J. M. NOLAN & SON.

At the last meeting of Mary's Peak Circle, Women of Woodcraft, Mrs. Mary Skelton and Mrs. Julia Lafferty were elected delegates to the District Convention, to be held at Albany on June 24.

Old cans and rubbish is being dumped along the river near the Masonic cemetery in such quantities as to make the surroundings most disgusting to the olfactory nerves. Many people pass over this walk during the day and the authorities should put a stop to it.

An invitation has been extended to the Retail Merchants association to attend the National Convention to be held at Portland June 2, 3, 4 and 5. L. Anderson was elected as a delegate to represent the Corvallis bunch and he will pack his little grip on Sunday so as to get in on time for a front seat.

The officers elect for the ensuing year for the C. E. of the Presbyterian church were installed at the parsonage last night and are as follows: Miss Helen Gilkey, president; Mr. Dodge, Vice President, Essie Bell, Secretary; Bulah Gilkey, Corresponding Secretary, and Mr. Morris, Treasurer. Light refreshments were served.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with county clerk Moses by the Trustees of the Presbyterian church. The incorporators are A. J. Johnson, Mike Bauer, V. E. Watters, F. L. Miller and Minnie Lee. The property is valued at $7,000. This is the first step in the erection of the new church building and the citizens are anxious to see the ground broken and the building completed before the bad weather comes in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Swick and Mrs. B. A. Cathey went to Dayton today in an auto to attend the funeral of Mrs. Dr. Swick at that place. Mrs. Marie Flint, of Roseburg, also attended the funeral, passing through here today on her way to Dayton.

A new concrete walk is being constructed on Fourth street to extend from the City Hall south to Jefferson street. This walk has long been needed the old wooden one being so bad that it was necessary to hold to the fence to pass over in safety.

Mrs. E. McIntyre has gone to Philomath where she will demonstrate the benefits of the Portable Vibrator which she has introduced here with such great success. She will be back here next week during the encampment, before returning to her Portland office.

It seems a hard task for men to clean out the burning desire for the demon of rum when once the fire has been thoroughly kindled. A pitiful sight was that of last Sunday when four able-bodied men hunted up and down the alleys, then to the boat landing and failing to quench their thirst, they hired an auto and, boarding it, made a bee line for "dry" Albany across the river. There the driver was commanded to sidetrack and await developments. The boozers separated and soon came back with pockets full, hands full and stomachs full, and when they arrived in Corvallis they were ripporiously and hilariously drunk.

The officers are growing tired of the boozey condition reported from Maple Shade Headquarters and armed with a search warrant Chief Wells and Deputy Sheriff McGinness made a thorough search of the premises. They waded through the cobwebs and penetrated the secret chambers of the famous den but in all their maneuvering nothing but empty bottles could be found as a token of past cussedness. The recent proprietor had taken the little lamb Mary, who, like himself, has for many years been clothed in scarlet robes, and sought for greener pastures leaving the Shade under the management and control of another dear man. The officers have made up their minds to rid the town of such places and all good citizens should render them every assistance in their power. The new proprietor claims he will run the place as a restaurant with an air of respectability about it. If so he should turn the hose on it for a solid week and cleanse both inside and out. For several years it has been the leading blind pig of Corvallis in ways that were dark and tricks vain and has given the officers no end of trouble.

Good Way to Boost Corvallis

Miss Mary C. Danneman is the contestant from Corvallis for the Alaskan tour offered by the Portland Telegram, and while many of her friends have given her generous aid, the people here should all take enough pride in the contest for the boost it will be for Corvallis to have a representative on this tour, to see that Miss Danneman is first in the race when it ends June 1.

Aside from local pride in th's matter' the special Pullman that is to take the winners from Portland to the steamer at Seattle, will be decorated with banners bearing the names of the towns from which the victors come and Corvallis should occupy a prominent place among these streamers.

A little active work right now will place Miss Danneman again at the head of the list and Corvallis people should be only too willing to do everything possible to aid her in the contest.

First Strawberry Festival

Under the auspices of the Hood River Commercial Club and the Woman's Club Hood River will inaugurate its first strawberry festival, Friday, June 18. At that time it is expected the berry season will be at its height and arrangements will be made to serve berries in all their toothsome forms. Time will be given visitors for a ride over the strawberry growing district. The festival is being made a feature of the strawberry season at the request of a number of Portland and other out-of-town people and it is expected to make it an annual event.

Seniors Are Entertained

Professor and Mrs. J. A. Bexell entertained the Seniors in the School of Commerce at their pretty bungalow Tuesday evening. There were 19 members of the class present, the other guests being Prof. and Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Moore, Miss Ray Moore and Messrs. H. Lew Mathre and W. A. Jensen.

The decorations were an artistic arrangement of red and white cut flowers. Military euvre was played during the evening, the prize winners being Miss Alice McGinnis and Ivan Kerr.

A dainty three course luncheon was served and the evening was thoroughly an enjoyable one.
