IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD.

Another legal holiday obstructed business in the real estate market last week, but nevertheless a number of satisfactory transactions may be recorded. A number of important deals are also reported as practically concluded, and only a few details remain to be finished before these can be made public. The next two weeks ought to show very good business, and no serious interference need be expected before election day. The political excitement may, of course, hinder somewhat, and probably not until that restraint is removed will the market be as active as it can be.

The Big Four Swindled By Conductors.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 23.—For some time the passenger department of the Big Four Railroad has been aware that it was being systematically robbed, as the money received from the sale of tickets was far below what it should have been. The tickets taken up on trains tallied exactly with the report made by ticket agents, and so the company came to the conclusion that it was being swindled in some manner out of its just dues in cash fares received by conductors on trains, the biggest leakage being between this city and Cleveland, although there was a shortage on the Cincinnati division. When a passenger pays cash to a conductor the latter gives him a receipt which shows the points he travelled from and the date of the trip and amount of money paid. The stub is just like the original receipt, and the cash the conductor turns in must, of course, tally with his cash sheet.

Spotters were put on trains, but nothing was developed. Finally the matter was put into the hands of a detective agency of Cleveland, and in short time the secret was revealed. Duplicate receipt books were reprinted by parties in the employ of some of the conductors and about half the cash received was reported for these books. Arrests will follow, it is said, in a few days.

Dropped the Ehret Boycott.

The Central Labor Union spent much time yesterday discussing the boycott against George Ehret's beer, the war cry of "boodle" being heard, as a matter of course. The report of a committee which investigated the boycott was rejected. It was decided, however, not to endorse the boycott, which was practically an endorsement of the committee's report.
