ATTACHING THE DIRT.

The Biggest Day's Work Ever Laid Out by the Street Cleaners.

Acting under Street Commissioner Coleman's orders, Deputy Superintendent Plunkett on Saturday made an inspection of the city to see what districts stood in greatest need of the department's labors, and on Sunday 375 men and over 300 carts were put to work in the quarters designated by him. The part of the city within Fourteenth and Forty-second streets, Fourth and Seventh avenues, abounds with churches, and in this district no Sunday work is done. The east side streets on which work was done were South, Whitehall, Fulton, Stone, Broad, Parents, Catharine, Oliver, Delancey, Broome, Rivington, Houston, Clinton, Attorney, Leonard, Franklin, White, Baxter, Walker, and Benson streets, Avenue A from Houston to Twenty-seventh street, Nineteenth street from Second avenue to Avenue B, Eighteenth street from Second avenue to East River, Second avenue from Twenty-seventh street to Forty-second street, the cross streets from Forty-fourth street to Fifty-first street, inclusive, from Fourth avenue to East River, and all the cross streets from Eightieth to 110th from Third avenue to East River. On the west side the streets on which work was done were West, Warren, Desbrosses, Mercer, Hudson, Gansevoort, Thompson, Sullivan, Macdougal, Bleecker, and Cornelia streets, South Fifth avenue, and various up-town cross streets as far north as Forty-ninth street.

"It is the largest day's work ever cut out," said Mr. Plunkett, "during the five years I have been in the department. It includes the tenement districts, and those parts of the city in which dirt most rapidly accumulates."

Mr. Plunkett during his term of service has worked under eight police Captains and nine Police Commissioners.

"Has any step been taken yet toward introducing a new system?" the reporter asked him.

"No. All we are thinking about is to get the streets clean first."

Mr. Plunkett does not think much of street cleaning theories. Commander Gorringe's plan he thinks quite impracticable, and so also he pronounces Judge Hilton's plan of shipping street sweepings to Long Island. "At the Market street dump alone," he said, "there are from 600 to 700 loads dumped daily. To transport the dirt from that dump alone would take all the freight cars of the Long Island road, allowing ten tons to a car."

WOOING BY VIOLENT MEANS.

A Workhouse Keeper's Attempt to Regain the Affection of his Sweetheart.

Jeremiah Lynch, a keeper in the workhouse on Blackwell's Island, was engaged, up to two years ago, to be married to Anna Drew, an attendant in the women's department of the asylum for the insane. Anna's parents had been employed for several years about the asylum, and Lynchhad also been a long time in his position in the workhouse. About two years ago, Miss Drew says, she discarded Lynch on account of his intemperate habits and since then has frequently had occasion to reject his renewed advances.

On Saturday afternoon Lynch had been drinking, and while under the influence of liquor he went to Ward 3, where Anna Drew was working, and called to her through the grating in the door to come out and walk with him. She refused until he became violent and threatened if she did not open the door to kick it down. Frightened by his conduct, the girl came out, she says, in a hope that he would then go away quietly. He renewed his invitation to walk, and she again refused.

From protestations of love to abusive epithets Lynch changed in an instant, and, seizing the unprotected girl by the hair, he beat her in the face with his fist. Her eyes were both badly discolored, her forehead was bruised, and her nose was made to bleed. She was overwhelmed by the suddenness and fury of the attack, but was able to stagger back into the asylum ward and presently to make her way from there to the residence of her parents, near by. Lynch went back to his quarters about the workhouse, but continued noisy and boisterous.

Anna Drew's father made a complaint on Sunday at the Fifty-ninth street police station, and Lynch was arrested. Yesterday morning, when he was arraigned before Justice Murray in the Yorkville Police Court, the girl was unable to appear. Dr. T. M. Franklin, the medical superintendent in the asylum, sent a letter to certify that Anna Drew was unable to appear, but was willing to testify at the earliest practicable opportunity. Lynch was remanded.

Dr. Franklin said yesterday that the girl's reputation had always been good since her residence on the island. An investigation was made on Sunday into the circumstances in the case by Dr. Franklin and the President of the Board of Commissioners, and it was then determined that Lynch should be prosecuted.

WHITE ROBES AND FLORAL WREATHS.

The Commencement Exercises at the Academy of Mt. St. Vincent.

The thirty-fifth annual commencement of the Academy Mt. St. Vincent was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the Academy, which was filled with the friends of the 160 white-robed girls who were grouped on one side of the hall. On the platform were Cardinal McCloskey, who presided, Archbishop Corrigan, Bishop Conroy, and Monsignors Preston and Quinn.

The exercises were opened with instrumental music by twenty-four girls playing on twelve pianos. The Coronation Chorus followed, during which the girls filed past the Cardinal and, kneeling at his feet, were crowned by him. The salutatory was delivered in a clear and musical voice by Miss Mary McDermott. The fourteen members of the graduating class received from the hands of the Cardinal crowns of laurel and gold medals. The valedictory address was delivered by Anna L. Crimmins.

The St. Cecilia gold medal was awarded to Miss Kate Vanderveer for excellence in vocal music, and the second medal to Miss Eveline A. Grosz; the Curran gold medal for mathematics to Miss Mary A. Quinn; the Seton gold medal for English literature to Miss Kate Ferman, and the silver medal to Miss M. L. Feury; the Kelly-Hughes gold medal, for practical domestic economy, to Miss Ida G. Gomin, and the Hughes gold medal, for the best essay, to Miss Olive Chatfield.

Montreal Ship Laborers on Strike.

MONTREAL, June 20.—The ship laborers today made a demand for the advanced scale of wages sanctioned at the mass meeting last night. The stevedores declined to accede to it or make any increase in the wages paid since the opening of the season. On receiving this information the men at once resolved to strike in a body, and are now idle, the loading of vessels being carried on by the crews. A large force of the city police are under arms and ready to cooperate at a moment's notice with the harbor police, to prevent any intimidation or violence. So far the strikers are showing no desire to act in an unruly manner, and are keeping at a respectful distance from the ships where work is proceeding. The strikers number altogether about 1,000.

Students Attacked by Policemen.

EXETER, N. H., June 20.—At 2 o'clock this morning some students, while giving their annual Exeter cheer at the houses of the professors, were attacked in front of the residence of Prof. Tufts by four policemen, armed with pistols and clubs. Two or three students were knocked down and severely injured. Four others were lodged in the lock up until daybreak. They were then taken before Judge Bell, and the trial was postponed until the parents of the boys can get here. Gen. Marston acting as bondsman for the young men. Public sympathy is with the students, as it is customary just before the close of school to serenade the professors and have the usual bonfire. No damage was being done by the boys. One or two policemen received bruises.

Frederick Kuberlie won the Governor's Trophy with 48 out of a possible 50 at 200 yards. He also won the Gen. Coey Trophy with a score of 47, and the Pacific Life Cup with a score of 48. These scores have never before been equalled with a military rifle. N. Williams won the Barnes Medal with 47 out of a possible 50 at 200 yards.

There is no appreciable change in his appearance. His pulse registered 62, respiration 15, and temperature 98 3-10.

Earthquake Shock in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 20.—Much consternation was caused here yesterday morning by a slight earthquake shock, many persons believing that the prophecy that the world would end this year was about to be fulfilled. Several persons in Quebec sat up all Saturday night awaiting the expected ending of the world.

A Circus Seized by a Sheriff.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The tents, horses, and paraphernalia of the circus, known as the Great London Show, were seized by a deputy sheriff from Chicago at Des Plaines, Ill., on Saturday afternoon, just as the circus was about to open, on a writ of attachment in a suit.

A Lost Gem Found.

From the New Haven Palladium.

Joseph Gile, principal of a school in the Insurance Building, after kindling a fire in a stove in his room at the Mansfield Hotel, missed from its setting in a ring a diamond valued at $100. So positive was he that the precious stone had been lost in the stove that he instituted a faithful search, employing a colored boy to carefully look over the ashes and coals after the fire was extinguished. The contents of the stove were also saved and searched. The young man spent four days in the room searching for the diamond. While sitting the ashes from the stove through a floor sifter last evening about half past 6 o'clock, his eyes were gladdened by the gleam of the gem in the declining sunlight.

ANOTHER TICHBORNE.

A Man whom Gen. Barnes of San Francisco Believes to be the Real Roger.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—The Examiner this morning publishes an interview with Gen. W. H. L. Barnes, the general purport of which is that the real Roger Tichborne has at length turned up, and has unfolded his story to Gen. Barnes. In the interview the latter confirms the report that the alleged Tichborne came to him for certain information as to how he could best obtain documentary evidence to show that he had never been in Rio de Janeiro, had never left there in the vessel Bella, and had never been wrecked and picked up by the Osprey, as stated by Arthur Orton, the Tichborne claimant. Gen. Barnes subjected his visitor to a rigorous examination of several days' duration, during which he told so straight a story, including many points in which Orton failed, and other points that did not come out in the trial, and exhibited physically such identity with the lost heir, that Gen. Barnes says he has reluctantly arrived at the conclusion that either the true Tichborne has turned up or that the man in question is the most adroit swindler he has ever met in a long course of practice. The Duke of Sutherland and Dr. Russell also had an interview with the man, and a full statement of the case has been mailed to England.

Tichborne says that he has been for a great portion of the time in the United States; that he served through the war, was married in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is now living near San Diego, but will be in the city again in a few days. He says that his silence is the result of a determination on his part to remain incognito for a certain number of years, now elapsed, and this determination was brought about by a deep feeling of chagrin at the opposition to his marriage with his cousin Kate. The question of being able to establish his identity does not seem to give him the slightest concern, the sole object of his call on Gen. Barnes being to obtain evidence to show the falsity of the report regarding the Rio de Janeiro episode.

Dr. Ellison's Denial of Mrs. Lockwood's Charge.

Dr. Charles R. Ellison, who was arrested on Sunday upon Coroner Ellinger's order, charged with malpractice upon young Mrs. Lizzie Lockwood, living with her father, Robert T. Kelly, at 2,327 Third avenue, was liberated yesterday upon $5,000 bail. John Mulligan of 154 East 110th street and Justin Wohlfarth of 2,092 Third avenue are his bondsmen. The condition of Mrs. Lockwood, though critical, was somewhat improved yesterday. A number of physicians practising in Harlem called yesterday upon the Coroner to testify to Dr. Ellison's good repute and standing as a physician. Dr. Purdy, President of the New York County Medical Society, also wrote to the Coroner to the same effect.

Dr. Ellison denies the charge made against him. He says he treated Mrs. Lockwood for an organic disease. Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Lockwood's father, said yesterday that his daughter was suffering from malpractice, the result of ignorance or incompetence on the part, perhaps, of two physicians. It is said that Mrs. Lockwood, since her condition has improved, has sought to withdraw her statement to the Coroner. Dr. Ellison's friends deny that he could have been capable of the offence charged against him.
