STORY.

A man we know (A) used to buy his clothes of a tip-top tailor, and a friend of his (B) didn't—wore the usual readymade. But lately some friends of theirs made so much fun of B on account of his clothes, that he went to a tip-top tailor and had a Prince Albert made. A, on the other hand, came here and bought one of ours, $28.

Pretty soon after that they went to those same friends' to dinner, each wearing his new Prince Albert; but still they made fun of B and admired A's coat.

Out-of-town folks, let us send you our Spring book.

A gentleman of refinement would best appreciate at its true worth, a HACKETT, CARHART AND Co. black Albert, or Cutaway coat, such as we have in mind, worn with a modest pattern of Trousers.

No striking features in cut, or make; nothing that cries aloud, "Look at this!" but the ensemble conveying the impression in a quiet but convincing way, that every point is perfectly correct.

For these coats with vests we ask $16.50 up to $35.00.

Our shoe department opens to-day down town store.
