CONNOR'S HIT WON THE GAME.

New Yorks Have a Clear Title to Sixth Position—Philadelphias Fall the Bostons Rock a Bit by Beating Them Handily—Chicagos Wallop the Clevelands and Baltimores Defeate the Washingtons—Notes.

The New Yorks won their second game from the Brooklyns yesterday and took sixth place in the pennant struggle, as the Cincinnatis, who were tied with them yesterday morning, didn't play. Ward is now just two games behind Foutz. The Philadelphias struck their old gait at Boston and captured a game from the champions by hard work. Anson's young men beat the Clevelands, while the Baltimores also beat the poor old Washingtons. There is only a little difference between O'Rourke's men and the tail-enders, and the betting is slightly in favor of Louisville. The results:

New York, 4; Brooklyn, 3.
Philadelphia, 7; Boston, 4.
Baltimore, 8; Washington, 2.
Chicago, 17; Cleveland, 6.

NEW YORK, 4; BROOKLYN, 3.

Somebody must have stolen that rabbit's foot or hoodooed the mascot, for the Brooklyns were again beaten by the New Yorks at the Polo grounds yesterday in one of the most hotly contested games of the season. Umpire Hornung had a hard time of it. Both sides kicked at everything, but the climax came in the fifth inning, when with two New Yorkers on bases Davis sent a fly to Burns and Ward tried to score on it. Burns threw the ball as straight as an arrow into Kinslow's hands, and Ward was clearly out. Hornung said so, and then there was what might have resulted in a free fight. Ward sprang at Hornung, caught him by the shoulder, and twisted him around like a top, at the same time fairly shrieking, "What's that?" Before the surprised umpire could answer, Doyle rushed at him and grabbed him by the arms, whirling him around again. This was too much for Hornung, who sailed into Doyle in real pugilistic style. Players jumped between the angry men, and Hornung then fined Doyle $5, and threatened to put him out of the game. Both Ward and Doyle were clearly in the wrong, and Hornung gained the sympathy of everybody on the ground.

The Brooklyns kicked like ballet dancers. With men on second and third in the fifth Brouthers sent a foul into the grand stand. The ball struck a spectator's hand and bounded back into the field. Burns, who was in the coaching lines, hooted for a new ball. Foutz, who was on second, also implored Hornung to put another ball into the game. Brouthers stood squarely on the plate and prevented German from pitching. The deadlock lasted several minutes, but Hornung was firm.

German pitched a superb game for New York, holding the visitors down to six hits, three of which were scratches. He received fine support from Wilson, who also batted strongly. Roger Connor was a hero. He not only batted safely three times, but his last hit sent in the winning run. The Brooklyns took the field, and Ward and Tiernan were quickly retired. Doyle hit safely to left, but Davis flied to Griffin. Foutz's men were readily retired in one, two, three order in their half of the inning, and then the cranks grew frantic when Ward's team scored two runs. After Connor had sent a fly to Daly, Burke got his base on balls. Fuller hit safely to left, and Burke got to third by fast sprinting. Shorty also reaching second. German then plunked a pretty hit over Daly's head, Burke and Fuller running home amid a wild scene.

Wilson was first up in the fifth and hit a scorcher to centre for a base. He got to second on a wild pitch and scored on Ward's single to right. Tiernan rolled a slow one toward Brouthers. Dan picked it up and stood on the line a few feet from first base waiting to touch the flying Tiernan, but Mike suddenly ducked and slid head first to the bag in safety. This was one of the brilliant plays of the game. Doyle sacrificed both men along and Davis sent a fly to Burns, on which Ward was put out at the plate on a pretty double play, which called forth the anger of Ward and Doyle as already mentioned.

New York was blanked in the sixth and Brooklyn tied the score, although Foutz shouldn't have had a run. Griffin was hit by a pitched ball and Foutz hit to Davis, who fumbled the ball too long to even get Griffin at second. Corcoran sacrificed, Ward making a great stop and throw. German sent Brouthers to first base on balls purposely. Keeler then hit to Davis, who used bad judgment in throwing to the plate instead of forcing Foutz at third. He threw the ball to Wilson when Griffin was fifteen feet from the plate. Foutz scored the second run on Daly's sacrifice to Doyle, and Brouthers came home with the tying run when Kinslow banged a single to right. Burns was third out on a long fly to Doyle.

In the eighth New York won the game. After Doyle had sent a fly to Dalton, Davis waited well for his base and got it. A passed ball put him on second, and Roger Connor, who had already lifted out two singles, sent a stinger over second, Davis running across the plate like a race horse. The score:

PHILADELPHIA, 7; BOSTON, 4.

Boston was not yet arrived, though Manager Manning of Patty's club telegraphed Ward that the player had left Nashville on Monday.

Judge Gulion has $1,000,000 that says New York will finish ahead of Brooklyn. Digby Bell also has several thousands of talkative dollars.

Mike Kelly is happy. The placing of Doyle in centre field gives him a chance to play once in a while. He will catch Baldwin in Philadelphia to-day.

Schmitt, formerly of the New Yorks, and who had such a woful experience in Troy, is wanted by Robie of the Scranton club. The club having telegraphed Ward asking Schmitt's terms.

Manager Ward has given a leave of absence to Stafford. Some days ago while in practice Stafford hurt himself so badly that the lay off has been rendered absolutely necessary, and it may be some time before he is able to play again.

Cricket.

The Staten Island Cricket Club added another victory to their second team's record yesterday at Livingston, where, after a very enjoyable match, they defeated the second team of the Manhattan C. C. by 55 runs. The vigorous hitting of K. S. Walker, who made ten boundaries in his innings of 52, was largely responsible for the victory, while H. G. King and E. Pearson did the best work for the losers. The score:

Surprises in the Sorrento Tennis Tourney.

SORRENTO, Me., Aug. 2.—The surprise in the Sorrento lawn tennis tournament was the defeat of Malcolm Chase and R. D. Wrenn in the first match of the doubles against J. F. Talmage, jr., and C. R. Budlong this afternoon. Chase and Wrenn were looked upon as the winners of the tournament, but Talmage and Budlong, by better team work and more effective playing, carried off the honors in two straight sets, 6—3, 6—3. Wrenn failed to play his best game, as his returns were weak, and his smashes, as a rule, ineffective. As a result of the play in the singles, R. D. Wrenn and Malcolm Chase will play for the first prize in singles. Below is a summary of the third day's play:

Singles—First round: J. A. Parker beat J. Gerard 7—5, 6—0. Second round: Ivers S. Adams beat J. A. Parker, 7—5, 7—5; J. F. Talmage, jr., beat Gerard, 6—1, 6—3. Semi-finals: Malcolm Chase beat J. F. Talmage, jr., 6—0, 6—1; R. D. Wrenn beat Ivers S. Adams, 6—3, 6—3.

Doubles—J. F. Talmage, jr., and C. R. Budlong beat Malcolm Chase and R. D. Wrenn, 6—3, 6—3.

Second Day's Play in the Long Island Tennis Tourney.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 2.—The second day's play in the Long Island championship witnessed Clarence Hobart still continuing his victorious career. He defeated Richard Stevens in the semi-finals, the first set rather easily and the second after the latter had obtained 5—3 and advantage in his favor. Hobart will meet Larned to-morrow in the finals. The score: Men's Singles—Semi-final round: Clarence Hobart beat Richard Stevens, 6—2, 7—5. W. A. Larned beat E. Colby, 6—0, 6—3.

Consolation Singles—Preliminary round: S. T. Robb beat Lord, 6—2, 6—7; Valentine G. Hall beat Marion Wright, 6—4, 6—2; H. Colby beat Moeran, 7—5, 6—2; T. V. R. Thayer beat W. B. Dinsmore, jr., by default. First round: H. Colby beat S. Y. R. Thayer, 1—3, 6—6.

Men's Doubles—Preliminary round, V. G. Hall and Clarence Hobart beat the Colby brothers, 6—1, 6—4.

First Round—W. Betts and Moeran beat Mallock and partner, 6—3, 7—5; the Howland brothers beat T. V. R. Thayer and Gardner, 6—0, 6—1; Edward L. Hall and W. A. Larned beat W. B. Dinsmore, jr., and partner, 6—2, 6—1; V. G. Hall and Clarence Hobart beat Duncan Candler and Marion Wright, 6—4, 6—3, 6—4; E. L. Hall and W. A. Larned beat the Howland brothers, 6—3, 6—6.

Ryerson Defeated in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—The spectators at the tennis tournament on the St. George cricket grounds had a surprise this morning when C. S. Neel of California defeated John A. Ryerson of Chicago in the third round of singles. Neel won by superior net work and judicious places. Ryerson won the first set, 6—2; Neel the second, 6—2; Ryerson the third, 6—3; Neel the fourth and fifth, 6—0, 6—2. This places Neel in the semi-finals, to play the winner of the Chase-Myers match.

The finish of the Wrenn-McCormick match, postponed from the night before on account of darkness, was full of interest. Wrenn took two games with a rush, and the set, 10—8. McCormick at first won the second two games, Wrenn took one, and McCormick won the fourth and fifth. Wrenn was netting badly and was unsteady generally. Brilliant play won him two games more, but McCormick was too strong, winning the next two and the set, 6—3. McCormick won the match, 6—7, 6—2, 6—3, 8—6, 6—3.

In the afternoon S. T. Chase defeated W. L. Myers in a rather one-sided contest. Chase won three sets straight and the match by 6—0, 7—5, 6—3, making his points largely on Myers's nets and outs.

O. S. Campbell will Referee at Nyack.

The Nyack Country Club will hold an open tennis tournament on Monday, Aug. 7, and following days. Men's singles and doubles will be played. There will be runner-up and consolation prizes in the singles and first and second prizes in the doubles. All teams beaten by the winners of the doubles may play for second prize. Then special prizes will be offered in mixed doubles should the number of entries be satisfactory. The matches will be the best two in three sets; finals, three in five. All sets, deuce and vantage. Entries close Aug. 4, with George L. Chapman, Nyack. O. S. Campbell will be referee. A feature of the week's sport will be a "tennis ball" at the club casino on Thursday evening, Aug. 10.

Tennis on Staten Island.

The results in the tennis tournament of the Staten Island Cricket Club yesterday were as follows:

Men's Singles—Third round: C. W. Pierson, scratch, against K. S. Walker, half fifteen, 6—8, 6—0 unfinished.

Men's Doubles—Second round: Brown and Schermerhorn, half fifteen, beat Jones and Jones, thirty, 6—3, 6—0. Third round: Brown and Schermerhorn, half fifteen, beat Graham and Bird, half-fifteen, 6—7, 6—3.

Capt. Money and Mr. Lindsley Win at the Traps.

PLAINFIELD, Aug. 2.—A select party of sportsmen interested in pigeon shooting witnessed an exciting match yesterday on the grounds of the Climax Gun Club. It was a team race, two men on a side. They shot at fifty live birds a man. The contestants were Charles Smith of Plainfield and John H. Rothacker of Philadelphia against M. F. Lindsley and Capt. A. W. Money of New York. American Shooting Association rules governed; losers to pay all expenses and provide a wine supper for the five.

The birds furnished were a good, strong lot of flyers, fully up to the average of fall birds, especially as a strong wind favored their flight. The following are the scores of each man as shot in strings of twenty-five:

M. F. Lindsley	22 22—45
Capt. A. W. Money	22 23—45

JIM CORBETT IN TOWN.

He Will Fight at Coney Island or Nowhere—Some Queer Talk.

Champion Jim Corbett has returned to town after an absence of several months. His appearance was not very flattering to those who saw him. He was attired in an ill-fitting travelling suit of gray, and wore russet shoes; his hair was unkempt and scraggy. There was a day's growth of beard on his usually clean-shaven face. He has grown a trifle stout about the abdomen, but his shoulder and chest development is apparently the same. Corbett says that he is not ill, although those forerunners of good health, the eyes, lack that essential lustre to bear up his assertion. Altogether, he looks anything but a well man.

Corbett was at the Vendome Hotel when a reporter of THE SUN saw him. His manager was present.

"Well," began the champion, in his usual slow way, "I have made up my mind to fight at no other place but Coney Island, no matter what may intervene. I was never as earnest in my life about what I say than I am now."

"What will Mitchell think of that?" the reporter asked. "You know he has decided to fight at Roby, and he claims he'll stick and do what he says, too!"

"Indeed! A remarkable state of affairs, to be sure," replied Jim, a bit vexed. "Then there will be no fight," he added very harshly. "I fight at Coney Island, and all the powers of the world cannot alter my determination, unless the Coney Island people give me leave to fight somewhere else."

"Mitchell must battle East," interposed Brady at this juncture with unmistaken fervor, "or else we will lay claim to the $20,000 now up in David Blanchard's hands." Here somebody suggested that this would be an unsportsmanlike action. Brady feigned a smile and then said calmly: "Well, then, we won't! But why doesn't Mitchell agree to fight Jim here in the East? When the first articles were signed the Briton consented to meet Corbett before one of three clubs, the Crescent and Olympic clubs of New Orleans and the Coney Island Club. These organizations had a certain time to put in their bids for the match, and none responded but the last named. The Coney Island Club offered $40,000, and without a word Jim took Matchmaker Newton to draw up documents, which he readily signed, binding himself accordingly. Mitchell's representative, Abe Hummel, was present. The papers, when Corbett had placed his signature to them, were handed over to Mr. Hummel for his perusal, and after earnest deliberation the lawyer returned them, saying that he was perfectly satisfied; that he thought Mitchell would find them the same and finally approve of them. In some careless way the articles were not forwarded to the Englishman with the celerity with which they should have been. A few months later Jack McAuliffe went to England, influenced Mitchell, and before we were aware of it the Columbian A. C., an unknown and obscure club, bobbed up serenely and offered a $45,000 purse, which was accepted by Mitchell. There, so you have the whole situation in a nutshell."

"I don't want to crawl out of a fight by any means," Corbett remarked. "I like to contest at Coney Island because it's near my home. Mitchell must fight me there. Bigosh. He must, and that's all there is to it! I don't care whether I fight again any way. I have plenty of cash, and can live like a king the rest of my career."

"If Mitchell flunks," put in Brady, in a voice which betokened excitement, "we will take on Jackson for the same date."

"Yes, that's so," said Corbett. "I am feeling so good that I must get on a fight this year, even if it is with a light weight."

Corbett told the reporter that he would leave for Asbury Park to-day or to-morrow to do light training for his alleged contest with the Briton. He expects to be quartered at Loch Arbor, the same place where he trained for his battle with John L. Sullivan.

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 2.—Pugilist Jim Corbett has finally decided to go into training here. This morning Corbett signed a four months' lease for the farm owned by Russell Bullock. The farm is located on the banks of Bella Lake, near Camp Wanamassa, the new summer home of the Young Men's Christian Association, at Loch Arbour.

FLEETWOOD'S TROTTING MEETING.

Special Attractions Will be Offered by the New York Driving Club.

S. McMillan, President of the New York Driving Club, left last night for Buffalo to drum up entries among the horsemen there for Fleetwood's open class events. Mr. McMillan says he secured many entries at Cleveland, many of them owing to the engagement of F. H. Walker to do the starting at Fleetwood. One object he has in view in going to Buffalo is to secure special attractions, for which purpose the club have some $15,000 at their disposal. A goodly portion of this the President is authorized to use to secure a meeting between Nelson, 2:10, and Kremlin, 2:07¾.

The latter has had a longer stud season than the Maine stallion, but is now in training at Charter Oak Park, where either has all the campaigners from the Allen Farm. W. B. Allen has made an entry for the Charter Oak Stake, and says he will do all in his power to help the Fleetwood people. Nelson is in good form just now, and goes against the watch this week at Concord.

Mr. McMillan says the prospects of a financially successful meeting at Fleetwood were never better. Our stakes are almost self-supporting, and the betting privileges have reached a larger amount than ever before. Andy Welch of Hartford will give us $3,000 for the booking privilege, and two firms of pool sellers have made us very advantageous offers. If we find the gate receipts come up to our expectations we will run the meeting two or three days beyond the advertised time, putting up good purses for over night events.

Gossip of the Ring.

Mike Cleary, the old-time pugilist, is reported to be very ill at Bellevue Hospital.

The Columbian A. C. are trying to arrange a match between Corbett and Jack Burke.

Stanton Abbott and Mike Harris, who gained a decision over Joe Walcott, have been matched to fight four rounds in this city this month.

Alf Hamlon of England writes to a friend in this city that he would like to fight Mike Cleary or Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," or any other man in America at 150 pounds, for a purse.

Joe Bennett, a promising English bantam, has just issued a challenge to fight any man in the world at 60 pounds. Jack Levy, of Philadelphia, is willing to put up the stake money.

Jack Levy is quite disappointed because Jimmy Barry of Chicago would not fight him. Levy has authorized his backer to put up a big stake money against any lad in the world at 100 pounds, give or take two pounds.

Billy Hill, the Pie eminny, receiving no response to his recent challenge, published in THE SUN, to fight any man in the world at 122 pounds, is willing to waive the question of side bet and fight Morgan Crowther of England or the next best man.

Lacnie Thompson told a SUN reporter yesterday that he would give a horse for every seven unless something turns up. Thompson fancies that he can defeat Fred Morris. Billy Madden's "Black Cyclone." He says that the matchmaker of Coney Island A. C. has promised to hook up a purse as soon as he is matched.

A long-standing grievance between Owen Ziegler and Al O'Brien, both of Philadelphia, has been settled. The pair met on Monday night, and Ziegler had much the best of it. In the third round, when Ziegler forged ahead, O'Brien's friends jumped into the ring, and a row ensued. The police, however, quickly suppressed the disturbers.

Frank White says that he has been authorized by Johnny Murphy of Boston to arrange a match with anybody in America at 116 pounds. Billy Plimmer preferred, or Murphy will fight Johnny Van Heest or Billy Smith at 120 pounds. White further says that he will match Jim Butler against Johnny Reagan to a finish for any purse the Columbian A. C. will hang up.

Warren Lewis writes to the Police Gazette that he is "Black Crispin" will not be able to meet his man. Pat Burke of Hoboken, the latter will fight any of the following men for $2,000 a side at 158 pounds: Harry Newmiller, Billy McCarthy, Billy Butler, Pat Cahill, Charles Mitchell, Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler." Lewis has deposited $500 on his challenge.

The boxing tournament of the New Jersey Amusement Company, held at Newark on Monday night, ended in a free fight, in which the police were conspicuous actors. After the contest between John Kerske and Tim Holmes, when Kerske had been knocked dead to the world, one of his backers made an attempt to enter the ring and hit one of the victors' seconds. Police Captain Dierl grabbed hold of the fellow just in the nick of time and told him not to go near the ring, or he would be arrested. The fellow insisted, and a free fight then ensued. It took the united efforts of the Captain and three stalwart officers before the man could be subdued.

Odds and Ends of Sports.

The John Kress Wheelmen, a new cycling and athletic association, having their headquarters at 424 East Fifty-eighth street, will hold their sixth club run on Sunday next. The club is only six weeks old, but has twenty-five wheelmen and fifteen athletic members.

PAN ROSGAWAY, Aug. 2.—A swimming contest, one mile eastward and return, was held off Caffrey's pavilion this afternoon, and was won by Mat Raynor. The double-oared boat race over the same course was won by Mat Raynor and Steve Stillwagon in 28 minutes.

AN OFF DAY AT MONMOUTH.

THE CARD WAS LIGHT, BUT A FAIR CROWD CAME TO THE COURSE.

Stonenell Defeated Ramapo After a Hard Drive and Banquet Disposed of Comanche—Hammie Downed by the 12 to 1 Shot Treasure—Correction, Ready for the Record at Five Furlongs, Wins in Hollow Style—Races for Monore, Belmont and Simeon G. Reed—First Appearance of the $20,000 Colt Matt Byrnes, by Hampton.

There was quite an improvement in the attendance yesterday over many previous off days. The card was a poor one, but nearly all the races were well contested. Stonenell and Ramapo furnishing the best fight of the day. The three-year-old ran remarkably well, and Stonenell was out to the last ounce in order to win by a neck. Mr. Simeon G. Reed's colors appeared for the first time on Lucky Dog in the second race, and the brother to Kildeer won handily. Banquet beat Comanche cleverly enough at the finish of the handicap, but at one time it looked as though the favorite would have a hard race. Correction, never better in her life, ran five furlongs in 58¾ seconds, and Hammie, the top-heavy favorite in the last, was badly beaten by the 12 to 1 shot Treasure. The track was lumpy and slower than usual.

The price against Banquet was surprisingly good, considering the fact that Comanche and Lady Pulsifer were the sole opponents of the great little gelding. Comanche's work over the old track was remarkably good, and the Empire Stable folks thought they had a chance to lower the colors of the favorite. It was remarkable how many persons thought Lady Pulsifer, with the prestige of two victories in succession, would have a chance of defeating them both. Banquet and Comanche made the running so warm for the Lady that she was beaten before the turn was reached. Comanche clung to Banquet quite determinedly, and Taral had to ride hard for a hundred yards with the whip in order to shake off the game three-year-old. Then it was an easy matter for Banquet to win by three-quarters of a length. Lady Pulsifer was a poor third.

The first appearance of the much vaunted Matt Byrnes, the colt by Hampton out of Cherry, for which Marcus Daly gave $30,000 in England last year, gave the second race, a scramble for two-year-olds at five and one-half furlongs, an interest it would not have otherwise possessed. All sorts of rumors concerning the prowess of this imported colt were afloat. He had beaten Senator Grady in trials, had worked over the old course in watch-breaking time, and, in short, had shown such form in private that he could not be beaten. In the betting ring he was a pronounced favorite, and in the paddock everybody was singing the praises of the brown colt, a great big slashing fellow with as much substance as most four-year-olds. Rama, Drum Major, and the others, with the exception of Lucky Dog, a strongly played second choice, were at quite long prices. Lucky Dog is a brother to Kildeer and is owned by the millionaire Westerner, Mr. Simeon G. Reed. This was the first appearance of Mr. Reed's colors on any course, and as Taral had mounted the colt's work was reported to be quite fast, he came in for a lot of play, especially for the place. In the race Matt Byrnes was very green and did not know how to break. When the flag fell he was so slow to move away that he was a bad last before a furlong had been traversed. Drum Major, Mic Mac Queen, and Rama were the early pacemakers, but a furlong from home Taral jumped Lucky Dog out of the bunch. Midgley brought Matt Byrnes up very strong at the end, and, although he was catching Lucky Dog at every stride, the distance was too short, and Mr. Reed's colors scored a victory on their first appearance; truly a most auspicious beginning. Matt Byrnes will do much better and will do to play again. That most consistent little filly Mic Mac Queen was again third.

The price against Stonenell was very good, and M. F. Dwyer's commissioners placed quite a lot of money on the stout chestnut colt to beat the three-year-olds Young Arion and Ramapo. Taral took a pull on Stonenell and let Ramapo get an advantage of three lengths before he made a move. Then he had quite a hard race, Ramapo running very gamely under whip and spur. Taral had to ride his best at the end in order to win by a short neck with Stonenell. Young Arion was a poor third.

Correction, looking unusually well, was the choice for the race for mares that came fourth on the card. Fairy and Astoria alone opposed the Morris mare, and when the flag went down the sister of Domino left the field quickly, opening a gap of half a dozen lengths in a trifle over a furlong. Littlefield simply steadied Correction, and she won away off in the remarkably fast time of 58¾ seconds. Astoria brought Astoria up under the whip at the end, and nipped Fairy for second money. Mr. Croker's mare having nothing left at the finish after her pumping drive in the endeavor to catch the favorite.

Curacos was favorite for the fifth race, for two-year-olds, but the Blemton colt Patrician was on his good behavior, and taking the lead at the start, with Harrington a close second, won quite impressively. Curacos, under a hard drive, got up in time to beat Harrington for third money. Sir Knight, quite heavily played, was never prominent.

Hammie was always favorite for the last race, but the horse that carried most of the money was the second choice, Integrity. The only other starter, Treasure, has been showing marked improvement, but although ridden by Midgley he was generally ignored by the talent. Hammie had evidently been indulged. Integrity and Treasure opened up quite a gap in the run down the backstretch. Lamly riding as hard as he knew how in an endeavor to keep close to the leaders with the favorite, Fonso, on Integrity, tried to shake Treasure off coming into the turn, but the outsider ran gamely, and, to the stupefaction of the knowing division, soon had Integrity in difficulties. Mr. Straus's colt dropping back rapidly and being passed by Hammie. Treasure came on and won handily, landing the comfortable odds of 12 to 1. Integrity was a bad last. Summaries follow:

Longshanks is a roarer.

Lucky Dog is a brother to Kildeer.

Harrington's race was an eye-opener.

Lady Pulsifer was where she couldn't win.

Sir Knight did not run up to expectations.

Arrivals are due from Saratoga: Tom Williams's Undine Stable, comprising Racine, Flirtation, and the Ellinger's horses, and Dan Miller, with a string of four, will be here to-day.

Setauket is one of the biggest two-year-olds in training.

Berges displayed good judgment in waiting until Fairy had killed herself chasing Correction.

Matt Byrnes will do to bet on the next time he starts. He was very green, and did not know how to break.

Garrison stepped up to Secretary Crickmore yesterday and paid the $250 Starter Pettingill fined him at Chicago.

Taral rode three winners, and remarked, after weighing in on Lucky Dog: "Lucky Dog; lucky Dutchman."

Mic Mac Queen has been third no fewer than six times during the Monmouth meeting. She and Ajax are entitled to the palm for consistency. Ajax has won six races, was second once and third once.

Jack Bennet thought Hammie and Integrity would be beaten and took the money against the pair. In addition he bet Wheelock $100 each way on Treasure at 12 and 2 to 1, and cleared up $4,800 on the race.

While Sol Lichtenstein was offering 12 to 1 against Treasure, the outsider in the last race, young Grannan, the most boyish-looking bookmaker in the business, offered Sol $99 straight on Treasure. Sol looked at Grannan, quickly handed him his ticket, and then shouted, "Seven hundred and twenty to sixty Treasure." Treasure beat Hammie, the favorite, in a drive.

MONMOUTH'S FINE PROGRAMME.

The Rahway Handicap, Passaic Stakes, and Other Fine Races on the Card.

The leading features of the well-filled programme of races for to-day at Monmouth are the Rahway Handicap, at a mile, and the Passaic Stakes for all ages, at three-quarters of a mile. With Merry Monarch, Ajax, Aloha, Vestibule, Sir Matthew, and five other horses of quality engaged, the handicap is pretty certain to be a great horse race. The Passaic Stakes has ten named to start, including Walcott, Arab, Lyceum, Julien, Estelle, Addie, and Harvest in the fine field of race horses. In fact, all the races have filled well, as shown by the full list of entries, which is as follows:
