EXCITEMENT AT THE RACES.

RARE SPORT MIXED WITH A LITTLE TROUBLE IN MONMOUTH PARK.

One Enterprising Turfman Rewarded at Last—Three Great Race Horses on Exhibition—The Judges Make a Blunder—A Row in the Betting Quarters—Rumors.

The first day of what is called the midsummer meeting in Monmouth Park bristled with exciting events. There was a great attendance, a large fields of evenly handicapped horses, fine weather, and a dry and dusty track.

Mr. Withers, a gentleman who has for years been a liberal and patient supporter of the sports of the turf, picking up an occasional plum only, carried off the honors. He won the Atlantic Stakes with his King Ernest—Minerity filly, his colt Kinglike defeated Parole and other celebrities in a mile-and-a-quarter race, and his horse Duplex won a handicap sweepstakes in a field of fourteen fast racers.

The great horse Iroquois, whose victories on the English turf are now household words; the three-year-old colt Leonatus, that has won ten victories in the Western States without a break this year, and the remarkable two-year-old General Harding, a large chestnut colt, that has made a clean sweep of the two-year-old stakes also in the West, having been beaten only once, and that owing to a miserable start, in which race he gained a place, were exhibited on the quarter stretch, receiving the plaudits of admiring thousands.

One unfortunate blunder marred the sport and caused a great deal of harsh comment and condemnation. In a race, the details of which are given below, Major Hughes, that came in first, and Antrim, that came in second, were set back on a charge of fouling Nimrod, the latter horse being awarded the race. The judges, Messrs. Withers, Donner, and Johnson, not having fixed in their minds the fourth horse, that now fell into second place, on which some $20,000 was at stake, gave the place to Dan K., when most of the great crowd of spectators and all the reporters had marked Mary Corbett as coming in ahead of Dan K. They based their decision on the fact that Mr. Donner asked a group of men in the timers' box which horse came fourth, and a sporting man named McCormack answered, "Dan K." Mr. Donner acknowledged that the judges made a mistake in referring to outsiders.

"Yes," said Al Smith, "you should have consulted the reporters; they always place the horses correctly."

A row that promised to end in a tragedy occurred in the betting quarters. According to eyewitnesses, an Israelite claimed the payment of a bet from Mr. Barnes of the book-making firm of Barnes, Roche & Co. Barnes denied that the bet had been made, and the man, becoming offensively persistent, Barnes began hustling and kicking him. The Israelite then made a determined attempt to draw and use a pistol on Barnes. He was stationed by half a dozen men and taken away. No one present know his name.

It was reported that Mr. Gebhard had become disgusted with racing after Eole's defeat, and was about to retire from the business. One rumor, said to come from Mr. Pierre Lorillard, announced that Gebhard had already sold Eole to the Dwyers for $15,000. The Dwyers said that they had not bought Eole.

THE RACES.

The bell first summoned the racers for a run of one mile and a quarter for a purse of $500 for all ages, with weight penalties for winners and penalties for non-winners and maidens. Four starters were: P. Lorillard's Parole, 117 pounds; C. H. Pettingill's Fair Count, 110; D. H. Withers's Kinglike, 93, and Mr. Kelso's Heel-and-Toe, 88. Betting—Parole, $200; Kinglike, $70; Fair Count, $40; Heel-and-Toe, $30.

The horses were sent away promptly in what proved to be an excellent race between the favorite, Parole, and Kinglike. The old brown horse had the best of the start, Hee-and-Toe second, Fair Count at the tail of the bunch. McKenny gained the lead in the first furlong with Kinglike, and Withers passed the stand on entering the even mile he had opened a length of daylight from Heel-and-Toe, Feakes having drawn Parole back to the tail of the procession. Kinglike remained in the light until walking the backstretch, where the old horse began jumping him. In the lower turn the cry arose, "Parole wins!" the veteran getting his shoulders in front while making the bend. But he had a hard fight before him on the straight, where Kinglike came again, and, after one of the gamest finishes seen in a long time, beat Parole in by a short head. Fair Count came third, three lengths behind Parole. Time, 2:12. Mutuals, $19.15.

SCRAMBLING FOR THE ATLANTIC STAKES.

A large field of two-year-olds appeared for the rush of three-quarters of a mile for the Atlantic Stakes, $50 each for starters, with $1,500 added, $300 to second. Fifteen starters furnished these racers: Mr. Kelso's Equipose, by Enquirer, 107; the same owner's Eclat, by Enquirer, 100; Clipsiana Stable's Sandoval, by Springbok, 100; Appleby & Co.'s Orator, by Illused, 100; Com. Kittson's Theodorus, by Harry Hill, 100; the same owner's Albia, by Harry, 100; Cridge & Co.'s Red Star, by Glenlyon, 102½; P. Lorillard's Leo, by Duke of Magenta, 100; G. L. Lorillard's King Arthur, by Glenlyon, 100; R. M. McClelland's Bob Cook, by Ten Broeck, 100; Clipsiana Stable's Bonnet, by Strathmore, 97; C. L. Hunt's Queen T., by Great Tom, 97; D. D. Withers's Minority filly, by King Ernest, 97; F. Morris's Battle Axe filly, 97; R. W. Walden's Flyaway, by Warwick, 97.

Betting—Mr. Kelso's Equipose, $100; Mr. Withers's Minority filly, $80; P. Lorillard's Leo, $70; Com. Kittson's pair, $50; Clipsiana Stable's pair, $40; field, $120.

When the shout went up, "They're off," the youngsters resembled a bunch of wild horses on a stampede. Equipose, Eclat, Sandoval, Bonnet, and Flyaway caught the eye in the front rank when the bunch began to stretch out into a line. At the lower turn McKenny was seen pushing through with the black colors of Mr. Withers on the Minority filly. Surging down the straight, the Minority filly headed the bunch. She proved a racer in the issue up the long straight, drawing away with ease, and winning by four lengths. Equipose second, Leo at her heels, followed by Eclat and Bob Cook, the others strung out. Time, 1:16¾. Mutuals paid $27.50. Mr. Withers said after the race that he had named the filly Nonpareil.

THE RARITAN STAKES.

The forty subscribers to the Raritan Stakes, a race of one mile and a quarter, for three-year-olds, at $50 each, with $1,500 added, $500 to second, weight penalties and allowances, sent in the poetic L. Hunt's April Fool, by Lurline, 123 lbs.; Blohm & Co.'s Little Minch, by Glenelg, 115; P. Lorillard's Gonfalon, by Glenlyon, 111; Preakness Stable's Trombone, by Great Tom, 115; G. L. Lorillard's Trafalgar, by King Alfonso, 115; D. D. Withers's Renegade, by King Ernest, 115; Woodford & Co.'s Harry Mann, by Lover, 112; Appleby & Co.'s Carnation, by Ill-Used, 110; M. S. Barger's Euclid, by Glenelg, 108; Perry & Walker's Long Knight, by Longfellow, 108.

Betting—Carnation and Little Minch, $80 each; Long Knight and Trombone, $75 each; Renegade, $60; field, $75.

A hot race followed a struggling start. Trafalgar, Little Minch, and Euclid securing good places in flagfall. Long Knight took the lead in the first quarter of a mile, and when the horses rushed around the bend of the upper turn he pulled ahead into the open light two lengths in front of Little Minch, Euclid and Carnation lapping. Euclid tackled Long Knight on the backstretch, grappled him by the neck at the half mile pole, and beat him back before the final race up the straight. Euclid, Carnation, and Renegade were alone in the hunt in the last furlong. Fisher landed Euclid winner by a neck, Carnation second, with Renegade at her ears. Time, 2:12. Mutuals, $159.75.

THE BLACK COLORS AHEAD AGAIN.

The fourth race, a mile dash for a handicap sweepstakes of $25 each for all ages, with $500 added, $100 to second, brought before the starter Mr. Kelso's Rica, 113 lbs.; J. B. Sherman's Brad, 109; Magenta Stable's Charley Kempland, 108; P. Lorillard's Amazon, 103; Mott and Ash's Fatinitza, 105; W. Mulkey's Topsy, 105; Somerville's Sweet Home, 103; H. J. Woodford's Barnum, 103; McFadden & Co.'s Hostage, 102; D. P. Withers's Duplex, 103; J. R. Graham's Haledon, 103; F. Morris's Priam, 98; T. Robinson's Laramie, 95; Giglio's Bonnet, 95; Brunwick, 92. Betting—Brad and Rica, $200 each; Duplex, Fatinitza, Sweet Home, and Amazon, $40 each; field, $60.

A long delay occurred in futile attempts to start, during which the crowd shouted, "Fine men," meaning the judges. When the flag finally fell McKenny had the best of the start on Duplex, but he immediately pulled back in the bunch. Rica showed the way around the turn, pressed by Hostage and Duplex. Hostage headed Rica in the dash along the backstretch, but Rica came again, and at the half mile had her shoulders clear of Hostage. Duplex worked into the front rank and Sweet Home following. In the bend for the lower turn the black colors of Mr. Withers loomed in front on Duplex, and the third race out of the four in which his horses were entered was his. Brad came through the ruck before reaching the three-quarter pole, taking second place. Duplex won by four lengths, Brad second, lapped to the shoulders by Sweet Home. Time, 1:43¾. Mutuals, $40.45.

AN UNSATISFACTORY RACE.

The fifth race, of one mile and an eighth, for a purse of $500, selling allowances, brought out the racers P. Lorillard, Jr.'s, Nimrod, 112 pounds; E. Heffner's Dan K., 104; Somerville Stable's Reed, 101; W. O. Scully's Major Hughes, 91; J. Woodford's Bill Bird, 94; J. McMahon's Mary Corbett, 92; J. Walden's Antrim, 88. Betting—Major Hughes, $125; Antrim, $65; Dan K., $15; Mary Corbett, $40; field, $40.

Nimrod was the quickest away at flagfall. Bill Bird, refusing to run, was left at the post. Nimrod soon drew two lengths away in the lead. Antrim second, Dick and Major Hughes following. Nimrod retained the lead around to the turn into the straight, where Antrim and Major Hughes closed on Nimrod in alarming pace, now the pride of the course, Major Hughes, Nimrod, and Antrim coming together side by side without any apparent jostle. Major Hughes ran in first, half a length in front of Antrim, Nimrod two lengths away, third, Mary Corbett fourth, and Dan K. fifth. Fitzpatrick, the rider of Nimrod, and J. Donohue, Antrim's jockey, shared O'Leary, Major Hughes's jockey, with fouling on the turn. Considerable excitement occurred when the judges awarded the race to Nimrod, giving Dan K. second place. The judges, Messrs. D. D. Withers, J. O. Donner, and Ed. Johnson, seemed to have overlooked Mary Corbett in giving second place to Dan K., all the reporters having placed Dan K. behind Mary Corbett. The time was 1:58⅛. Mutuals, $110.10.

A POOR STEEPLECHASE.

The handicap steeplechase over the full course, $300 to first and $100 to second, closed the sport. The field comprised M. J. Daly's Hangar, 145 pounds (Henry); the same owner's Hilarity, 150 (Lynch), and W. J. Roche's Billy, 150 (Hurley). Betting—Hanger, $200; Billy, $110; Hilarity, $70.

The chase was about the worst ever seen on a race course. All three bolted at the water jump on the first round, Billy refusing to go over even at the fourth attempt. He finally forced his way through rather than over. Billy also refused the same jump on the second round of the field. Hanger and Hilarity then went on as the jockeys pleased, Hanger winning half a length in front of Hilarity. Time, 6:30. Mutuals paid $7.55.

TROTTING IN CHICAGO.

Mackey's Filly Wins the Four-year-old Stakes—Fanny Witherspoon's Victory.

CHICAGO, July 14.—This was the opening day of the summer trotting meeting at the Chicago Driving Park.

The first trot was for a purse of $2,500, for the 2:19 class, $500 extra to beat 2:16. Fanny Witherspoon was a strong favorite in the pools. She won in straight heats, and was never headed. Monroe Chief took second money. Time—2:19½, 2:18¾, 2:20. The peculiarity of this trot was that three horses—Adele Gould, J. B. Thomas, and W. H.—were precisely even, so that the third and fourth money was added together and divided between them.

In the 2:40 class Phallas, the favorite, won as he pleased, jogging under the wire in each heat. The third quarter in the first heat was trotted in 32¾ seconds, at the rate of 2:11 for a mile. Time—2:22¼, 2:23, 2:21¾.

The event of the day was the Chicago Trotting Stakes for four-year-old colts and fillies, as it brought together representative youngsters from California, Kentucky, Indiana, and Missouri, and was considered a test of breeding. The entrance fee was $100, of which $50 to be paid before the day of the race, with $1,000 added, and $500 extra to beat 2:19, the best four-year-old time. There were 24 nominations, but only five started, as follows: Charles McCalla's (Columbus, Ind.) ch. f. Jersey Lily, by Hambletonian—Downing; J. C. McFerran & Co.'s (Louisville, Ky.) bay filly Agnina, by Cuyler; W. Mackay's (San Francisco) bay filly Eva, by Sultan; J. Longshore's (Belton, Mo.) gray colt Billy Clinker, by Clinker, and Gov. Leland Stanford's (Mayfield, Cal.) bay filly Bonita, by Electioneer. Agnina was the favorite, notwithstanding the fast records of the California fillies at 2 and 3 years of age.

In the first heat, soon after the word was given, Eva and Jersey Lily broke and fell to the rear, and were not in the heat from that time. Bonita went away fast and took the pole, followed by Agnina. After passing the half mile Agnina began to move up, and it was a close race home, Agatha winning by half a length.

In the second heat Agatha broke at the turn, and Bonita went to the front, with Eva second. On the far side Eva trotted Agatha to a bad break, and the Jersey Lily began to come up. Around the third turn and on to the homestretch the race was between Eva and Jersey Lily, the former winning by a length.

In the third heat Eva kept the pole and was never headed, Jersey Lily and Agatha alternately taking second place. Billy Clinker trotted very fast from the half-mile post, where he was nearly distanced.

In the fourth heat Bonita led for half a mile, then Eva and Agatha came up together, and the three trotted abreast head and head into the stretch. Coming home Billy Clinker went into second place, a length behind Eva. Time—2:23, 2:25¼, 2:26¾, 2:26.

The Gleam Beats the Varuna.

The cabin sloop yachts Gleam, Capt. N. D. Lawton, and Varuna, Capt. E. M. Turton, sailed yesterday for the challenge pennant of Class 3 of the Larchmont Yacht Club. The Gleam won the pennant in the race in June and the Varuna challenged. The sailing length of the Gleam is 23 feet 10 inches, of the Varuna 27 feet 2½ inches. The Gleam had 4 minutes 25 seconds time allowance. The course was 18 miles. The Gleam crossed the line at 12:01 P. M., Varuna, 12:01:30. The little was the last of the fleet, and there was a light southerly breeze. It was dead on end to Execution Reef, and the craft had a hotly contested luffing match on the port tack for about half an hour. At 2:30 the Gleam was about on the starboard tack, the Varuna quickly following suit. The Gleam, however, had just her breeze, and (now) but barely continued to forge ahead of the Varuna, and turned Execution Reef hour nine minutes in advance. Then the wind shifted to northwest, and Matinicock Point hove in sight, and turned by the Gleam ten minutes later. The race, barring accidents, was now virtually over, and the Gleam at Constable Point buoy was over two miles ahead. She turned that mark at 4:31:30, and passed Execution Reef buoy at 5:17, and slipped by the finish at 5:34:40. The judges concluded they would lose their suppers if they waited to time the Varuna.

The second eleven of the Staten Island Cricket Club and the first eleven of the Brooklyn Cricket Club played a drawn game at Prospect Park yesterday. The former won by a score of 129 to 71, in a one-innings game. The Brooklyn team were short three good men, and the home team had the benefit of two new accessions from the first eleven. Mr. Orr batted handsomely for Staten Island for 36 runs. Mr. Moore secured 40 and not out. Henry Marfield did the best for Brooklyn, getting 24 in a very creditable manner.

In the cricket match yesterday at Philadelphia, between the Staten Island and Belmont Clubs, the former scored 114 in the first inning and 113 in the second, with nine wickets down. The Belmonts made 105 in their only inning, and the game was decided in their favor on the result of one inning's play.

A Quoiting Tournament.

The quoiting tournament on the grounds of the Staten Island Cricket Club yesterday was not a very successful affair, owing to the two cricket matches that were played by the club—one in Philadelphia and one at Bronxville—which took the best quoit throwers from the entries. The four new quoit courts were in excellent condition. The single entries were started with a sweepstakes between Messrs. Jewett and Cutbyerson, the two best quoit players in the club, which was so close that the games had to be continued until it was too late to begin the double entries. Mr. Jewett had one game the advantage at the close. The double entries will have their match next week.

SATURDAY, July 14.

There was to-day a severe decline in the shares of leading railroads, and during the morning hours a very heavy pressure to sell Delaware and Lackawanna, Lake Shore, St. Paul common, with free offerings of Union Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred, New York Central, and Lake Shore. The lowest prices were made between half past 1 and half past 2. It was then reported that Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt had invited a conference of his friends at Saratoga with the purpose of united action in support of values, and in the last half hour there was more steadiness. Canada Pacific recovering 1½, but the final close was sluggish.

The more important changes for the day were:
