THEIR ELOPEMENT INTERRUPTED.

A Faint-hearted Lover Defeated by a Determined and Cool-headed Father.

GOULDVILLE, Pa., Nov. 21.—Just before the arrival of the north-bound passenger train at this place on Friday a roughly clad, big-bearded backwoodsman, accompanied by a neatly dressed and handsome girl of not more than 16, arrived at the depot in great trepidation. The man inquired of the station agent as to the time the next train "left for York State," and bought a ticket for Binghamton. He had scarcely paid for the ticket when a middle-aged man, having the appearance of being a prosperous citizen, drove up to the station with a steaming team and hurried into the ticket office. The young girl screamed loudly as the gentleman came in, and tried to conceal herself behind her rough-looking companion. The newcomer seized the girl and tore her away from her companion, who offered no resistance, although the girl tried to cling to him, and begged him not to let her go. In the mean time the train came in, but the backwoodsman did not take it, but followed the old gentleman and the girl, the former having got her as far as his wagon.

He was James Miller, a well-to-do farmer, living five miles from the station. The girl was his daughter, and the rough-looking young man was his hired man, Samuel Layton. The excitement at the depot drew a crowd, among them a number of acquaintances of Layton's. When they became aware of the situation they made a rush to rescue the girl from her father and hand her back to Layton, with whom she had attempted to elope. A constable and a railway police officer then used their authority, and were aided by friends of Mr. Miller. A free fight ensued, during which Miller got his daughter to a house near by and locked her in a room. He then swore out a warrant against Layton on charge of abduction, but before it could be served he had disappeared. Three of his friends were arrested for assault.

After learning that her lover had fled and left her to her fate, Miss Miller became very indignant, and consented to return quietly home with her father.

THRIVED ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN.

A Veiled Woman who Actually Made a Living Out of the Dealers in Furniture.

More than half of the furniture dealers who sell on the installment plan are interested in the arrest of Mrs. Mary Leonard, alias Fanny Walsh, alias Kelly, alias Donane, a las Stanly, alias Lees. She has swindled nearly all of them, and though she has been arrested many times has always managed to escape until now. Her plan has been to rent a house, buy a lot of furniture, on which she would pay a small amount and give a chattel mortgage for the rest. Before the time for the second payment arrived she had sold the furniture at auction and had disappeared.

She has worked the whole city thoroughly, and her operations amount to thousands of dollars. She calls herself a widow, and always wears a heavy veil. Few persons have ever seen her face, because of her habit of always wearing her veil half drawn. She is nearly fifty years old, stout, and coarse looking.

On Oct. 1 Policeman Long of the Yorkville Court squad arrested her on a warrant for grand larceny in disposing of a piano on which there was a chattel mortgage. She then lived at 212 East Thirty-first street, under the name of Fannie Walsh. She had bought a piano of Samuel Parsons of 101 Park avenue on the installment plan, and he had discovered it under the hammer of an auctioneer. She was arraigned before Justice Power, whom she told a pitiful story of want and deprivation. She cried until the complainant consented to let her go on her promise in the condition that she would promise to pay him for the piano.

After her release she disappeared, and it was then discovered that she had similarly cheated a dozen other furniture dealers in different guises. A warrant was sworn out against her under the name of Mary Leonard on Oct. 12, but she could not be found. Detective Cuff arrested her on Saturday night while she was again at work. She had sent some furniture purchased of Roesen A Uhl, at Third avenue and Fifteenth street, to an auctioneer. The latter recognized the furniture and identified Roesen & Uhl.

In the Yorkville Police Court yesterday her face was entirely concealed by several thickness of black veiling, and even at Justice Smith's peremptory command she raised her veil only half way. Thomas & Uhl, George Reubel of 736 Third avenue, and Simon Rubenstein of the Bowery and Hester street were some of the complainants against her. She denied the charges, and said she had simply sent the furniture to the auctioneer for safe keeping. She said that she had four small children, and Agent Bartley was ordered to take charge of them if she could find them. She gave her address as 303 East 123d street. She was held in $1,500 for trial. The police say she has served five years in State prison for arson.

TAKEN TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

Lord High Executioner Ko-Ko Down on His Luck Again.

William H. Seymour, the first man who played Ko-Ko in the "Mikado" in this country, was brought into the Harlem Police Court yesterday on the complaint of Ida, his wife. Seymour was plainly dressed and looked very melancholy, while Mrs. Seymour looked dreadfully in earnest. She said that her husband got drunk and abused her, and did not support her.

"I have be n drunk a times," said Seymour, "but lately I haven't had money enough to get drunk. I have done all I could to support my wife. I would give her money if I had it, but I haven't been able to get anything to do for several months. I have walked miles and leagues, and visited managers, in vain."

"He has been drunk six months," put in his wife. "He thrashes around in the house, and the other day he broke down a door."

"Well, you locked me in and I had to get out," said Seymour.

"Two weeks ago," continued Mrs. Seymour, "he picked up a drunken man named Duffy and brought him home, and had Duffy arrested, and he was sent up here for trying to commit an assault upon my husband."

"Duffy was a decent fellow," broke in the husband; "and I acted the part of the Samaritan in taking him in with a view to reform him myself. He was perfectly innocent of the charge of assau t."

Justice Welde told Seymour he would have to hold him in $500 bonds for his good behavior for three months. Seymour couldn't furnish the bonds and was locked up.

Seymour was cast as Ko-Ko when "The Mikado" was brought out for the first time in this country in Brooklyn. He afterward played in the same part in Templeton's company.

Another Girl Tells That Same Story.

"You Honor, this girl has been arrested sixty times within the past year and is the victim of persecution by the police," said Lawyer Friend to Justice Ford in behalf of Hattie Nelson at Essex Market Court yesterday morning.

"Sixty times a year! What was done with you?" inquired the justice.

"I was fined every time."

"Why are you arrested so often?"

"The police arrest me every time I go outside the house, and other girls are let go."

Subsequently the girl said that the reason why she was arrested so often was because she refused to fee the police, and that she was not properly and regularly escape arrest. A similar charge was made in Jefferson Market Police Court recently.

She was required to furnish $1,000 bail for her good behavior for six months.

Songs and Sermon in the Indian Language.

A meeting in behalf of the Indians took place yesterday at the Broadway Tabernacle. A choir, composed of two Indian girls and three male Indians, sang hymns in English and the Dakota language. They are students at the Santee Normal Training School, Nebraska. The Rev. Artemus Ehnamani, an Indian, who is pastor of the Congregational church at Santee, delivered an address in the Dakota language, which was interpreted into English. Mr. Ehnamani is a Sioux, and was one of the Indians condemned to death in the Minnesota outbreak. He was pardoned and became a missionary. He said that he was desirous of continuing his mission in the Indian territory. The Rev. A. L. Riggs, principal of the Santee school, explained the necessity of keeping up the work that had been started. The church was crowded.

Kitty Thinks he Should have Known Better.

Mrs. Maggie McCarwell of 311 East Twenty-sixth street called on saturday night upon her sister-in-law, who lives in the tenement at 154 Bleecker street. Her sister-in-law engaged in a fight with another woman on a landing, and James Kitty came out of his room to stop the fracas. Mrs. McCarwell stepped to pick up her baby, which was in danger of being hurt, and she says that Kitty kicked her in the side. She studied him in the left eye with a knife she held in her hand, destroying his sight. In Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning Kitty did not want to prosecute her.

"I served one eight, your Honor," he said to Justice Patterson. "I never should have interfered in women's fights." Mrs. McCarwell was held for trial.

"G" On his Scarf Pin and Two Teeth in his Purse.

The body of an unknown man, apparently a roughsheeman, was found in the North River at the foot of Twenty-first street yesterday. A brass check, on which is the name J. W. Turner, and two purses were in his pocket. One of the purses contained two double teeth. There was also a scarf pin with the initial "G" on it. The corpse was taken to the Morgue.

A Carpenter Caught At It.

Policeman Andrew Nugent heard a smothered cry at the corner of Wooster and Fourth streets at 12½ A. M. yesterday. He hurried up, and found three men garroting a fourth. Nugent caught the man who had his hands in the victim's pockets. The garroter said he was Edward Gilmore, a boiler maker, of 110 East Eighth street. The victim was John Wagner, a telegraph lineman, living at 364 Bleecker street. He had lost his pocketbook, containing $2 50.

THE NEW QUININE.

KASKINE

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT IN

Rheumatism,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

LIVER, LUNG, AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Gleisner writes: THE KASKINE CO.—Dear Sirs: "The first greatest success I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then astonished with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession." Very truly yours,

L. M. GLEISNER, M. D., 999 East 121st st., New York.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, M. D., 54 East 25th st., N. Y., (late Prof. in N. Y. Med. College,) writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. { "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.: "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price.

Chronic Catarrh

Cannot be cured by local applications. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which working through the blood eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and soon effects a permanent cure. At the same time Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in strength.

"I suffered severely from chronic catarrh, arising from impure blood. It became very bad, causing soreness of the bronchial tubes and a which was the cause of great anxiety to my friends and myself, as two brothers died from bronchial consumption. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I am not the same man in health or feelings. My catarrh is cured, my throat is entirely well, and a dyspepsia trouble, with sick headache, have all disappeared."—E. M. LINCOLN, 35 Chambers st., Boston.

"For several years I have been troubled with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continued dropping in my throat, and stuffed up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all as a good medicine."—Mrs. S. D HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
