TUESDAY, June 14.

The rapidity of the advance in prices yesterday led many to believe that a reaction would be both natural and inevitable to-day. This belief was strengthened before the Stock Exchange opened by lower quotations from London and the presence of moderate selling orders from that centre. But there was no reaction worthy of the name. Opening prices were, as a rule, the lowest recorded. The leaders at the start were C., B. and Quincy, Rock Island, and New England. Later on, the coal stocks came to the front, and with them St. Paul and Chicago Gas. All of these scored material net advances.

There was a period of hesitation, or perhaps it may be more accurately described as a halt, during the middle of the day, from which the upward movement seemed to acquire fresh energy, for in the last hour the speculation was more aggressively strong than at any time during the day. The volume of trading was not as large as yesterday, still it was considerably above the recent average, and the distribution of the transactions was such that it indicated a widening and growing interest in the speculation.

New England was relegated to second place in point of activity, and in consequence of a better understanding of the relations that have existed between the company and the Housatonic Railroad the market for the stock began to improve the moment that business was resumed. As to the value of the alliance between the Housatonic and New England companies, the following statement was issued to-day from the office of the last named: "The Housatonic and New England alliance, including the New York joint terminal investment, has caused a loss of several hundred thousand dollars to the New England Railroad. The managers of that company will not be likely to continue to deplete its treasury to keep the Wilson's Point line, via the Housatonic road." This statement bears out the one made in this column to-day, that the New England Company had derived no substantial benefits from its alliance with the Housatonic road. It is stated that the cost to the New England company of that alliance has been on an average of $125,000 a year.

The most extensive trading was in St. Paul, but the greatest net advances were made by C., B. and Quincy, Rock Island, and Chicago Gas. Many good judges of the market are of the opinion that the short interest in the Granger stocks, particularly in C., B. and Quincy and Rock Island, is still very large. Effective buying of the anthracite coal shares was based upon reports that hearings in the various suits, more particularly that of the State of New Jersey, against the corporations that have become parties to the so-called anthracite coal combination, will be adjourned until next fall. And this was construed to mean that they might eventually be abandoned. It seems too soon, however, to make positive predictions as to the final disposition of the litigation referred to.

Of the industrials, Chicago Gas is the only one that can be described as active, but all the others were persistently strong throughout. National Cordage common sold at the highest price it has yet reached. Foreign arbitrage operations did not cut much of a figure in the speculation, neither did a strong market for sterling exchange, in which engagements of specie to-morrow for shipment on Thursday are foreshadowed. The news outside of a continuation of encouraging crop reports and the Northern Pacific statement for April was meagre. The closing was strong, with the majority of the list at the best prices.

New York Markets.

TUESDAY, June 14.—FLOUR AND MEAL—The market was very dull, and prices were drooping and unsettled, in sympathy with the downward course of the grain market. Quoted: Fine, ⅌ bbl.—Fine, $1.85@$2.40; superfine, $2 10@$2.25; No. 2 extra, $2.50@$3.15; No. 1 extra, $3.25@3.75; clears, $3.50@$4.40; straights, $4.25@$4.65; patents, spring, $4.75@$4.90; winter, $4.75@$4.85; city mills extras, $4.25@$4.40. Rye flour, ⅌ bbl.—Superfine, $3.10@$4.20. Corn meal, ⅌ bbl.—$2.80@$2.90 for Western and $3@$3.10 for Brandywine.

CORN—Futures opened lower and further declined, under improved crop accounts and weak Liverpool advices, but there was a partial recovery on a report from Washington that the Hatch Anti-Option bill is to be postponed in the senate. This bill has already forced cotton nearly 4c. ⅌ lb., and its agitation will undoubtedly cause the next crop to open fully a cent a pound lower than it would have done. Spot cotton was more active for export, but prices further declined 1-16c.; middling uplands, 7 9-16c.; do. Gulfs, 7 15-16c. The following are the details of the transactions in futures, with sales of 132,600 bales:

Months.	Closing prices.	Highest.	Lowest.	Sales.

Quoted: Spot, steadier; red winter, 48 cents, afloat, and delivered for June, 47½c. afterward, and July at 47½@47¾c. The sales were about 210,000 bushels, including 50,000 bushels spot, at 1c. under July afloat, and 160,000 bushels spot, at 1c. under July afloat, and July at 80c. No. 2 Northern at 49½c. under July, and July at 80c. No. 1 do. at July price and July New York, 2 cents under July, over the latter January. No. 3 Hard Kansas at 1c. under July. No. 5 spring at 6c. under and No. 1 Hard at 3c. over July, or about 80c. Indian corn futures were again lower, under sales in Europe and long to go and weather at the West. Sales 1,000,000 bush. of corn-futures for June, 500,000 for July, 500,000 for August, and 500,000 for September. Spot corn was easier, with only a moderate business doing. Quoted: Western mixed, 52@52½c. for yellow, 52@52½c. for white. The sales were about 10,000 bush. in mixed corn at 52½c. afloat, in store and elevator, and other grains were generally steadier, but the distant options closed easier and speculation was dull; sales 10,000 bush. including 2,000 bush. at 32½c. for June, 2,000 bush. at 32½@32¾c. for August, and 3,000 bush. for September, and on the spot, mixed at 34@36c. and white at 40@45c., as in quality. Oats were easier, with a dull demand. Quoted: No. 2 mixed at 34½@34¾c. in elevator, 35c. delivered, and unsettled at 35@35½c. After Chicago. Western, easy.
