THE FLYING DOMINO AGAIN.

THE GRAND KEENE COLT WINS THE $20,000 GREAT ECLIPSE STAKES.

Nothing in the Race Could Hurry the Son of Himyar—Banquet Shoulders 130 Pounds and Wins the Standard Stakes in Remarkably Fast Time—Comanche at 30 to 1 Successful in the Belmont Stakes, and He Wasn't Ridden by Clayton—Roller Lands His Third Consecutive Race—A Race for Mr. Lorillard—Matty Corbett's Good Luck.

Domino, Banquet, and Comanche were the thoroughbreds that aroused the enthusiasm of the 15,000 persons at Morris Park yesterday afternoon, the $20,000 Great Eclipse going to the former in the easiest manner imaginable, while Banquet won the Standard Stakes so cleverly that there are few horses capable of giving him a race over a distance of ground, the time for the mile and a quarter being 2:05¾, the record for the Morris Park course. As for Comanche, he won the Belmont Stakes, worth $6,120 to the winner, and proved beyond the possibility of a doubt that A. Clayton did not ride him honestly a few days ago, when Starter Rowe accused the jockey of pulling him. Dr. Rice was favorite for the Belmont, but injudiciously ridden, he was beaten in the final strides by Comanche, against whose chances as good as 30 to 1 could be had in the ring.

Nobody ever saw a race won in handier fashion than was the Great Eclipse by Domino. The remarkable prowess of the son of Himyar frightened all but Dobbins, Declare, St. Julien, Sam Lucas, and Hurlingham out of the contest; in fact, it was a foregone conclusion that the Keene representative would win. But there was the chance of an accident, and, besides, $2,000 went to the second and $1,000 to the third. The Keenes, father and son, fortunate men to own a colt that appears to have $125,000 worth of stakes at his mercy, mingled with the throng in the club house and upon the lawn, and were told before the race that all was over but the shouting. The bookmakers held the brown or chestnut (for there appears to be a doubt as to his exact color) thunderbolt favorite at 2 to 1 on, and so fast did the money pour in at these odds that they were forced to cut to 3 and even 4 to 1 on. Dobbins was very strongly supported for second place, but the Dwyer colt Declare was also thought well of, and there was a vast difference of opinion as to the merits of the pair. Some placed Hurlingham to run second, but bold indeed was the man to predict a forward position for St. Julien or Sam Lucas.

Domino was quite tractable at the post, and when Mr. Rowe dropped the flag he appeared slow to move away, Hurlingham and Declare being the leaders in the first furlong. Rounding the elbow, however, Domino, under a pull, strode up to Declare and the Blemton candidate, and the trio swept head and head into the dip, Lambley moving Dobbins up from behind. When the last quarter pole was reached Domino's nose was tilted saucily and his head leaned to one side, showing that Taral had him well in hand. Declare, on the contrary, was beginning to hang, and Doggett's heels were busy although his hands were quiet. Lambley was right at hand with Dobbins measuring his opponents critically. He glanced across at Hurlingham, and saw that the son of King Galop was beaten. Raising the second hill Taral straightened Domino's head and the race was over, the favorite romping away from his field and passing the judges two lengths before Dobbins, who disposed of Declare after a brief battle at the furlong pole.

Domino wasn't the least distressed by his efforts, and Taral was enthusiastic about the colt. Unless somebody has an extraordinarily good two-year-old under cover, the Keene stable will win more money than any other stable in the land. James R. Keene finds time enough to escape from the cares of Wall street every afternoon, and he had seen Domino perform before, but the junior member of the firm, who returned from a road only a few days, saw the wonder yesterday for the first time in a public performance. As he bought the colt as a yearling, he was naturally elated. One doesn't pick up a world beater every day for $3,000. Declare ran a remarkably good game race, considering the fact that he was hung in the paddock before the race.

The Standard Stakes had but three candidates, Banquet the even money favorite, the second choice The Pepper, and Reckon. Reckon, attended by The Pepper, set a smashing pace until half a mile from home, where she collapsed, and Banquet drew up to The Pepper. Mr. Daly's representative was going so smoothly, and had such an advantage in the weights, that Simms evidently thought he held Banquet safe. In the run home, however, the game little gelding, whose stride is as regular and apparently as tireless as machinery, gradually forged to the front, and soon Simms was riding like a madman. Lambley shook Banquet up, kicked him in the ribs a few times, and coming on steady and true, the gamecock gelding was first by a neck in the remarkable time of 2:05¾. Reckon was a tired horse, Littlefield very wisely refraining from punishing the mare when he saw that he could not beat either of his opponents. Capt. Batcock timed the first quarter in 24¾ seconds, the half mile in 50 seconds, and the six furlongs in 1:16¾, while Starter Rowe, who could see the half mile pole, caught Banquet the last half in 49¾ seconds. This is remarkable time, as the winner carried 130 pounds.

Don Alonzo was withdrawn from the Belmont Stakes and Dr. Rice was made a warm favorite on the strength of his victory in the Wither's Stakes a few days ago. Rainbow, Prince George, St. Domingo, and Comanche were the other starters, the last named being the rank outsider at 25 and 30 to 1. "If Rice doesn't bleed he will win by a block," was a common remark before the race. He didn't bleed and he failed to win, but it was probably because Doggett carried him so fast over the hill. Rainbow lay in second position with Comanche at his saddle until well into the stretch, where Prince George, St. Domingo, and Rainbow were all beaten. Doggett hit Modred's colt, under Simms's careful nursing, began gaining upon the favorite and a furlong from home he caught him. Both Doggett and Simms rode their test from there to the finish, and the victory was with the outsider, Comanche winning by a short neck. Rainbow was a bad third. The time (2:33¾) indicates that the Messrs. Dahlman have a good colt in Comanche. His forte is speed; yet this is the horse that Hiram beat in a six-furlong dash one day last week. Clayton was lucky in having to deal with such tender-hearted men as John A. Morris and P. J. Dwyer.

Roller, Raceland, and Iddesleigh were all strongly fancied for the first race, a dash at seven furlongs. Fitzpatrick had the mount on the English horse, while Garrison took a chance of lightning striking him and accepted the mount on the outsider, Fort Worth. When the flag fell Fort Worth ran away with Garrison, and there would have been a bad accident had Fitzpatrick not pulled to the rail and let him through. Fort Worth and Iddesleigh went up the hill at a terrible clip, Roller and Raceland trailing. Coming home Roller gained very rapidly, and at the furlong pole had the Englishman in trouble. Lambley waited too long with old Bones, and Raceland, although gaining rapidly, could not quite get up, and Roller won by three-quarters of a length. Iddesleigh was third, three lengths away.

Black Hawk, Pecksniff, and Appomattox were the most fancied of the fourteen two-year-olds that went to the post at half a mile, but Aleppo, Lady Rosemary, Tenacious, and Ouida had quite a following. After half a dozen breaks the youngsters got away in good shape, with Black Hawk, Aleppo, and Lady Rosemary in the van. Appomattox severely at the quarter pole, interfering with Angio, and Berg it was compelled to pull up. In the dip Ouida, Pecksniff, and Aurelian challenged the leaders, and the thousand in the grand stand upon the lawn shouted themselves hoarse over the finish, which was of the most desperate character. Ouida was first by a nose, while Black Hawk beat Pecksniff a length. A few inches away came Aurelian and Aleppo. The winner is by Sir Modred out of the great mare Wanda, winner of the Junior Champion and other great races for Mr. Pierre Lorillard.

Lyceum carried the hopes of a majority of the talent for the fifth race, a selling event at six furlongs, but Arab, Restraint, and Poor Jonathan were well played. Matty Corbett, as clever a turfman as New York can show, had confidence in his big four-year-old Strephon and did not let him go to the post unbacked, getting as good as 10 to 1 for his money. Lyceum, Kinglet, and Restraint bored down hill and were joined by Strephon at the end of three furlongs. In the final furlong Strephon and Lyceum drew away from the others, Strephon always having the advantage and winning by a length. Kinglet was third, a length away. Arab was in trouble half way home, and Bergen could never get him into a dangerous position. Then, too, he was interfered with a couple of times. Matty Corbett won hand-somely over Strephon. Charles F. Dwyer, eldest son of H. P. Dwyer, owns Poor Jonathan, his colors being pink with white cap and gold tassel. THE SUN wishes the young man a full mead of success.

Yorkville Belle had only Ambulance, Lizzie, and Marie K. to beat in the concluding run at a mile, and the sharpshooters backed Mr. Croker's mare as long as the bookmakers would take their money. Lambley waited with the Belle, permitting Littlefield to make the pace with Ambulance, until opposite the free field. Then he cut loose and Yorkville Belle promptly drew out and won in a gallop. Ambulance easily disposed of Lizzie for second money, while Marie K. was outclassed.

Messrs. Stephen Sanford & Sons' Hurricania Stud, Amsterdam, this State, have bought from Mr. Pierre Lorillard the great five-year-old mare La Tosca, by imported St. Blaise, out of imported Touchous. The price paid was $12,000, and the greatest daughter of Charlie Reed's Derby winner will be placed in the stud. She was one of the greatest mares ever seen in this country, and broke down while running second to Charade in the Metropolitan Handicap on May 31, the opening day of the Morris Park meeting. Mated with imported Loyalist she should produce a great race horse.

As the Guttenburgers and Peter De Lacey's pool room at Fort Lee have apparently had no difficulty in securing information on the Morris Park races, the New York Jockey Club had the Western Union Telegraph Company remove their wires from the club house during the afternoon.

Leibgold's Try at the Record.

Samuel Leibgold, Pastime A. C., the three-mile champion walker of the A. A. U., attempted to break the one-mile amateur record at Berkeley Oval yesterday afternoon. The record has stood to the credit of Frank P. Murray since Oct. 27, 1888, when he covered the mile in 6 minutes 29 3-5 seconds. It was estimated that Leibgold covered the distance inside 6 minutes 33 seconds at the New York A. C. games on June 3, and so agreeably surprised were the Pastime officials that they scheduled a special event yesterday to draw him more fully out.

Secretary James E. Sullivan of the A. A. U. officiated as referee, Walter W. Scott, N. J. A. C., was judge, and the timers were Robert Stoll, J. C. Spaeth, G. M. L. Sacks and E. Jansen Wendell.

Leibgold went away at a killing pace and covered the quarter in 1 minute 27 3-5 seconds, precisely the same time that Frank Murray took to walk his record quarter in London on July 5, 1884.

The half was reached in 3 minutes 13 2-5 seconds, with Leibgold in apparent distress from the clip at which he went off. He covered the three-quarters in 5 minutes 1 1-5 seconds, and struggled on gamely to the finish, allout. The full time was 6 minutes 46 3-5 seconds, a long way off Leibgold's true form. His claim-mates, F. Durr, M. Levy, and Louis Leibgold, brought him along in turn, but a genuine handicap field in front of him would have cut out the work much more evenly.

The Yale Crew at New London.

NEW LONDON, June 10.—The Yale 'varsity crew arrived here at 8:11 o'clock to-night, and were taken at once to their quarters at Gale's Ferry on their steam launch Mary, where are a crisky looking set of men. The Yale freshmen will not reach here until a week from next Monday. Cowles came with the 'varsity crew. Bob Cook is expected later.

HOT RACING ON THE HILL.

The Odds-on Favorites Krikina, Sir Catesby, and Salisbury Beaten.

The attendance was very large at Guttenburg yesterday, and a fine programme rewarded those who made the trip. Thirty-seven bookmakers drew for positions, and the betting ring was crowded by the fraternity during the afternoon.

There was a heavy plunge on Krikina in the first race, the daughter of Muscovy being an odds on favorite, but she was not prominent at any stage of the race.

Bob Sutherland cut out the pace from the start and led to the finish, winning by three open lengths from Lord Motley, who beat Pan Handle a scant half length for the place.

Wheeler was a rank favorite in the second race, a six-furlong dash, for three-year-olds. They were sent away in a bunch, and there was a hot struggle between Wheeler and Rear Guard on the backstretch and around the turn, but the son of Post Guard was master of the situation, and won by an open length. Indigo came third, four lengths in the wake of Wheeler.

The faithful laid their money, at odds of 10 to 9 on Sir Catesby in the third race. Again their choice did not realize their hopes. Sorrento took the lead at the start, and piloted the field the first three-quarters of a mile, when he died away. McCormack took the lead as they turned into the homestretch, and led to the last half furlong, where P. Doane began to ride Sockbarren, who responded gamely, and snatched the victory from McCormack by a half length. Snedeker, who had the mount on McCormack, made no effort, but gave up just at the critical moment and lost a race he should have won. Sir Catesby came third.

The six to one shot Lepanto surprised the talent in the fourth race, a handicap at six furlongs. Strathmaid took the lead, but fell into third place in the second furlong. Toano going to the front and leading into the homestretch, where the old fellow wilted. Lepanto came very fast on the final furlong, and won by two lengths from Lord Harry. Tom Tough a poor third.

Elizzard piloted the field in the fifth race from the start, and won in a gallop by two open lengths. Sting Leo got the place by two lengths from Shenandoah.

Salisbury was heavily backed in the sixth race, Bohemian showed in front in the second furlong, winning hands down by three lengths. Clarus got the place by two lengths from Salisbury. Summary:

RACING AT ST. LOUIS.

El Rayo and Eli Kindig Make a Match of the Missouri Stakes.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The programme of eight races drew about 5,000 to the Fair Grounds track to-day. The scratching of Walter reduced the event of the day, the Missouri Selling Stakes at nine furlongs, to a match between El Rayo, 115 (Chaney), and Eli Kindig, 105 (Perkinson), the former being an odds on favorite at 6 to 1, the price against Eli Kindig being 5 to 1. El Rayo led by from one to two lengths for a mile, but the minute Eli Kindig collared him he began to quit, the outsider winning by a length. The time, 1:57, was slow for the fast track.

Perkinson, who rode the winner, held a ticket on a down-town pool room calling for $1,000 to $100. The liberal odds was laid on the winner was scratched.

Ten started in the first race, at six furlongs. Adair, 108 (C. McDonald), the favorite, at 2 to 1, won easily by a length from Tramp, at 5 to 1 shot, who beat Alice 1, a like distance for second place. Time, 1:17½.

Millionaire McDonough's filly Rosalie, 110 (H. Taylor), was an 8 to 5 favorite in the second race, six furlongs. Followday, the second pick, finished second, a length before Marjory Hilton. Time, 1:02¾.

The Scholarship stakes, for two starters, was won in a canter by the 4 to 5 favorite Lottie Mills, 107 (H. Taylor); the 25 to 1 chance Mamie S., beat Northwestern out three lengths for the place. Time, 1:02¼.

Eleven started in the Commodore Handicap at one mile. The favorite, Lipman, 95 (F. Carr), at 5 to 2, won the purse by a length from Sly Lisbon; Lucille Manette third. Time, 1:41.

The first half of the split mile selling race, with ten starters, was an upset, Jim Neck, 104, at 12 to 1, winning cleverly by two lengths, while Dan Honig, a 15 to 1 chance, beat the jaw from another outsider, the Peer, by a length. Immanda, the favorite, finished fourth. Time, 1:44½.

Nine started in the second part of this race. Hasty, 101, ridden by F. Carr, won in a drive by a neck from the 10 to 1 shot Leonard. May Hardy third. Time, 1:42¾.

A mile and fifty yards dash, with five starters, ended the racing. Falero was an odds on favorite, but he came in third, the finish being a duel between Soundmore and Senator Morrell, the latter being beaten a length. Time, 1:46¾.

Nonpareil A. C. Games.

RAHWAY, June 10.—The games of the Nonpareil Athletic Club were held this afternoon on the U. C. B. grounds before a fair-sized crowd. A. T. Boland, the "dark horse" who beat the college sprinter at Bergen Point on Decoration Day, won the Union county championship 100-yard dash in 10 2-5 seconds; also the open 100-yard dash with ease in 10 4-5 seconds.

Sanger Beaten by Harris.

LONDON, June 10.—The scratch mile cycling race at Herne Hill to-day was won by Harris, the Englishman, in 2 minutes 34 seconds. Sanger, the American, was second.

VALKYRIE WINS AGAIN.

She Beats the Britannia on the Time Allowance.

LONDON, June 10.—Another yacht race took place to-day, in which the Prince of Wales's cutter Britannia and Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie, which will be the English contestant for the America's Cup, took part. The course was from the Nore Lightship, which lies between the Maplin Sands and Sheppey Island, marking the entrance to the River Thames, to Dover, at the entrance to the Strait of Dover.

The start was made shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning. There was a fairly strong wind from the east-northeast, and the weather was fine. The water was somewhat choppy. Besides the Valkyrie and Britannia, the cutters Satanita, Calluna, and Iverna took part in the race. The wind was too strong to allow the boats to carry their heavy topsails, and only light canvas was carried aloft.

The Iverna had the best of the start. Shortly after crossing the line, however, the Valkyrie took the lead, closely pressed by the Britannia. The Calluna had had her keel lightened during the week, and she showed the effect in unusually good sailing. The Satanita acted badly, not taking the stiff breeze over well. From her action to-day it is considered by experts that she is tender. She proved herself rather jumpy, and stuck her nose into the sea altogether too much for a fast sailer in a seaway.

When the Goodwin Sands, a comparatively short distance to the east of Dover, were abeam of the Valkyrie she was two minutes ahead of the Britannia. Behind the Britannia came the Calluna, Satanita, and the Iverna. As the yachts rounded the East Goodwin Lightship the Valkyrie was three minutes wide, and the Britannia shot up to the windward and passed her. The Valkyrie made a great struggle to regain her lost position, and a fine race resulted. The Britannia, however, held her advantage, and finally got a slightly better lead, which she retained to the end of the race.

The Britannia arrived first at Dover, but the Valkyrie won on time allowance. The Valkyrie is a smaller vessel than the Britannia, and the latter has to allow her about a minute.

The Satanita was third to finish, five minutes after the Valkyrie. The Calluna finished nearly two minutes later than the Satanita, while the Iverna did not pass the post until nineteen minutes after the Britannia had finished.

The Calluna, though she finished fourth, got the third prize on time allowance.

The official times were subsequently announced as follows: Britannia, 3 hours 3 minutes 5 seconds; Valkyrie, 3 hours 3 minutes 22 seconds; Satanita, 3 hours 8 minutes 57 seconds; Calluna, 3 hours 10 minutes 31 seconds; Iverna, 3 hours 22 minutes.
