NEW YORK (N. L.), 15; CINCINNATI (N. L.), 8.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.—"Smiling Joe" Mutrie cared nothing for the frost to-night. his pets had won a grand victory. Twenty-one "knockers" off Carbindi was the record. Capt. Glasscock made six of them—a batting average of 1.000—and he was a tower of strength in the field besides. It was not only damp but cold, and half the people present stood up with their hands in overcoat pockets and danced to keep warm. The first inning began in a manner which called out a cheer. McPhee cracked the ball far over Ubbo Jo's's head. The score:

BROOKLYN (N. L.), 7; CLEVELAND (N. L.), 4.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—It is a pity, just for the looks of the game, if nothing else, that Third Baseman Smalley of the Cleveland Club couldn't have made his errors just a few minutes later this afternoon, say, for instance, when he was on the street car going down town. Up to the ninth the game was a beauty. It was see-saw for a while, and then Brooklyn scampered ahead. When once they got ahead it seemed impossible for Cleveland to catch up with them. However, with all that, Cleveland played a good game, and Visner is entitled to draw on the bank for unlimited credit for the fine way in which he pitched. The score:

NEW YORK (P. L.), 9; BUFFALO (P. L.), 8—FIRST GAME.

BUFFALO, Sept. 27.—Buffalo lost both games to-day to the New Yorks. The first contest was marked by errors on both sides, careless work by all except the pitcher, and rank decisions by Umpire Jones. The New Yorks first run in the second inning was made on an error by Rowe, Brown's sacrifice, and a wild throw by Stafford. Buffalo succeeded in the third inning in getting two runs on Irwin's hit, Stafford's base on balls, and Hoy's three-bagger. New York changed matters then by getting four runs. Brown led off with a double, Johnson hit safely, and Tritchell fairly threw Brown out at the plate, but Umpire Jones decided it safe. Slattery's sacrifice and Whitney's hit brought Johnston in. It was nip and tuck to the end, with New York the favorite. The score:

BROOKLYN (P. L.), 8; PITTSBURGH (P. L.), 3.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—To-day may have been a day for a group of people sitting round a stove telling stories, but it was no day for a base ball game. This seemed to be the public opinion, because there were only 439 persons paid to see to-day's game between the Brooklyns and Pittsburgh P. L. teams at Exposition Park. It was the last championship game of the season between the clubs, and was a fine of the brilliant kind. The visitors won with hands down, and it was too one-sided to be of interest. When the game started the weather was damp and cold, and the grounds were in a wretched condition. The score:

FIRST KNOCK-DOWN FOR NEW JERSEY.

The Initial Contest for the A. A. U. Base Ball Championship.

The base ball team of the New Jersey Athletic Club covered themselves with glory yesterday at the Polo Grounds. They faced the strong aggregation of the Detroit Athletic Club, generally acknowledged to be the most powerful amateur base base ball team in the West since the days of the old Cass Club, and beat them, after a well played game, by a score of 3 to 2. It was the first of a series of five games for the championship of the Amateur Athletic Union, and it was the first instance in the history of base ball that the East and West have been pitted against each other for championship honors.

The excitement over the game yesterday has been intense, and had the weather been favorable an immense crowd would undoubtedly have been present. A drizzling rain commenced to fall shortly before the games were opened, and it lasted almost continuously until after the third inning. The ground was very soft, making good base running almost out of the question. Still with all these difficulties, the boys acquitted themselves creditably, and the 301 spectators were amply repaid for their visit.

That the visitors are entitled to all the credit that has been allowed them by their Eastern brethren cannot be disputed. They have a battery in Cody and Walsh that would be almost good enough for any team. The former is very speedy and has splendid control of the ball. He has a pleasing delivery, and his rising and drop balls were very destructive in the game. Walsh is not only one of the cleverest catchers in the amateur ranks, but he has a good head and watches every point very closely. Barger is all man at bat, and Monahan covers a deal of ground at second. These four men performed the major part of the work. Walsh and Mare made some putting out twenty-two men.

While all the New Jerseys, barring Carey at short, played steadily, the one who is entitled to the greatest distinction is W. J. Currie. Always conceded to be one of the best amateur pitchers in this section of the country, he has hardly ever before been placed in such a peculiar position as that of yesterday. Although he gave Gruber three men loose on balls and had a wild pitch, each of which were of a damaging nature, his pitching throughout was skilful and puzzling, and the Detroits were put on the nine innings with but two base hits, and batting is the visitors' strongest hold. His brother supported him prettily, and he threw the only man out who attempted to steal second.

The New Jerseys were the first to score in the third inning, owing entirely to the dropped fly by Miller. W. J. Currie hit a slow ground ball toward third, and reached first safely. Carey had a life given him by Miller. Chauncey advanced both a base on a sale hit to centre. Three men were on bases and W. Currie at the bat. The latter lifted out a smiling fly to centre, receive with a long hit to right, sending two men home amid rousing applause. Westervelt struck out and left two men on bases. The winning run was made in the seventh inning on J. M. Currie's line hit to centre, a base on balls, and Chauncey's two-base hit to right.

The Detroits scored in one inning only. Walker was given a life by Carey's fumble. Marker forced him out at second. Miller was sent to base on balls. While Currie was trying to catch Miller at first Marker stole third. On Codd's hit to short Marker tried to score, but was thrown out. Carey made a terrible blunder of Walsh's hit, and two more came home.

The two teams play again on Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday. Westervelt will probably be in the box for the New Jerseys. The score of yesterday's game is as follows:

Mr. Day Says There Will be a Conference.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—John B. Day of the New York (N. L.) Club is here to sign Rusie for next year. Mr. Day said that the condition of things had a dark look, and that something had to be done pretty soon. "If a compromise is made," he continued, "things can go on all right, and that's what will probably be done."

"There is a movement now on foot," Mr. Day further said, "for a conference between the League, Brotherhood and Association, the outcome of which is the wiping out of one of the latter two organizations and the forming of two circuits. A meeting for that purpose will probably occur within a few weeks. I do not believe a single club in the Brotherhood circuit has made a cent, but they can't afford to quit. When a compromise comes, if it does, the circuits should be arranged with but one club in a city. Nearly all the cities can't give support to two ball clubs. Leonard Phillips is the best ball town in the country, for it has been demonstrated that it will not support two clubs."

No Game at West New Brighton.

The admirers of the Staten Island Athletic and Staten Island Cricket clubs were disappointed yesterday owing to the postponement of the game between the two clubs. When the rain ceased at one o'clock it seemed as if the game would be played, but a heavy shower later on caused the postponement. The Crickets based much hope in winning the game, as with the Cricket game, if awarded in their favor, they would have tied their rivals for first place. The season should have ended yesterday, and with it went the championship to the Athletics but the Crickets will attempt to have the season extended.

Base Ball Notes.

Umpire John Hodgins will be tendered a benefit by the Staten Island Athletic Club in about two weeks. The Hackett Carhart & Co. club will be the former team's opponent on this occasion.

Cincinnati, Sept. 27.—President Byrne of the Brooklyn Base Ball Club said last night that a meeting of the National League would be called in New York on 6 to consider the proposed "deal" by which Cincinnati was to go to the Brotherhood.

Kansas City, Sept. 26.—Elmer Smith, Kansas City's crack pitcher, has signed a contract to play with Kansas City next year. He declined an offer from the Brotherhood which proposed to pay him $300 more than the Kansas City company can offer.

Food Will Represent Dartmouth.

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 27.—Pond, class of '91 of Dartmouth, has won the position to accompany Gunnison, class of '92, champion of the college, to New Haven to represent Dartmouth at the Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association tournament.
