made to order at four hours' notice, at KING OF TAILORS', 85 to 91 Sands st., Brooklyn.

A.—A CARD TO THE PUBLIC. We want it distinctly understood by the whole world that I am the only original successor of CAMERON, the clothier, of Brooklyn, and that all others using the name are impostors, as a recent decision of the Supreme Court will show. We would not have mentioned this fact, only a great many people, through previous advertisements by others, have been grossly imposed upon. Respectfully, J. L. DAVIES, the original rock-bottom clothier, and only successor of CAMERON in the whole world, 172 Bridge st., near High, Brooklyn.

SPECIAL.—We are still selling men's new suits at $3, $4, $5, upward; boys' and children's suits, $1.40, $2.50 up. Can it be possible! All-wool pants to order $2.50 upward; an all-wool suit, $10, $11, and $12. All goods sold on their merits.
