A DETECTIVE TO POINT A STICK COMPANY.

Thing That Try to Blow the Middlemen Out of Town—No Water in the Stock.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Two secret conferences of the managers of the Milk Producers' Union have been held here. The Producers' Union claims a membership of 5,000 dairymen, engaged in sending milk to New York city and suburbs from 230 railroad and river stations. The union was organized several years ago for the purpose of obtaining for its members relief from the alleged unjust exactions of the New York Milk Exchange, a combination of middlemen.

The conferences of the officers of the Producers' Union were called quietly, and an effort was made to keep the proceedings secret. At the final conference on last Wednesday there were present E. G. Seeley of Roxbury, Conn., President of the Union, and C. G. Smith of Meadowbrook, N. Y., Secretary, and about twenty-five prominent members. The deliberations continued all day. After the adjournment, Mr. Walter B. Pierce, prominent in organizing the union, said to the reporter of THE SUN:

"We are not prepared to disclose all our plans, but we have decided to organize a joint stock company for handling the milk produced by the members of the organization, modelled after the plan successfully practised in London, England, and in Syracuse. President Seeley and others have opposed the plan, but we are now unanimous in adopting it.

"The company will be known as The Five-States Milk Company, embracing the producers of New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. The stock will be $500,000. The company will establish a central station in New York city, from which it will deliver its milk by its own horses and wagons directly to the consumers. We will no longer pay tribute to middlemen, but will claim the profits of the traffic that rightfully belong to us without enhancing the price to the consumer. We have appointed a committee, with President Seeley as Chairman, to draft articles of association."

The capital stock of the company is to be issued in shares of $5 each, which will be apportioned among the members of the union. The Board of Directors of the company will consist of representatives of shippers over each of the contributing railroads. Some of the members of the conference, while acquiescing in the scheme, look upon it as a formidable undertaking, and have grave doubts if it can be carried forward to success.

THERE IS STILL BRICK IN SIGHT.

The Walking Delegates Say Commission Men Keep Right On Selling.

The brick manufacturers declared yesterday that the curtailment of the supply of contract brick had begun to take effect, and that bricks were scarcer, and would be scarcer still on Monday. The Board of Walking Delegates, through their committee which is conducting the fight, said that the builders were getting all the bricks they wanted, and that there was no probability of a tie-up in the building trades. The walking delegates say that the brick commission merchants are selling just as if they hadn't agreed to restrict their operations in that line for the benefit of the manufacturers. Still, the builders are a little uneasy, and are waiting anxiously for Monday, when the Manufacturers' Association will meet and decide whether or not they will have arbitration, or fight out the battle until they produce a brick famine.

Injured by a Falling Plank in the Western Union Building.

Dr. Raynal, a young Austrian who has been about eight months in the country, went from his lodging at 97½ East Seventh street down to the Western Union building, on Thursday morning. He says he found the elevator crowded when he came out, and decided to walk down stairs. On his way from the second landing a piece of plank fell from above and struck him on the top of the head, cutting a big gash in it and knocking him down. Dr. Farrington of the Astor House dressed the cut. Dr. Raynal says that when he got home he was seized with symptoms indicating that his skull had been fractured. Dr. A. Weyman, who lives next door, made an examination and decided that Raynal was suffering from concussion alone, as probing failed to show a fracture.

Betrayed by the Pawn Tickets.

William H. Wagner, formerly a clerk in the employ of Noe Trahan & Co., dealers in jewelry, at 53 Nassau street, disappeared in March last. The firm then discovered that he had forged orders for jewelry from customers, and had also stolen jewelry outright, to the amount of $1,800. On Sept. 1 the police of Pittsburgh arrested Wagner on a trivial charge, and found seventy-eight pawn tickets, issued by New York pawnbrokers, in his pockets. They telegraphed to Inspector Byrnes. Yesterday Wagner's case was submitted to the Grand Jury, and they found seven indictments against him—five for grand larceny, and two for forgery. Sergeant Muirv of the Inspector's staff went to Pittsburgh last evening with a requisition for Wagner.

An Excuse Not Recognized by the Law.

Henry Webster, a young clerk in the employ of J. Levison & Co. of this city, forged the firm's signature to a check for $250 upon the People's Bank and cashed the check. He pleaded guilty yesterday in the General Sessions. His counsel pleaded for mercy on the ground of Webster's youth and because his salary was only $4 a week.

"That is no excuse for stealing," said the Recorder. "We have heard too much of that sort of thing of late years."

In view of Webster's youth, however, and previous good character, Recorder Smyth sent him to Elmira Reformatory.

Killed by a Kick.

James McGrath, a baker, living at 324 East Twenty-fifth street, died in St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday from hernia. The man walked into the Mulberry street station on Sunday morning and said that he had been kicked by a man he did not know. In the opinion of the Coroner, however, the man had been kicked twice. Once in the groin, and again on the breast.

OLD FOLKS

Need a stimulant of some kind occasionally, and the best and purest liquor and wine should be the only thing used. It is very difficult to get goods that are correct from the average dealer, for where they pass through so many hands the temptation to adulterate is strong and seldom overcome. All our liquors are taken from bond direct, purified by our warm air process, which exidizes the fusel oil and thoroughly eliminates the poisonous elements contained therein, are sold direct to the consumer and warranted absolutely pure. Many physicians recommend pure wines for the aged, and with good results when the wine is pure, but few concerns will give a SUBSTANTIAL guarantee that their wines are pure. Why? Because they have been through so many hands. We buy in very large quantities from the producer who has the best crop, thoroughly test and prove the wine pure before offering it for sale. We positively GUARANTEE every drop of our wines to be the pure grape juice. The magnitude of our business renders it possible for us to sell at very low figures. Special attention to mail orders. Send for price list.
