WHAT THE NEW YORK PAPER SAYS ABOUT "THE MASQUE OF LIFE." "The most remarkable and most thrilling motion picture ever seen by New Yorkers—undoubtedly takes rank with 'Cabiria' and other real film successes of the past few years. It is truly a great picture, and you can expect your hair to stand on end when seeing it. There is certain and big success ahead of it."—New York American.

What Is It Worth To You?

Security is worth a great deal to any drug buyer, yet it costs nothing at our store.

Of course it costs us something extra to employ the most efficient pharmacists, and our high grade drugs cost more than the ordinary kinds, but you are charged no more here for drugs and prescriptions than you pay elsewhere.

The increased business which comes to us through our reputation of giving best quality and service more than offsets the reasonable margin of profit which we receive.

Secure the best results from your physician's prescriptions by having them compounded here.

"THE CUSTOMER'S SECURITY" Is Our Slogan.

Will Issue 13-Cent Stamp.

The postoffice department is planning to issue a 13-cent postage stamp for registered and special delivery letters. Heretofore a 12-cent stamp has been in use, but the increase in postage makes necessary the printing of a new denomination. The stamp will bear the head of Franklin and will be of the size and border design of the current issue above 7 cents. The color has not been selected.

Americans Killed in First Battle Buried in France.

With the American Army in France, Wednesday, Nov. 7.—The first three American soldiers killed in the trenches in France tonight are sleeping in French soil, honored by the American army of France. Their final interment took place yesterday.

With a guard of French infantrymen in their picturesque uniforms of red and horizon blue standing on one side and a detachment of American soldiers on the other, the flag-wrapped caskets were lowered in the grave as a bugler blew taps and the battalion at the front fired minute guns. As the minute guns went off the French officer commanding the division in this section paid tribute to the fallen Americans. His words, which were punctuated by the roar of the guns and the whistle of shells, touched both the French and Americans. In conclusion the French officer said:

"In the name of the 4th division in the name of the French army, and in the name of France, I bid farewell to Private Enright, Private Gresham and Private Hay, of the American army.

"Of their own free will they had left a prosperous and happy country to come over here. They knew war was continuing in Europe; they knew that the forces fighting for honor, love of justice and civilization were still checked by the long prepared forces serving the powers of brutal domination, oppression and barbarity. They knew that efforts were still necessary. They wished to give up their generous hearts and they have not forgotten old historical memories while others forget more recent ones.

"They ignored nothing of the circumstances and nothing had been concealed from them—neither the length and hardships of war, nor the violence of battle, nor the dreadfulness of new weapons, nor the perfidy of the foe. Nothing stopped them. They accepted the hard and strenuous life; they crossed the ocean at great peril; they took their places on the front by our side and they have fallen facing the foe in a hard and desperate hand-to-hand fight. Honor to them. Their families, friends and fellow citizens will be proud when they learn of their deaths.

"Men, these graves, the first to be dug in our national soil and only a short distance from the enemy, are as a mark of the mighty land we and our allies firmly cling to in the common task, confirming the will of the people and the army of the United States to fight with us to a finish, ready to sacrifice as is necessary, until final victory for the most noble of causes, that of the liberty of nations the weak as well as the mighty. Thus the death of these humble soldiers appear to us with extraordinary grandeur.

"We will therefore ask that the mortal remains of these young men be left here, left with us forever. We inscribe on the tombs, 'Here lie the first soldiers of the republic of the United States to fall on the soil of France for liberty and justice.' The passerby will stop and uncover his head. Travelers and men of heart will go out of their way to come here to pay their respective tributes.

"Private Enright, Private Gresham, Private Hay, in the name of France I thank you; God receive your souls, farewell."

Tesla's U-Boat Destroyer.

Rumors have been printed that Mr. Tesla had invented an electric ray that would destroy submarines at a considerable distance. These rumors, while distorted, are based upon actual facts. Mr. Tesla's device is a tremendously powerful electric ray that, while it will not destroy a submarine, will be reflected back from it in such a way as to reveal its presence and position, thus making its capture or destruction a comparatively easy matter.

Woodrow Wilson on the Bible.

"I am sorry for the men who do not read the Bible every day. I wonder why they deprive themselves of the strength and pleasure. It is one of the most singular books in the world, for every time you open it some old text that you have read a score of times suddenly beams with a new meaning. Evidently the mood and the thought of that day, bred by the circumstances that you can not analyze, has suddenly thrown its light upon the page and upon that passage, and there springs out upon the page to you something that you never saw lie upon it before. There is no other book I know, of which this is true; there is no other book that yields its meaning so personally that seems to fit itself so intimately to the very spirit that is seeking guidance."—Woodrow Wilson.
