FIVE CLUBS WELL BUNCHED.

THE CHAMPIONS AND NEW YORKS ARE NOT INCLUDED IN THIS LIST.

Brooklyn Keeps Up Her Good Work and Captures Three Straight from Ward's Team—St. Louis Gives Chicago a Terrible Walloping—Hard Luck at Louisville.

Cleveland's lead is being gradually diminished, and five clubs are now having an almost neck and neck race for the pennant. The games yesterday, with but one exception, were sharply contested and the results were close. Brooklyn's victory made it three straight from New York, while Washington took two straight from Boston. The scores yesterday were:

Brooklyn, 7; New York, 6
Washington, 10; Boston, 9.
Philadelphia, 9; Baltimore, 7.
St. Louis, 14; Chicago, 2.
Pittsburgh, 5; Cincinnati, 3.
At Louisville—Rain.

BROOKLYN, 7; NEW YORK, 6.

The New Yorks are very successful in grasping at victories, but unfortunately they are unable to retain their grasp, and the game usually slips away like a greased pig. Yesterday's game at Eastern Park was almost a repetition of the previous day's game at the Polo grounds. The New Yorks started off with a lead that should have made the game securely theirs, and then by a series of inexcusable plays they threw the victory into Brooklyn's hands. The worst offender was Ward. His muffs of two thrown balls and fumble of another, by which he missed an easy doubly play, were extremely costly. The New Yorks outbatted the Brooklyns, but lost through poor field work. Young Keeler met with a serious accident in the eighth inning. In sliding to second base his foot caught in the bag, spraining his ankle. There were 5,000 persons in attendance, and the Brooklynites are in a condition of extreme jubilation. The manner in which the New Yorks started the game gave rise to the belief that Brooklyn's hour of defeat had arrived. Burke opened the first inning with a savage line drive to the left-field fence for three bases, and Tiernan went to first on balls. Ward bunted and beat Corcoran's throw to first, Burke scoring on the hit. Connor's fly to right was muffed by Con Daley, and Davis's out at first let Tiernan home. Fuller's fly to centre and Keeler's out at first ended the inning for two runs.

The Brooklyns went out in quick order till the fourth, when Foutz hit a double to left, Dailey pushed Schoch home with a fluke, but Daly hit a single to left, on which Foutz reached the plate, Daly being put out in an effort to reach second on his hit. In their half of the fifth the New Yorks made another spurt and got in two runs on some good hitting. Rusie started with a hard hit single over first, and Burke followed with a double to right, on which Rusie was held at third. Tiernan's sacrifice grounder brought Rusie home, and Ward's scratch hit helped Burke to the plate. Connor hit to Schoch and was out at first. Ward tried to get home from second on the play, but was thrown out at the plate.

The New Yorks had the game by 4 to 1, and at that point their grip began to loosen. Hadlock started Brooklyn's fifth with a base on balls, but Corcoran was thrown out at first by Rusie. Kinslow also got on first on balls, and Lovett's smash to right for a base sent Hadlock home. Griffin also hit to right for a base, and Kinslow scored, Lovett getting to third on the play. Foutz hit to Davis, who threw wide to the plate, and Griffin got around to third. Dailey hit to Ward, who could have touched Foutz and made a double play, but a fumble let Griffin score, Foutz going on the play. They Schoch hit safely and Foutz scored. Daly ended the inning with a grounder to Fuller, who threw and put Schoch out at second. The Brooklyns had scored five runs and were two in the lead. The New Yorks managed to get a run in the sixth. With Daly on first, Fuller, Keeler and Doyle made singles, Fuller getting home. There might have been more runs, but Rusie's grounder enabled the Brooklyns to make a double play. In the eighth the New Yorks tied the score and should have won the game handily afterwards. Connor started off with a swift single to right, and Davis came next with a vicious drive against the right field fence for three bases, Connor coming home. With Davis on third and not a man out, the three succeeding batters were unable to bring Davis home. Fuller hit an easy grounder and was out at first, while Daly's double could not stir. Then Keeler hit a little grounder to Corcoran. Davis concluded to take the chance and was thrown out at the plate. Keeler sprained his ankle at second, and Doyle brought the inning to a close with a foul fly.

The score was tied, but it did not remain so very long. In their half of the eighth the Brooklyns got in the winning run. Dailey was out at first, but Schoch hit a grounder that bounded over Fuller's head. Schoch stole second, but would have been out had not Ward muffed Doyle's fine throw. Daly reached first on balls, and Hadlock struck out. Corcoran hit to Fuller, who threw to Ward to catch Daly at second. Ward muffed, and Schoch got home with the winning run. Kinslow ended the inning with a fly to Connor. The New Yorks tried hard to get a run in the ninth, but they failed. Rusie was out on a fly, but Burke made a single. Then stole second cleanly, but Gaffney called him out on the ground that Tiernan, who was at bat, interfered with Kinslow's throw. As the ball went straight and as fast as Kinslow can throw, it was difficult to see how Kinslow was interfered with. Tiernan sent a fly to Haddock, and the game was over. The score:

WASHINGTON, 10; BOSTON, 9.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Attorney-general Olney enjoyed the role of a mascot for the Bostonians this afternoon, but he was doomed to disappointment. O'Rourke's grounders nonplayed the visitors in the field, and, although batting honors were easy, Washington got its work in with the stick for runs. The score:

PHILADELPHIA, 9; BALTIMORE, 7.

BALTIMORE, May 10.—The Philadelphias to-day won their first game from the home team, but it was nip and tuck until the last hand was put out. Both sides hit the ball hard and often, but the visitors were luckier in getting their hits bunched when they counted most. The score:

PITTSBURGH, 5; CINCINNATI, 3.

CINCINNATI, May 10.—Gastright, now hurling the hoodoo for the Pittsburghs, was accompanied to the park by a band of moonshiners whose voices sounded like the rattle of gravel against the side of a wash boiler. They were there to root for their comrade. The afternoon was an ideal one for a game, but the balmy atmosphere had a bad effect on the Reds, and the article they put up was wilder and weirder than anything on exhibition at the World's Fair. BROWN, 2; YALE, 0.

PROVIDENCE, May 10.—Brown turned the tables on Yale to-day, and shut her out in the most exciting game of the season. Sexton and Carter were the opposing pitchers, and were equally effective. The fielding of both teams was magnificent. Carter struck out fourteen men, but weakened in the eleventh inning. Yale's hits were scattered, and only twice did they reach third base. The score:
