BROAD CHURCHMEN WIN.

ELECTING THE REV. DR. H. C. POTTER TO BE ASSISTANT BISHOP.

Dr. Morgan Dix Second in the Voting, but Withdrawn After the Second Ballot—Laymen First to Give Dr. Potter a Majority.

The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Potter, rector of Grace Church in this city, was elected yesterday to be Assistant Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York. Bishop Horatio Potter retains the office of Bishop and $9,000 a year salary. He is the uncle of the Assistant Bishop. The latter is to attend to all the active duties of the office. His salary remains to be fixed by the Diocesan Convention. The day for the consecration of the Assistant Bishop is to be appointed by the Standing Committee of the Convention.

The Convention sat in St. Augustine's Chapel. There were three ballots for Assistant Bishop. The Rev. Dr. W. F. Morgan of St. Thomas's nominated the Rev. Dr. Potter. Dr. Potter, who sat forward on the middle aisle, stepped out of the pew and said very gravely:

"I am profoundly sensible of the great favor which my brother has done me. I am, however, constrained to say that I am unable to see that it is my duty to acquiesce in the nomination. I cannot permit myself to acquiesce in the nomination or allow my name to be used in this connection."

The Rev. Dr. Noah Hunt Schenck of St. Ann's, Brooklyn, the Rev. Thomas F. Davies of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity were named in succession. The Rev. Dr. C. C. Tiffany nominated Dr. Potter again, whereupon Dr. Potter stepped into the aisle as before and said:

"I thought I had expressed myself with sufficient plainness on that point."

Then he resumed his seat. Other candidates nominated were the Rev. Dr. Philander K. Cady of St. James Church, Hyde Park; the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet of St. Ann's, New York; the Rev. Dr. William J. Seabury of the Church of the Annunciation; the Rev. Dr. E. A. Hoffman, Dean of the General Theological Seminary; the Rev. Dr. Cornelius E. Swope, assistant rector of Trinity; the Rev. Dr. Henry Y. Satterlee of Calvary, the Rev. Drs. George D. Lovell of Baltimore, Edwin Harwood of New Haven, W. R. Huntington of Worcester, and Bishop D. S. Tuttle, Missionary Bishop of Utah.

"You need not confine yourself to this list," said the President, the Rev. Dr. Swope, in reply to a question from a delegate in the body of the church. The clergymen and the laymen put their ballots into different boxes. A majority of the votes of both on the same ballot was necessary to elect. It was voted to have no speeches. On the first ballot the votes were divided among twenty-one candidates, thus:

Clerical Vote—Dr. Potter, 62; Dr. Dix, 40; Dr. Satterlee, 13; Dr. Tuttle, 12; Dr. Swope, 10; Dr. Hoffman, 9; Dr. Seabury, 8; Dr. Gallaudet, 3; Dr. Cady, 4; Dr. Sylance, 3; Dr. Leeds, 2; Dr. G. R. Houghton, 1; Dr. E. C. Haughton, 1; Dr. Huntington, 1; Dr. J. B. Gibson of Sing Sing, 1; Dr. Paret, 1. Total, 108. Necessary to a choice, 85.

Lay Vote—Dr. Potter, 50; Dr. Dix, 24; Dr. Satterlee, 11; Dr. Tuttle, 6; Dr. Swope, 4; Dr. Hoffman, 3; Dr. Seabury, 3; Dr. Gallaudet, 2; the Rev. Thomas Richey of St. Mark's, 2; Dr. Davies, 2; Dr. Cady, 1; Dr. G. H. Houghton, 1; Dr. Huntington, 1; Dr. Harwood, 1; Dr. Leeds, 1. Total, 112. Necessary to a choice, 57.

A second ballot was taken as follows:

Clerical Vote—Potter, 74; Dix, 45; Satterlee, 10; Tuttle, 8; Swope, 10; Hoffman, 15; Seabury, 3; Davies, 3; Cady, 1; Paret, 1; Leeds, 1, and Rylance, 1. Total, 162. Necessary to a choice, 82.

Lay Vote—Potter, 57; Dix, 28; Satterlee, 7; Tuttle, 7; Swope, 3; Hoffman, 3; Davies, 3; Cady, 1, and G. H. Houghton, 1. Total, 110. Necessary to a choice, 56.

"The laymen have signified that they desire the election of the Rev. Dr. Potter," said President Swope, "but as the canon stipulates that there must be a joint ballot of both clergy and laity, the laymen must prepare ballots once more."

Mr. Stephen P. Nash, a lay delegate from Trinity Church, said: "Mr. President, I am instructed and authorized by the Rev. Dr. Dix to withdraw his name from the canvass."

The Rev. Dr. Satterlee asked those who had voted for him to vote for Dr. Potter. Then the last ballot was taken:

Clerical Vote—Potter, 87; Swope, 49; Dix, 5; Satterlee, 2; Tuttle, 6; Hoffman, 5; Seabury, 2; Richey, 1; Davies, 3; James Tuttle Smith, 1. Total, 161; necessary to a choice, 82.

Lay Vote—Potter received 76; Swope, 17; Dix, 4; Satterlee, 1; Tuttle, 3; Hoffman, 1; Seabury, 1; and Cady, 5. Total, 100; necessary to a choice, 55.

The Rev. Dr. Potter was declared elected. He had slipped out of the Convention while the balloting was going on. The Rev. Drs. W. F. Morgan and Morgan Dix and Messrs. J. Pierpont Morgan and Hamilton Fish were appointed to inform him of the result of the election.

The Convention elected the Rev. Dr. Francis Lobdell of St. Francis's Church Secretary for the ensuing year, in place of Dr. Eigenbrodt, resigned, and Mr. James Pott Treasurer.

The Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton's church, which was not received into the Convention a year ago because it applied for admission under the name of All Souls' Church, was received yesterday. The church had been known as Anthon Memorial Church in the Convention, but in the year 1882 had had its name changed by application to the Court of Common Pleas in this city. A committee appointed last year reported yesterday that the church could not be admitted under the name of All Souls' Church. The rector and delegates then presented their credentials as from Anthon Memorial Church, and they were received.

A clergyman said last evening: "The office of Assistant Bishop is a sure step to the Bishopric. Dr. Potter ranks as a Broad Church, conservative leader, while the Rev. Dr. Dix is High Church. That was the main reason why Dr. Dix was not elected. The Rev. Dr. Potter is claimed as a brother by moderate, Low Churchmen. While he is a strict churchman in matters of canon law, the rubric, and the laws of custom, yet he is by no means fettered by them. He is active and energetic, and joins hands with ministers and priests of other denominations to push forward social reforms. The Tenement House Reform bill passed recently in the Legislature had in him a stanch friend."

"How does he stand in the matter of the charge of heresy against the Rev. R. Heber Newton?"

"It is generally believed that he will be in favor of taking the charge up and doing something with it. Bishop Potter is so old that he craves peace. The Rev. Dr. Potter, however, should do something. The matter is now in about as bad a condition as it well can be. Mr. Newton's position is a false one. If he believes what he is represented in the newspapers as believing, then he ought to get out of the denomination. It is more than likely that the Rev. Dr. Potter will take up the charges against Mr. Newton.

The Rev. Mr. Nobles's Latest Troubles.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, Sept. 27.—The Rev. J. C. Nobles of this place is in trouble again. Some time ago a pool was formed by Mr. Nobles and Dr. Parrish of Atlantic Highlands, Mr. Powers of New York city, and others for speculation in the Spiers estate, a large tract adjoining the association's grounds. Dr. Parrish put in $2,000, and Powers a much larger sum. Mr. Nobles held the funds, and was authorized to dispose of the property. After expending considerable money in surveying and advertising, the scheme proved a failure, and the estate reverted to Mrs. Spiers. Dr. Parrish then caused the arrest of Mr. Nobles on a charge of embezzlement. On Tuesday Mr. Nobles was admitted to bail.

Mr. Nobles is in New York city. His wife stated to-day that her husband was innocent of the charge, and that matters could be explained to the satisfaction of everybody. The innocence of Mr. Nobles is generally believed in, and his numerous friends announce their willingness to stand by him and to go his bail for any amount.

After the threatened suicide of Mr. Nobles last summer, the firm of J. C. Nobles & Co. was established here, and many capitalists of Monmouth county placed funds in their hands for investment. Mr. Nobles had paid off most of the indebtedness, which came near driving him to take his life, and was nearly on his feet again when this new trouble occurred.

A Priest Stops One Prize Fight, but Provokes Another.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 27.—On Monday last the eastern shore of St. Mary's Lake, 50 miles north of Ottawa, was fixed upon as the battleground for a fight between two Frenchmen named respectively Larier and Lachapelle. At the appointed time about 100 residents of the district had gathered, the principals toed the mark, and, just as the fight was about to begin, the parish priest drove up, jumped from the buggy, rushed through the crowd, and demanded that the pugilists, under pain of excommunication, should cease hostilities. After many protests, the men reluctantly put on their garments. Some of the crowd expressed their indignation in words the reverse of complimentary to the priest. This led to new complications, and resulted in a match fight being arranged for the following evening between two men named Martin and Ammond. This battle was successfully carried out, and lasted 25 minutes. Ammond was worsted.

Irish Catholic Benevolent Union.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 27.—At the Convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union this morning, a resolution was adopted promising to support the hierarchy and clergy, morally and materially, in the establishment and support of schools to give Catholic children a good Christian education; calling the attention of Congress to the purchases of large tracts of land by foreign individuals, titled and untitled, and foreign corporations, and desiring legislation to prevent it; also expressing sympathy with the heroic people in Ireland in the struggle for national self-government and the redemption of the soil of their native land, and promising moral and material aid.

JAMES LEE GETS HIS BUTTER.

Only the Retailer's Profit to be Made Out of the Latest Novelty in Sharping.

A fair-haired young man and yellow-moustached, dressed in good clothes, went into P. C. Richardson & Co.'s produce store at 155 Chambers street on Wednesday morning, and bought a small keg of butter. He offered a $50 bill in payment and displayed other $50 bills. He explained that he was James Gray and that he kept a retail store at 123 West Seventy-second street. He said that he would send an expressman for the butter.

"By the way," he remarked, as the $50 bill was handed to Mr. Richardson, who was seated at the cashier's desk, "I want to send a remittance into the country, and if you will give me a check for my change I'll be obliged to you."

The bill was good, the young man's manner was straightforward, and he got the firm's check for $34.40.

"Much obliged," he said, with a smile. "Will send for the butter this afternoon."

After Mr. Gray had gone Mr. Richardson's partner said to himself, "Perhaps this young man is not what he seems." He related his suspicion to Mr. Richardson, who said to himself, "May be he wants to raise the check." Then the partners called in the porter and told him to notify them before delivering the butter, if any one called for it. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a man did call. He said he was an expressman sent by Mr. Gray. He might have been an expressman, but he had not his working clothes on. He wore, among other things, a fine brown Derby hat, which is now on exhibition in Richardson & Co.'s store. Mr. Richardson questioned him about Mr. Gray, and he answered the questions with much promptness. Two express wagons were standing before the door, and Mr. Richardson thought that the man belonged to one of them. He was allowed to take the keg of butter. He shouldered it, and instead of putting it in one of the wagons he carried it through Chambers street to West Broadway. Mr. Richardson and the porter followed him. As the man turned the corner into West Broadway Mr. Gray shot out from a doorway and joined him.

"I don't think this is all right," said Mr. Richardson, stepping forward.

"Why, how d'ye do," said Mr. Gray with a smile. "Not all right? Strange. Let us go back to your office and see about it."

They started for the office. At the door Mr. Richardson noticed a fleeting shadow on the sidewalk. He turned to see Mr. Gray grow small in the distance and then disappear. The keg of butter next came tumbling to his feet, and the spurious expressman went off at a lope. Mr. Richardson chased him, but only got his hat. Then Mr. Richardson went and consulted with President Coe of the Corn Exchange Bank, on which the check was drawn. The result of their deliberations was the following advertisement, which was published yesterday:

SUSPECTING THAT A CHECK OF OURS HAS THIS day been obtained for purposes of fraud, all persons are hereby cautioned against negotiating checks bearing our signature. P. C. RICHARDSON & CO.,
Sept. 26. 155 Chambers st.

"We thought," Mr. Richardson said yesterday, "that it would be better to stop all our checks rather than have any one swindled. This morning we sent up to 123 West Seventy-second street, but could not find Mr. Gray's store. There are no stores at all there. A few minutes ago a genuine expressman drove up and handed me this letter:

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.

P. C. Richardson & Co.

SIRS: Be kind enough to give bearer the keg of butter which I bought yesterday. If you do not I will resort to legal measures to obtain it. Should you not cash the enclosed check I will get it cashed through bank account. Yours, JAMES LEE.

"With the letter," Mr. Richardson continued, "was our check for $34.40. We took the expressman's receipt and gave him the money and the keg of butter. We could not very well do otherwise, for no fraud had been committed, and the butter was paid for. You see, the scheme to raise the check fell through, for the advertisement showed that it would not be cashed."

The fine brown hat of the spurious expressman has inside of it the advertisement of a Broadway store which is close by the main stamping grounds of the bunko steerers and confidence men.

NOT CHEAP LABOR, BUT CHINESE.

Why Fifty White Men Dropped Their Flatirons in a Yonkers Laundry.

Six intelligent looking young men stood upon the flagging in Leonard street yesterday, in front of the big shirt manufactory of V. Henry Rothschild & Co.

"We want to see Mr. Dreyfus of the firm," they said to an employee.

Mr. J. H. Miller, superintendent of the house, came down to see them.

"Mr. Dreyfus says if it is in relation to the strike in the Yonkers laundry he cannot see you; present your grievances to me."

The men went away. "We are a committee from Shirt Ironers' Protective Union No. 1 of Yonkers," one of them said to a reporter of THE SUN, "and we are on a strike against Chinese labor. Four years ago Turner & Murray started a laundry for Rothschild & Co. in Yonkers with twenty-five Chinaman. In three months they were obliged to discharge the Chinamen and hire white men. Two months ago there was a general cut down in prices. Where we had been getting 8 cents for a shirt they reduced us to 5½. We organized a union to keep prices up, and got them raised again to 7 cents; but the firm looked on our union unfavorably. Several Chinamen have been working there through the summer. On Monday they put on another Chinaman, and on Tuesday another, and we heard that they were going to put in several more, while there were two competent white workmen whom they had refused to employ.

"On Wednesday morning after we had begun work our Board of Directors went to Mr. Murray and asked him if he wouldn't discharge the Chinaman as a favor to us. He said 'No,' and gave as a reason that we wouldn't do regular white work in the cambric season because we could make more money on cambric. We promised to do what he wanted in that respect, but he wouldn't consent. We gave him to understand that it must be either white men or Chinamen, and he said, 'Let it be Chinaman.' There are about fifty of the strikers, all the white men in the laundry."

Turner and Murray were in their office at Yonkers last evening. "Our employees can't tell us what color of men we shall hire," Mr. Murray said. "We shall deduct from their wages the damage to the 900 shirts they left wetted and unfinished on our hands. They have been among the best paid mechanics in the country. Look at this pay roll. In a good time some of them make as much as $22 and $23 a week. They don't know what they are doing. Most of them are Irishmen, which accounts for their prejudice against the Chinese. The Chinamen have been paid just as much as the white men."

"Then isn't a drinking man among us," one of the strikers said. "We have notified other laundrymen not to come here. It would take 120 to 150 Chinamen to fill our places. If our request is not complied with we will go elsewhere for work."

Shooting at Creedmoor.

At Creedmoor yesterday, in the shooting of the second stage of the Military Championship match, distances 800, 900, and 1,000 yards, seven rounds each, T. J. Dolan made 93, J. H. Brown 82, and John Smith and Frank Stuart 78 each. Dolan, the winner, received the championship of the United States for one year and a gold medal.

The Army and Navy Journal match, distance 500 yards, open to teams of twelve from military organizations, was won by the team from the Seventh Regiment. Score, 370 points out of a possible 420. The second prize was won by the United States Engineers team.

The first prize in the Shorkley match, open to all comers, distances 200, 400, and 600 yards, was won by Frank Stuart of the Sixty-ninth Regiment by a score of 92 points.

The Jones match, open to teams of four, was won by the Seventh Regiment team "A," which made 299 points out of a possible 280.

Jay-Eye-See Arrives, Looking Tired.

Jay-Eye-See, Mr. Case's wonderful little five-year-old, left Boston on Wednesday night, and arrived at Fleetwood Park at 8:40 o'clock yesterday morning. He looked tired. He had been shipped here after trotting a hard contest, and had had no rest. Edwin Bithers, his driver, remained in Boston to drive Phallas. Mr. Case will be here to-morrow morning.

Of St. Julien's chance in the great trot Hickok said: "I don't believe the old horse can be beaten on his track on Saturday. He is working well, and I have not yet seen him to the top of his speed. The fastest mile I have given him here were in 2:14¾ and 2:15¼, and yesterday I jogged him a mile in 2:17."

The betting on the trot is at the rate of $100 to $60 on St. Julien to win. It is believed that 10,000 persons will be present to see the contest.

Leading her Husband to Suicide.

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 27.—John Galvin and wife were arrested last night for drunkenness. The husband in desperation cut his throat with a razor, dying from the effects of the wound. His wife was sent to jail for sixty days. The case is a sad one. The husband, having tried in vain to win back his wife from intemperance, finally joined her in a life of dissipation, with the above result.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The Detroit team walked away with the New York nine at the Polo Grounds yesterday. They settled the business in the fourth inning by making the total figures 8 to 0. The New Yorkers found the visiting battery—Weidman and Trott—impregnable, and it was not until the sixth innings that they scored their first run. That they got only through an error. In the seventh they got another run, and then the Detroits ran their total up to double figures, while the home team had to remain content with two singles, it being too dark to play after the eighth innings. Welch was badly punished for 5 earned runs from 14 base hits, and the field support of New York was loose, every man of the nine being charged with errors except Troy and Humphries. The score was:

Detroit	1	0	2	5	0	0	0	0	2	—10

Earned runs—Detroit, 5; New York, 0.

A splendid contest took place at Washington Park between the Actives of Reading and the Brooklyn team. The fielding of the visitors was in striking contrast to their poor play of the day before. It was a battle of the pitchers. The Active battery—Morris and Carroll—were too much for Brooklyn. Morris broke the rule in throwing over the shoulder time and again. At the end of the seventh innings not a run had been scored. In the eighth the Actives scored three runs on six base hits, two being earned. They then struck out one of the Brooklyns, when the umpire called the game on account of darkness, though it wanted ten minutes of sundown. This virtually saved Brooklyn from a defeat, the game being called back to the seventh innings, with the result of a drawn match, 0 to 0. The full score was:

ACTIVE.	R.	I.B.	P.O.	A.	E.	BROOKLYN.	R.	I.B.	P.O.	A.	E.

The Bostons settled the championship question yesterday by defeating the Cleveland nine. The score was:

Boston	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	—4

Base hits—Boston, 9; Cleveland, 4.

Errors—Boston, 4; Cleveland, 6.

The defeat of the Providence nine at Providence yesterday by the Buffalo Club gives Chicago a chance to secure second place in the race, as Chicago's victory at Philadelphia yesterday makes the two clubs even at 57 victories and 39 defeats each. If Chicago wins both of her Philadelphia games, as is almost certain, Providence must win her two with Buffalo to tie. The chances are that Providence will not. Buffalo beat Providence by 4 to 2 yesterday, and Chicago beat Philadelphia by 5 to 3.

In the American arena the excitement over the latest returns from the West is intense. The Athletics have not yet won the pennant, and St. Louis has crept up to within one game of their record. The defeat of the Athletics at Cincinnati yesterday was a surprise, but yesterday's second defeat was a starter. The score was:

Athletics	1	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	—3
Eclipse	1	0	0	3	1	0	0	1	0	—6

Base hits—Athletic, 8; Eclipse, 9.

Errors—Athletic, 4; Eclipse, 2.

At Columbus, the Baltimore beat the home team by 6 to 4.

At Cincinnati, the Metropolitans Chicagoed the Cincinnati team, and Mr. Keefe pitched for the visitors, and White for the home team.

The St. Louis nine scored their sixty-fourth victory yesterday by defeating the Alleghenys by 8 to 2.

To-day all the above clubs play together again, and to-morrow's contests end the League and American championship seasons.

The Olympic Club of Manhattanville yesterday defeated the Jasper Club of Manhattan College by 6 to 4.

The League and Association record to date, by the official figures, are as follows:

LEAGUE.	Won.	Lost.	To Play.	ASSOCIATION.	Won.	Lost.	To Play.
Boston	61	35	2	Athletic	65	31	2

New Jersey Yacht Club Regatta.

The New Jersey Yacht Club had a glorious breeze from start to finish at their fall regatta yesterday. The wind, in fact, proved too much for several flyers, which broke down or withdrew. The course was from off the club house, Elysian Fields, to Buoy 13, on the West Bank, and return to the finish, off the First Dock, Jersey City, passing to the south and west of Robbin's Reef going and returning, and to the east and north of Fort Lafayette going down. The race was sailed with stationary ballast, catamarans having a time allowance of one minute to the foot and the others two minutes.

The yachts skimmed over the line in the following order: Catamarans—Columbia, Duplex, Nightmare. Class B—Emma C., Charm, Dare Devil, Parole, Lily R. Class C—Rambler, Thorn, Ray Howland, Bother, Corinne, Growler. The Nightmare parted her jib ballards almost at the start, and the Corinne lifted sheets and ran off for home satisfied it was too heavy weather for her. At 11½ the Duplex had a long lead, with her rival, the Columbia, in second place. The Rambler led the sloops, but was hotly pressed by the Emma C., Thorn, and Dare Devil. The Duplex turned Buoy 13 at 12:47 P. M.: Columbia, 1:4:20; Thorn, 1:23:44; Emma C., 1:27:20; Lily R., 1:32:20, and the rest were behind. The finish less effort was made to catch the catamarans, but they were at home, with sails furled, almost before the leading sloop had turned Buoy 13. The following summary gives the official result:

CATAMARANS.

Name.	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed.	Corrected.
Duplex	11:04:02	1:44:00	2:37:58	2:35:58
Columbia	11:04:40	1:44:50	2:54:11	2:36:11

CLASS B.

Emma C	11:06:12	2:43:57	3:37:45	3:33:05
Lily R	11:09:42	2:45:31	3:35:49	3:33:29
Charm	11:07:53	2:54:30	3:46:37	3:46:37

CLASS C.

Thorn	11:04:08	2:41:14	3:36:56	3:36:11
Ray Howland	11:06:28	2:30:28	2:50:02	2:46:07

The Duplex, Emma C., and Thorn won according to the measurement for time allowance given out before the regatta. On a remeasurement after the race it was announced that the Lily R. beat the Emma C. by 1 minute 31 seconds, corrected time.

The catamaran Duplex has accepted a challenge from the Cyclone to sail a race Monday, Oct. 8, over the New Jersey Yacht Club course for $100 a side.

The Pittsburgh Regatta.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—The regatta was delayed to-day by a high wind, which did not subside until 3½ P. M. A quarter of an hour later Luther and McCaffrey, who rowed a dead heat in the veteran contest yesterday, were called out to row it over. McCaffrey soon came back and said he had sprained an arm. The heat was given to Luther.

The first trial heat for professionals brought out Hanan, Griffin, Riley, and Briceland. Hanan won, a length ahead of Riley, Briceland and Griffin half a mile behind. Time, 22 minutes.

The second heat was participated in by Byrne, Ritz, Moniger, and Conly. Conly came in a quarter of a mile ahead of Moniger, second. Time, 21 minutes.

Teemer, Lee, Casey, and Gazel were called for the third heat. Teemer kept a good lead, winning by three lengths in 20:50, Lee second, and Casey third. Gazel withdrew.

Racing at Brighton Beach.

PACIFIC RAILROAD COMBINATION.

All of the Lines Agreeing to Adopt the Same Through Rates To and From the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The railroad managers of the lines west of the Missouri River at yesterday's meeting practically closed their labors by the adoption of agreements, the sustance of which is as follows:

Portland and San Francisco to be common points, making the same rates to and from the East. The Northern Pacific to make the same through rates to San Francisco by way of Portland that the other roads make to San Francisco direct, and the latter to make the same through rates to Portland by way of San Francisco that the Northern Pacific makes to Portland direct. All the lines to maintain the present regular rates except as modifications are hereafter mutually agreed upon. A Commissioner is to be appointed, empowered to settle all disputed points and enforce a penalty on any company violating the agreement. Some advantages are given to the Northern Pacific north of the California State line to points other than Portland and Astoria, and corresponding advantages to the other lines to points in California other than San Francisco. The agreement goes into effect on Oct. 1 and expires by limitation on Dec. 31, 1884; but it is terminable at any time on ninety days' notice from any of the companies. A Commissioner will be appointed as soon as possible. It is the opinion of the railroad managers, outside of the Northern Pacific representatives, that the practical working of the arrangement will be to confine the Northern Pacific to its own territory, as that road cannot afford to pay water freights between Portland and San Francisco, which, under the agreement, it will be obliged to do, and, in addition, to break bulk at Portland, if the company seeks to divert business to and from California from the old overland routes. The question of the control of the Atlantic and Pacific was not raised, an understanding on this point having been reached by the Southern Pacific and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé roads, which between them hold nearly all the stock. The roads outside of the Northern Pacific will among themselves continue to maintain the same proportions in the distribution of earnings as heretofore existed.

No More Rum for Sullivan.

John L. Sullivan arrived at the Ashland House yesterday morning on the way to Baltimore, where the Sullivan-Slade combination will give its first exhibitions. The pride of Boston wore a broadcloth suit and a shiny beaver.

"I never felt better," he said. "I am also happy to say that I am not going to touch any more hard liquor!"

"I told Henry J. Rice, Mace's manager," Al Smith said, "that I would accept Mace's challenge for sparring to spar ten three rounds, Marquis of Queensberry rules, once in California, once in New York, and once in Europe, for $1,000 a side each on each match, and would bet $6,000 to $2,000 that Mace does not win all three encounters. Rice agreed to this. Then I said, 'If Sullivan wins two out of the three matches that settles the question, does it not?' Rice demurred and said the other match must be sparred in Europe. I would not agree."

The combination will go through Pennsylvania, then to Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, and San Francisco, and will not come back till January. Sullivan took the midnight train to Baltimore.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Sept. 27.—Yesterday was the second day of the Soldiers' Reunion of Southwest Iowa and Northwest Missouri, and there was a large attendance. The wad passed through his body, and his right arm and shoulder were torn off, killing him.
