STRONG WORDS AT A BANQUET.

Mr. Aitken Says that Elizabeth Aldermen are a Pack of Scoundrels.

The Elizabeth Board of Trade gave a dinner on Friday night to ex-City Attorney Frank Bergen, which did not terminate until early next morning. The Board is opposed to the City Council because the latter snubbed it last year when it wanted to advise the Council as to how much money should be appropriated for city expenses. A big committee, composed of the majority of the members of the Board, went to the Council Chamber and asked for a hearing. The Councilmen refused them the privilege and the committee retired angry.

Out of twenty-four members of the Council only five were invited to the banquet to the ex-City Attorney, and of these three were members of the Board of Trade. Gov. Abbett, ex-Gov. Green, Judge Magie, and State Senators Miller and Martin were among the invited guests. Everything passed off smoothly until President Gilhooly of the City Council arose to respond to the toast, "The City Council of Elizabeth." Before Judge Gilhooly had got fairly launched into his theme, ex-Comptroller Henry Aitken sprang to his feet, his face pale with anger, and shouted: "I can't sit here any longer and listen to this. The Councilmen are a pack of scoundrels."

It is asserted by reputable gentlemen who were present that Mr. Aitken added "thieves and robbers." President Gilhooly was dismayed at the outburst, and sat down. The ex-Comptroller continued his attack, and denounced the City Council in strong terms, pounding on the table to emphasize his remarks. When he had finished he seized his hat and strode from the room. It was several minutes before speechmaking was resumed. The Councilmen who were not at the banquet have their war paint on, and it is said they intend to demand an explanation from the ex-Comptroller as to what he meant by his remarks.

It is said by some of his friends that he did not intend to cast any reflection on the present Council, but seated at the table were men who have sat as representatives in every City Council from the time Mr. Aitken held office down to the present day. Among them were ex-Gov. Green, ex-Assemblyman McKinley, M. W. Beere, Mayor Rankin, M. C. A. English, F. J. Blatz, P. H. Gilhooly, H. C. Williams, Benjamin Urner, James C. Ogden, and O. H. K. Halsey. These men represent the period embraced by the various Councils from 1868 to 1890. As he did not qualify his remarks, not alone those men but also the present members of the Council feel hurt by his language. His own son-in-law, the present Comptroller, Albert B. Carlton, served four years during this period as a Councilman.

Teachers Organizing an Association.

One hundred and five teachers in public and private schools in New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Yonkers, and Newark met yesterday at Columbia College for the purpose of forming an organization to discuss educational problems. Principal Matthew Elgas called the meeting to order. These temporary officers were elected: Chairman, Merrill E. Gates, President of Rutgers College, and Secretary, Thomas E. Hardy, Principal of Grammar School No. 2.

A committee of nine representing each of the geographical thirds of the metropolitan district, was appointed by the Chair. This committee is to have charge of the plan of organization and to name at the next meeting of the association one assistant secretary and one Vice-President, and two members-at-large from each of the three districts. The committee is composed of Prof. B. H. Borman, Assistant Superintendent James Godwin, and Principal James H. Morse of New York; Principals Seth T. Stewart, W. B. Ginnuison, and Calvin Patterson of Brooklyn; Prof. Allan Marquands of Princeton College, Superintendent A. B. Poland of New Jersey, and Dr Farran of Newark.
