SULLIVAN IN TRAINING.

THE QUARTERS OF THE PUGILIST WHILE PREPARING FOR THE BATTLE.

Muldoon's Rigorous Course with the Big Fellow—Enveloped in Heavy Flannels Much of the Time—Good in Wrestling.

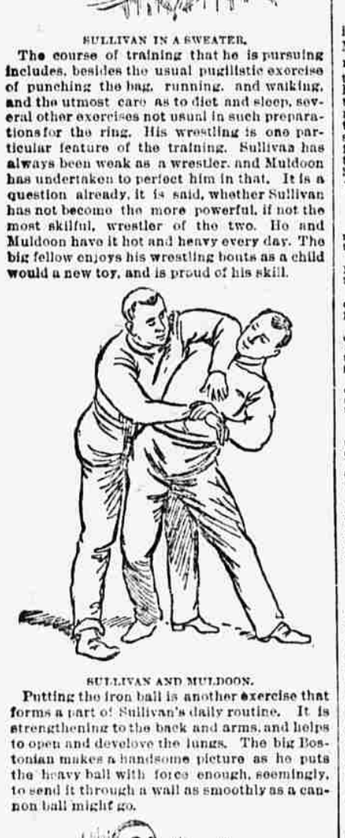
John L. Sullivan is in training for his fight with Jake Kilrain at the farm of William Muldoon, the wrestler, at Belfast, a quiet little town in the centre of Alleghany county, ten miles from Belmont, on the Western division of the Erie Railroad. Muldoon's place is several miles from any railroad station, and is otherwise very secluded, but comfortable and healthy, and equipped with all the facilities for a thorough course of physical training. The house itself is a large country residence surrounded by broad piazzas and shaded by fine trees.

MULDOON'S.

Sullivan, according to all accounts, is getting into the pink of condition. He has worked off the fat of dissipation and laziness, and in the healthy mountain air, under the scientific handling of Muldoon and his other trainers, is hardening his muscles and cooling off his nervous system with a rapidity that his friends believe will make him the most perfect animal in existence when he faces Kilrain. His pictures make him look over stout, but that is on account of the heavy woollen clothing that he wears in training.

SULLIVAN IN A SWEATER.

The course of training that he is pursuing includes, besides the usual pugilistic exercise of punching the bag, running, and walking, and the utmost care as to diet and sleep, several other exercises not usual in such preparations for the ring. His wrestling is one particular feature of the training. Sullivan has always been weak as a wrestler, and Muldoon has undertaken to perfect him in that. It is a question already, it is said, whether Sullivan has not become the more powerful, if not the most skilful, wrestler of the two. He and Muldoon have it hot and heavy every day. The big fellow enjoys his wrestling bouts as a child would a new toy, and is proud of his skill.



SULLIVAN AND MULDOON.

Putting the iron ball is another exercise that forms a part of Sullivan's daily routine. It is strengthening to the back and arms, and helps to open and develove the lungs. The big Bostonian makes a handsome picture as he puts the heavy ball with force enough, seemingly, to send it through a wall as smoothly as a cannon ball might go.

PUTTING THE IRON BALL.

The walk, as an accessory to physical training, has rarely been used to the extent that Muldoon has pushed it in Sullivan's case. Fifteen or 20 miles a day is a mere "breather." Before starting, the fighter is loaded down with heavy woollen clothing enough to last an Esquimaux through a hard winter. Even his hands are heavily gloved, and his feet are weighted. A heavy collar muffles his neck, and a thick cap sets well down over his ears. Of course he perspires copiously in the warm sun and with the violent exercise of rapid walking, but that is just what the trainer wants, and the more the fighter perspires the more clothes are heaped on him, so that it will all be absorbed and its free flow not clogged.

OFF FOR A LONG TRAMP.

Probably the most really comfortable thing about the training for Sullivan, comes after the hard work of the day is over. The rubbing down at the hands of his trainers is the real luxury of the pugilist. Sullivan revels in it. Any one who wants to see perfect physical manhood should be present then, when for once in the day the heavy woollens are removed from the pugilist's form.

RUBBING DOWN.

The long course that Sullivan has undergone will end in a few days, when he starts for the fighting ground. The battle will be a test not only of the merits of the men, but of the merits of those who trained them. It will be a big feather in Muldoon's cap if the man whom he has transformed from a huge wreck into a mighty animal comes out the winner in that contest.

THE SULLIVAN-KILRAIN FIGHT.

A Report That It Will Take Place in Louisiana and Won't Be Interrupted.

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—It is said by those who know that arrangements have been made for the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, and the ground for the battle has been agreed upon. It will be near Abita Springs, on the line of the East Louisiana Railroad, in St. Tammany parish. The railway company has offered to erect an amphitheatre on the battle ground capable of seating 2,000 people. The people of St. Tammany agree that there shall be no interference and no intimidation; a fair fight and the best man to win.

At 8½ o'clock this morning Frank Stevenson, W. E. Harding, Mike Donovan, and Johnny Dooley will leave for New Orleans to make arrangements for the Sullivan-Kilrain fight. Kilrain and Mitchell will meet them in Baltimore at 1:50 this afternoon. Kilrain and Mitchell will leave for New Orleans about the middle of the week to be present at Mike Donovan's exhibition on Saturday night. Bob Smith was appointed ring master yesterday, and will leave for New Orleans on Tuesday.

Killen Has an Eye on Kilrain.

Pat Killen writes to Arthur T. Lumley from St. Paul:

Before I leave for California to fight Joe McAuliffe I will give a benefit on the 29th of June. I intend to wind up with Patsy Cardiff, and will give him a rattling set-to. My partner on the trip to California will be Tom Anderson, the clever heavy weight of Chicago. John L. knows him well. I would like to see the fight between the big fellow and Kilrain, but I must look out for Pat. After this year there may not be so much money for fighters, unless it is for the champion. If Kilrain wins I will be after him like a duck after a worm. I think I can do the California man, but I am going to take my time. I believe in looking after No. 1 every day. Everybody ought to be careful, for our downfall is hard to recover. I have never been beaten yet, and never intend to be if I can help it.

Heavy Weights Fight Two Rounds.

Two rounds of give-and-take fighting were indulged in between John J. Salmon and Joe McCarthy, heavy weights, at an east side resort early yesterday morning. Jack Grace, the Brooklyn light weight, was referee, and hard gloves were used. The first round was of the hurricane order, one blow on Salmon's jaw making a great noise. When they came up for the second McCarthy tried to get in a similar smash, but Salmon stopped it and landed full force with his right on Mac's neck, just under the ear. Mac rolled over and went to sleep. Salmon, who earned the $40 purse, said he would meet any 170-pound man in New York.

Fighting Notes.

Billy Dacey and Jack Delaney will leave for California this week. Delaney is anxious to arrange a fight there.

Middle weights George Smith of Boston and Thomas McCarthy of Woburn will fight for a purse of $500 before the Parnell Athletic Club of Boston.

"Chappie" Moran wrote to the Police Gazette yesterday that he was willing to fight Spider Kelly for the $500 purse offered by the Troy Cribb Club.

Eleven rounds were fought with small gloves yesterday morning between Fred Kruse and William Martin, seventh ward middle weights. Kruse failed to come to time for the twelfth round, and the purse of $40 was given to Martin.

To THE EDITOR OF THE SUN.—Sir: I saw in your paper of Saturday that Johnny Carey's backers would like to arrange a match with me for $200 a side. I am willing to meet them at any time and place they may name.

SKERRIS THE NEWSBOY.

Billy Myer is at Asbury Park. On Thursday he drew the deposit of $500 which he has had at the Police Gazette office. He is anxious for a finish fight with anybody in his class. It is probable that if he should be unable to arrange a fight he will sign with the "After Dark" company for next season.

To THE EDITOR OF THE SUN.—Sir: As Con Dugan of Brooklyn has disappointed Quinn, the 120-pound pugilist, I stand ready to box Nick Collins against Quinn for a purse of $100 and a stake of same amount, to fight to a finish in two weeks from signing articles. If this is agreeable to Quinn I will meet him or his backers on Sunday morning. Yours truly, BILLY CLARKSON.

His Wife a Victim of Opium.

Judge Ingraham granted on Friday to Theodore A. Wadsworth, a dentist of 150 West Thirty-fourth street, an absolute divorce from his wife, Elizabeth G. Wadsworth. The complaint alleged that Mrs. Wadsworth, who comes of a respectable family in South Framingham, contracted the opium habit, and that in 1881, six years after their marriage, her husband separated from her, promising to return to her whenever she would give up the use of opium. He paid her $80 a month for her support. She has been living recently in a rear tenement at 314 West Fifty-fourth street, where it is alleged she broke her vows. The other tenants are negroes. Referee L. J. Vaughein and the attorneys for both sides visited the tenement after the testimony was all in. They found enough evidence to show the witnesses had not overdrawn the picture in their description of the quarters that she lived in.

Threatened to Throw Devlin Into the Fire.

James Devlin, 45 years old, who said he had no home, was found in a lumber yard at Thirtieth street and Eleventh avenue on Friday night with 9-year-old Hannah O'Keefe of 540 West Thirtieth street, who said Devlin had tried to assault her. The girl's cries were heard by her brother William, a boy of 14. William summoned Dennis Callahan and Henry Finck, who dragged Devlin into the street. A crowd gathered, and several persons beat and kicked Devlin and threatened to throw him into a bonfire that was burning close by. Devlin shouted for help, and Policeman Mitchell came and took him away from the crowd. He was locked up over night, and at Jefferson Market yesterday Justice Gorman held him in $2,000 for examination to-morrow.

Improvements of the City Hall Front Yard.

The removal of the iron railing of the esplanade in front of the City Hall yesterday made a considerable difference in the appearance of the Park. It was removed with force and violence and sledge hammers. This is the beginning of the projected improvements about the Hall. Contracts have been awarded for new marble steps and filling in Frank J. Downes at $7,988, new steps and coping to the esplanade to Thomas J. Dunn at $2,200. The asphalt plaza is also to be renewed. It will take two months to complete the decorations.

There's Ice Up in Forty-five, of Course.

The oil-carrying steamship Rock Light, Capt. Parton, in ballast from Barrow, arrived yesterday with more news about the ice fleet. She passed close to a big berg on June 13, in latitude 45° 42', longitude 46° 50', about 170 miles north and nearly 200 miles west of the scene of the Saale's collision with a crystal mountain. On the next day the Rock Light passed three small bergs in latitude 44° 30', longitude 47°.

Senator Pierce's Son-in-law Insane.

Justice Pratt decided yesterday that William Howard Read, who is confined in a private asylum at Hartford, was insane. He is a son-in-law of Senator James F. Pierce, and the application was made by his wife. Mr. Read was a broker. Senator Pierce testified that his son-in-law labored under the delusion that he was worth millions and was interested in gigantic financial speculations. His estate is worth more than $80,000.

A Verdict for the Widow Lincoln.

The jury in the suit of Mrs. Jeannette Lincoln against the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Insurance Company for $10,000, the value of a policy of insurance on the life of her husband, who was found dead about two years ago at Brockton, Mass., with a bullet wound in his head, came into the United States Court yesterday morning, having been locked up all night. They found a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount and interest, $8,000.

Holiday for a Convict.

Francis George Telfer, who is suing his wife, Ada Selina, for absolute divorce, says he cannot safely go to trial with his case without the testimony of Louis Martin, a convict who is serving a sentence in Auburn prison. Judge Andrews yesterday issued a writ of habeas corpus for the production of Martin before Referee Charles De bay Townsend in this city June 25.

His Son-in-Law's Letters.

Henry S. Maco of East Durham, Greene county, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields yesterday charged with opening letters belonging to his son-in-law, John S. De Trate. The Commissioner held him in his own recognizance to answer.
