LIKELY TO CATCH IT AGAIN.

Nine-Year-Old Henry Wilche Says He Ran Away Because He Was Whipped.

A small boy looked cold and uncomfortable as he wandered up and down in the Post Office late on Saturday night, occasionally stopping to lean against the wall. His forlorn appearance attracted the attention of Officer Barkley of the Gerry society, who found on questioning him that the boy was a runaway, and had him cared for. The little fellow was brought up before Justice Duffy at the Tombs Court yesterday. He was well dressed and bright looking, and in answer to the Justice's questions, he said:

"My name is Henry Wilche, and I live in Greenville. I am 9 years old. My papa is bookkeeper in Mr. Zilesen's varnish store in Williams street in this city. I ran away from home because I got too many whippings. It's a long walk from Greenville to the Jersey City ferry, but I did it yesterday. They told me it was five miles. I found two cents and took the first ferry boat I could get at Jersey City, and it brought me here. I was very tired and hungry. I hadn't had anything to eat since morning. There wasn't any place I could go to here except to my papa's office, and I wouldn't go there. He'd have taken me back home. I picked up a newspaper in the street and sold it for a penny and bought a penny cake. That's all I had to eat. Then I went to the Post Office to try and keep warm, and a man came and took me with him."

The boy was committed to the care of the Gerry society until his parents could be notified of his whereabouts.

A reporter went to Mr. Wilche's house yesterday in Greenville, which is a part of Jersey City. Mrs. Wilche, who is Henry's stepmother, said:

"We were relieved to hear that Henry had been found in New York, and his father has gone after him, although we did not worry so very much, because this is not the first time the boy has run away and turned up safe. He seems to have the wandering mania. He is only 9 years old, but this must be the sixth or eighth time he has disappeared without warning. Once he was found in the Newsboys' Lodging House, once in Yonkers, once in Brooklyn, and often in Jersey City. I don't know what we will do with him. We sent him on an errand yesterday and that's the last we've seen of him."

"The boy says," remarked the reporter, "that the reason he ran away was because he was whipped."

"There," exclaimed Mrs. Wilche, "I knew he'd say that. He's just smart enough to, because I'm his stepmother. If he were my own boy I would whip him a good deal oftener than I do."

Held the Highwayman Fast.

DERBY, Conn., Jan. 31.—Since Christmas eve there have been numerous attempts at highway robbery in this village. A reward of $300 by the authorities had no effect in scaring the footpads. Last night Charles Ward and John Bennett were on their way home at 11 o'clock when two men stepped from behind a tree. One of them struck Ward with a coupling pin, weighing ten pounds. The blow was a glancing one, and Ward turned and grappled with his assailant, holding him until a policeman arrived. The robber was locked up in the Birmingham station. Chief of Police Nolan recognizes him as a New York footpad, whose picture is in the Rogues' Gallery.
