COL. HOUSTON DIES SUDDENLY

MRS. PORTER, WHOM HE TOOK TO HIS HOTEL, ALSO NEAR DEATH.

He Had Bright's Disease and Meningitis—She Had Been Drinking Diluted Alcohol in Her Room in the Everett House—She is in Bellevue—His Body at St. Vincent's.

Col. David C. Houston of the Department of Engineers of the United States army died at St. Vincent's Hospital about 9¾ o'clock yesterday morning. His death was sudden. It was due to a complication of meningitis and Bright's disease. Col. Houston was taken to the hospital last Friday afternoon from the Everett House, Fifteenth street and Fourth avenue. He had been ill there for two days. On Thursday afternoon his condition was such that the physicians reported that he would probably be up and around in a short time. He began to sink late in the night.

With Col. Houston probably died a secret that has puzzled the Everett House people and the Colonel's associates in the army. On the Sunday following his removal from the hotel, Mrs. Minnie Porter, another guest there, was taken to Bellevue Hospital, suffering from alcoholism. She has been in a state of coma ever since, and there is slight hope of her recovery. She is a fairly good-looking woman, 35 or 40 years old, and very little has been learned of her history, save that she comes of respectable parentage. On May 3 Col. Houston drove to the Everett House in a cab. Mrs. Porter and a man servant were with him. He registered for both. She was assigned to room 47 and he to room 64. He did not say what his relations with the woman were, and as their conduct at the hotel was perfectly proper, he was not asked. But his man servant on two or three occasions said that she was the Colonel's niece.

Col. Houston was ill but he attended to his duties in the Army building up to ten days ago. After that he spent all his time in his room until his removal. Friends called on him, but it is said they heard nothing at all of Mrs. Porter, whose room was not on the same floor with the Colonel's.

Mrs. Porter, during the mean time, had caused some talk. She had been appearing now and then in a condition bordering on intoxication, she went out often. In her room at the hotel she had beer once in a while until the hotel people learned that she had drank too much, and then they refused to send beer to the room.

Apparently, the hotel people say, there was nothing more between Col. Houston and Mrs. Porter than a casual acquaintance. She knew when Col. Houston was taken to the hospital by his friends, but she made no comment to speak of. She went on drinking stuff that she got outside the hotel until Sunday, when she was found in a state bordering on coma and the hotel physician ordered her removal to Bellevue.

After she was gone it was discovered that she had been drinking pure alcohol. She bought a small bottle of it on Saturday night.

Every day after she was taken to the hospital a young man called there to ask about her, and once in a while he went in to see her. He would tell nothing about her or about himself, and her identity was a mystery until Wednesday, when a telegram was received from Mrs. C. S. Porter of New Haven, saying she was the aunt of the woman and would reach New York on an afternoon train. She got to the hospital in the evening. She would tell nothing about the niece nor about herself. Yesterday morning the young man went to the hospital. She described herself as Mrs. Alice Williams of 207 West Twenty-second street. After she had seen Mrs. Porter she said that she had been an old schoolmate of hers, but had not seen her for some time. When she went away she asked that in case anything happened word should be sent her at the address given. No 207 West Twenty-second street is a vacant house.

The young man when he called at the hospital was pressed for his name and address, and with apparent reluctance he said he was W. W. Mitchell and lived at 351 Fourth avenue. He said that Mrs. Williams was not known.

Mrs. Porter, the aunt, called at the hospital again yesterday afternoon, and she was closely questioned. She said she did not understand what the relations between Col. Houston and her niece were. Her niece was not the Colonel's niece, she said. She said that Mrs. Porter, the patient, was born in Galveston, and had married a man who was well known in New York, but had separated from him twelve years ago. The couple had no children, she said. The young man who called at the hospital so persistently, she said, was Col. Houston's valet.

Col. Houston was 60 years old, and he had been a soldier nearly all his life. He was graduated in the engineering corps of the West Point Academy in 1856. In May, 1861, he was promoted to First Lieutenant, and on March 3, 1863, he was made a Captain. His career during the war was a fine one. After the battle of Cedar Rapids he was twice brevetted, once as a Captain and the second time as a Major. After the war, in 1867, he was promoted to Major. In June, 1882, he was made Lieutenant-Colonel, and in July, 1889, he was promoted to Colonel. Since then he has been in charge of the river and harbor work of the port of New York.

Col. Houston married shortly before the war broke out. He was a widower at the time of his death. A brother lives in Milwaukee. Notice of his death was sent there, and the brother is expected here to-day to take charge of the body, which is still at St. Vincent's Hospital.

NEW HAVEN, May 18.—Mrs. Minnie Porter is not known here. Her aunt, Mrs. Henry C. Porter of 342 Crown street, is not in town tonight. Her husband says that he knew Mrs. Minnie Porter about two years ago, and at that time she was with Col. Houston.

MRS. SHANN INDICTED.

Reads the Newspapers While Awaiting Trial for Poisoning Her Son.

TRENTON, May 18.—Mrs. Mattie Shann, the Princeton woman who is accused of having poisoned her son, John Shann, to get the insurance on his life, was indicted by the Grand Jury to-day for murder in the first degree. Mrs. Shann is still in the county jail here. She has retained a leading firm of criminal lawyers, and entertains strong hopes of acquittal upon her trial. She has been instructed not to talk about her case, and spends nearly all her time in the cell reading newspapers. She has not yet been informed of the Grand Jury's findings, but will be as soon as the indictment is presented to the court.

The Witnesses in Hand Are Better than 200 in the Bush.

Meyer Caudle, a Russian 40 years of age, was accused at Jefferson Market yesterday of stealing an $80 gold watch from Morris Levi, 60 years old, of 225 Bridge street.

Levi's daughter was married on Wednesday night in the synagogue at 126 Allen street. Just before the ceremony Caudle, who was not an invited guest, created considerable excitement by showing his hand into the pocket of a young woman named Ada Fosterwick and trying to steal her pocketbook. He escaped at the time, but returned again, and while Mr. Levi and his guests were congratulating the bride and groom, jarked Mr. Levi's watch from his pocket and started on a run for the door. This time he did not escape, but was arrested by a policeman from the Charles street station who happened to be passing. He said yesterday that he could bring 200 witnesses to prove his innocence.

"Send for them, then," said the Justice. "In the mean time I will hold you in $1,000 bail."

Saw Poverty Ahead and Tried Suicide.

Conrad Kuper, owner of the Saratoga Express and Van Company, at 305 Sixth avenue, turned on the eight gas burners in his office early yesterday morning and lay down to die. Two of his drivers, who arrived at 7 o'clock, broke in the door, which he had locked, in time to save his life. He was unconscious, but revived at Roosevelt Hospital. He formerly kept a saloon in second avenue, near First street, and sold out at a loss about two months ago. A fortnight ago he invested what remained of his capital, $300, in the express company. The business did not pay. He has a wife and five children.

A Tailor Stabbed by a New Customer.

Jacob Thorner, a tailor at 120 Ewen street, Williamsburgh, was called upon yesterday just before noon by a light-complexioned man about 25 years old, who said he wanted to buy a suit of clothes. After selecting a dark suit he asked Thorner to wrap it up. When the tailor turned to go to the rear of the store the stranger pulled out a small knife and jabbed the blade twice into Thorner's back. Thorner ran to the front of the store, opened the door, and shouted for the police. The stranger ran out through a rear door into the yard and scaled a fence, escaping into Johnson avenue. Thorner's wounds are slight.

The Bolivian Giant in Hospital.

Santos Namani, the Bolivian giant, who has been on exhibition at the Press Club fair since May 7, was removed to the Bellevue Hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Santos is 20 years old, nearly seven feet tall, married, has five children, and comes from a place called Huancane in Bolivia. Santos had not been feeling well for the past ten days, and as he was constantly getting worse, his manager had him removed to the hospital. There it was said that the symptoms were those of pneumonia.

NOW THE POLICEMAN IS ACCUSED.

He Says a Gang Attacked Him, but Witnesses Say He Was the Assailant.

Policeman Fitzgerald of the West Forty-seventh street squad yesterday arraigned before Justice McMahon, in the Yorkville Police Court, Michael McManus of 434 West Fifty-seventh street and John A. Ward of 518 West Fifty-second street, who were accused by James Hughes, a sweeper in the Street Cleaning Department, of interfering with him at his work. Hughes appealed to Fitzgerald for protection. At this the policeman said the prisoners and others set upon him and knocked him down. He drew his billy, and, after a fierce struggle, succeeded in putting McMannus and Ward under arrest.

The prisoners told a very different tale. They said they were sitting in front of O'Donnell's saloon when the officer told them to move on. Not complying on the moment, the officer drew his billy and clubbed them. McManus fared the worse. His face and head were battered badly. William Murphy, a fish dealer at 500 West Fifty-first street, corroborated the prisoners' story. A number of citizens came to court, and with them Attorney John Kline, whom they had employed to plead for McManus and Wood.

On hearing the citizens' story Justice McMahon ordered a complaint taken against the policeman. Fitzgerald seemed surprised and showed up the injuries on his face, which he said were inflicted by the prisoners, whereupon three citizens made oath that when the officer was taking the men to the station he had no marks whatever on his face. Justice McMahon also remarked that the wounds looked as though they were self-inflicted.

The Judge held Fitzgerald in $500 bail for examination on Saturday, and paroled him in the custody of Sergeant Morgan. He discharged the complaint against McManus and held Ward, on Hughes's complaint, in $500 for further examination.

CANNIBALISM IN QUEBEC.

A Father Kills His Daughter for Food When in a Starving Condition.

MONTREAL, May 18.—The following details have reached here of the story of cannibalism reported briefly yesterday:

Last fall the members of an Indian tribe called Nasconopis started out for their winter hunt around the river Ste. Marguerite, below Quebec. Among the party was a man of the name of Jacks and his daughter, aged 16.

The hunt proved a failure. The party hastened to return as soon as possible, and after enduring hardships and starvation, its members finally reached a point in the wilderness some sixty miles distant from their homes. Weak and famished, without a morsel to eat, they were in a desperate condition.

The father of the girl resolved to sacrifice her to preserve his own life, and one morning when his companions were nearly frozen with the cold he killed his daughter and appeased his hunger.

Horror stricken, his companions fled, refusing to take the miserable man with them, and at last accounts he had not yet made his appearance in the settlement, and the probability is that, if he was not murdered, he is keeping away on account of his crime.

The others finally succeeded in getting back to their homes more dead than alive, and later the story was related to the Rev. Mr. Maltais, curate of St. Etienne Du Saguenay, who at once notified Coroner Paffard of Pointe Des Monts with a view to an investigation.

James Gray Accused of Abduction.

James Gray, aged 30, who arrived here on Wednesday on the Anchoria from Glasgow, is locked up on Ellis Island accused of abducting an immigrant girl from the island. When the passengers from the Anchoria arrived at Ellis Island Mrs. Butler, the representative of the Methodist Home Mission, 27 State street, was offering religious advice to Berry Stanley, a young Irish woman, who was one of the immigrants. Mrs. Butler was called away for a few minutes, and when she came back Berry Stanley had disappeared. Mrs. Butler was greatly surprised at this, as the young woman was to go to the Home with her.

Yesterday Gray went over to Ellis Island and left an order in the baggage room for his baggage and that of Berry Stanley to be sent to the Bay View Hotel, 48 Whitehall street. Mrs. Butler and a policeman went to the hotel. There they found Miss Stanley. Gray had taken her to the hotel on Wednesday night, registered as John Murphy and wife, and both had occupied the same room.

Miss Stanley was taken over to the island to confront Gray, whose case will be investigated by Commissioner Senner.

The St. Johnland Farm May Be Abolished.

The Charities Commissioners of Kings county agree with Mayor Boody that more than $2,000,000 has been wasted in establishing the county institutions at St. Johnland, and that no time should be lost in relieving the county from the elephant on its hands. Commissioner Nolan said yesterday: "The property should be sold before another dollar is spent on it. The State would probably be a purchaser if the property was put on the market."

More Gifts to Chicago University.

CHICAGO, May 18.—John D. Rockefeller has given $150,000 to the University of Chicago in order that Martin A. Ryerson's gift of $100,000, conditional on the raising of $400,000 more, might become available. About $100,000 has been raised already, so that now there remains but $150,000 to complete the $500,000 needed as an equipment fund. The money must be secured by July 1 or the Ryerson and Rockefeller gifts will be lost to the university.

Will Not Compete with the Bru.

The new company composed of New York and Brooklyn merchants which has just been incorporated in Albany, and which in its certificate of incorporation declared the object of the company to be to manufacture, purchase and sell egg yolks throughout the United States, is a company for the manufacture from egg yolks, with the help of a liquid material for their preservation, of a substance to be used in tanning.

No War Vessels Sent to Peru.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—No naval vessel has yet been ordered to Peru and no advices have been received from that country by the Department of State to indicate the necessity of sending a vessel there. Secretary Gresham said this afternoon that he had received no information from Peru and knew nothing of the reported trouble there.

Three Stream Drivers Drowned.

CONCORD, N. H., May 18.—James Roy and Elmer Arlo of Bartlett and Alexander Alearow with three others, attempted to shoot the rapids at Sewall's Falls in a boat at 6 o'clock this morning. The boat capsized and the three men named were drowned.

They were river men employed in driving logs.

Pension Lawyers Indicted.

NORFOLK, May 18.—The United States Grand Jury has brought in eight indictments against W. P. Drewry for violation of the pension law and six against B. A. Richardson, Jr., who was a notary public in Drewry's office. Richardson is Drewry's nephew.
