AMATEURS HAVE THE CALL

IN THE TWO LOCAL BICYCLE MEETINGS HELD YESTERDAY.

Two Records Broken at Manhattan Field—Zimmerman Beats the Ten-mile Time Over that Track—George Smith Lowers the Half-mile Record—At Eastern Park

At least 8,000 persons were present at Manhattan Field yesterday, the event being the second annual race meeting of the Riverside Wheelmen. Glorious weather, a fast track, spirited races, and unusual enthusiasm were the special features of this most successful affair. The entry list was very large, there being over 200 entries in the one-mile handicap alone. The trial heats were started promptly at 1:30 o'clock, and the management deserve particular credit for the manner in which they ran off all the events.

In consequence of the large fields there were a number of accidents. In the one-mile handicap several riders, including Nelson, the scratch man, fell on the upper turn. Nelson dislocated his shoulder-blade, and Louis Clarke of Englewood had one of his fingers knocked out of joint. Both men were attended by physicians. A peculiar accident occurred in the final heat of the two-mile race. Steensen, who was practically the scratch man, had just reached the finishing line at a fast gait when the tape became unloosened. It caught in his wheel and threw him, his legs being barked in the fall.

In the half-mile State championship of the L. A. W. the only starters were Carl Hess, the Murphy boys, and George Smith. Charley Murphy led all the way. Smith made a strong but ineffectual effort to pass Murphy in the last quarter. A question was raised in regard to the eligibility of Carl Hess in the decision championship, but the referee ruled that while he was in business at Newark, and rode for the Atalanta Wheelmen of that city, he was a member of the New York State division.

The announcement that Zimmerman would compete in the ten-mile race aroused considerable enthusiasm. It was the champion's first appearance in this city since his return from England.

Seven men came out for the final heat in the one-mile 2:40 class. Paul Grosch was the favorite. He took the lead at the start and rode easily for half a mile. Titus, the heavy-weight Riverside racer, then tried to out-sprint Grosch, but the latter won well within himself. A time limit of 2:45 was placed upon the one-mile scratch race. The riders determined to beat this, and at once set out on a hot pace. Charley Murphy and George Smith, the Riverside crack, rode a great race down the home-stretch, the former winning by about two inches.

The riding of William F. Murphy was a disappointment. George Smith rode an exhibition half mile, and took a flying start. He was paced by Zimmerman. Smith went to the quarter in 32 seconds, and the half mile in 1 minute 6 2-5 seconds. This is the fastest time for the distance ever made on the track. The previous record was 1 minute 11 2-5 seconds.

The event of the day was the ten-mile invitation race. The starters were Titus, Campbell, Price, Hoyland Smith, Zimmerman, W. Murphy, C. Murphy, Hess, and Connelly. There was a time limit of thirty-two minutes. Hess cut out the pace for the first quarter, when Billy Murphy moved up. Some of the men were inclined to loaf at the half mile. Here Titus started in to show a great burst of speed. Zimmerman and Hoyland Smith, the two most formidable men in the race, were riding easily in sixth and seventh positions. Titus led at one mile in 2 minutes 44½ seconds. Charley Murphy then cut the wind for an easy half mile, when Zimmerman slipped up and increased the pace. W. Murphy was in front at two miles, which was covered in 5 minutes 36 2-5 seconds. After this Smith, Zimmerman, and Connelly pulled away from the field and alternated the pace for a mile, when Charley Murphy, with a good burst of speed, came through and assumed the lead.

Zimmerman led at three miles; time, 8 minutes 8 2-5 seconds. Meanwhile Charley Murphy was ahead at four miles in 11 minutes 10 seconds. Titus dropped out at three miles, and W. Murphy retired at four and three-quarter miles. Charley Price was in the lead at five miles; time, 14 minutes 4 4-5 seconds. Hess crossed the tape first at six miles in 17 minutes 1 3-5 seconds, and was still ahead at seven miles in 20 minutes 13 4-5 seconds. Smith went to the front at seven and a half miles, and cut a snail-like pace. He covered the eighth mile in the lead in 23 minutes 31 1-5 seconds. W. S. Campbell then came out and took the lead for two laps. Connelly was ahead at nine miles; time, 26 minutes 50 2-5 seconds.

The pace then quickened, and Hess, Zimmerman, and Charley Murphy took the lead, riding abreast. C. Murphy let himself out at 9¾ miles, followed by Zimmerman and Smith. Coming into the homestretch Zimmerman took the lead, and won handily. C. Murphy was second and Hoyland Smith third.

BERLO WINS THE HANDICAP.

But Wheeler Took the Ten-mile Event in Great Style.

Harry Wheeler was beaten in the Brooklyn Handicap for the $500 purse, at Eastern Park yesterday afternoon, by P. J. Berlo, who had a start of thirty-five yards in the mile. Wheeler then won the ten-mile scratch race after a remarkable exhibition of gameness and speed. The races were under the National Cycling Association's rules, and attracted a good-sized crowd. There were fifteen starters in the big handicap, with Wheeler on the scratch, A. B. Rich at 20 yards, Berlo at 35, Dorntze at 60, and the others ranging up to 160 yards. It was a hot race all the way. On the last lap Berlo spurted just as Wheeler caught him, and the two raced down the stretch wheel on wheel. Berlo was the stronger, and won, but only by a short yard. Wheeler was second, with Dorntze third, and Rich fourth. Kluge, who finished fifth, immediately protested Berlo, on the ground that he had fouled him by cutting across his path as they entered the stretch. But Referee Bunnell refused to allow the protest.

There were eleven starters in the ten-mile race. Meixell set the pace for the first mile with Wheeler always second. Then Ashinger forged to the front and stayed there for two miles, dogged all the way by Wheeler, Rich, and Dorntze. On the first lap of the fourth mile Berlo dashed to the front, setting a killing pace, but on the completion of the mile Albert was in front, with Berlo, Wheeler, Dorntze, and Rich close up. Ashinger was last, Meixell having dropped out. Berlo now took the lead again, hard pressed by Wheeler. After going four and a half miles Wheeler suddenly slowed up and the crowd cried "He's quit. Wheeler's out of it." But just as he reached the grandstand he jumped from his wheel and mounted another that was held in position by his trainer. He had picked up a nail on the track which got caught in the running gear so that a change was necessary.

But he had lost 220 yards when he started anew. Still he rushed after the flying leaders like a locomotive, while the crowd cheered him madly. Crocker quit at five miles, but Dorntze, Rich, and Berlo continued to work with a will. At five miles and a half Wheeler was fourth, still going like the wind, and after another lap he succeeded in reaching the bunch of riders, amid deafening cheers. Rich was leading at the sixth mile, followed by Dorntze, Berlo, Wheeler, and Ashinger. The last-named promptly put on steam and headed the procession for the next two miles, with the others running easy. On the first lap of the ninth mile Wheeler spurted and showed in front. Rich was after him, with Ashinger and Berlo pegging away on even terms. They stayed this way until the tenth mile was begun, when Berlo moved up to Wheeler. At the half Ashinger made a final effort for a lap, and then died. Wheeler gradually drew away and won by three yards from Berlo, who barely beat Dorntze for the place. Rich was fourth. Wheeler was enthusiastically cheered as he walked to his dressing room.

The opening race was a consolation event at a mile, best two in three heats. Before Bunnell refused to allow Rich to start, as he was not a novice, and Rich threatened to withdraw from the other contests. But he finally subsided and raced just the same. J. A. Newhouse captured this event quite easily. Wheeler won both heats, and took first money in the second event at one mile, scratch. Berlo was second. The summaries:

Knickerbockers' Open Handicap Brings Out 49 Players.

The open handicap of the Knickerbocker Tennis Club began yesterday afternoon on the club courts, 140th street and Brook avenue. Forty-nine players contested in the men's singles, the largest number that has ever taken part in an American tournament except the Newport championships. Excellent work was done by Wyeth, Hobart, Burchard, Lockwood, and Agelasto. The handicapping was excellent, there being only two one-sided games, and in one of these the loser was hardly in condition to play. The preliminary round has nearly been finished, and the first round begins Monday. The scores yesterday:

Men's Singles—Preliminary round: Ross Burchard, Yale L. T. A., owe half-fifteen, beat Arthur Burrows, Central Park, fifteen, 6—3, 6—3; Haywood H. Heywood, Central Park, scratch, beat H. G. Hobart Wins the Tuxedo Championship.

TUXEDO PARK, July 8.—By winning the Tuxedo championship this afternoon, Clarence Hobart pretty effectually demonstrated the fact that he is by far the most skilful American expert on a direct court. Whether he can maintain this standard on a grass court remains to be seen. By defeating Edward L. Hall, Hobart is entitled to the cup for the coming year.

Hobart played good tennis to-day. His swift drive stroke is not especially pleasing to look at, but it gets there just the same. Hall played his opponent's weak points for all they were worth, and did very skilful lobbing in the last two sets. Hobart's weak spots, however, were few and far between. The referee was O. S. Campbell. Summaries:

Men's Open Singles, Championship Match—Clarence Hobart of New York, challenger, defeated Edward L. Hall of New York, holder, 6—3, 6—3, 4—6, 6—1.

CANOES AND CANOING.

The Park Island Canoe Association will hold their annual regatta on Sept. 5.

The Palisade Canoe Club of Hoboken elected eight new members at their last meeting.

The Ianthe Canoe Club have found it necessary to build an addition to their club house in order to obtain sufficient locker room to accommodate their increased membership of this year.

The Algonquin Canoe Club of Trenton, N. J., have repaired the damage done to their house by the freshet in the Delaware last spring, and are now building a stone bulkhead to protect it from any similar danger in the future. It will cost over $500, and the new bridge which they are building across the water power to connect the house with Cadwallader Park will cost $1,000 more.

The Park Island Canoe Association is the possessor of two very handsome perpetual challenge trophies. The first was presented by ex-President Edmund C. Hill in 1890, and bears his name. It is two feet high, is of solid silver, and is valued at $200. It represents the paddling championship of the club. The other is a sailing trophy, and was presented last year by President H. E. Morse. It is about fourteen inches in height and is a valuable and handsome trophy.

The war canoe of the Park Island Canoe Association of Trenton, N. J., which was stoven in and carried down the river by a freshet last spring, has again made its appearance on the Delaware. It was rescued from the flood by some enterprising young mill hands of South Trenton, who sheathed it with tin, because of their inability to repair it where it was broken by the ice, and painted it red. It is now called the Weaver Rover and is a conspicuous object on the river.

The Rondout Canoe Club of Rondout, N. Y., is one of the most active of the Hudson River clubs. Its officers are: Commodore Harry Cuykendall; Vice-Commodore, George Hutton; Secretary, H. Morse Tremper; Treasurer, Dr. C. W. Crispell. There are twenty-five members and they own twenty canoes. They have recently built a large addition to the house, which will contain a kitchen on the first floor and a ladies' dressing room on the second. The large reception room upstairs will be refurnished in oak and rattan and a new stairway built. A new float has been built and the entire house repainted. A house warming will be given soon.
