 At Kline's.
 One of the most perfect optical illusions seen for some time is the big show window at Moses' store, the glass having the appearance of being cracked in a dozen places and a package of Cornflakes thrust threw the hole.
 Floyd E. Rowland, carrier on city postal route No. 2 went to Portland today on a four day's vacation. Before leaving he asked the post-office employees what brand of cigars they liked best to smoke, so it is surmised that he may not return alone. W. W. Bowers will act as substitute during Mr. Rowland's absence.
 Corvallis is setting the pace these days in the way of publicity. Booster Waggoner's interesting pamphlets and folders are going all over the country, and now the committee has contracted for a quarter-page advertisement in seven of the leading Methodist Episcopal publications of the U. S., the boost being calculated to reach a million and a half readers.
 Dr. Mentor Howard has returned from Portland where he had been for several days, and states that his dental parlors in the First National Bank are again open and that he is ready to attend to all work. A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheney, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A bad cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough it's supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

New Regiment Organized

boys, as he likes to call them, and could hardly command his emotions sufficiently to convey to them his appreciation of and thanks for their loving remembrances.
 This act shows the warm relationship between the popular commandant and the cadets. It is even closer than friendship, because it is the outgrowth of long personal association and recognized worth. The Captain has shown by his every action that he has the deepest interest in the boys, while they have all learned to honor and esteem him for his sterling worth and to obey his expressed orders because they realize the value of implicit conformity to discipline.
 Many stories could be told of the close relationship existing between Captain McAlexander and his cadets. While off with the regiment at Seattle, he refused any other attention, entertainment or rations than those accorded to his men. Returning from Portland, when every boy was tired and hungry, he wired ahead of the train and at Salem had huge baskets of sandwiches brought aboard for their refreshment, and kept so strict an account of their expenditures that each boy had 20 cents to his credit after the trip was over, the regiment voting to turn the amount into the military fund.
 In a hundred different ways and by many kindly acts Captain McAlexander has endeared himself to the cadets and they all hope he will be detailed here as commandant for long years to come.

An Important Club Meeting

There will be an important special meeting of the Corvallis Commercial Club Friday evening, June 18, at which every member is expected to be present.
 This meeting is called for the purpose of discussing the definite proposition submitted by Messrs Gerlinger and McCready, of Falls City, to locate a big sawmill here, provided some assistance is given them in securing a site that has already been selected for this industry.
 The executive committee of the Commercial Club was to have considered this proposition yesterday afternoon, but decided that it was a matter calling for more extended discussion and the general action of the club.
 This being the case, it is hoped that there will be a full attendance Friday night, and that the club will find the proposition one which will result in Corvallis securing this large industrial enterprise.

Southern Pacific Makes an Offer

William Biddle Wells, the chief agent of the advertising department of the Harriman lines in Oregon, was in Corvallis yesterday and submitted to the publicity department of the Commercial Club a proposition for the Southern Pacific to prepare and distribute a handsomely illustrated booklet devoted to Corvallis and Benton county.
 It is the custom of the Southern Pacific to thus aid in advertising the various sections of the country covered by its lines, the respective communities bearing the cost of publication of such matter as may be prepared.
 These booklets of the Southern Pacific are always works of art and the acceptance of this proposition will depend entirely upon the question of funds necessary to meet the expense, the matter of judicious distribution being provided by the company.

An Official Invitation.

The Oregon-Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition Commission has sent to Mrs. S. L. Kline a formal invitation to preside as one of the hostesses for the State of Oregon in its building at the Fair, on Oregon Day, Friday, July 9. The invitation is signed by W. H. Wehrung, president of the Oregon Commission. Mrs. Kline has also received from the official department of the Exposition an invitation to be present at the dedication of the Oregon building Friday, July 18.

Races at Roseburg

A combined horse racing meet and livestock fair will be held at Roseburg on September 2, 3 and 4, under the auspices of the Douglas County Fair Association. Over $3000 in purses will be hung up for the speed events, and premiums will be offered for the best exhibits of livestock.

Missionary Meeting

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church will hold its June meeting in the lecture room of the church Thursday afternoon, June 17, at two o'clock. All members and ladies of the church are invited. 6-15-2t

Everybody Vote For the Goddess

The contest for the selection of some lady to be the Goddess of Liberty has commenced in earnest and from now on the voting should be fast and furious. It only costs one cent a vote and ballots are now on sale at the Postoffice store, Andrews and Kerr, and the Palace of Sweets. The Times has kindly consented to manage the contest as an accommodation to the committee and it deserves all credit for the public spirit thus shown.
 Thus far the following names have been sent in:
 Miss Grace Wilson,
 Miss Essie Bell,
 Miss Gertrude McBee,
 Mrs. Chas. L. Baker,
 Mrs. S. L. Kline,
 Miss Mabel Rich,
 Miss Ethel Watters,
 Ora Gibbons, Philomath.
 Vote all the time for your favorite.

New Railroad Is Being Built

A. L. Porter, chief engineer for the W. C. Noon Lumber Company, is in the city today. He reports the rapid construction of the railroad which the company is now building from the old Felger mill, two miles west of Philomath to the timber three miles up Wood's creek.
 The grading is now completed and the rails are on the ground. Track laying will begin immediately and the road soon ready for operation.
 This new road taps a fine body of timber and will connect with the Corvallis & Alsea line, thus giving an outlet for the timber to Corvallis.
 It is such enterprises as this that help greatly to develop Benton county and to make Corvallis the receiving and distributing point for the rich resources of this part of the state.

Porter Family Have Reunion

With four children, six grandchildren six great-grandchildren and 19 more distant relatives present, Samuel Porter kept his 90 birthday at Halsey last Saturday. Four of his sons were unable to be present. Born in Virginia June 12, 1819, when James Monroe was President of the United States, Mr. Porter crossed the plains to Oregon in 1853. His wife died in 1877, and he has never remarried. For the last 30 years he has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Morgan, on a farm outside that town. Mr. Porter was a successful farmer, acquired large acreage about Halsey and is accounted one of the wealthy land-owners of the region. Of the 35 relations present at the celebration, A. M. Crewse, one of his grandchildren, is from Portland. His daughter, Mrs. J. H. Mulkey, of Monmouth, also was present.

Hurt Appointed As Collector

The President yesterday nominated Orlando V. Hurt to be Collector of Customs at Yaquina, to succeed Charles B. Crosno. The office carries a salary of $2500.
 Mr. Hurt is an old Corvallis citizen and his many friends here will be glad to hear of his good fortune. The appointment was really an act of humanity as well as a recognition of personal merit, the fact being well known that Mr. Hurt was made a vicarious sacrifice for the misdeeds of others.

Mystic Shrine At Ashland

E. A. Sherwin, illustrious Potentate of Hillah Temple, of the Mystic Shrine of Ashland, received a message from Louisville, during the session of the imperial council there announcing that a charter has been granted to the temple there which has been operating under dispensation since its institution last November. The news was hailed with much delight among local Shriners and by others who are pleased with the unique distinction accorded Ashland of being the smallest city in the world with a temple of the Shrine.

Excursion to Newport.

On Sunday, June 20, 1909, the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad will run an excursion to Newport, leaving Corvallis about 8:20 a. m., arrive Newport about 12:15 p. m. Leaving Newport at 6 p. m. arrive Corvallis about 10 p. m. Fare will be $1.50 for the round trip.
