LIKE A MAFIA CRIME.

Carpenter Michael Hammill Struck Down With a Knife Blow.

Two poorly dressed and rough looking Italians were seen lounging in the neighborhood of a new building in Third avenue, near Thirty-fifth street, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning, just as the workmen had begun operations inside of the house. They seemed to be waiting for somebody. A few moments before 8 o'clock Michael Hammill, aged 30, of 87 Thirty-seventh street, a carpenter, who was employed there, left the building for some purpose and walked across the street. As he reached the opposite curbstone the two men crossed in front of him, and one of them was seen to raise in his right hand a large-bladed knife and strike at Hammill with it. The carpenter received the blow in the neck and sank bleeding and unconscious on the sidewalk. Before anybody could intercept his assailant both of the Italians had disappeared.

Hammill was lifted up by his fellow workmen, and an ambulance was summoned. In the meanwhile efforts were made to stop the hemorrhage from the wound. The ambulance surgeon said the knife evidently had pierced a large artery. In the Seney Hospital last night the physicians reported that Hammill's recovery was probable.

Antonio Samaro and Antonio Burillo of 868 Third avenue were arrested on suspicion. The police learned that some time ago a number of Italians who had been at work on a new building in Thirty-eighth street had been discharged through the instrumentality, as it was said, of Hammill, and there had been bad feeling between the carpenters and the Italians in consequence.

Hemken's Trouble with His Partner.

The troubles of the firm of Hans Hemken & Co., importers, of 14 Greene street, this city, were again before Justice Cullen in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yesterday. The case is in court on a motion to appoint a receiver. The plaintiff, Hemken, alleges that his partner, Emil Slayton, is trying to oust him from the concern and take possession of the business. Mr. Slayton presented affidavits yesterday denying this allegation and asserting that Melchior Hemken, the father of the plaintiff, had a large sum of money invested in the business and should be made one of the plaintiffs. Mr. Slayton asks the appointment of a receiver who should be a stranger to all the parties. Justice Cullen reserved his decision.

"Let Me In," Said the Jail Breaker.

WILKESBARRE, Nov. 1.—Thomas Henry, who attempted to kill two men at Meshoppen, made a desperate attempt to break jail at Tunkhannock this morning. In some manner he got out of his cell, gained the jail yard, and, making a ladder out of old chairs, ascended the high wall. In leaping from the wall to gain the roadway, he broke an arm and leg. He cried with pain, and begged the jailers to take him in out of the cold. His wish was complied with.

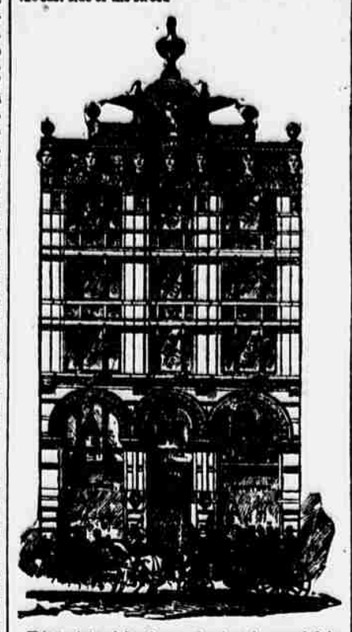
THIRD AVENUE NOTES.

Sol. Heyman & Co.

As you pass along Third avenue your eye is caught by the unique building just above Thirty-ninth st., on the east side of the street.



This quaint and handsome structure is occupied by the great furniture and carpet manufacturers and dealers,

Sol. Heyman & Co.,

Who occupy the stores 903 and 905 Third avenue, near Fifty-ninth st.

This firm is one of the largest and best on the east side of the city, and has been favorably known for the past twenty years in that line of business. The handsome five-story building is filled from top to bottom with Furniture and Carpets of every grade, at prices always the lowest and at terms by the week or month to suit the purchaser.

Each floor is filled with roll upon roll of Carpets and Oil-cloths. Furniture of every color, sty e, and grade that the most vivid imagination could depict.

The obliging salesmen are always willing to take the visitor through the various departments and show the large variety of stock always on hand.

O'Grady & Co.

Passing into this large establishment at the corner of Third avenue and Fifty-seventh street, the visitor becomes one of the throng all going for the same thing—to secure some of the great bargains which are offered for sale as a result of the damage done by water and fire in the basement of this large dry goods house.

The damage to the goods is but slight and is scarcely perceptible, but as this firm makes a practice of selling goods always perfect, the damaged ones are offered at prices below cost.

The goods embrace everything in the dry goods line, from the finest to the cheapest grades, and the 150 clerks are having all they can do to wait upon the large and eager crowds of purchasers constantly invading the stores.

Among the many bargains are offered: Blankets in every grade from 89c. to $10.00; Comforters, 98c. to $5.00, just the thing to keep one warm on a cold winter's night. Then come Flannels—Medicated Red Flannel, 22c. a yard and upward; Canton, 5½c. Next we have Table Linens, ranging in prices from 19c. to $1.00; Heavy Crash Towelling at 4c., Check Nainsook at 3½c.

Passing along, we next come to the Sheetings, in which the prices in Unbleached range about 4½c., and Bleached at 6½c.

Leaving the Linen Department and going up stairs to the next floor, we have the large stock of Cloaks and Dress Goods; Ladies Jackets, all styles and colors, 98c. to $1.48; Plain and Striped Newmarkets, $1.98 to $4.98.

Seal Plush Jackets, with Seal Capes, $7.48 to $12.50; Seal Plush Capes, $4.75, worth $10; Astrakhan Capes, $1.89, worth $2.50.

The customer can find almost everything in the dry goods line at very nearly his own price at O'Grady & Co.'s stores, 3d av. and 57th st.

Burke & Lynch.

At the corner of 79th st. and 3d av. stands a large and imposing Furniture house, which was established on the present site just eleven years ago with a capital of Three Thousand Dollars.

Everybody predicted an early failure for the firm of Burke & Lynch was the first to venture a furniture house in the up town of the city.

Whether it failed or not is soon shown by visiting the present establishment, which does an annual business of from Sixty-five to Seventy Thousand Dollars, employs seven competent salesmen, and can show you the latest thing at lowest prices in Folding Beds, Bedsteads, Bedding, Carpets, and Furniture of every description.

The business has attained its present standard by honest dealing and strictly cash transactions and the fact (which the firm's success has proved) that up town is the best and largest field for the furniture business.

J. H. Harris.

At this establishment, at the corner of 84th st. and 3d av., can be found one of the largest lines of winter goods, together with Gent's Furnishings Cloaks, Dress Goods, Fancy Articles, Corsets of the best makes that can be had in the city. Particular attention is paid to "Dreamwalers" Supplies.

The business has been established 14 years, and treating customers well has enlarged the business.

Decker & Sons.

As far back as one can remember he has heard of the famous "Decker" Pianos. In churches, homes, and at the various club rooms one sees the name "Decker & Sons" on the piano.

This firm has gained its renown through the rich tone and immense volume obtained by their instruments. The firm was established in 1856, and visitors can see a complete line of their instruments at their salesrooms, 1,050 3d av., corner of 57th st.

Lohmann & Co.

At the warerooms of Lohmann & Co., 1,234 3d av., can be seen a large variety of the "Ernest Gabler & Bro." Pianos.

For richness of tone, durability, and richness of touch this piano equals, if it does not excel, any other piano on the market.

There is a large variety of styles and veneer constantly on exhibition at the salesrooms.

Manhattan House.

The young and enterprising manager of this handsome establishment, Mr. Nat Hirschbein, who was offered the nomination of Alderman, was forced to refuse the honor. He considered his business interests of far greater importance.

A billiard room and bowling alley is connected with the house, and everything is first class. It stands at the southwest corner of 50th st. and 3d av.

At the law offices of GEORGE C. BASCH, 271 3d av., the strictest attention is paid to pension claims, titles, &c. Also to real estate, two large partitions now being ready; keys can be obtained at the office.

A. M. MYERS, 34th st. and 3d av., offers a large line of general dry goods at the most reasonable prices. A complete stock of everything in the dry goods line is constantly on hand.

In the window of PHILIP SMITH'S large gent's furnishing store, 418 3d av., can be seen one of the greatest novelties on the avenue. It is the handle of a cane representing a Tammany chieftain chasing Mr. Scott through a forest.

J. DEANEY, 624 3d av., Shoe Specialties—"A" calf, Congress or lace, $2 to $2.50; ladies' congola kid, $1.48 to $3.00; hand welt, $3.00.

HARTFORD & VAN ZILE, 1,183 3d av., undertakers and embalmers, announce that they are ready for business at their new and handsome parlors. Coaches can be hired at very reasonable prices.
