OPEN UP THE STAR CHAMBER.

Irate Importers Waiting in the Dark while their Market Gets Away.

The star chamber court was held by General Appraiser Brower in the bonded warehouse in Washington street yesterday. A throng of irate merchants assembled in the anteroom. Among their causes of complaint was the new regulation that forbids the promulgation of the decisions of the star chamber court except in a very roundabout way. One merchant said:

"My case was decided a week ago, and I have not yet been informed what the decision is. I am told I must wait until the decision is sent to the Collector, and by him transmitted to us. Meanwhile my goods are getting out of fashion, the season is passing, and I am very lucky if the merchant appraiser who has put up the value and caused the delay, and locked up my goods in the Custom House, has not profited by my misfortune, and sold his goods to my customers."

Another said: "The star chamber court leaves us without the opportunity to correct the errors of Custom House experts. What chance have we when the case is decided before we know what the testimony is? There can be no excuse for refusing to receive testimony. Even the Railroad Committee of the Board of Aldermen does not refuse to receive evidence, although its mind is made up before evidence is offered."

There was a lively scene on Thursday, when Col. George Bliss was making the record for an appeal from the rulings of the star chamber court. Mr. Bliss intimated that he had some suits against merchant appraisers in view. This rolled Merchant Appraiser Gibb, who said stiffly that he should make his appraisals regardless of the bulldozing of Col. Bliss.

"Yes, and regardless of the evidence," retorted Col. Bliss sharply.

"It is false—it is false," said Mr. Gibb, hotly.

Among the things likely to be investigated soon will be the doings of some of the special agents who have been officiously busy in making accusations against merchants. One of these agents, it is said, was caught betraying the secrets of the office and exposing the private business of one importer to his rival.

THE FUGITIVE BALLOON.

It Had a Passenger, but he Landed Safely 19 Miles from his Starting Point.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Sept. 18.—The balloon which descended at Monmouth, Ill., yesterday, and created such a sensation, was one in which an aeronaut was to make an ascent from the fair grounds. Everything was ready for the ascent at an early hour, and the aeronaut was waiting for a bridal party, who were to take passage with him. A strong wind was blowing and the balloon in swaying to and fro had become rent and the gas was rapidly escaping. As the bride and groom objected to taking passage in an unsafe balloon, Prof. Williams essayed to make the ascent alone. The escape of gas had been so great that the basket was detached, but even then the balloon would not go up with the Professor and descended about twenty yards from the starting point. At this moment George Pfenning, who has made several ascents, came up and exchanged places with the Professor. The balloon slowly rose and drifted off to the north, but came down about twelve miles from the city and Pfenning alighted. The balloon, freed from the weight, again rose, and in doing so a portion of Pfenning's shirt, caught by the anchor, was torn off, and thus the impression was created that the aeronaut had been killed. The balloon after rising floated off and finally alighted on the Catholic church steeple at Monmouth. Pfenning returned to the city.

A BID FOR THE PROHIBITION VOTE.

Alleged Overtures Made by Leading Republicans to Leading Prohibitionists.

TROY, Sept. 18.—The Standard of to-day publishes a long interview with a prominent New Yorker who has figured in Albany for several winters past, and who was called to this city on Monday last to confer with certain influential Republicans at a meeting arranged with the leaders of the Prohibition party, who were in the city at the time. The meeting was a prolonged one, and is alleged to have been participated in by Gov. St. John, Neal Dow, and H. Clary Bascom, the Prohibition candidate for Governor, who resides here. After discussing the effect of the Prohibition vote on the Republican candidates, the Republicans made a proposition that the Prohibitionists withdraw from a separate political contest all the candidates they have in the field, and in return accept a plank in the Republican platform advocating the submission of a Prohibition amendment to a vote of the people. These terms the Prohibitionists would not accept, unless accompanied by an assurance that their candidates already nominated be represented on the Republican ticket in State and county this fall. No understanding was arrived at, and the result of the conference has been kept very quiet.

Excursionists Delayed All Night.

MONTGOMERY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The excursion train from the fair last night at Newburgh was so loaded that it started half an hour late. It was advertised to make connections with other roads, but when the train arrived at the junction of Walkill Valley, for Kingston, the train had gone, and, the Kingston night operator refusing orders to run an extra, the passengers had to put in a night of it on the cars, with no supper, and not even a farm house or other habitation near. There were two locomotives fired up, standing on a side track, but nobody could get permission to draw the cars five miles even to the nearest village to obtain lodgings. The passengers had to remain without any breakfast until the first train north, at 9½. Some of the passengers had teams uncared for at stations along the road, and many of their families at home sat up all night, fearing some calamity had befallen the train.

Explosion in a Cellar.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—John Geddes of Twenty-fifth and Lombard streets went into his cellar this afternoon to look for something. He struck a match and at the same moment a terrific explosion occurred, which set the place on fire. Illuminating gas, Geddes was horribly burned, and his recovery is doubtful, and, in the event of his recovery, he will lose his eyesight. His wife and niece were slightly burned. The explosion caused havoc in the house, entailing a loss of $2,000.

Blown to Pieces by an Exploding Boiler.

MOUND CITY, Ill., Sept. 18.—At Grand Chain, this county, the boiler of a saw mill belonging to James Bartleson exploded yesterday. The engineer, Robert McIntyre, was blown 100 feet from the mill, and portions of his body lodged in the surrounding trees. Silas Creamer was instantly killed, his body being terribly mangled. Orrin Morris was fatally injured. The boiler was completely demolished, as were the mill building and machinery.

Enough $5 and $10 Notes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The United States Treasurer has received requests from all parts of the country for five and ten dollar notes in large quantities. He says the supply of these notes is sufficient to meet all demands, and adds, in response to an inquiry on the subject, that, so far as he knows, there is no immediate prospect of a resumption of the issue of one and two dollar notes.
