TUESDAY, Sept. 13.

The rates for money at this centre are beginning to have their natural effect upon the market for sterling exchange. Other factors are also operating to bring the foreign exchange market down to its customary level at this season of the year. These are larger offerings of commercial bills drawn against cotton and grain shipments, and a very light demand, due in part to the smaller volume of imports on account of the cholera quarantine, and a return movement in the tide of foreign travel. The market for sterling yielded to-day under moderate offerings, and it is believed that securities recently bought on orders from London are being paid for, and also that foreign bankers are going short of exchange in order to take advantage of our money market. In spite of these circumstances and the fact that the interior is better supplied with funds than ever before at this season of the year, and is drawing less heavily upon this centre, a large number of people in Wall street profess to have apprehensions of a stringent money market in the near future.

Other encouraging developments to-day were the news from Quarantine showing an abatement of cholera at this port, and the adjustment of the differences between the management of the Reading Railroad Company and its employees. This last became known to a few people shortly before the close of business, and caused a sharp rally in the price of Reading that left it 1½ ₱ cent. higher than last night. The trading in that stock was fairly active throughout, and the professional element spared no effort to depress the price. Similar attention was bestowed upon St. Paul, C., B. and Quincy, Rock Island, and Erie, but without accomplishing much. A few sales of C., B. and Quincy "seller 60" at 1 ₱ cent. under the price "regular way" were made in the last hour, with the view evidently of creating uneasiness and lowering the price. The only stock that can be described as active which closed materially lower than yesterday was Western Union. The adjournment of the Executive Committee of the Western Union Board of Directors without taking action upon a proposition to declare a scrip dividend was followed by comparatively heavy sales of the stock. The indications are that the committee could not come to an agreement upon that proposition, and have, therefore, left the matter for discussion at the meeting of the full Board to-morrow. Atchison was well supported, and so was Rock Island. Considering the disposition of the professional element to force prices to a lower level and the narrowness of the market, the tone must be described as in the main firm. Net changes favored both accounts, but the average of final prices did not differ materially from that of last night.

Final sales compare with those of yesterday as follows:

Molasses—Liverpool was lower, Manchester was quiet, and the trading here was on a moderate scale. Nevertheless New York advanced 5 to 6 points this morning, and closed at a net advance of 4 points.
