THURSDAY, June 23.

The shipments of specie to-day exceeded the estimates by about $1,000,000, the amount being $2,500,000. This, of course, had some effect upon the stock market, which was dull, narrow, and professional. The only stocks that can truthfully be described as active were C., B. and Quincy and Atchison. Chicago sold the first named, and appeared to be bearish upon the other Granger stocks. Atchison was stronger and higher, presumably on account of efforts to carry out the income bond funding scheme. The political developments at Chicago apparently had no effect upon speculation. The closing was very quiet, with the average of final prices slightly below that of yesterday.

New York Markets.

THURSDAY, June 23.—FLOUR AND MEAL—The market was dull and the low and medium grades of wheat flour rather favored buyers, being in pretty full supply. COTTON—Futures had their usual "wobble" to-day, opening 4@5 points lower, under weak accounts from Liverpool, making a quick recovery on the report that the bull tendencies of English and Northern spinners to buy cotton at their own price had been postponed, then relapsing into dullness owing to the uncertainties of the situation, and closing barely steady. The weather has continued exceptionally favorable to the growing crop. Spot cotton was quiet, but prices were steady; middling uplands, 7 7-16c., do Gulfs, 7 13-16c.
