The National Game.

In the Metropolitan-Athletic game at the Polo grounds yesterday the Metropolitans placed Keefe in the pitcher's position and gave him very fair support. Mathews pitched on the other side, but not nearly as effectively as on Thursday, though he was creditably supported. O'Brien doing excellent service behind the bat. The Metropolitans in the first inning earned three runs off Mathews's pitching by really good batting, in which Nelson, Brady, Roseman, and Orr were conspicuous. In the second innings they added another earned run, and got an extra one by a wild pitch. From that time until the eighth innings they did not earn another run. In the third innings the Athletics finished Keefe for two earned runs, and they added another by Troy's wild throw. In all the other innings, however, they scored only six base hits. Keefe pitching a fine game, fielding it, and being generally well supported. Brady's outfielding and Holbert's catching were noteworthy. The game was umpired by Quin after the first inning, Valentine retiring on account of sickness. The score was:

SATURDAY, July 19.

The stock market opened strong and during the first hour advanced rapidly, under the lead of St. Paul. Within the period mentioned the active stocks rose from ¾ to 2 ⅌ cent. Then the market became dull, and although there was no pressure to sell, prices declined materially. In the last hour the market was aroused from its lethargic condition and again advanced, but without attaining the best prices of the day. St. Paul continues to be the feature, the transactions in that stock to-day aggregating one-fourth of the total and the net advance recorded 1 ⅌ cent. Union Pacific, which was the second stock in point of activity, gained ¾ ⅌ cent. The greatest improvement was in Missouri Pacific, 1¾ ⅌ cent. The other active stocks made fractional gains, except Lake Shore, which was ⅝ lower. The transactions were not large, but fairly well distributed. The close was steady at concessions of from ¼ to 1 ⅌ cent. from the best prices of the day.

The more important changes for the day were:
