WEDNESDAY, July 6.

It is a matter of some surprise, particularly to those whose interests lie on the bear side of the stock market, that the foreigners have not shown greater alarm at the headway made by the champions of free silver in Congress. But, as a matter of fact, while the local bears were working themselves into a frenzy over the effect that silver agitation was likely to have upon American securities in the London market, operators on that side were quietly buying them.

It is estimated that London bought 15,000 shares of American stocks to-day. Whether the orders originated in Europe or were cabled from New York is a debatable question, but, whatever the source, they temporarily checked the downward movement, which at the close of business yesterday had gained considerable momentum.

At the opening there was a disposition on the part of the local traders, stimulated by the higher London quotations, to buy stocks. Later, despatches of a highly sensational nature relative to the strike now in progress at the Carnegie iron works again started the decline. The seat of the weakness was in the Grangers, for, in addition to the labor troubles, crop advices were not favorable, and there is little disposition to support those securities until the exact situation, as shown by the forthcoming Government crop report, is revealed.

It was on this decline that London bought St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville, Union Pacific, and Erie. The lowest prices were made in the afternoon, when it was reported that the strife between the strikers at the Homestead mill and the forces sent to subdue them had resulted in bloodshed, and furthermore that trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad running into Pittsburgh had been stopped. On the denial of this last rumor there was a rally, on which the market closed.

The net changes to-day are not important in comparison with those of yesterday, yet the general news has been well calculated to unsettle the market. Five hundred thousand dollars in gold was engaged for export to-morrow, and a conservative estimate of the amount to be forwarded Saturday is $3,000,000. Crop advices indicate cold weather in the corn belt, and to further complicate the financial situation a majority report of the House Committee on Judiciary decides against the legality of bond sales to protect the gold reserve in the United States Treasury in case of an emergency.

In St. Paul, on transactions of over 45,000 shares, and on a fluctuation of ¾ ₱ cent., the net decline was ¼ ₱ cent.; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, on a fluctuation of 1⅛ ₱ cent., declined ¾ ₱ cent. net; New York and New England was active and weak on the report of a receiver for that company, which, however, failed to materialize. The general market was dull. Chicago Gas advanced on active manipulation. Wheeling and Lake Erie and Western Union were strong.

Final sales compare with those of yesterday as follows:
