CINCINNATI (N. L.), 2; NEW YORK (N. L.), 1.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—The New Yorkers wanted just one run to tie when they began the last inning this afternoon. The battle had been as warm as the weather. Tiernan gave Reilly a chance. Then Gleason sent a beauty into left, but Hornung forced him out, a programme also carried out by Denny, and the Reds were in clover once more. It was so hot that every soul in the bleachers took chances on sun-stroke. The loser's were afflicted with it themselves, and failed to recognize a chance to score afforded in the first inning. It was Capt. Beard who did not take advantage of the opportunity, and a man in the sweat box with a wilted collar advised him in a hoarse tone to "wake up." The score:

CHICAGO (N. L.), 6; BROOKLYN (N. L.), 4.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Old Capt. Anson and his crowd of youngsters dressed themselves in their best bib and tucker this noon and went out in the grass for a frolic with the Brooklyn Leaguers, who, last year, pulled in the pennant of the American Association. When the "Old Man" walked out of the club house he had a determined look in his face and blood in his eye. When he walked back into the club house after the game was over his face was wreathed in smiles, and he gave unto himself the merry "Ho! Ho!" as he tossed and tumbled in his big brawny paws the ball with which he had defeated those champion sluggers. The score:

CLEVELAND (P. L.), 10; BROOKLYN (P. L.), 8.

CLEVELAND, June 25.—Van Haltren of California, but a citizen of Chicago by reputation, was tendered a warm reception to-day at Brotherhood Park; so warm, in fact, that, without exaggeration of the truth, it might be called torrid, so far as Brooklyn is concerned. It was a mild-mannered game until the sixth and then Ward's team hit the ground running and came down the stretch with a rush that headed Cleveland at the three-quarters pole. Stricker started the programme of the afternoon with a nice double to right. The score:

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—There is considerable enthusiasm here at present over the fine work the Players' League team has been doing of late. But notwithstanding this fact Pittsburgh is admitted to be in very bad financial shape, and it is doubtful if it will play the season on this city. One of the club officials says: "Our home crowds have been averaging more than 2,000 people at each game, and our share of the receipts will not average more than $300 at the highest. We do not expect to take in more than $5,000 at the gate this season, and we may get as much away. This gives us $8,000 to pay our expenses, which will amount to at least $60,000 for the year."
