TUESDAY, June 9.

Foreign houses confessed that they were disappointed this morning at the comparatively few orders they received from London. They had expected fairly heavy buying for the new account which begins to-day, because London had bought freely during the last three or four days. As it did not show any eagerness to buy for the new account, we are compelled to believe that recent purchases have been chiefly to cover shorts. The market was a disappointing one throughout, that is to those who may have been sanguine enough to look for improvement in prices or in the character of the dealings. Chicago Gas did not respond to the action of the Common Council of Chicago empowering the Mayor and law officers of the city to negotiate and conclude an agreement with the company. It is possible that realizing sales, rather than a disposition to depress the stock, prevented a substantial advance in the price.

The question of a dividend upon the common stock of the American Sugar Refining Company, which has given the speculative community much anxiety for a number of weeks, was finally decided to-day. The announcement of the dividend provoked realizing, though the amount to be paid for the half year places the stock upon an 8 ⅌ cent. basis. And it is a basis that probably can be maintained the remainder of the year, since all the profits for the last six months will accrue to the common stock, as an amount equal to the second semi-annual dividend on the preferred stock has been set apart to pay that dividend when due. Trustworthy information is that the meeting of the directors of the Sugar Refining Company at which the dividends were declared was, like many of the preceding ones, lively to the extent of being stormy. The President of the company and his immediate associates were, it is said, averse to paying any dividend at all, the so-called German element favored 3 ⅌ cent. or 3½ ⅌ cent., while representatives of the Boston interest claimed that 5 ⅌ cent. should be paid because the earnings more than warranted that amount. It would appear, therefore, that the rate agreed upon was a compromise between the German and Boston interests acting in unison against the Havemeyer party.

It is understood that the newspapers were roundly denounced by the anti-dividend interest because of their criticisms upon the management of the company and its methods, and also because of the information they have made public relative to the earnings of the company during the first six months of its existence. It was claimed that the newspapers had virtually educated the stockholders to expect a fairly large distribution of profits at this time, a circumstance that was deplored by those who were opposed to the payment of a dividend on the common stock. One of the trustees, in speaking of the matter, said the stockholders owe it to the newspapers quite as much as to the German and Boston representatives in the Board that a dividend was declared. Unfortunately for the shareholders, no statement of operations for the period for which dividends were declared was or will be made public or even furnished to the stockholders. It is surmised that the interest which opposed the payment of a dividend on the common stock did so because it is not in a position to collect any large proportion of the dividend disbursement.

The engagement of $500,000 specie for shipment to-morrow disturbed the street, for the reason that it had made up its mind that shipments were at an end, basing its conviction, logically enough, upon the lower market for sterling, lower rates for money abroad, and the action of the Bank of England in reducing its price for foreign gold to normal figures. The unexpiredness was aggravated by a statement from the banking house making the shipment that the specie goes forward on a special order and really as merchandise. The shippers say that they are at a loss to account for the transaction, while other drawers of exchange figure that the transaction is made at a loss of about a half a cent per pound, or about $400. The street argued that if foreign bankers are going to buy gold in this market no one can calculate what the extent of the shipments will be. It is hardly probable, however, that future exports will be large, unless the principal Government banks should make another attempt to force payment of balances due from this country; and that is most unlikely.

Wall street would smile at the sworn fears on this point if it could appreciate the anxiety that prevails abroad, not so much on account of present financial conditions and current demands upon the resources of the banks and bankers, but relative to the payments which it is universally conceded must be made to this country within a few months for a part of our surplus production of breadstuffs. England, Germany, and France will interpose every obstacle to the return of any part of the gold they have received from the United States. Still, they know that they will have to depend upon us for sustenance and will have to pay for it.

In the railway share list the only stocks that were even approximately active were St. Paul and Louisville and Nashville, and both closed at net declines larger than the average. Jersey Central and Northwestern suffered material declines on very light transactions. Dealings in silver bullion certificates were on a larger scale than for several days past, but there was no change in prices. The market as a whole was very dull, with Sugar Refining common supplying a larger share of the transactions than any other stock. The closing was very quiet and easy.

Final sales compare with those of yesterday as follows:

During the receivership of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company, which began on November, 1885, the receivers aided in the way of improvements and new equipment about $4,500,000. They have constructed 73 miles of road and acquired by lease 141 miles. The new bonded indebtedness bears interest at the rate of 4 ⅌ cent. only, as against 6 and 7 ⅌ cent. paid on the old mortgage bonds. A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in this city on Thursday, and it is now believed that H. C. Cross will be elected President. The official order filed at Leavenworth gives absolute possession of the property to the representatives of the security holders on July 1.

The United States Treasurer's statement of assets and liabilities issued to-day gives a cash balance on hand of $45,999,000, and then deducts from this the national bank deposits of $21,000,000 and $21,000,000 of fractional silver coin, leaving what it calls a "net balance" of $3,999,000. This form was adopted during Treasurer Jordan's administration. Secretary Foster regards it as misleading and unsatisfactory, and has ordered its discontinuance. The statements to be issued hereafter will give the actual cash balance in the Treasury, and will show of what it consists, but it will be done in a way so as not to reflect on the character of any part of the balance.

Treasury balances compare with those of yesterday as follows:

	June 8.	June 9.
Gold	$120,037,940	$120,057,098
Silver	11,836,774	12,108,070
Legal tenders	3,067,560	4,842,731
Totals	$145,940,200	$145,538,899

Deposits in national banks, $27,240,519, against $28,090,965 yesterday. In addition to the foregoing the Treasury reports silver bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890, $46,523,360, and Treasury notes outstanding against the same, $36,220,045.

Money in London, 2 ⅌ cent. Rate of discount in the open market for both short and three months' bills, 2⅛ ⅌ cent. Amount of bullion gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day, £60,000. Paris advices quote 3 ⅌ cents at 95 francs 27½ centimes, and exchange on London at 25 francs 32½ centimes.

The American Steam Boiler Insurance Company has reinsured its New York State risks in the American Casualty Insurance and Security Company. The first-named concern, now in liquidation, has paid its security holders a 50 ⅌ cent. dividend on the capital out of the surplus, and the balance of the assets will be distributed as speedily as the maturing and retiring of policies renders practicable. On Dec. 31 last the American Steam Boiler Insurance Company had assets of $828,000.

EUROPEAN MONEY MARKETS.

A Demand for Gold from Austria—Present Status of the Baring Liquidation.

LONDON, June 9.—It has been announced that the liquidation of the Barings has reduced the liabilities to £7,000,000, against which there are assets considered to be worth £8,750,000. The Governor of the Bank of England says that the guarantors will not be likely to be called upon for a penny.

There have been large sales of consols today, said to be on account of intending subscribers to the new Indian loan, and the decline in this stock tended to depress other markets. But another rumor that the London County Council is about to raise a loan of £4,000,000 has also tended to depress the consol market. Although the bull position seems to be extremely small, and carrying over rates were very easy, there has been no disposition to enter into new transactions, and the market for American railway shares was dull and sagging throughout the day.

The Joint Stock Banks charge 3½ per cent. for advances to brokers over next account, and contangos on American railway shares range from 4 per cent. to 4½ per cent.

Unfavorable crop reports continue to be received from Russia.

It is estimated that in consequence of the recent attempt of the Joint Stock Banks to artificially raise the rates for discounts that the foreign banks secured fully £3,000,000 in bills at about one per cent., about the rate current in Paris and Berlin. The bills will mature in the autumn, when money will be wanted here, and will give the foreign banks power to withdraw gold to the full amount of the bills, or, what is the same thing, to make payments to that amount without shipping gold to London. It is now recognized that the attempt to hold up rates was a mistake.

Another demand for gold has arisen, this time from Austria. Two hundred thousand pounds were shipped on Saturday to Berlin en route to Vienna, not to St. Petersburg, as was reported in London on that day. It is also thought that gold must be sent to Buenos Ayres.

Crop Report.

ST. PAUL, June 9.—Portions of North Dakota were to-day visited by copious rains. It was not needed, but has done no harm, rather clinching the excellent outlook for a great crop of all kinds. A correspondent at Wahpeton says:

"I don't believe there is a field of poor grain in Richland county. The wheat is so thick and even that it will stand weeks of drought. Pastures are splendid and corn looks well."

In Pembina county the heaviest rain of the season fell to-day, and the ground will stand a month of dry weather.

South Dakota is all right as to wheat, but the weather is too cool for corn and oats in most localities.

To-day's reports from Minnesota are summarized as follows:

Marshall County—Weather just right for all growing grain. Prospects first class. Plenty of grass.

Fillmore County—Crops gaining rapidly and give promise of a fine yield.

Houston County—The rain was too late to do much for winter wheat, which will be light. Spring wheat and oats promise better, but will not be heavy. Corn is late, but may yet be a good crop.

Kittson County—Everything is growing nicely, and farmers are confident.

Wright County—Wheat is in splendid condition, and there is every promise of an unusually large crop. Cut worms have injured corn, and the weather is too dry for pastures.

Winona County—Small grains are making rapid progress; corn and potatoes backward, but with sufficient length of season will come out all right.

Lesueur County—Weather good for wheat and corn is coming on slowly.

Douglas County—Crops all in excellent condition, except in small patches where cut worms have worked.

The breaking of new fields has begun on a large scale.

Nobles County—Rain and cool weather have stopped the cut worms. All crops are looking finely.

Blue Earth County—Cut worms have mostly disappeared, and crops of all kinds are looking excellently.

Renville County—Condition of wheat and oats almost perfect. Farmers are cultivating corn. Great mob of newcomers to buy land.

Olmsted County—Wet and cool weather has benefitted small grains, but retarded corn.

Lacqui Parle County—No rain for a week; small grains doing well.

Wabash County—All crops have improved and the outlook is promising.

New York Markets.

TUESDAY, June 9.—FLOUR and MEAL—There was rather more doing at steadier prices—that is, buyers met the views of holders more freely than for some days past, but prices were no dearer. Quoted: Flour, ⅌ bbl—Fine, $3.40@$4; superfine, $3.10@$3.40; No. 2 extra, $4.35@$4.60; No. 1 extra, $4.65@$4.90; clears, $4.80@$5; straights, $5@$5.15; patents, spring, $5.60@$6.10; winter, $5.10@$5.40; city mills, shipping extras, $5@$5.15. Rye flour, ⅌ bbl—Superfine, $4.75@$5.05. Corn meal, ⅌ bbl—$3.30@$3.50 for Western and $3.85 for Brandywine.

CORN—Futures opened lower, further declined partially recovered, closing quiet and steady at 3 to 4 points decline from yesterday's close. The early decline in our market to-day took place in the face of a stronger report from Liverpool, and was due to sales to realize the late advance prompted by the favorable weather at the south, where there was a cessation of the excessive rain reported yesterday from the northern belt and the Atlantic coast, with a high temperature, and generally good conditions for the growing crop. The partial recovery was due to a demand to cover contracts on general principles, without any special cause. But business was kept within smaller limits, owing to a disposition to wait for the report from the Department of Agriculture to come out to-morrow. Rumor said that this report will indicate a condition of only 92 ⅌ cent., against some decrease in the aggregate acreage planted for the next crop. Many of the bulls thought such a report will cause an advance in prices. The large port receipts and the excessive stocks on hand remained, however, an inadmissible open operations for the rise. Spot cotton was quiet; middling uplands, 8¾c.; do. Gulf, 9 3-16c. The following are the details of the transactions in futures:
