EOLE IN A FOUR-MILE RUN.

VIRTUALLY A WALKOVER FOR THE GREAT LONG ISLAND STAKES.

Old Bushwhacker's Game Struggle to Retain the Woodlawn Vase—Leslie C. Bruce's Dark Colt Looms Up—A Great Steeplechase

"It is one hundred dollars to a nickel," said a sportsman at Sheepshead Bay yesterday, "that Eole will win the four-mile race." The man merely echoed the belief of the great majority of the vast throng of many thousands in the grounds when they learned that stale old Bushwhacker was the only horse of the original thirteen nominated with Eole that would appear against him. Gossips of the paddock said that Bushwhacker had to be pushed out of the stable to take his morning gallop, but that his owner would start him in the hope that by a chance he might again win the Woodlawn Vase presented by the Dwyer Brothers, to be the permanent property of the subscriber winning the trophy two years in succession. Bushwhacker won the race last year.

The afternoon bristled with sport, however, and the amount of money that changed hands was simply enormous. The number of mutual tickets sold on the four flat races alone amounted to 17,460, or $87,300.

One pleasing feature was the exhibition of Parole and Iroquois on the course. They indulged in a little brush, showing that they were working up to fine edge again.

The four-mile race was for the Great Long Island Stakes, for all ages, at $250 each for starters, with $2,500 added, of which $500 to second; also an additional $2,500 for the horse or horses beating Lexington's record of 7:19¾, made twenty-eight years ago, which was beaten by Fellowcraft (7:19¼) in 1874 and by Ten Broeck (7:15¾) in 1876. Mr. F. Gebhard's Eole, 5 years, by Eolus, carrying 114 pounds, and Mr. J. B. Bryson's aged Bushwhacker, by Bonnie Scotland, 111 pounds, were the only starters. Betting—One to 15 on Eole and 15 to 1 against Bushwhacker. Pools—Eole, $2,000; Bushwhacker, $200.

Billy Donohue rode Eole and Lewis mounted the old horse. The story of the race, if race it can be called, is soon told. The horses started head and head, making the first mile as close as a team, in 1:38. Keeping on, Eole kept his neck clear, Bushwhacker being held firmly, while Eole ran with an easy lope, making two miles in 3:50¾. Eole started on the third mile half a length in advance. On the turn he made it a length, and at the quarter half a length of daylight separated. Bushwhacker shut out the light along the backstretch, but in coming up the straight Eole drew ahead, leading three lengths at three miles, in 5:44. There was a gradual extension of the lead in the last mile, but at the half Eole showed a disposition to loaf. A cut or two from Billy sent him along safely, and the old horse was unable to approach him. Eole won as he pleased by eight lengths, the time for the four miles being 7:43¾. Eole was a little tired and Bushwhacker was somewhat leg weary. Mutuals, $5.75.

A DARK COLT APPEARS.

The mile dash by two-year-olds for a handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, with $600 added, $100 to second, brought out a fine lot, comprising G. L. Lorillard's Thackeray, carrying 112 pounds, and Economy, 102; J. A. Keene's Dutch Roller, 105, and Fatchange, 90; P. Lorillard's Huron, and G. B. Morris's Zamora, 98 each; W. B. Jennings's Ligan, 92; L. C. Bruce's Vocalic, Commodore Kittson's Rataplan, and Cridge & Co.'s Phœnix, 90 each. Betting—2½ to 1 against G. L. Lorillard's pair, 3 to 1 against Huron, 5 to 1 against Zamora, 5 to 1 against Mr. Keene's pair, 6 to 1 against Rataplan, 7 to 1 against Blast, 12 to 1 against Vocalic, 15 to 1 against Ligan, and 20 to 1 against Phœnix.

Little Higgs broke away from the swarm at the start on Leslie Bruce's black colt Vocalic, and he proved the dark horse of the race. He opened yards of daylight on the first turn, increasing the gap to five lengths on the backstretch. The others raced well clustered to the lower turn, where the bunch began to string out. Higgs permitted Vocalic to jog in, winning by two lengths, Huron second, and Ligan third. Time, 1:45¼. Mutuals, $88.50.

A FAVORITE WINS.

The race of one mile and a quarter for a handicap sweepstakes, for all ages, at $30 each, with $600 added, $100 to second, was joined in by Morris & Co.'s Meditator, 108 pounds; W. B. Jennings's Barney Aaron, 108; W. L. Scott's Referee, 105; G. Lorillard's Volusia, 98; J. E. Kelly's Clonmel, 95; Preakness Stable's Euclid, 94; Brannon Brothers' Centennial, 93; W. C. Daly's Red Fox, 90; and W. Jennings's Infanta, 90. Betting—2½ to 1 against Meditator, 3 to 1 against Referee, 4 to 1 each against Amazon and Euclid, 8 to 1 each against Euclid and Barney Aaron, 10 to 1 against Volusia, 12 to 1 each against Red Fox and Centennial, and 15 to 1 against Clonmel.

Getting away in compact order Red Fox, Amazon, and Euclid were for the front row on the run up to the stand in the first quarter, Amazon had her neck clear on reaching the even mile, Centennial second, Barney Aaron third, Volusia and Infanta trailing. Centennial gained the lead on the backstretch, keeping in front to the last quarter, where Meditator, Euclid, and Referee began to move forward. Maynard sent Meditator flying past the leading squad in the last 100 yards, winning the race handily by three lengths, Euclid second, and Referee third. Time, 2:10¾. Mutuals, $20.05.

A LIVELY BREEZE.

The race of three-quarters of a mile heats, for a handicap sweepstakes for all ages at $30 each, with $1,000 added, $100 to second, drew to the post E. J. McElmeel's Navarro, 5, by Buckden, 109 pounds; P. Lorillard's Breeze, 3, by Alarm, 109; W. P. Burch's Jim Nelson, 5, by Wateree, 108; F. Robinson's Little Phil, 5, by Enquirer, 101; J. R. Graham's Haledon, 6, by King Lear, 98; P. McMahon's Lytton, 5, by Saxon, 98; Morris & Co.'s Rena B., 3, by Ten Broeck, 95; M. T. Danaher's Callao, aged, by Planet, 95; Clipsiana Stable's Pike's Pride, 3, by King Ban, 93.

Betting in the first heat—4 to 5 against Breeze, 5 to 1 against Little Phil, 6 to 1 against Navarro, 8 to 1 against Pike's Pride, 10 to 1 against Jim Nelson, 12 to 1 each against Haledon and Rena B., 15 to 1 against Callao, and 20 to 1 against Lytton.

Breeze, Little Phil, and Navarro headed the line at the start, with Callao nearly left at the post. The leaders made a close fight to the finish, Lytton joining in the fast hunt on the stretch. Shauer forced Breeze in the lead from flag fall for all she was worth, winning the heat by a neck from Little Phil, Lytton third, Navarro fourth, Callao distanced. Time, 1:15¾.

Betting on the second heat—1 to 2 on Breeze, 2 to 1 against Little Phil, 8 to 1 against Pike's Pride, 10 to 1 each against Navarro and Jim Nelson, 20 to 1 against Rena B., and 25 to 1 each against Haledon and Lytton.

A straggling start, with Breeze in the lead again, Little Phil second, and Navarro third, came when the flag fell. The fight for the lead to finish, was between Breeze and Little Phil, Shauer landing Breeze winner a length ahead of Little Phil, Navarro third. Time, 1:16½. Mutuals sold before the first heat paid $9.20; second heat, $8.

A FINE STEEPLECHASE.

The Autumn Handicap Steeplechase, at $25 each, with $750 added, $150 to second, and $50 to third, over the full course, wound up the sport. The starters were Chartemagne, 156 lbs. (P. Meany); Jim Meany, 148 (M. Daly); Disturbance 158 (McGrath); and Tonawanda, 120 (Verplank). Betting—5 to 6 on Charlemagne, 5 to 7 on Jim McGowan, 2 to 1 against Disturbance, and 10 to 1 against Tonawanda.

The lightly weighted Tonawanda gained a lead of forty lengths by the time he reached the water jump on the first round. He stumbled and fell in the upper field, and then was done for, so far as the race was concerned. A great struggle ensued between Charlemagne, Jim McGowan, and Disturbance, the three steeplechasers of the country, Pat Meany leading on Charlemagne to the post, where Disturbance was at his heels, and McGowan six lengths away. Time, 5:30. Mutuals, $16.65.

The extra races on Tuesday will close the season at Sheepshead Bay.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Manager Anson hauled his team over the coals on Friday night, sent them early to their little beds, and recorded sundry fines against delinquents, and the result of the disciplinary process was that the Chicago champions played ball yesterday, and won their series with the New York team in handsome style. Which was put in to pitch for the New York team to Ewing's catching, but the visitors got in on his delivery in such a manner that he gave place to Ward, the latter pitching after the first innings. Goldsmith pitched a strong game after the first innings, and he was splendidly supported throughout. The score was:

By Sail and by Paddle.

The fall regatta of the New York Canoe Club was held in the upper bay yesterday afternoon. In the first sailing race the navigators placed a trifle too much confidence in the stability of their crafts against a strong wind, and soon three canoes were on their beam ends and the occupants were astraddle of the meagre hulls. A tugboat took off the wrecked mariners and towed their crafts ashore. The entries in the race were the Freak, sailed by C. V. R. Schuyler; the Fannie, sailed by W. P. Stephens; the Muxx, sailed by F. L. St. John; the Surge, sailed by Mr. Bailey; the Esmeralda, sailed by W. Whitlock, and the Dart, sailed by C. R. Vaux. When the boats were off the Robbin's Reef Light the Freak sent her crew overboard first, the Fannie followed immediately after, and the Muxx completed a trio of distressed tars. The Dart won the race for the senior class, and the Surge for the juniors.

The second sailing race had the following entries: Ripple, sailed by W. Whitlock; Dart, sailed by C. R. Vaux; Freak, sailed by C. V. R. Schuyler; Surge, sailed by Mr. Bailey. It was won by the Freak, the Dart a close second.

The paddling race had for entries C. R. Vaux, W. Whitlock, W. P. Stephens, A. C. McMurray, C. V. R. Schuyler, and C. Frazer. Mr. Vaux won, Stephens second. For the tandem race two crews entered. C. R. Vaux and C. V. R. Schuyler, and A. C. McMurray and W. P. Stephens. The former won. A paddling race for singles in class B boats closed the programme for the day. The entries were W. P. Stephens's Jersey Blue, C. R. Vaux's Freak. It was won by Mr. Stephens.

No time was taken. The sailing course was three miles, and the paddling course three quarters of a mile. The water was choppy.

Opening a New Broadway Hotel.

The Barrett House, at Broadway and Forty-third street, was formally opened last night. The owners are Robert and Ogden Goelet, and the lessees are W. C. and H. C. Barrett, sons of Judge Barrett of Saratoga. The hotel is built of Philadelphia brick, with brown stone and terra cotta trimmings. It is eight stories high, 150 feet deep, and has a frontage of 70 feet on Broadway and 100 feet on Forty-third street. It will be conducted on the European plan. There are 350 rooms, 150 of which are single and 200 suites, and there are also parlors dining, smoking, and reading rooms. Especial precautions against danger from fire have been taken.

FASHION NOTES.

Fancy aprons are very fashionable.

Chestnut is a favorite shade of brown.

Waistcoats are revived for cloth dresses.

All shades of red and pink are fashionable.

Olive and tan shades are exceedingly popular.

Tapestry or brocatelle silks form parts of the richest velvet costumes.

Parisians are continuing gray with crimson, yellow, green, blue, and rose color.

Many new buttons glitter like jewels, being made of colored pearl and colored metal.

Combinations in two materials are largely employed in new fall and winter costumes.

All drapery, both at the front and back of the coming costume, is exceedingly bouffant.

The fancy of the moment is to tuck the front of the bodice in the form of a square yoke.

Embroidered lady's cloth costumes will be as popular, and almost as costly, as those of velvet.

Astrakhan plush and beaver in its natural color are the preferred trimmings for winter wraps.

Fancy aprons are made of all sorts of materials, lace, velvet, silk, satin, batiste, and fancy gauze.

Winter cloaks will be very long, high on the shoulders, fitting close, and with small ottoman sleeves.

Surplice bodies and pointed waists will be worn even in the thickest fabrics, such as cloth and velvet.

New brocades in velvet have indented brocaded figures of brilliant colors on a sombre ground.

A large proportion of the imported hats and bonnets at Domino's are in one or another shade of gray.

The figures in the richest and most fashionable black velvet brocades are outlined and veined with jet.

Clasps are used on many of the new costumes instead of buttons, or both buttons and clasps are employed.

The handsome buttons used on the silk and velvet combinations have clasps in sets of two or four to match.

Thin nets and gauzes, with heavy embroidered figures in chenille or jet, are the popular fabrics for the new evening toilets.

Buttons are small and bullet-shaped, plain jet, metal or pearl, or set with brilliants or cameo, and with painted centres.

Ottoman silk dresses have the full English sleeve, the fullness being shirred in at the hand in a cuff from four to six inches deep.

The latest sleeve has only one seam—that inside the arm. Above the elbow it is full, but the fullness is not confined by pleats or gathers.

Some of the new long polonaises have six darts in front, taken very deep, with all of the extra fullness left in the front of the polonaise skirt.

Mantles and carriage wraps for the early season are of cheviots in close nutlets lined with a double of surah silk lightly quilted with eider down.

Fine "inland velvets" and velvets with real hand embroideries form the figured fabric used in many beautiful and novel velvet combinations for fall wear.

In velvet costumes the skirt is no longer of brocaded velvet, but the figured material is used to make the long basque or Louis Quinze coat, and the skirt is plain.

The Moderre waistcoat of soft silk, belted at the waist line with a velvet belt and [illegible] and buckle, or a heavy cord and tassel, appears on many rich imported costumes.

The lower skirt of all new street costumes is full. Such skirts have a slightly gored front breadth, two very narrow gored side breadths, and two or four breadths according to the width of the goods, gathered or pleated to form the back drapery.

MORE SMUGGLED FINERY.

Thirty Women with Laden Trunks Expected from Paris and London.

A trunk belonging to Mrs. W. C. O'Brien, a dressmaker of this city, who arrived in the steamship Republic from Europe, was seized by Special Agent Chalker of Capt. Brackett's office yesterday, at the United States public stores, where it had been sent for appraisal of its contents. Large quantities of laces were found loosely basted on dresses and other articles in double rows. The contents of the trunk were estimated to be worth $2,000.

The customs officers have received information that thirty women, several of whom are dressmakers, are returning from Paris and London with their trunks laden with smuggled finery.

A list of the articles found in the trunk of Mrs. F. Lorden, a passenger by the Republic after their forfeiture value, was reported yesterday. The value was 7,327 francs and the goods are subject to sixty per cent. duty.

James Clarkson and John Cronan were discovered by Officer George Werth of the harbor police in a small boat hovering suspiciously about the Havana steamship Pueblo. The boat had 3,500 smuggled cigars contained in it at the time. The men were taken to Ludlow street jail. Cronan's name is John Torbert, and he is known as Clubfoot Jack. The customs officers say that he smuggles for a notorious First ward smuggler, who has twenty men in his employ engaged in smuggling.
