NEWARK'S MISSION CHURCH.

The Dispute Over the Election of Delegates Decided Against the Pastor.

WESTMINSTER, Carroll county, Md., March 16.—The annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church had a lively time yesterday over the difficulties in the Mission Church in Newark, N. J. The legality of the election of delegates to the Conference from the mission was contested and referred to a special committee. Yesterday afternoon the committee reported that the meeting for the election had been held with closed doors, and that no members of the church had been admitted except such as held tickets of admission from their pastor. The pastor had publicly announced that he would issue tickets to those who had the right to vote. The committee thought this unusual and in conflict with the letter and spirit of Church law, and subversive of the fundamental principles of Church government. They reported the meeting illegal, and Newark Mission without a delegate to the Conference.

The Rev. I. S. Graham, pastor of the church, as soon as the report was read, sprang to his feet and protested against its adoption. An effort was made to prevent him from speaking, on the ground that he was not a member of the Conference, but this failed, and Mr. Graham was allowed to make a statement. He showed that there had been a dispute in his church in consequence of a misunderstanding as to the day for holding a meeting to consider church repairs, and two meetings being held, the congregation became divided into two factions. When the time for holding a meeting to elect delegates approached, one of those opposed to the faction supporting the pastor, Mr. Graham said, sent a despatch to THE SUN, reading: "There is trouble in the Newark Mission. Look it up." By this means the papers made publications which led to a hundred strangers coming to attend the meeting "to see the circus," as they expressed it. To enable all the members to obtain admission to the meeting and to prevent strangers from filling up the church, the tickets were issued, being given to every one entitled to vote, without inquiring into the intentions of the recipient as to who he would favor with his ballot.

After several hours of exciting discussion the Conference rejected the delegate, 96 to 21.

NEWARK, March 16.—The two factions of the church are now waiting to see whether the Rev. Mr. Graham is to be reappointed pastor. Should a new man be sent to the church, Mr. Graham's friends may secede and form another society. The feeling on both sides is bitter, and in any event the church is hopelessly split.

MANHATTAN'S TROUBLES.

The Metropolitan Board Commends to its Stockholders a Non-committal Policy.

It was reported in Wall street yesterday that the Gould-Field-Sage management of the Manhattan Railway and the New York Elevated Railroad Companies, having despaired of effecting a compromise with the stockholders of the Metropolitan Elevated Railroad, were about to perfect a consolidation or merger of the two first-mentioned companies, and leave the property of the Metropolitan Company to the Kneeland party. No confirmation of the report, which was put in circulation for about the hundredth time, could be obtained from those most interested. At a meeting of the directors of the Metropolitan Company held on Thursday the following resolutions upon the subject were adopted. They were sent to the stockholders yesterday:

Whereas, The Supreme Court of this State has decided that the merger agreement of Nov. 14, 1881, is illegal and void; and whereas, a bill has been introduced into the Senate of this State to repeal the charter of the Manhattan Company, and to revoke its rights, powers, and franchises, on the ground that it never had any legal existence, and has forfeited any existence that it ever did have; and a resolution has been introduced into the Assembly of this State requesting the Attorney-General to bring an action to dissolve the Manhattan Company for the reasons above stated; and, whereas, in the present state of public opinion the passage of said bills and said resolution are very probable; and, whereas, the existence of the Manhattan Company is thus seriously menaced, and a repeal or forfeiture of its charter would forfeit the lease to the Metropolitan and New York Companies, and cause the restoration of their roads to said companies;

Now, therefore, on motion of Mr. Joseph S. Stout, seconded by Mr. Jacob Berry, this Board, in order to avoid controversies and litigations far more serious and dangerous than those which have hitherto confronted the Metropolitan Company and its stockholders, recommends to the stockholders of the Metropolitan Company that they refrain from assenting to the merger agreement, and from taking any step which shall recognize the validity of the Manhattan Company or its stock until the legality of said company has been established beyond dispute.

Treated as if Tipsy—His Head Broken.

Julius Kaufman, aged 50, a German musician, was arrested by Policeman Gilloon of the Eldridge street station, at Allen and Stanton streets, on March 4, on a charge of intoxication, and was thrown into a cell. Nine hours later it was learned that the man was sick, and he was sent to the Chambers Street Hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured. He died the same evening. Mrs. Kaufman and friends of the deceased musician testified before the Coroner yesterday that he had a watch and chain in his pocket, which were not found when he was searched at the station house. Kaufman's friends think he had been assaulted and robbed; but the police believe his skull was fractured by a fall. The jury found that he received his injuries in a manner unknown to them.

Ten Cents Short of the Amount of a Fine.

Justice Power yesterday fined John Cox $1 for being intoxicated. Cox hunted through his pockets, and after much exertion produced 90 cents in dimes, nickels, and pennies.

"I'm 10 cents short, Judge," he said, plaintively; "what will I do about it?"

"I'll make up the difference," said Justice Power, handing over a dime, and Cox went rejoicing on his way.

Mrs. Mordaunt Again Accuses her Husband.
