BASE BALL IN FULL BLOOM.

REGULAR OLD-FASHIONED SUNDAY CROWD AT RIDGEWOOD PARK.

The Brooklyn (A. A.) Team Defeat the Jersey Gladiators—Many Other Games—Among the Amateurs—News and Gossip.

Yesterday was the first genuine base ball day of the season, and the result was that one of the old-time crowds flocked to Ridgewood Park to witness the fourth game between the Brooklyn (A. A.) Club and Jersey Citys. According to the official count there were 4,200 persons present. The Jerseymen played an uphill game until the seventh inning, when they opened out on Williams for three runs, two of which were earned. This placed them in the lead, and when the Brooklyns entered on their ninth inning they were a run behind. Before the inning closed they had collected five runs, and all on account of Fitzgerald's fumble after making a very clever stop. This promising pitcher did good work in the box until the last inning, when he was touched up for four singles. He was finely supported by Dowd, but the latter was obliged to retire from the game in the fifth inning, being injured in the foot while running to second. Van Alstine and Sheehan made a quartet of errors between them, the latter's mistake resulting in two runs. Keay made a number of pretty plays in the field. Burdock was unlucky in being hit twice by a pitched ball, once upon the right forearm which raised a lump as big as a goose egg.

The Association representatives played a fairly strong fielding game. Bowes was a little off in throwing to second while Captain Joe Gerhardt missed a fine chance to complete a double play. The work of Feltz, O'Brien, Fennelly, and Simon was capital. Simon found Fitzgerald for three hits, although one hit to second base was very questionable. McGeachin led at the bat for the Jerseymen. The score:

SYRACUSE, 6; NEWARK, 1.

Nearly 4,000 spectators saw the Newarks taken into camp by the Syracuse team yesterday. The visiting team jumped on Gilroy, a local amateur twirler, in the first inning, and virtually won the game. After that he settled down and was quite effective. Casey pitched a steady game throughout. Johnson, Mansell and Kelly did some brilliant fielding. The score:

Base Ball Notes.

Commencing to-day, the Jersey Citys will report at Oakland Park every morning at 10 o'clock for practice.

Dave Orr drove into Ridgewood Park yesterday behind a spanking bay trotter. If there is anything in the world that Dave likes after base ball is a good horse, and he is a remarkable judge of horse flesh.

Instead of opening the championship season at Newark as scheduled, the Jersey Citys and Newarks will play at Oakland Park next saturday and on the following Monday. On the intervening Sunday the two teams play at Newark.

The New York State League will meet at the Mansion House, Troy, to-day to complete a schedule. There will also be quite a chat over the season of an official ball. The bidders are Reach & Co. and Spalding Brothers.

Manager York was in town yesterday looking after a couple of extra men for his Albany team. We're going to have a nice league this season, said Manager York. "The clubs are equalized in playing strength, and the forthest any club will have to jump will be ninety miles."

The Albanys have thirteen exhibition games arranged to be played on the home grounds prior to the opening of the championship season, May 9. On April 23 and 24 they play the Londons; 25, 26 and 27, Cuban Giants; 29, 30, Hackett, Carhart & Co.; May 1, 2, 3, Mets; 4, Hamilton; 5, 6, Ridgefield.

St. Louis, April 13.—President Von der Ahe has suspended Pitcher Chamberlain without pay until his conduct since joining the team can be investigated by the Board of Directors. A meeting of the latter will be held in a day or two. Chamberlain was in the box in the Omaha game for two innings during which time the visitors made six runs. Yesterday he went in against Quincy and although he was allowed to pitch but two innings he showed up as bad as in the Omaha game. Yesterday the will say what charge he will bring against the board. Von der Ahe is the highest priced man in the American Association. He stands suspended and the belief is that he will pay for his release.

Coming Ball Players.

Hensel will catch for and manage the Standards.

Frank Bagan will pitch and field for the Longtons.

F. Arnold will pitch for the Lockwood Knickerbs.

Fox is not only a good catcher, but is fast on bases.

The Cities of Jersey City will have a strong array.

The lives have signed Chamberlain and Emerson as their battery.

The Maple of Brooklyn have two good pitchers in Vinnie and Hall.

The standards of Harlem will make all clubs play good fast to beat them.

With Frock on third base and Tyson at short stop the Auburns have two good infielders.

Nugent has fallen out of his catching, but he will improve as the weather grows warmer.

Kenny will play in the Jersey City nine, but he will play with the Wilmots and Spring of Morristown.

"Teddy" Mayer, manager of the Elizabeths, this season. He will make an honest bunch to win.

In the first game that young Sheehan pitched for the Young Longwoods the Yaleds secured but 2 hits off him. Sheehan, although the youngest pitcher, he has one of the strongest four ball clubs in the season.

Pinkney, who played with the Manhattans of the Eleventh ward last season, will pitch for the Brotons.

Kenny who plays right field for the standards has been christened "the Mascot," as his team generally wins when he plays.

John Ford, the promising young pitcher of Yorkville, would like to join some amateur base ball club. Address John Ford, 1,305 Second avenue.

The Interests have the club coal engine all on, footed every with players in the old years. Address Pinger Warren, 44 Exchange place.

It has been stated that Hoeling would play with at least a half dozen teams, but he says he will only play with the Senatorial Association.

Thompson, the crack fielder of the Equitable Base Ball League, is out in well the pitching for the newly organized spalding reserves.

If proved, the best made all around base ball player, would take the cake. Smith, of Jersey City, with the mixed grounds. Address Tilly Kaiser, Franklin avenue, Brooklyn.

Rob Hayes will pitch for the Athletics of Harlem. He is a brother to Jim Hayes, who pitched in a few exhibition games for the New York team early last season.

OVER HILL AND DALE.

Many Good Runs by the Active Cross-country Athletes.

An unusually large crowd of interested spectators witnessed the cross-country experts at Fort George yesterday.

The active Amity Athletic Club held the run of the day over the Fort George course. It was a five mile handicap race. Capt. P. Kunze and his men are very energetic builders in the athletic line, and the result of their combined efforts is shown in the increased interest taken in all branches of sport by the members of this young organization. Promptly at 3:30 P. M. the athletes were lined up on the road and sent off on the journey. Berle finished first in 34 minutes 15½ seconds, with F. Reinhardt a good second, A. Hussong third, C. Rhindlesh fourth, V. Seelnacker fifth, and the balance of the contestants well up. Two fine sterling silver medals rewarded the victors.

Twenty enthusiastic cross country experts enjoyed the American Athletic Club's weekly cross country run yesterday morning, despite the unusually warm weather. The start was made at 11 A. M. from Edge, who has been ill for some time, proved that he has lost none of his ability in the interim by finishing first, with Stern second and J. Stanton third. Time, 40 minutes 11½ seconds. Distance, about seven miles.

The athletes of the star athletic club assembled at Crotty's Hotel, Ravenswood, L. I., yesterday morning and held their weekly cross-country run, all the active men of the club joining in the run. All the men finished well together after a capital run.

The Harlem athletic club will be the athletes of the Pastime Athletic Club from putting two strong teams in the cross-country events on April 26, and the members of the club will have a hard fight to win, for Tonight, a number of changes in the constitution and by laws will be acted upon, principal of which will be the mode of selecting the agents to the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Cross-country Association.

Robbie Winston, the well-known instructor of athletics, who was with Yale for two years and also with Athletic, will have charge of the Williams college athletics this spring. He has just fulfilled his engagement with an athletic club in Baltimore, and he will at once start for Williamstown to prepare the candidates for their intercollegiate games at Worcester, Mass.

The members of the National Athletic Club enjoyed a road run on Saturday night. Twelve men started. They went over the Rushing avenue course, about ⅝ miles in all. It was a closely contested affair. Capt. Green finished first doing the course in 22 minutes 6 seconds. He was closely followed by W. S. Blaycett, C. Hendricks, A. Cook, G. Baker, L. Morgan, and J. Lindsay, who finished as named.

A member of the New York Athletic Club now in San Francisco writes as follows: "The Olympic Athletic Club grounds are now completed and Eastern athletes can look on as good a place to train in this city. The club house and dressing rooms are very complete. The annual championship games of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association will be held on the club grounds on Memorial day, May 30, and each of the eight athletic associations of the Pacific Coast will be represented by a team and some excellent sport is anticipated. The Olympic Club is highly pleased by Eastern athletes reports that he is in good health, and expects to do well this year, especially at the broad jump, for which he holds special fancy. He has jumped for him the last year." John Purcell, the ex-champion Irish athlete who will be remembered by New Yorkers from his two visits to Gotham, is not a active competitor in Gaelic games, but is the proprietor of a prosperous eat house here. Among the recent additions to the ranks of the Olympic Athletic Club are Wynn, the Yale track athlete, and Dowe, made up the well known sprinter, and James Jervis, the ex champion seven mile walker of England, who has a good record well inside of seven minutes for the mile.

OARS AND SHELLS.

Great Activity Among the Oarsmen of the Harlem, Passaic, and Brooklyn Clubs.

"Just like the middle of summer." This was the remark made by more than one oarsman on the Harlem yesterday as they sat on the balconies or floats of the different boat houses. It really did look like a midsummer day, every club having a very large attendance of members and every club being represented on the water.

But what caused the above exclamation outside of the large number of oarsmen on the water was the many fancy rowlocks which were almost as numerous as on a Fourth of July, many of them carrying ladies. From early morn till dusk the colors of the different clubs were seen flitting up and down the Harlem River in their trial craft, but the crews had to row somewhat like a steamer under one bell, as it was necessary to use caution in consequence of the number of logs that lined the river. The fourth avenue railroad bridge is being repaired, and as the old planks and piles are pulled apart, they were sent drifting on the water and were a constant danger to the oarsmen, and prevented anything like speeding.

Walter Simes, President of the New England Amateur Rowing Association, and W. A. Winn, Secretary, were here for the purpose of attending the National Association meeting, which was held at the Harlem boat house on the river, and expressed admiration of the many fine boats on the Harlem. Mr. Simmons comes up in Harlem on the Fourth of July to row a trial heat against Mr. Kelly in the New York and regatta last fall. While Mr. Winn is here on the purpose of advocating Lake Quinsigamond for the coming national regatta.

Great interest was evinced in the admitting of the Crescent athletic club boat house, which took place at 1 P. M. from the Nonpareil rowing Club's house. Quite a large number of prominent athletic men and bridges were present, and it was the unanimous opinion that she was the handsomest and handiest barge ever seen on the Harlem. The crew practice from 6 to 7 o'clock each day, and on the return pronounced her perfect.

The eight-oared shell racing will predominate the coming season, as the Passaic Rowing Club and Harlem Club had a screw on the water. The Metropolitans were represented by amateur and other oarsmen, and several shells were launched, and the Passaic Club launched their new shell, and many others out. The Passaic their six and four-oared barges. The Friendships launched the Myers naphtha launch and made a trip to the island, launch and barge being towed by the launch. They had tours, doubles, and singles out. The Hornets had an eight four double and several single shells.

The Hamilton Club launched their new shell, and several singles. The Atalantas sculled out four sculls and singles in the afternoon, as were two fours and several single shells.

To-day Ridge clubs all get their boats out and many crews were gotten out for the first time this season, the water being in remarkably fine condition at this time of the year.

Great activity was shown on the Passaic River, every club there being represented on the water in eights, fours, doubles, and singles.

Aquatic Notes.

The Crescent's match game of base ball played yesterday at College Point with the Leontins resulted in a victory for the Leontins.

It is stated on good authority that the Bradford Boat Club of Boston will enter an eight and four-oared shell crew in the Harlem regatta.

The Friendship Boat Club celebrated the April 1 Brown wedding at their boat house on Saturday last by a reception to their many lady friends.

W. Nelson Decker, an old Canadian oarsman, visited the Harlem rowing clubs on Saturday afternoon. He was warmly received by his old associates.

President Shirley and Capt. Kearney of the Crescent Boat Club were the two highest men on the Harlem River yesterday when the new barge was launched.

The meeting of the Amateur Rowing Committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Harlem boat house, and not at the St. Cloud Hotel.

The Metropolitan Rowing Club is increasing in membership very rapidly, and the club house is now in search of seek larger quarters. They elected eighteen new members at their meeting held last Friday.
